A Fair Deal for Germany

Victims of the ferocious Allied bombings of Dresden, the art center, on February 13, 14, and April 17, 1945, which "held no important industries which could have bolstered the fading German war effort" (N.Y. Herald Tribune), but whose 625,000 population had just then been swelled to 1,000,000 by refugees from the Russians believing that the Four-Freedom crusaders would not bomb where bombing would only kill women and children—and art. "When the Red Army arrived on May 8 it ordered the thousands of corpses that were still being taken out of the debris to be piled up in the Altmarkt. . . The streets leading to the square were roped off and flame-throwers were turned on the bodies."

By Austin J. App, Ph.D.

(The writer, a doctor of philosophy from the Catholic University of America, was born in Milwaukee, was in the service, and has spent his life teaching English literature in Catholic colleges and universities. He is the author of "Lancelot in English Literature, Courtesy, Courtship and Marriage, History's Most Terrifying Peace, The True Concept of Literature, and many pamphlets urging the need of a just peace for the vanquished, a peace in harmony with the Atlantic Charter, and worthy of men who would call themselves 'men of good will'.)

The most momentous and tragic event of our age was the War. The American people were lend-leased into it by British and Jewish insistence that American intervention was necessary to assure a post-war world based on the Four Freedoms and a just peace based on the Atlantic Charter. If during the war, winning it was considered our first business, then, having won it, achieving what it was fought for, an Atlantic Charter peace, must be our business now. Yet that is the one business, our New Deal government, in its Inaugurals and its State of the Union messages, and its blurbs about a "Fair Deal," hypocritically evades.

The Atlantic Charter was promulgated by Roosevelt and Churchill on August 14, 1941, before we were in the war to become an ideological runway for sliding the crusade-minded American people into the war. Its second principle is that there shall be "no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned."

At Yalta, February 11, 1945, Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin officially violated this point and blueprinted the vilest and most tragic territorial robberies in modern times. Without consulting Poland they tore the size of Kansas away from her and gave it to our lend-lease pal, Soviet Russia, and then muttered piously that they "recognize that Poland must receive substantial accessions of territory in the North and West." That was the blueprint for robbing Germany of one-fourth of its arable land, for carving out of that most thickly populated country a territory the size of Pennsylvania. And it prepared the way for the greatest crime of the age, the expulsion from these stolen territories and total robbery of some fifteen million people, five million of whom are estimated to have died from the brutality and hardships characterizing these expulsions.

What an irony that the American people, oiled into the war on the flattery that their entrance would achieve the justest peace ever made, have instead become accomplices to literally the vastest crime and atrocity which has ever disgraced the annals of history. It is the holy duty of the American people to force their government to correct these fearful crimes as much as possible. Our government must be made to announce that its final and permanent policy is to require that all German territory taken in violation of the Atlantic Charter, from East Prussia to the Saar, must be returned, that if any lend-lease pals now want to welch on their Atlantic Charter pledge, made on January 1, 1949, then the United States will shift its moral support to the Germans, now will allocate any more credits to territorial robbers. The then Secretary of State Byrnes in his speech in Stuttgart, on September 8, 1946, made a good start, after the government's Yalta betrayal, when he said "the United States will not support encroachment on territory which is indisputably German." Unfortunately, however, by excepting the Saar for France and Koenigsberg for Russia, indisputably German territories, he failed to lift American policy to the plain of right and wrong, and kept one foot of it in the quicksand of expediency. If our government tells Russia and France that it is all right for each to rob one province, then it cannot argue on moral grounds that they should not rob two provinces. It also means that if America ever lost a war and a conqueror annexed New England, America could not consistently say, "That's wrong. Don't do that."

America Whither Thou Goest?

By Frederick Chas. F. Weiss

(Graduate of University of Heidelberg, Germany, and Sorbonne, France. Author "Germanica Delenda Est?" and "Quo Vadis America".)

The two world wars were but the first flashes from the fateful thunder cloud which is passing over us. Although, three and one half years after cessation of open warfare, the form of the catastrophe has changed, the catastrophe itself has not and certainly not its tempo. We shouted "Victory", only to realize now that the great game of world politics has by no means come to an end; that with the whole of Northern Asia and Eastern Europe practically in control of the Politbureau more than ever do we have to play for the highest stake: for our very existence! When in the last suicidal struggles we betrayed and humiliated our "white" brothers and summoned the outsiders to fight for whites against whites, we saw to it that no longer they are filled with terror at the white man's power - with the result that now they have risen up and look down upon the whites as of a thing of yesterday. With horror we begin to comprehend to what extent we have underestimated the power of attraction which the Red Colossus - as their leader - has on all the colored masses of our globe.

No longer can there be any doubt as to the Politbureau's next object: After Asia comes Africa. Already we see a Red hand directing the "little war" in Palestine; throughout the Near East and even in Central and South Africa we observe the spread of mysterious underground activities by the enemy.

So, confronted with a steady process of our encirclement by the Brown-Black-Yellow forces under a Red leadership, only a fool or a coward will deny the fact that the Hour of Decision is at hand;

only a fool or a coward will deny that whatever our statesmen now deem opportune to do with Germany, will shape the fate of every one of us right here in our own country. For only utter lack of respect for history can make us blind to the fact that there is - of all the others - only one "race" on the European continent which - not only on account of her geographical situation on the border of Asia - can solve with our help the decisive problem of our white world in the face of the present global bolshevist onslaught: The German Nation.

You may ask here, what good, what spiritual and material help can we still expect from a bombed-out Germany? Is it not more to our advantage to write her off entirely and to rely alone on France and England for the day when the great push from the East will materialize? You may even go further and ask: why is it that we persist in turning backward, return to that "dying hag which is Europe", when we, with all our wealth and our youth can live in peace and comfort - 4000 miles away? Well, have we not lost our hitherto most reliable and powerful ally - distance? In this age of missiles, in our fight against an IDEA, the 4000 miles between here and Central Europe mean nothing any longer.

But, only apparently so, has Western Europe lost its authoritative significance. True, at present the political power has been transferred to New York and Moscow. Put the idea of our Western civilization grew up in Europe. There are its roots, and there (and nowhere else) it will win the final victory in its history or will perish. Therefore, any decisive event in Europe will be just as decisive to us over here.

When our "Big Brains" in Washington selected the Latin countries of Western Europe and England to become our spearhead against the daily growing pressure from the East, they - apparently - hoped to find another Charles Martel among them. But,

The pathetic lack of ethical perceptions keeps traducing our policies towards Germany. This moral blindness caused General Clay on January 10 blunderingly to blame German groups for "demanding that Germany be given back her eastern territory ceded to Poland." Yet Byrnes had said the Germany's eastern provinces had not been ceded to Poland but were merely put "under the administration of the Polish state." Now General Clay instead of praising these German groups for supporting America's professed intention of protecting "indisputably German" territory, blames them for it and talks as if our New Dealers, even in advance of the peace treaty, had sold these German territories down the river. A square deal for Germany means that our government demand full integrity of German boundaries, with no nonsense from either France or Russia or Poland. They are all pledged to the Atlantic Charter—it is America's business to hold them to it—or tell them in a choice between the robbing and the robbed it must side with the robbed.

Its second duty is to minimize the awful calamity of the fifteen million East and Sudeten and Balkan Germans expelled from their homes and totally robbed, again with the complicity of our New Deal Marxist Controlled government. At Potsdam President Truman, along with Stalin and Attlee, on July 17, 1945, sanctioned the most inhuman political measure next to genocide ever invented by human beastliness, when he declared that "the transfer to Germany of German populations or elements thereof, remaining in Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary, will have to be undertaken." According to this measure, Hitler would have been justified if he had driven all Jews out of Germany; and by virtue of it, Morgenthauistic Jews could not consistently condemn as immoral any future expulsion of Jews from any country. This Potsdam article marks the moral low of this nation in its 150 years of history.

But recognizing this moral low does not help the ten million robbed expellees roaming helplessly about in bombed-out Germany, now reduced to a country half the size of Texas with seventy million people against Texas's seven million. Five million of the refugees, exposed to rape, abuse, and starvation, are estimated to have died along the way—that is, six times as many people as there were Jews in Germany when Hitler took over. A fair deal for Germany means that our government contritely but determinedly repudiates expulsion as a political measure, that it points to the Atlantic Charter signed by all the United Nations as more binding than the Potsdam agreement signed by only three, and demand before the whole world that the still-living German expellees be restored to their provinces, homes, and belongings in Eastern Germany, the Sudetenland, and the Balkans. Since in the Potsdam agreement America shares responsibility for creating the refugee problem, whereas it is not responsible for the so-called DP problem, America must, until it has diplomatically achieved the return of the expellees, consider them as her charge, give them not less, but more immigration facilities than the DPs. America must, like a thief trying to make restitution for money stolen and largely spent, heroically and humbly aid the expellees in every possible way.

The third plank in a fair deal for Germany is the immediate and sincere halting of all dismantlings. On April 30, 1947, the Christian Century, asking editorially, "Is Vengeance Still Our Purpose?" wrote, "Herbert Hoover's blast against the folly of the policy regarding fertilizer factories we are pursuing in Germany should arouse the indignation of all men with common sense. We have deprived Germany of a quarter of its arable land, jammed the truncated remainder with 15,000,000 refugees and expellees, and now we are dismantling the plants. . . ." In October, 1947, almost three years after the war, our government, while telling the American people to send five billion a year to Europe to revive production, collaborated with the British and French in listing 918 German plants for destruction, only 338 of which were listed as war plants. Since then many have been destroyed. Newsweek, December 6, 1948, describes a square where once the Schiess machine-tool plant had stood. A guide said, "It once had 3,000 employees. They even dismantled the workers' swimming pool."

Henry Hazlitt, in Newsweek, February 23, 1948, wrote, "It is senseless to defend this preposterous policy of dismantling by an appeal to the Potsdam Agreement. . . . Even under that agreement, in fact, all dismantlings and removals were to be completed by Feb. 2 of this year (1948). It is even more senseless to argue that we must continue this idiocy because Britain and France insist on it. It is we, we in America, who are paying the bill. . . . It is we who are being asked to pour $17,000,000 more of the American taxpayer's money into Europe, largely to make up the consequences of this destruction. . . ." Yet, now a year later, after we have already poured a good portion of these billions into Europe, we are still destroying German factories. Truly, whom the gods would destroy, they throw into the hands of the eye-for-an-eye boys! Now, almost four years after the war, our European Recovery Administrator Paul Hoffman, "relying on a report by American businessmen, has urged halting the dismantling of about 167 German plants. . . . All the old Morgenthau-minded elements will undoubtedly try to put pressure on Acheson to set aside the Hoffman recommendation." So reports Frank C. Hanighen in Human Events, January 19, 1949. He continues, "Already supporters of the Morgenthau Plan in the press have tried to label the Hoffman proposal 'partisan'."

It is a must for the American people on this one point to defeat the Morgenthauists. They must so overwhelm Acheson with demands that the dismantlings be stopped, that the whole brood of Morgenthauists cannot bribe or browbeat him into continuing them. For the government to tell the people of Berlin that it is sincerely trying to help and protect the German people against the Soviets while persisting in this enormous stupidity and crime of destroying valuable productive plants is almost as criminal for its hypocrisy as the dismantlings themselves are. Bishop Wilhelm Berning of Osnabrueck in his New Year sermon asked, "Why, then, the dismantling of industrial plants. . . ? This causes mass unemployment, unrest and bitterness, and creates doubt whether the victor powers really care to see our people have peace in life" (NC, Frankfurt, Jan. 20, 1949). Surely, surely, what America and the world needs is a fair deal for Germany, and an end of its Morgenthauism here at home.

"Religion is the enemy of Communism. We must do our utmost to emphasize that religious survivals in our country play a reactionary, harmful role. They are hostile to that great cause toward which the toilers are laboring under the leadership of the Communist Party." — Soviet Byelorussian, official organ of the Byelorussian Republic, Sept. 27, 1948.

Wake Up Americans!

Cunning Marxists in the Soviet Union, Poland, London, Paris and mainly New York, the Invisible Government, with perfect coordination, tricked and propagandized Christians to slaughter each other in the war to crush Germany which was the only country in Europe which fully understood the menace of Communism and the only country strong enough to keep the Red Army, backing atheistic Communism, bottled up in Russia. Because of stupidity Americans did not realize that the concentration camps in Germany were filled almost exclusively with the millions of Marxists who infiltrated from Russia and Poland to overpower Germany at the critical time. For this stupidity, the United States now occupies the same position Germany did. Our country is swarming with Marxists dupes and the only way we can present a united American Front to the Soviet Union and its atheistic program is to have every adult register and fine-comb the United States placing all disloyal and illegal entries behind barb wire fences. Attorney General Tom Clark has admitted that his Marxist dominated Department of Justice has allowed an average of 2000 illegal entries per day for years. Now that all European countries have either succumbed or can be taken over at Stalin's pleasure, and China has gone to the Marxists, the United States is next in line. To those few who have paid the price in study so as to be informed, it is plain that the Marxist plan in the United States is two-thirds completed. These same scheming Marxists who engineered us into the recent war are now behind the scenes setting the stage for a war with the Soviet Union, knowing that approximately 35,000,000 people in the United States can be fooled into supporting a revolt and enabling Communism to replace Americanism. The simple Americans who think we have the Atomic Bomb should realize that the Marxists have it. Four of the five members of the

What real Frenchman of today cares any longer for world politics or likes to struggle for the vital aims of our Western World? He desires nothing more than the peace of a people that has become weary and unfruitful and finds his happiness in a rentier ideal: a little money, a bottle of wine, and "amour". So, why should he fight the "other fellow's" fight?

Or, have our statesmen set their hope on England, the former undisputed mistress of the seas, whose present ministers were only too eager to preside over the by now accomplished liquidation of the Empire? Upon "Old England", which now has ceased strategically to be an island, and which no longer is healthy enough - spiritually and racially - to fight along in this terrible crisis with the necessary enthusiasm and confidence? Upon a formerly proud and mighty England, now the recipient of dole handed out to her by an international high finance, her real master?

These are the "Powers" (not to speak about the other beneficiaries of our Marshal Plan), upon which we have set our only hope in Europe for protection against the Red Flood; against a new Genghis Khan, who, with an extremity of military and political effort and with all the vehemence of destiny follows his mission as an arch-expansionist; against an enemy who knows only too well that in the present struggle between East and West there can only be one question at issue; who is to govern the whole?!

And so the great historical question is whether or not we and our tottering allies of Western Europe are strong enough to prevent the fall of the white world without mobilizing the spiritual and material power of the German people; and what resources can Germany as of today muster?

Very few, it would seem, were we to believe the comments of our guided and controlled Press and Radio. But history tells us differently!

Space does not permit here to speak in detail about the innumerable heroic deeds in Germany's past, when the strong, unbending "I" of her people again and again stood up against the impersonal Asiatic collectivism at our Eastern frontier. But this is not necessary. Present historic events in Central Europe prove that - as in the past - there is still left in the German people enough of that blood, which gave them the foundation of every kind of intellectual superiority over her adversaries from the East.

Contrary to a poisoning Marxist propaganda which up till now has tried its utmost to rock us into the sleep of oblivion by reasons of its miraculous doctrines of a guaranteed "World Peace" under the regiment, imposed by a supernational Government, we now wake up only to see that we have to fight - if we want to survive. When formerly they told us that the "Anti Komintern Pact" was a "criminal conspiracy" - we now have to concede that it was the unique spiritual power of the German People which prevented a Red Master from taking us over, lock, stock and barrel, at a time when our international Intelligentsia began to glorify the peace-loving "20th Century Red Democrats."

In this eleventh hour of the monstrous Drama, when we are threatened by all the masses of the globe under a Red leadership; when we have to fight against an IDEAWHOLE real meaning for the mysterious Oriental Soul we are even not able to comprehend, describe or define; in this eleventh hour, I ask, can we afford to discard the spiritual support of our key-nation on the border of Asia which up to this day - despite the terrible losses in two World Wars - has remained numerically the largest "unit of the soul" among all other "white" nations - including our own? After having almost bled to death in long years of warfare; after having experienced a mass bombing, mass looting, mass raping and debauching of their women; after deportation of millions of her sons - even daughters - to Siberia; after having been exposed to a planned attempt to bastardize their good blood with that of our "allies" from the jungles; after having withstood the economic cannibalism of our Morgenthau Marxist's - what other people, I ask, would have left a drop of good blood to give them the physical and intellectual high standard that the average German of today is able to muster in his spiritual fight against Communism?

When we came over under the pretext to alter and improve, yet sought only to destroy; when we began with our enlightening-process by conniving at the shady black market business of our "special agents"; when we sent over our famous "Big Four" Hunger, Cold, Death, Despair - and taught them "Democracy"; how would our masses have reacted against their usurper?

When we came over to liberate them from a totalitarian "yoke" only to let our "Brothers from the Asiatic steppes" entrench and encamp themselves on the mountain of their misery and despair; when we hung them up - and the Reds hung them on to their job; when we blew them up and the Reds blew them on - their high furnaces, that is; when we stole their patents and the Reds forced them to work their inventions (because they could not read the patent scripts anyhow); when the Reds compressed them into one front and we split them up into some dozens of "democratic" parties; when the Reds promised them ONE Reich and we promised them a thousand little fatherlands - who was to doubt that in every other "white" soul the spiritual substance of resistance against the Red Manifesto would have consumed itself long ago? When we, on the other hand, 4000 miles away, in our immensely wide and rich country, which was not even singed by the horrors of war have our hands full to prevent the Marxist invisible government from achieving its final success: lest our misguided masses crash everything that centuries had gone to build up!

And so, our enlightening process goes on and on over there in Germany. With the help of some of their degenerate elements, their spiritual failures or inferiors, we promise them "PEACE". We try to condition them for the day when, again, they will have to sign on the dotted line. Naturally, they will have - above all - to sign a confession: that they have committed (all of them!) the "supreme crime", the waging of aggressive war.

And so we, the richest nation on earth, will explain to those who for 700 long years had been the beggars among our brothers in Europe - that just as over here our law in majestic equality forbids the rich no less than the poor to steal bread.. so our law over there, again in majestic equality, forbids to us no less than to them to resort to war - even if driven by sheer hunger! (with the exception of some little "holy" wars in Palestine, of course). We will explain that from now on the 75 millions of them will have to "live" in a territory about half the size of that of California (...and may nature take its course!); that no free thinking can be allowed henceforth and that no longer we need the spiritual help of their Plancks, Bunsens, and Liebig's; that if need be, we will draw upon the inhabitants of "undeveloped areas" for some new Diesels, Kochs or Bayers; that they have to do without machines or ships (because we need them to develop the land of the Hottentots) and that in their future land of poets and musicians they do not need them anyhow!

And so a "Peace Treaty" will be imposed by us and a cruel external law enforced on our brother nation; a law containing a political tendency depending not upon what the average American thinks, but upon what is practically intended by a small clique among us, which in fact represents real power behind our elected government.... commands our legislation; a law, which will mean - if enforced - the complete ultimate annihilation of the German people. And should this happen, our own abdication from history as free men would become a certainty! You may doubt this certainty. But look "at the record" of those who up to this very day insisted on wiping Germany off the map; look at their well planned, well screened offensive against us all and you will no longer be in doubt as to their ultimate objective: When they began, back in 1933, to make a profound impact upon our liberal citizenry and influenced us to believe that the Soviet Union was the destined savior of Western democracy; when our former instinctive fear was transmitted overnight into indiscriminate sympathy with the Kremlin; When they taught us that communism was "Twentieth Century Americanism"; when they shouted at us about the necessity of an alliance with USSR ... to make the world safe for the "Four Freedoms"; when they shouted at us about Stalins "moral rights" to steal our secret weapons; when they shouted so long, until the suicidal war between whites was on and until the white dam across Europe was blown up; until we stand alone now facing the Red Colossus ... with a class war in our midst! And to-day, after a cruel realization that they have overplayed their hand; that in the lands of their 'Red Democrats' a true Asiatic form of Bolshevism has set in (which wears the Marxian face only for the "benefit" of the outside world). . they begin to shout at us that - after all - they made a mistake in that Stalin was actually Hitler redivivus, a Red Fascist!!

Slowly, but surely, we see through this international clique, through the real victors of the two world wars. For danger is knocking at our door and makes us wake up. We begin to comprehend that these One-World-Apostles, who would have us without country, religion, flag or class, and who sneer at the value of our Western Institutions, know only too well that, as long as they do not succeed in tearing down the last remnant of the white wall across Europe, so long as there are left among the German people individuals with an iron self-discipline, with an elemental superpersonal force, - their leveling-in-process into a stateless world cannot be accomplished. That is the real reason for their deliberately dry insistence on Germany's complete annihilation as a power.

And that is the real reason why they will shout now so long until World War III is on; until our "A"-bombs will fall and finish off what little is left of ... CENTRAL EUROPE .. This being so, shall we now take the necessary steps to avert disaster? Or shall we continue to listen to our Morgenthau-Catos and go on with our stupidity and try to enforce a treaty which will be a thousand times worse in its ultimate effect upon our future than the one we imposed at Versailles?

Shall we wait any longer until we come to our senses? Yet, time runs short! To maintain the heroic posture on end is beyond the power of any people; even of the German people! The Prussian-German people have had four great moments (1813, 1870, 1914, 1949), and that is more than any others ever had throughout history! And it is up to us alone now to decide whether we will do the necessary and mobilize for our own sake this unique spiritual power on our border of Asia - or whether we will go under as free men. For the unity of resolve that has formed itself among the 14 members of the Politbureau will then have its way: The mobilization of the German MIND to guide the Asiatic HAND in the struggle to death against ourselves! Ever since the times of Peter the Great, they knew in Moscow that only the Western mind and not the Russian hand can hold together in the center of the artificial and complicated realm of machine the managers and organizers of their untold millions of slave workers. They know in Moscow better than in Washington that to preserve their ever endangered industrial potentiality one figure is more important to them than even all the energy of their master men: the German engineer, the German scientist. They are well aware of the fact that in our age of rapidly changing methods of warfare their political achievement cannot be secured in the long run without the scientific foundation for procuring a tremendous increase in the power of the individual, which again can only be obtained by equipping him with the most improved machinery of war.

And so, while we look forward to the day when we will crown our "success" with the imposition of another "PEACE of WESTPHALIA" upon the German masses, in Moscow they will look forward to the day when we will finally have to give up our famous "Give and Take Policy", a policy by which the Russians always give and we always take - a beating; they will look forward to the day when we, the "decrepit dupes of the West", can no longer help but to understand the hypocrisy of the Kremlin's blabbing about "peace" and when finally it will become clear to us that (in the words of their Dimitrioff) ... "the preservation of peace only furthers the growth of the forces of the proletariat ... that it cracks the foundation of the capitalistic structure ... that it hastens the victory of communism ..."; they will look forward in Moscow to the day when finally an eruption in us - which is bound to come - will release the deepest instinct in our blood from the load of an unbearable, because eternal, threat from the East: to OUR day, when no longer we will try to parry in vain the stabs from behind an impenetrable Iron Curtain. And then they will go over the record of the Nobel Prize Winners in the era before Hitler and will look at Germany's stupendous ERSATZ-rearmament achievements (1933-1939).

And then, COMMON SENSE will teach them the lesson: that without the unique scientific and technical thought of the German mind, they may well despair of the future. For the Westerner it is, who is the machine's master and destiny. And machines will dominate the earth.

This is the spiritual side of the German question (as far as it concerns our immediate future; about the material side I shall write some other time.

I have attempted here to show that our betrayal of the German People is tantamount to the betrayal by a minority group or by the inferior part of our people, of that strong, healthy, part, which twice in a generation was called upon to rise up in the belief that it could and would have a future as free, white, men; of that racially best element of ours which in moral self-discipline fought for the preservation of our 'American Way of Life' ... only to realize now - after a cruel awakening - that the Machiavellian intelligence of our World Citizens has well understood to use their world-political inexperience as a tool; when our Marxist Intelligentsia made them blow up the White Dam (Germany) in Central Europe and, thus, released a Red Flood which finally is bound to submerge us all. That is, if the store of excellent blood, that still there lies in a great part of the German people, can no longer be roused and spiritualized to meet the stupendous challenge of our Marxist One-World-Apostles.

THAT IS THE QUESTION OF TO-DAY.

Atomic Energy Commission are Marxists. All Marxists and Marxist publications used every means to have the bomb turned over to this committee. The Chairman, David E. Lilienthal, is a smooth-talking Red but the real leader is Lewis L. Strauss of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, Jewish International Bankers, whose President, Jacob Schiff financed the Communist revolution in Russia in 1917. In addition to Lilienthal and Strauss Robert F. Bacher and Wm. W. Waymack are the other two Marxists on this Committee. WAKE UP AMERICANS NOW OR WAKE UP LATER A SLAVE TO MARXISM AS MILLIONS IN EUROPE ARE NOW CRINGING SLAVES UNDER ANTI-CHRISTIAN MARXISTS.

BRITISH OFFICER SPEAKS

Major-General J. F. C. Fuller, a British soldier and student of warfare, in his book just published "The Second World War", exposes the stupidity in dealing with Germany.

Roosevelt's "unconditional surrender" demand, says this expert, only prolonged the war. It offered the Germans no hope for a reasonable peace, and spurred them to fight on to the death.

Churchill's bombing of civilian areas in German cities is regarded by Fuller as having been a colossal mistake. For one thing, he offers figures to show that this destructions did not cut down German military production seriously. Worse, he says, "the ruined cities of Germany will stand as monuments to the barbarism of their conquerors . . . the ruins will remain to beckon generation after generation of Germans to revenge."

"It is the purpose of the Communists in America to develop a revolutionary American political program and party, to set its feet firmly on the Marxian-Leninist path, and to lay the foundation for a revolutionary struggle that is now gradually mobilizing, the . . . masses and that will one day put 'finish' to bankrupt American capitalism and establish a Soviet America." Prominent Officials Welcome Communist Terrorist

The NEW YORK TIMES of November 23, 1948 carried a full page ad welcoming Menachem Beigin, Chief of Irgun, the terrorist organization which bragged they set bombs in English government buildings in Palestine killing many. This same page ad appeared in many large cities. This welcome was climaxed by a $50.00 a plate banquet at the Waldorf Astoria and galareception at the City Hall where Mayor O'Dwyer affiliated. All this to a notorious Communist who was a leader in the effort to overthrow Germany. Among the 652 names of prominent men listed in this ad were 93 Rabbis, 72 Congressmen, 11 Senators, 11 Governors, 9 Mayors. Some prominent Catholics such as James Farley and Mayor James Curley of Boston were also duped.

Below we publish an article from "America, A Catholic Review of the Week" January 1, 1949.

So complete was the collapse of the propaganda blow-up afforded to Menachem Beigin, former leader of the terrorist Irgun Zvai Leumi in Palestine, at the time of his arrival in New York last November, that little more might need to be said about this fantastic incident. Nevertheless, an article that appeared in the June 19, 1948 issue of the "Neue Volkszeitung", social-democratic German-language newspaper in New York City, throws an interesting light on the personality that hundreds of prominent persons in American life were asked to receive with welcoming arms. The information was furnished to the "Neue-Volkszeitung" by Gerhart H. Seger, founder and editor of the "Neue Volkszeitung", a former member of the German Reichstag, and, after 1933, a political refugee because of his distinguished labor leadership in Weimar Germany. According to Mr. Seger, Max Wullschlegel, the political editor of the Basle (Switzerland) "Arbeiter-Zeitung" ("Worker's Journal") found that the commanding officer of the Irgun was a German Communist, Freymann by name, who as chief of the Irgun used the Hebrew pseudonym Menachem Beigin. He is described by this report as having received military training in Russia and as having later played an important part in the Spanish Civil War. From Spain, he is said to have moved the field of his activity to the Red Army in China, and, after having accumulated sufficient experience in two civil wars, to have traveled to Palestine and taken over the direction of the Irgun organization. It would have been still more disturbing for the members of the "Menachem Beigin Reception Committee" if they had learned that the underground general they were asked to sponsor was reputedly a Russian-trained German Communist. Mr. Beigin left for Palestine December 21.

The Power to Destroy

By Merwin K. Hart, President of National Economic Council, Inc., in Letter No. 210

Merwin K. Hart

President Truman has asked Congress for tax increases on the ground that such increases are required to provide four billions extra revenue which he says his Administration must have.

This will not come as welcome news to the wage and salary earner who sweats to make ends meet as well as to support an extravagant Government. Nor will it be welcome news to business corporations whose health and life depend upon making profits adequate to build up reserves for replacement and expansion, pay existing taxes and allow some dividends to stockholders.

Why does the President seek to raise tax rates?

To be understood, the request needs to be seen in relation to the rest of the Truman program—a program which will have the effect, if it has not the deliberate purpose, of vastly weakening the free economy of the United States—in favor of Socialism. The imposition of increased taxes to pay the cost of the Truman program will destroy the power of individuals and business corporations to resist the program and its enlargement again and again.

Bluntly, we think the purpose of the proposed tax increase—whether or not Mr. Truman knows it—is not to raise additional revenue at all. It is to help destroy the American free economy.

Probably few Americans noticed a small and obscure news dispatch dated February 15th. As issued by the Associated Press it said in part:

"The Government collected almost $3,000,000,000 more in taxes last year than it did in 1947, despite the 1948 cut in personal income levies.

"The Treasury Department reported today that the total for taxes of all types in calendar year 1948 was $42,302,864,105 compared to $39,420,446,000 the year before."

Perhaps many missed the significance of this. Yet the fact behind it is bigger than any event headlined that day. That fact is that our Federal tax structure is not far from the saturation point—the point at which more taxes will not only produce less revenue but will seriously hurt the whole economy.

"How can this be?" the man in the street might ask. "Do not higher taxes bring more revenue, always?"

The answer is NO. There comes a point in rising tax rates when the higher levies actually produce less money. The law of diminishing returns begins to work. If the real object of government is to collect revenue, there is clear indication that the thing to do is to reduce the tax rate. If the object is to weaken the economy, then government either keeps the tax rates high or makes them higher.

Mr. Truman's advisers know all this very well. The truth of it is writ large in our history. What they rely upon is that the American taxpayer will not learn the truth—until too late.

In 1925 the Treasury faced a dilemma. From 1922 to 1924 inclusive, the national income of the United States had increased by $5,000,000,000. But the tax receipts for the fiscal year 1924 were down by $77,552,000 as compared with 1922. Secretary Mellon proposed a drastic cut of about 20% in income taxes of individuals and corporations. This resulted in passage of the Revenue Act of 1926, signed by President Coolidge on February 26th of that year.

The income tax receipts under the old, higher rates, produced for the fiscal year 1925 the sum of $1,761,659,049. But the application of the new, reduced rates brought in from the same sources $1,974,104,141 in the fiscal year 1926! The lower rate brought in $212,445,092 more than the higher rate!

For the fiscal year 1927, the new Revenue Act did even better, bringing in $245,848,303 above the 1926 collections. So, in two years, the Government received more than $669,000,000 additional because it reduced the tax rates.

The reason for this apparent paradox is not difficult to understand. When an individual or a corporation

How Long Will We Wait?

This is addressed to those who have belatedly awakened to the fact that the Marxists have almost completed their plan for world slavery for Christianity, abolishing all forms of religion and ending private ownership of homes, farms and business; to those who realize that millions in the United States will give their energy and support to the anti-Christ Revolution that will slaughter all who oppose them.

To those who realize for a fact what COMMON SENSE has been publishing for the past three years, we ask: Are you ready to put this fight the first thing in your life? Are you willing to sacrifice to back those who have been preparing for this emergency?

COMMON SENSE has the necessary knowledge and knows the specialists all over the United States to call in for consultation, we can gear our organization to a large volume distribution quickly enough to save our country. It is too late to line up amateurs against Revolutionists with world-wide experience. To do this we need funds. The editor has served without pay for three years—every dollar goes into the campaign. Our fight has been supported for three years mainly by those who could least afford it and by volunteer workers who have faithfully contributed their services—they have kept the flame burning until this crisis when even the deaf, dumb and blind should be alarmed. Thousands of dollars are needed in this fight to save America from the evils of communism. Back those who know how to fight. If those who are in a position to contribute substantially to this campaign do not do so, they will soon have no money with which to fight communism or enjoy any luxuries for that matter. COMMON SENSE could publish one-half million copies weekly thereby informing more readers of the imminent danger to our country. To save America we need action, supported by prayer and funds! GIVE WHAT YOU CAN NOW—TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE.

pays a dollar to the government in taxes, it is lost to the work of the economy. The taxpayer no longer has it to spend. If he had it, he could spend it for goods and services which would create the jobs necessary to minister to his wants and to the want of others. These new jobs would, in turn, enable those who got them to pay out further money for goods and services. They also create new tax-payers.

In the case of corporations, essentially the same process takes place. In addition, corporations can enlarge

Soviet Union Starves Children

By Rev. Edward Lodge Curran, Ph.D.

Recent news concerning Soviet activities in Berlin thoroughly demolishes the hypocritical pose always adopted by American Communists in their appeals to the poor underprivileged.

Communists are only interested in the poor as the raw material of revolution. They care nothing for the needs of the poor. This is proven by the fact that millions upon millions of Russian citizens have been reduced to the dregs of poverty and to the slavery of labor camps by the Communistic tyranny of Stalin and his henchmen in the Kremlin.

Now out of Berlin comes the news that the Russian Commander has refused to allow the Swedish Red Cross to ship food to children in the western or allied zones. According to the press, "the Swedes have been sending enough food to provide an extra meal a day to all undernourished Berlin children, three to six years of age." Russia has closed the door to this Swedish charity.

This should be enough to destroy, once and for all, the hypocritical assertion that Communism is interested in the welfare of humanity. When little children are made the victims of Communistic hatred, the last rung in the ladder of Communistic terrorism has been reached.

For many months, the western powers have been obliged to fly the necessities of life into their own Berlin zones. The late President Roosevelt allowed Stalin to draw a Soviet circle around the entire city of Berlin, so that Western traffic has to pass through Soviet territory in order to reach its own western zones. Now the shipment of the Swedish Red Cross food for children will have to be added to the already heavy flight task of the western powers.

If President Roosevelt had been more interested in preserving human rights than in appeasing the Soviet Union, he would have arranged for free access at all times on the part of the western powers to their own Berlin zones.

It was Roosevelt's shortsighted policy of Communistic appeasement which allowed the U.S.S.R. to encircle Berlin with Soviet controlled territory. The Reds have been quick to take advantage of Roosevelt's monumental blunder, even to the extent of now preventing the western powers from feeding undernourished children in their own zones.

This is no red herring. These are facts which should acquaint every American citizen with the diabolical purposes and methods of Atheistic Communism. Marxism believes in beating the world or starving the world into communistic slavery.

American Communists would starve American children in the same cold-blooded fashion. This is another reason why the Communist Party must be outlawed in every State of our American Republic and why every alien born Communistic should be immediately deported.

Blasphemy Deluxe

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

Only those who deny a Supreme God could handle Jesus of Nazareth as He is handled in a recent issue of the communist paper, "The Worker," Illinois Edition, December 26, 1948.

Underneath the laws of economics and other man-articulated sciences and arts, are the basic laws that govern all life as implemented by God himself. The Universe would long since have fallen apart and man have perished, had there not been eternal laws which held the one together and enabled the other to pursue his destiny.

Atheists have sneered at the Christ, but the worst of them has never prostituted Jesus as a bait to lure men down the primrose path to collectivism and communism.

To use Jesus as a communist, to compare His sufferings with the machinations of modern communists, is the cheapest and most blasphemous form of facilities, and both individuals and corporations can use more money as "venture capital"—that is, the sums invested in new enterprises which can add to the national wealth. And thus more tax-paying businesses come into being.

The tax-dollar, on the other hand, when taken into the Treasury, becomes temporarily sterile. Government is not a producer. It pays its servants, but they do not produce economic goods and services. The money government employees spend does eventually re-enter the economy, of course, but in the main the expenditures of government are parasitic rather than productive. Some of these non-productive expenditures are necessary—such as those for the Armed Forces. But nobody with understanding will claim they are productive of wealth or deny that they are largely lost to the productive working of the economy.

Now, when taxes are raised, the individual taxpayer has less money to spend after taxes. The taxpayer can buy fewer goods and services with the smaller amount of money he has left. Since not so many persons need to be employed to satisfy this reduced demand, jobs disappear. Every time a job disappears, government loses a taxpayer.

In the case of corporations, raising of tax rates means they cannot hire more workers, enlarge facilities, or produce new products—all of which would provide jobs whose holders would pay taxes, as well as larger profits which would yield more taxes. If taxes are raised still more, corporations must reduce working forces, curtail activities, and often go out of business—all of which reduces ultimate tax revenue.

Additionally, as taxes rise, money necessary for "venture capital" shrinks away, which makes impossible the creation of new businesses—an absolute essential to a sound and growing economy. Again, government, by taking too much in taxes, deprives itself of future revenue from businesses which it keeps from being born.

It is no mere "big business" argument, then, that high taxes defeat their own purpose. This is a principle long understood by wise administrators. Almost two thousand years ago the Roman Emperor Tiberius put it in one sentence: "It is the part of a good shepherd to shear his flock, not skin it."

Now the group of Statists and Marxists who surround Mr. Truman know all these things. None of what we have said will be any news to them. They know all about the effect of tax increases upon revenues. They know that when a tax reduction produces more revenue in only a part of its first year it means that in the former tax structure the point of diminishing return had already been passed. What they do reveals their intentions. In the case of Secretary Mellon, when he found that the high tax rates (lower than we have today) necessary to support the expense of World War I were actually reducing tax receipts, he urged the rates be lowered. He thereupon got more tax receipts, and the economy was enabled to become more productive.

The back-stage Marxists in control of the Administration want a Socialist America. Their total program is a blueprint for it. A device to use tax rate increases to destroy private business, or at least gravely to weaken it, fits perfectly into the scheme for a Socialist America. It fits into no other pattern. It is unreasonable to believe they would be consistent and clever about everything else in their blueprint, but inconsistent and dumb about this.

One reason why taxation is so potent a weapon for "social change" is that the public generally thinks of taxes as something difficult to understand. The annual tax forms, with all their gobbledygook, are enough to discourage anybody from the mere mention of "taxes." And the assumption of bureaucrats that they can get away with almost anything in a complicated tax bill proves to be rather sound.

When the Income Tax Amendment was proposed in Congress, one argument had great weight—weight enough, according to some, to tip the scales in its favor. The argument went like this: "The people submit supinely now (1909) to many taxes, because they are hidden. Bring them out into the open, let the people know how much they have to pay, and they will insist upon economy in government." (In 1909 the total expenditures of the Federal Government were $694,000,000—less than the current budget of New York City.)

The attempt in 1912 to limit the Federal income tax to a maximum of ten per cent in the wording of the Amendment itself, was rejected on the assurance of its proponents that income tax rates would never get as high as ten per cent unless the mention of such a figure should encourage some later Congress to go that high! Consistent with Karl Marx's platform for destroying capitalism by a "progressive" income tax, the present maximum levy is close to 90 per cent!

The expectation that knowledge of the burdens imposed upon them would render the people more alert in checking vast Government spending has turned out to be an illusion. The late Senator William E. Borah put it perfectly in a speech in the Senate:

"The marvel of all history is the patience with which men and women submit to burdens unnecessarily laid upon them by their governments."

How has this come to be so true in the United States? Our Republic was born out of the imposition of onerous taxes—yet taxes which were trifling compared with taxes we have to pay today. We think the frightening supineness of our people arises from two causes, both of which appear to be good, but both of which are essentially bad.

1. When our Government was first established, it was as an agency by which free men were to do together certain things they could not do alone. It was to be the servant of the people. Our ancestors objected to paying taxes to a government that wanted to be their master. They were willing to pay to support a government that would be their servant. Therefore the idea grew up here in the United States, as nowhere else on earth, that to pay one's taxes is a sacred moral obligation. This idea could only have gained its firm roots in a land in which the people were sure their government was their servant, never their master.

But few people in high public life today give anything more than lip-service to the idea they are servants of the people. Those familiar with the Washington bureaucracy know what most of our people cannot know because they have never seen it—the arrogance of those who consider themselves the rulers, not the servants, of the people. This attitude of contempt toward "the governed" is most marked in the non-elective posts—the agencies of the Executive Department and the independent agencies.

In all branches of government there are, of course, many real public servants. Yet they are in such a minority as almost to be conspicuous.

This vast governmental establishment currently includes more than two million civilian employees. Its budget runs to more than a thousand fine-printed pages, which probably have never been read from beginning to end by any person alive. Certainly no legislator has the physical time to read it, and if he read it he could not possibly check personally upon one per cent of the listed items.

More and more this vast, sprawling organism has come to consider itself as a vested interest. More and more it resists inquiry into its efficiency and often even the necessity for its existence. More and more it considers itself as the lawgiver instead of the elected Congress, and thousands of its regulations and orders have the force of law. Whether the bureaucracy thinks of itself as the master of the people might be debated, but the question would be beside the point. Increasingly it ACTS as master, not servant, and that is the point.

Whatever may be in the mind of the minority of devoted public servants, the fact is clear that the camarilla surrounding Mr. Truman is driving hard to wreck the American Republic we have known, and to erect upon its ruins the Welfare State, the bureaucratic Police State of Socialism. And they rely upon the instrument of taxation as a major method of destroying centers of resistance, while yet taking advantage of the old and rooted American idea that payment of taxes to our servant, the Government, is a moral, almost holy, duty. "You wouldn't cheat dear old Uncle Sam!"

With full consciousness of what we say, we now assert that so long as the kind of people who have seized control of our Government continue to control it, the American people ought to view the imposition of taxes with sharp skepticism rather than with implicit faith. We don't want to cheat Uncle Sam, but we are beginning to suspect that someone has slugged Uncle Sam and is now walking about in the old man's clothes.

In private business, the efficient producer is the producer who accomplishes the most with the least expenditure. A man who can run a business which has theretofore used the services of 100 people, by studying and rearranging the work so that it can be done better by 75 people, is a good administrator. He helps reduce the cost of the goods or services his company offers the ultimate consumer, and so renders an economic service. He gets a raise in pay, and rightly.

In our Federal Government, this rule is reversed. The "rating" of a bureaucrat, both as to salary and socially, depends upon how many people he has under him in his bureau or department. If he tries to be frugal with the people's money and cuts his force while still maintaining the same output of work, he is not praised. Instead, everyone is on his neck. His bureau chief is on his neck because it reduces the number of people in the bureau. Both of them may end up by taking a cut since, in the inverted logic of the Government, they are not so important, being in charge of fewer people. The people fired will be on his neck, and on the necks of their congressmen, who will in turn hop on the neck of the naive bureaucrat who let them go.

Rare indeed is the head of any unit who deliberately lessens his own salary and prestige by trying to economize. The competition is all the other way: everyone is scheming to get more employees assigned to him so as to increase emoluments and standing. So where is efficiency, where is the confident boast that in government, as in everything else, "you get what you pay for?"

When you know these things, when you understand something of the colossal, cynical waste of the money you sweat to earn and pay at a sacrifice, how do you feel about taxes? Don't you think it is about time to act? And when you reflect that your own money is being used today to put you in chains and regiment the life of your children and their children in the Welfare State, what further thoughts do you have?

So, in America, the power to tax is being used to destroy. The power is being used consciously, purposefully, ruthlessly, to destroy the Constitutional Republic under which we have lived and risen to first rank among the nations of the world. It is being done by master-minds who are Americans in name only, being such neither by ancestry, devotion to American principles and ideals, or love of America as America deserves to be loved.

And they are doing it with the cooperation, active or passive, of multitudes of Americans who have no idea what is happening to them. They have allowed a few sweet-sounding humanitarian generalities to dazzle them so that they do not see the great crime that is being committed upon humanity and the rights that belong to every man.

Taxes are your business. The power of the purse is the supreme power in government. It is being used against the American people by their new caste of lords and masters. But the power belongs to that caste only by the people's sufferance. The purses are ours: refuse to open them (as our forefathers refused) and tyranny will wither on the vine. This may be the only way in which the American people can bring bureaucracy to heel and show who is master.

The President has announced he will go over the heads of Congress and will carry to the country his socialist program—involving, as it does, a further annual spending of five to ten billion dollars per year, on top of 42 billions already provided for.

We announce that we will carry to the country the message that the President's program which he seeks to impose on America is a step toward this country's downfall.

Eighty per cent of Americans would be against it if they understood it. We propose to acquaint them with it.

Two million thoughtful letters to your congressmen and senators can defeat this threat.

Will you be one of the two million?

sacrilege. But, that is exactly what "The Worker" does on its front page of December 26, 1948.

A quarter page mock advertisement calls for the apprehension of the criminal Jesus Christ. He is shown with a bitterly hopeless face, lined with suffering. Underneath a legend states that He is wanted for sedition, criminal anarchy, vagrancy and conspiring to overthrow the government.

The less informed reader may swallow the nasty cynicism. But anyone who really knows the story of Jesus knows that He was not seditious, was not considered a criminal anarchist even by His enemies, and that He made no efforts to overthrow the government. He recognized the rights and place of Caesar as He did those of God.

It is bad enough that communists should blaspheme the Redeemer, while at the same time seeking the support of church groups with their humanitarian-scented program of atheistic materialism.

But our real menace does not come from the openly-confessed communists. It comes rather from those whom we know as respected leaders in various places, many of them invoking the aid of God in their collectivistic activities, who lend front to the collectivist movement under the sanction of religion. It is not surprising that communist Earl Browder is quoted as boasting that the communist movement, more than any other, has succeeded in setting up a common front with religious groups and in bringing communist non-religious ideas to the religious masses.

It does take strength to stand by the teachings of Jesus. It takes fortitude and faith to support the basic doctrines of Christianity, and perhaps we should not be too surprised that some ministers unable to stand up to their religious professions, lend willing ears to these men who would change social institutions to solve the problems of sinful man. It is easier to change laws on statute books than to reform sinful men.

Someday a real crusader may arise within the church and persuade people to become Christians, and give the teachings of Jesus real opportunity to demonstrate the power behind and in them. Such a man would restore faith in God, and find solutions for our social problems by attacking their roots in man himself.

Jesus has been crucified many times. God has often been blasphemed. But no derision of the Master or contempt for God has ever approached the depths of degradation to which both have been subjected by this effort to make Jesus a communist.

Priest Bares Terror of Soviets

A priest who fled the Red Terror in Lithuania lifted a corner of the Iron Curtain today to reveal a glimpse of the horror that is daily life under Soviet domination.

The priest is the Rev. Father Walter Karalevicius, who has just been appointed curate of St. Michael's R.C. Church in his native Bayonne, N. J.

He has seen 45,000 people jammed into freight cars for the dread journey to Siberia, priests with their eyes gouged out and their ears cut off, men and women forced to dig their own graves.

He has heard the roar of machines being run by the NKVD, the Russian secret police, to drown out the screams of people being tortured and murdered in the woods.

He has faced the inquisition of the dread NKVD himself.

Reds Stamped Out Religion

Father Karalevicius, who was born in Bayonne of naturalized American parents, was taken back to Lithuania on a visit in 1925. He completed his education there and was ordained to the priesthood in 1937.

He was a teacher in the gymnasium or junior college at Skakiai when the Russians swept into Lithuania in 1940.

"Immediately the Russians proceeded to stamp out religion," Father Karalevicius recalls. "All Catholic societies were closed and religious instruction in the schools was forbidden. Crosses and religious objects were taken out of the schools and the teachers were encouraged to make fun of religion.

"Monasteries were closed, nuns were chased into the streets and ordered to wear only civilian clothing.

"Priests were forbidden to carry on their work outside of their churches, and even their sermons were checked by NKVD spies who took copious notes.

Threatened with 20 Years in Siberia

"I was called before the NKVD because I had taught religion to children in the sacristy and because some of the children of the parish took Good Friday off from school.

"The official who questioned me threatened me with 20 years in Siberia.

"Why?" I asked.

"It is the will of the Soviet Union," he replied.

But that was only the beginning. The fruit of all the spying developed in the four days from June 13 to 17, 1941, when 45,000 persons were seized by the Soviet and shipped off to Siberia.

"I knew something terrible was going to happen," Father Karalevicius says. "I could sense it when I saw the inhuman faces of the four truckloads of NKVD men that descended on our town."

A friend carried the priest across a river and he hid out in the forest as the manhunt proceeded for four days. Finally the 45,000 that had been rounded up were jammed into box cars to be taken to Siberia.

Pitiful Cries of Women and Children

"The cries of the women and the children—many of them only babies—were horrible," the priest went on. "You could hear them two miles away. Imagine what faced these people. A journey of thousands of miles with no food and no water!"

It was soon after that, June 22, 1941, that war broke out between Russia and Germany.

"When the Russians retreated they indulged in an orgy of killing," Father Karalevicius related. "At a sugar factory they lined up the workers and shot them all. Why, I don't know. Perhaps they hadn't submitted willingly enough to regimentation.

"When the Reds had left, we searched in the woods and found the bodies of three priests, including that of one of my former teachers at the seminary. Their eyes had been gouged out and their ears cut off."

When in 1944 the Reds approached again, Father Karalevicius fled to Silesia, and then to Bavaria, where he welcomed the Americans in April, 1945.

He was in a DP camp until arrangements were made for him to return to his native America. It was only this month that he arrived on the transport Ernie Pyle.

Will Bare Plight of Red Subjects

The priest shudders when he thinks of the fate of his parents and his friends under Rer rule in Lithuania. He says the only word comes from behind the Iron Curtain is in cryptic letters written to get by the censors. The letters are grim reading with such phrases as "We wish we were with Helen" (Helen is dead).

On Sunday there will be a Solemn High Mass at the Lithuanian R.C. Church of Our Lady of Vilna, Broome and Varick Streets. The Most Rev. Stephen Donohue, auxiliary bishop of New York, will represent Cardinal Spellman. Father Karalevicius will deliver the sermon.

General Marshall Marxist Dupe

Many months ago COMMON SENSE stated flatly that Gen. George C. Marshall spent the thirteen months as Ambassador to China as a stooge for Marxists, working to force Chiang Kai-shek to accept Communism. For this COMMON SENSE was criticized by those who could not devote time to learning how Marxism works.

When Patrick Hurley resigned as ambassador to China he stated our State Department placed so many Communists around him that Stalin knew his moves before Washington. Mr. Hurley said when he made a speech to a group stating that his country was not favorable to Communism, the State Department Attaches would immediately spread the word that his statements were opposite the facts. When Mr. Hurley protested to the State Department in Washington, they allowed him to resign and appointed Felix Frankfurter's choice, George C. Marshall.

COMMON SENSE has known for several years that Felix Frankfurter (head of the Invisible Government) controlled the State Department with an iron hand. For years while James Byrnes and George Marshall were supposedly Secretaries of State, Benjamin Cohen was there as the representative of the Invisible Government to see that the orders of Felix Frankfurter were carried out. He was at their sides at all conferences in Europe and Moscow, just as David Niles (Neyhus) under F. D. R. and Truman administrations represents the Invisible Government in the White House.

During the past few months many facts have appeared to prove the wisdom of our observation that General Marshall was a stooge for Marxism in China. In this connection, we republish an article from the NEW YORK DAILY MIRROR, February 19, 1949.

Priest Blames Marshall for China's Red Crisis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (INS).—A Chinese Catholic priest asserted today that Gen. George C. Marshall must be blamed for the Communist victories in China.

The Rev. John T. S. Mao, chancellor of the archdiocese of Nanking, declared here that the ill-fated mission to China which Marshall undertook before he became Secretary of State caused the present crisis.

Father Mao said:

"The coalition government which Marshall forced on Chiang Kai-shek fatally undermined the ability of the Chinese government to resist Communist warfare.

"Marshall was given a thoroughly wrong picture of Chinese Communists. The man responsible for his misinformation, which has had such cruel results, is Owen Lattimore, American political adviser in the Far East.

"Lattimore pictured the Chinese Communists as mere land-reformists, not dominated or controlled by Moscow. This was viciously wrong. The Communists in China are under the complete domination of Moscow, their armies were supplied by Russia and their leaders are loyal to the Kremlin.

"The confusion resulting from Marshall's mission is directly responsible for the Communist military victories."

Doings In Congress

By Congressman Wm. Lemke

Rep. Wm. Lemke

The 81st Congress has been in session for two months. Not a single major piece of legislation has been passed. There is a reason. The Democratic victory surprised the leaders of the Party even more than it did the Republicans. They felt that they would not be called upon to assume the legislative responsibility.

Their victory found them unprepared. They groped in the darkness trying to figure out just what their legislative program should be. They listened to the President's inaugural address and shook their heads. These were not in accord with our Nation running the whole world.

In the meantime, some industrialists beclouded the issues. They sent out cleverly worded questionnaires with request that they be answered and sent to Members of Congress. Thus clogging up the mails and filling the already overburdened wastebaskets. According to these lobbyists the only issue is the Taft-Hartley Act.

May I say to my friends that it is a mistake to become mere cogs in this nation wide, cleverly prepared propaganda wheel. Such propaganda serves no useful purpose. If you are for or against any bill, write your Congressman a short letter. This will help your purpose far more than canned ideas handed to you by some interested lobbyist.

Members of Congress have a right to have your own convictions. Canned or mass propaganda has little effect. The Republicans have had headaches enough with the Taft-Hartley Act. They now realize that if they had been a little more tactful, and had not slapped all labor in the face, that then their Presidential candidate would now be occupying the White House.

The 80th Congress could have passed a good labor law—one that the leaders of labor would have agreed to—a law that would have been just to labor, management and the public. However, the leaders arrogantly slapped labor in the face and they got what they bargained for November 2. As a result of these blunders the Republicans have been kept out of the White House for another four years, and if they aren't careful it will be eight more years. By that time there may be very little left of American institutions.

The time has come that we do not become blind followers of every Tom, Dick and Harry who has an ax to grind. There are two sides to every issue. Let us not become cogs in a propaganda wheel. Let us cooperate with labor leaders and with management and with the public to get just labor legislation.

I sincerely hope that when the labor bill finally comes up on the floor, it will be so amended that no-minded person can find fault with it—that it will be so amended that it will do complete justice to labor, management and the public.

Americanism Versus Communism

ONE CANNOT BE AN AMERICAN AND A COMMUNIST AT THE SAME TIME

This should be specifically defined by Congressional Law.

When an American citizen becomes inimical to his own welfare and embraces COMMUNISM—which is a foreign Marxist ideology—he repudiates and automatically surrenders and forfeits his American citizenship and thereby becomes a self constituted alien Bolshevik, and is thus not entitled to any further citizenship protection under the United States laws, and should then be deported to the land of his embracement.

A communist is a vicious brazen LIAR when he claims to be a loyal American, and a cringing coward, when he will deny his adherence to the Moscow Reds.

He becomes a low down unprincipled thief, as he intends—and will use every underhand method and ruse to steal the United States for the Bolshevik government of the Soviet Union. And he is a traitorous ingrate, while enjoying the freedom and benefits of this land, and at the same time, ravishing the asylum and all other benefits that have been accorded to him under the domicile of the United States laws.

All loyal citizens should join and demand of CONGRESS that COMMUNISTS and all other subservient bodies in the United States shall be expeditiously and relentlessly banished from our midst.

"It is necessary to be able to agree to any and every sacrifice, and even—if need be—to resort to all sorts of devices, maneuvers, and illegal methods, to evasion and subterfuge, in order to penetrate into the trade unions, to remain in them, and to carry on Communist work in them at all costs."—From Lenin's "Left-Wing Communism."

Anatole Lunacharsky, Commissar of Education in Moscow, is quoted:

"We hate Christians; even the best of them must be regarded as our worst enemies. They preach love of one's neighbor and mercy, which is contrary to our principles. Christianity is an obstacle to the revolution. Down with love of one's neighbor. What we need is hatred. We must know how to hate; only thus shall we conquer the universe." WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TODAY?

What have you done for God today?
What have you done for your neighbor?
What have you done for your deathless soul
By patience, prayer and labor?
What have you done that God may crown
When this little life will be over;
And your body will mingle dust with dust,
Under the grass and clover?
What have you done to gladden some heart
Bowed down with toil, sickness or sorrow?
Ponder and answer, and then resolve
To do something nobler tomorrow.

As Pegler Sees It

George Spelvin Bemoans Lack of Pro-Americanism
By WESTBROOK PEGLER

George Spelvin, American, being summoned to Washington by the committee investigating pro-American activities, testified as follows:

Yes, it is true what has been charged. I am a one hundred percent American and I play golf, too, and I am not ashamed of it.

With regards to whether Bosky Brae Country Club, which I belong, practices discrimination would beg to advise I have never seen any Colored people, Indians, or Chinamen, but I am not eligible for the Colored Elks, either, or the Hopi Council or the Hip Sings, the Four Brothers or the On Leongs.

They have a right to adopt their own rules to keep out whoever they don't want to let in. It all just comes down to whether they want to associate with their own circle of friends or let in outsiders like the Spelvins. This is racial discrimination absolutely, but it is okay with me. I am not beefing.

With regards to whether I have any group or sect because of their race or their religious beliefs, that is the most malicious, dirty lie ever was hatched up in the glorious old United States of A.

The Spelvins don't hate you just because they don't make a practice of butting into your clubs or social affairs. Maybe if we all knew each other better we would all be better friends, but maybe we would really get to hating each other, too, so it is not such a bad idea to just rock along like we have.

It ain't necessarily so that when you know people better you get to like them better. Nobody on earth knows George Spelvin the way I know him. I know low-down things about Spelvin that would turn anybody against him.

I couldn't stay friends with anybody who ever said to me some of the things I say to myself. I would bust them right in the snoot and that is what you can expect when people get to knowing each other too well.

Yes, I hate a lot of individuals. I hate them because they are dirty, underhanded phonies, not because they are any certain religion or their parents came from any particular country. I hate them personally and individually and you are never going to deprive me of my God given Constitutional right to hate phonies and crooks.

If you call that preaching hatred, well it goes as it lays just the same.

But what about loving? The Spelvins love a lot of people, too, irregardless of their religion or whether the old folks came from Bessarabia.

Yes, I hated Franklin D. Roosevelt and I still hate his name because he recognized Soviet Russia after Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover refused to have anything to do with them because they were out to destroy our country. I am afraid they will succeed in destroying my country by sucking us into another war.

They will either bust us so bad that we have to give up freedom like the Europeans did when they went bankrupt, or they will smash up our country with atom bombs and traitors. It will be all Roosevelt's fault and I will never forget it and I will never forgive him. I say that because I am an American and I hate anyone who will deliberately do my beloved country dirt like he did.

Yes, I say we had no business going into the war because Roosevelt could have made a deal with Japan to destroy Soviet Russia. Hitler kept telling us the menace of the world was Bolshevism and he wasn't wrong.

You aren't going to get anywhere by calling me a dirty Nazi because we have got the main ingredients of national socialism right here and now in our own glorious country. We have got union goons beating up citizens and wrecking factories and now it is going to be health insurance and deduct 10 or 15 per cent of your pay before you ever touch it.

Roosevelt gave us that and it is just as much Nazism as anything else.

If you are going to have organized mobs of goons beating people up and wrecking property, it doesn't make any difference whether they do it because they hate your religion or your politics. ?

No. I must say I don't care what happens to the Chinamen. From what I hear they can be just as bloodthirsty as the Japs, but anyway I have got troubles of my own. I am an American, do you get that? A one hundred per center. America first! That's me. Do you want to make anything out of it?

No. I cannot say I can give you any information about any pro-American activities in Washington, D. C., ever since March 4, 1933. Pro-Russian. Pro-British. Pro-Chinese. Pro-Communist. But not pro-American.

The Federal Aid To Education Bill

ELEVEN BASIC OBJECTIONS TO THE PROPOSAL KNOWN AS "FEDERAL AID TO EDUCATION" as presented by George W. Robnett, Executive Secretary, Church League of America, in a radio debate on the "Forum of the Air" with a Vice President of the National Education Association.

Objection No. 1. It is not necessary. Not a single State has officially asked the Federal Government for educational aid. The individual States are in better comparative financial condition than is the Federal Government. Most States have a substantial surplus—while the Federal Government has a staggering unprecedented DEBT. Most States have recently materially increased their school-aid appropriations—in many cases in excess of what this bill demands.

Objection No. 2. This school-aid proposal would lead to greater and greater Federal control. True, the bill contains an opening clause that disclaims control intentions—but Senator Byrd and other leading Senators have said this clause is not worth the paper it is written on. (a) The bill provides no penalties for violation of this pious purpose; (b) The law could be changed completely by any succeeding Congress; and (c) The bill itself is filled with Federal control devices.

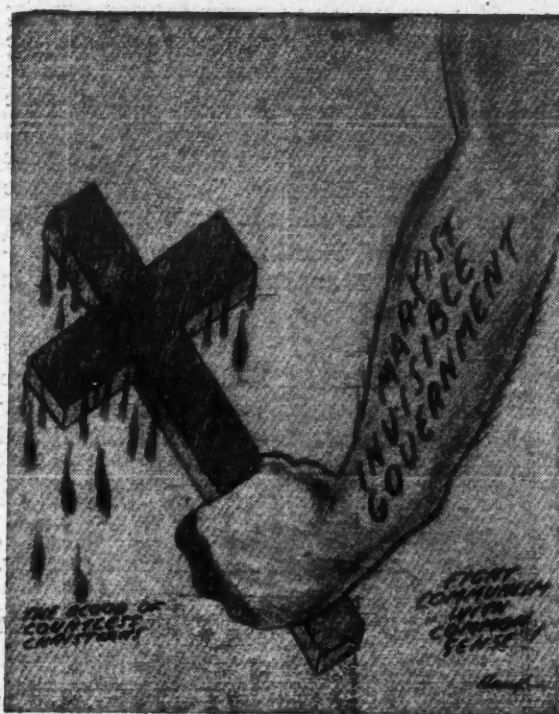

Objection No. 3. This proposal for Federal Aid is both unfair and dishonest. It was put forward as a means of helping to equalize educational opportunities among the States—by taking money from the rich States and giving it to the poor States. This bill proposes, however, to take from all the States—give back to all the States—and run up a heavy bureaucratic expense in so doing. If this were an honest proposal, according to its avowed purposes, it would distribute money only to those States that are put forward as indigent cases. The only answer to this is that the proponents want an over-all distribution so they can exercise over-all control.

Objection No. 4. The whole history of this project shows it to be a group pressure movement. It has, from its inception, been promoted mainly by the National Education Association office in Washington, which Congressman Gwinn (New York) charges to be one of the most active and powerful lobbies in the capital city. Teachers throughout the nation have been organized and mobilized into action behind this bill through the lure that a substantial part of this Federal subsidy would be used to increase their salaries. Naturally they are fighting for it.

Objection No. 5. Firemen, policemen, and many other departments of local government who feel that they are insufficiently financed would have exactly the same right and thus be encouraged to demand Federal subsidies.

Objection No. 6. Mr. Taft and other Senators have predicted this bill would be just a beginning. Taft once said, "The desires of the educators are almost without limit . . . Having yielded once there will be no way to prevent a further yielding." These Senators predicted that what would start as a $300,000,000 appropriation would, within ten years, be boosted through pressure to at least $3,000,000,000. As this outlay would grow—so would Federal control. Once the foot is inside the Federal door—the proponents will grow bolder.

Objection No. 7. Basic States' rights are threatened by this bill. In castigating this project in 1943, Senator Taft said, "We do not subscribe to the doctrine that because our public schools and our educational facilities are a vital element in our national welfare, they, thereby, become the proper concern and implied responsibility of the National Government. Our schools are one of the few remaining bulwarks of local government and community enterprise. They should so remain." Nothing in all of this has changed—except, strangely enough, Mr. Taft.

Objection No. 8. During the Senate debate on the bill, Senator Donnell asked Senator Taft where in the Constitution he found authority for legislation of this type. Senator Taft replied, "The authorization must be found, in my opinion, under the welfare clause, namely the right to tax for the general welfare." If this "general welfare" clause is to be used for any and all kinds of Federal spending, so long as someone claims it is for general welfare, then the rest of the Constitution may as well be thrown away. Certainly the Tenth Amendment covering States' rights would be destroyed.

Objection No. 9. Not only would Constitutional States' rights be violated—but State responsibility would be undermined and indif-

By DR. DAVID GOLDSTEIN

Treason of the Red-Reds: We have been reminded once more during the past month or so, that when Stalin takes snuff, the Communist leaders in all nations sneeze. This was strikingly evidenced when the Communist leaders in Italy, Finland, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland and our United States, belched forth the Moscow-ordered declaration of Maurice Thorez of France, that if the Soviet Army entered his country, the Communists would not only welcome it as an emancipator, but would assist it through "classbattle" means. The perverse mentality of Communists leads them to assume that such a move on the part of the Red Army would be in "defense of freedom," whereas resistance to the Soviet Union on the part of countries this side of the Iron Curtain, termed "imperialist" countries, even through the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact, is for "capitalist exploitation," prompted by that mythical, abstract personage called "Wall Street."

A New York Times Editorial Condemnation of these treasonable declarations was captioned —COMMUNISM DROPS ITS MASK; and one of its leading correspondents said that it "is merely a new phase in the development of a world-wide party line," which it is not. Treason has always been one of the basic tactics advocated by Marxian Socialists, to further their world revolutionary objective. It is based on the teachings of Marx and Engels in the Communist Manifesto, the Magna Carta of Socialism. In an endeavor to counteract the charge noted therein, that Socialists are unpatriotic, these fathers of Modern Socialism declared that "The Workingmen have no country, therefore they cannot fight for what they have not." This treasonable shibboleth has been echoed throughout all the Socialist propaganda years. Speaking in Tremont Temple, Boston, in pre-Lenin-Trotsky-Stalin days, Eugent V. Debs, five time Socialist Party presidential candidate, said scornfully: "Talk about the men of Europe fighting for patriotism and love of country? The workingmen in any part of the world never had a country to fight for" (Oct. 15, 1915). During 1916, the National Executive Committee of the Socialist Labor Party declared: "The working class should not consider any country under capitalist rule worthy of defense no matter what the circumstance may be."

The Socialist Party assembled in a "National Emergency Convention" at St. Louis (1917), the day after our country announced that a state of war existed against Germany, declared that "The Social Revolution not political office is the end and aim of the Socialist Party," and resolved—as did the Communists last month that "the wars of contending national groups of capitalists are not the concern of the workers. The only struggle which will justify workers taking up arms" is Socialism, and called for "continuous active, public opposition to war, through demonstration, mass petitions,

Tolerance — For Anti-Christians Only

By LEON BERAUD

(translation by David Gordon)

Several years ago, there was held at the Palais de la Mutualite a protest meeting against the "crimes against justice" in Germany. Present were the communist ring-leader, Dormoy, the leftest destroyer of French aviation, Cot (Dormoy and Cot are now both members of the government), Jouhaux, author of the attempted general strike and others of similar political complexion. On the Committee of Honor we find the names of such "Frenchmen" as Basch, Bloch, Blum, Hadamard, Lekach, Poliakov and Spire. (Blum has returned to France and is the real boss.)

Now, the right of these gentlemen to protest against the burning of synagogues in Germany is incontestable and we ourselves sympathize with this protest. But these very same gentlemen are the ones who condoned the burning of churches in Spain. Are we to conclude that it is a greater crime to burn a synagogue than a church?

On March 20, 1919, the bandit, Kohn, alias Bela Kuhn, was released from prison and immediately proclaimed a Soviet Republic in Hungary. He named a Council of Peoples Commissioners composed of 28 members of whom 18 were non-Christians. March 30th, Bela Kuhn decreed universal suffrage for all Hungarians—with the exception of priests and monks. Religious instruction for children in the schools was abolished in favor of sexual information. A strict literary censorship was imposed and the heads of this censorship were two non-Christians, Lukacs and Szamuely. This latter gentleman, assisted by one named Corvin, proved himself an executioner without parallel in the name of "stamping out counter-revolution".

The same victorious Reds have just persecuted Cardinal Mindszenty.

In 1919, neither Blum nor Basch nor Bloch nor Cot made the slightest protest of the outrageous treatment of Christians by their own co-racialists.

In Germany, the ringleaders of Marxism were all Jews with the one prominent exception of Thaelmann. The leaders of the Marxist uprising of 1919 known as the Spartacus movement were: Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg. And Spartacus was a bloody affair indeed. During the first Social-Democratic Republic in Germany (which contained five Jews in the Reich cabinet), Soviet republics were proclaimed in several of the largest German cities under the instigation of Karl Radek, whose real name was Sobelsohn. The establishment of the Soviet Republic of Bavaria on April 7, 1919, was accompanied by far bloodier outrages than any committed by the Nazis. Now the leaders of the Bavarian Soviet were: Eisner, Landauer, Toller (Toller, to whom Winchell gave orchards, committed suicide in a New York hotel in 1940) Meusahm and the Brothers Levine. When this Bavarian Soviet was put down by the German army, these Soviet leaders killed their hostages in the Luitpoldschloss and these hostages were all Christians.

Why did not MM. Blum, Basch, Bloch and Cot protest then?

When Lenin landed in Russia in the famous sealed car, his companions were: Zinoviev (Radomyski) and the woman Radomyskaia, E. Kan, A. Konstantinovitch, E. Merigoff, G. Sokolnikoff-Brilliant, I. Goberman, D. Rozenblum, A. Linde, A. Aizenberg, F. Grebelski, Ravitch—all Jews.

Under the direction of these "humanitarians," during the year 1922 alone, the Marxist terror cost the lives of 28 bishops, 1,215 priests, 6,575 professors, 8,800 physicians, 54,850 army officers, 260,000 soldiers, 105,000 policemen, 12,850 civil servants and 815,000 peasants.

Why did not MM. Blum, Basch, Bloch and Cot protest then?

And these same "Frenchmen" were very quiet in their lucrative government posts during the year 1930 when Korotchenkov ordered the mass destruction of peasants and villages in the Ukraine, when 6,000,000 peasants were "liquidated."

And, of course, about Spain: In the year 1931, the "Spanish Republic" began to persecute Spanish Catholics and confiscate their goods.

In the Civil War in Spain, the very associates of MM. Blum, Basch, Bloch and Cot in Spain murdered 16,750 priests and religious.

No protest.

63,200 residents of Madrid—many of these women, most of whom were outraged first by the red humanitarians—were "liquidated" and their property confiscated.

No protest.

It seems to us that MM. Blum, Basch, Bloch, etc. are very partial with their protests.

"It is the purpose of the Communists in America to develop a revolutionary American political program and party, to set its feet firmly on the Marxian-Leninist path, and to lay the foundation for a revolutionary struggle that is now gradually mobilizing, the . . . masses and that will one day put 'finish' to bankrupt American capitalism and establish a Soviet America."

We must hate — hatred is the basis of Communism. Children must be taught to hate their parents if they are not Communists. If they are, then the children need not respect them; need not worry about them. (Lenin, Congressional Record, vol. 77, pp. 1539-40; "MKR" p 123).

"Mass action (under Communist leadership) includes: a combination of strikes and demonstrations; a combination of strikes and armed demonstrations, and finally, the general strike conjointly with armed insurrection against the state power of the bourgeoisie." — From the "Program of the Communist International," an official Red document published with the imprint of the Communist Party of the United States.

Religion is the enemy of Communism. We must do our utmost to emphasize that religious survivals in our country play a reactionary, harmful role. Traitors In YWCA

Editors Note.

The Patriot of LONDON, ENGLAND has published an article concerning Communism operating in the Y.W.C.A. in the United States. Their article is based on a very important booklet "Behind The Lace Curtains of the Y.W.C.A." written by Joseph P. Kamp of New York. Those who wish to read this startling booklet may secure it from Common Sense; fee 50c. With appreciation to the Patriot we republish their article.

That Communism makes progress in every country not only by the activities of Communists themselves but by the work of so-called anti-Communists is quite certain. When these guilty people are challenged always some excuse is made or it is denied that any Communists exist in organizations which are sheltering these reds, or that if they do exist their power for working evil is so limited that no notice need be taken of their activities. An organization which seems to be thus penetrated, and in which no cleansing operations take place is the YWCA of America and a booklet entitled "Behind the Lace Curtains of the Y. W. C. A." and issued by the Constitutional Educational League of New York, describes the red complexion of the propaganda which is disseminated in, by and through this Association. The author is Mr. Joseph P. Kamp, who has a sound record in fighting Communism with the gloves off. In his indictment Mr. Kamp uses Y.W.C.A. publications, as well as actual Communist documents, and he claims that his charges cannot be refuted. Opportunity for the Association to do so has been given but has not been accepted. In his book Mr. Kamp states:—

"Both deft and brazen touches of Communist propaganda are to be found in Y.W.C.A. booklets and pamphlets, hymn books and prayer books, magazines and newsletters, in most of which the writings of Communist authors are recommended and advertised. Furthermore, 'Y' leaders and students are constantly referred to outside sources for study material—the majority of which are either Left Wing, pro-Communist or outright Communist.

"In one year, The Woman's Press, official organ of the Y.W.C.A., published articles by 32 writers whose records of Communist affiliation are listed in United States government files.

"One Y.W.C.A. booklet alone recommends the writings of 40 authors whose dossiers in official investigating agencies in Washington show a total of 320 citations for their Communist connections.

"The Y.W.C.A. has collected and spent untold millions—

" . . . to train potential Christian leaders . . . to develop competent responsible citizens . . . to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians.

"Notwithstanding these high purposes, the 'Y' has trained Communist leaders who have developed into everything but 'competent responsible citizens.' It has built 'a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing'—not Christian ideals, but 'a new social order' built on the bitter, un-Christian hatreds of the Marxist class war.

"Y.W.C.A. leaders have done yeoman service in the ranks of the Communist movement. They have helped set up national and international Communist organizations. One Red youth movement, with 'Y' and 'Y'-trained leadership in command at the top, is an extension of the Cominform and Soviet Intelligence, according to U.S. State Department advices. And the Y.W.C.A. helped to found it, affiliated with it and provided it with funds."

Mr. Kamp proceeds to give chapter and and all other means within our power." The S. P. Detroit Convention, in 1934, was more specific in its Marxian treasonable pronouncement. "Under the spell of the rhetoric of Norman Thomas," said a prominent Socialist, the delegates voted that "they will meet war and the detailed plans of war already mapped out by the war-making arms of the government by massed resistance, organized as far as practicable in a general strike of labour unions and professional groups, in a united effort to make the waging of war a practical impossibility and to convert the capitalist war crisis into a victory for Socialism."

Marxian Socialism has always been a conspiracy against every country its adherents inhabited. Their sabotage intent was never hidden under a mask. The Communist Daily Worker brazenly said, editorially, 21 years ago, that in the event of "a war against the Soviet Union, the capitalist nations will face the mightiest power ever generated in the world, the power of the World proletariat under the leadership of the vanguard of the exploited masses, the Communist International. In such a war the one demand will be, not fraternization of soldiers at the front, but wholesale desertion of the imperialist armies to the camp of the Red Army. . . In such a struggle the question will be plainly put:—Desert the imperialist armies and with guns in hand go over to the side of the armies defending the Soviet Union" (N. Y. Dec. 24, 1928). Such a "mighty power" that is awaiting the next world war, exists in France where there are 1,100,000 organized Communists; in Italy where there are 2,200,000, and lesser numbers in other non-Soviet countries, many of whom Moscow can depend upon to attempt to turn a war against the Soviet Union into a civil war.

This is only a small part of a mass of evidence to prove that the recent treasonable declarations were not "merely a new phase in the development of a worldwide party line." The animus of Marxian Socialists centers against the Catholic Church, as the world was made conscious of recently, through the arrest and conviction of Archbishop Stepinac, Cardinal Mindszenty and a number of priests, as well as through the confiscation of Catholic schools and charitable institutions. This is partly due to Catholic Church insistence that man is morally obligated to render to his country what it has a right to demand, loyalty. "The natural law," said Pope Leo XIII in 1885, "enjoins us to love devotedly and to defend the country in which we had birth, and in which we were brought up, so that every good citizen hesitates not to face death for his native land."

At the very time when the Red-Reds were threatening a general strike and desertion, to convert the war "into a victory for Socialism," the Catholic hierarchy issued a call "to reaffirm our most sacred and sincere loyalty and patriotism toward our country, our Government, and our flag. . . We have prayed that we might be spared the dire necessity of entering the conflict. But now that war has been declared, we bow in obedience to the summons to bear our part in it, with fidelity, with courage, and with the spirit of sacrifice, which as loyal citizens we are bound to manifest for the defense of the most sacred rights and the welfare of the whole nation. Inspired neither by hate or fear, but holy sentiments of truest patriotic fervor and zeal, we stand ready, we and all the flock committed to our keeping, to cooperate in every way possible with our President and our national Government, to the end that the great and holy cause of liberty may triumph, and that our country may emerge from the hour of test stronger and nobler than ever." Marxism is synonymous with treason; whereas Catholicity signifies loyalty to country.

Socialized Medicine in Britain

By Mr. Cecil Palmer, widely known British author and publisher now the guest of the National Economic Council in the United States.

When the British Socialist Government inaugurated its State medical service on July 1, 1948, it told the people that this "medicine for all" would be "free."

It is, of course, nothing of the sort. Indeed, in the first eight months of its practical operation the cost has exceeded the original estimate by more than $234,000,000. To be sure, a great deal can be had for the asking—in theory, at least. This gives the illusion, to those who do not take the trouble to wonder where all the money is coming from, that the service is free.

The list of what can be obtained for the asking—if it is in stock—is an imposing one. Not only does it cover the services of medical doctors and dentists, but it includes as well hospital treatment, maternity and child welfare, home nursing, spectacles, dentures, deaf aids and artificial legs, as well as drugs and medicines.

Perhaps its most alluring feature is reserved for those who are bald. For men, there are wigs; for women, "transformations." And because nobody needs to pay a nickel when he receives these things, they are "free."

The whole scheme is a swindle because it pretends to offer something for next to nothing and actually gives next to nothing for something.

The Government has not delivered the goods. There are not enough Doctors. There are not enough Nurses. There are not enough Hospitals. There are not enough dentures. There are not enough Clinics and there are not enough wigs!

The scheme is a fraud because it has been foisted on the public as a FREE medical service. The dishonesty of this claim is revealed by the fact that contributions by patients to the Health Service alone are $2,800,000 a week. If that is a "free" service it would be nice to have an estimate of one that isn't! And the costs above the amounts paid in for so-called "Health Insurance" will have to be paid for by taxes collected from the very same people. Many of these taxes will be hidden, so as to maintain a governmentally created illusion of free service.

Britain's adventure into socialized medicine has already done two things. I shall leave it to my American friends to decide whether they are good.

One, it has changed the status of the Doctor.

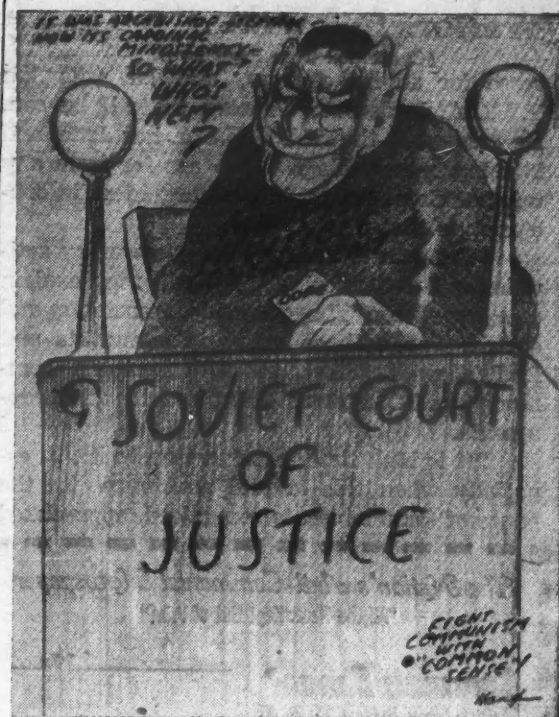

The physician's livelihood, his professional advancement, his first loyalties, all have been commandeered by a new Master—the State, which pays him with the citizens' money.

Two, it has destroyed the relationship between Doctor and patient.

Despite the solemn assurances of Mr. Aneurin Bevan, Minister of Health, privacy as between physician and patient is gone. In a leaflet, explaining the new services, and issued to all householders by the Ministry of Health, this assurance is given: "Your dealings with your doctor will remain as they are now personal and confidential." Let us see whether the assurance is true.

Statutory Instruments 506 and 507 of 1948, create an entirely new situation. Under the heading "Terms of Service," S. I. 506 requires the practitioner "to keep records of the illnesses of his public patients and of his treatment of them, in such form as the Minister may from time to time determine, and to forward such records to the local Executive Council." This Executive Council consists largely of lay persons. The person who can read your whole medical history may be your next door neighbor—or his wife.

Small wonder, then, that thousands of doctors—and tens of thousands of lay people, too—are in revolt. Not only do the doctors feel that the State is thus making them break their Hippocratic oath of confidence between them and their patients, but they are vastly overworked and underpaid.

Under the scheme each practitioner in large areas is allotted 4,000 patients. In small areas the number may run as low as 2,500. How can one man treat so many people with professional skill, particularly when so many of those who visit is surgery are suffering from trifling complaints, and no small number are downright malingerers?

For all this added work and responsibility the doctor receives $3.20 per year per person from the State—out of which must come burdensome income taxes and heavy "overhead."

The totalitarian nature of the scheme is becoming more and more clear. In theory a patient can remain outside the scheme. As it works out, if he does so, he must pay twice for his medical service: once to the State and a second time to the doctor of his choice.

To every man upon this earth
Death cometh soon or late;
And how can man die better
Than facing fearful odds,
For the ashes of his fathers,
And the temples of his Gods.
Was none who would be foremost
To lead such dire attack;
But those behind cried "Forward!"
And those before cried "Back!"

Lord T. B. Macaulay.

"Communism by every means at its command is endeavoring to establish in our country the same conditions which now exist in Russia under the domination of a dictator, where any opposition to him or to the form of government he controls becomes treason to the state, to be punished as such."

The above is a resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor at one of its conventions.

"One of the most important tasks of the cultural revolution affecting the wide masses is the task of systematically and unswervingly combatting religion — the opium of the people." (Program of The Communist International.

verse for all his charges, and he asks the Y.W.C.A. leaders to disprove them if he can. He recognizes that the Y.W.C.A. has done, and is doing, many things which are far from any taint of Communism, but his argument in conclusion is that "The sum total of these praiseworthy activities will not cancel out, nor will they explain away or excuse 'Y' sponsorship, association and co-operation with so many Communists and Red fellow-travellers and with so much Communist and Communist-front activity and propaganda.

"It is high time to put a stop to it . . . especially when this helpful assistance to the cause of Communism is recognized, appreciated and acknowledged by the Communists' hero of the hour. Y.W.C.A. leaders and members should indeed be red-faced with embarrassment when they recall the quotation from the May, 1946, issue of The Woman's Press in which the Communists' political mouthpiece, Henry A. Wallace, said:

"God bless the Y.W.C.A. for the work it is doing." It is claimed by the Y.W.C.A. that more than three million Christian women are members, with 2,554 paid executives and 90,000 volunteer leaders, while it has units in 435 cities and in 614 colleges. That being the case it is clever of the Communists to have selected such ground for raising a communist crop. Its fertility in producing a Communist harvest should not be difficult to destroy, and it would appear to be the sowers of tares who have to be eradicated.

Federal Aid

ference encouraged. Sen. Byrd pointed to this by saying, "When local education is assumed by the Federal Government as a Federal responsibility, then the States, which have been so much to improve their school systems, will say, 'Let the Federal Government do it.' "

Objection No. 10. This would be the beginning of the end of our time-tested DECENTRALIZED system of public schooling. Decentralization is the core of our freedom-protecting system of checks and balances. Centralization leads inevitably toward despotic controls.

Objection No. 11. Evidence is increasing that some of the proponents of "Federal Aid to Education" who so loudly disclaim any desire for FEDERAL CONTROL may have, in the back of their minds, a different opinion. Possibly they feel they will have much more to say about how the schools should be run if over-all control is centered in Washington (where these main proponents are) instead of having control decentralized into each district throughout the nation as it now is. Prof. Theodore Brameld (N.Y.U.), a leader among the "progressive" bloc of educators (formerly called Progressive Education Association—now American Education Fellowship) had an article entitled "The Bugaboo of Federal Control" in "Progressive Education" magazine for May, 1944, which frankly developed the theme that educators need not fear Federal control—that it might be beneficial to them. He closed his article by saying, "For if it is true that control by desirable means and for desirable ends is, after all, integral with effectual aid, then we do injustice not only to ourselves as teachers but to the American people whom we serve, when we evade the issue (Federal control over education) largely because it has become a bugaboo." It may be that those teachers who are supporting the Federal aid proposal and who are sincere in not wanting Federal control are in a parade behind certain leaders who definitely want Federal control.

Let us note also the words of Dr. Willard E. Givens, Executive Secretary of the powerful National Education Association, which is the chief proponent of the Federal Aid to Education project. In a report "Education for a New America," prepared for an N.E.A. committee he headed in the early days of the New Deal, Dr. Givens said:

"A large section of our discussion group, accepting the conclusions of distinguished students maintain that in our fragile interdependent society, the credit agencies, the basic industries and utilities cannot be centrally planned and operated under private ownership. Hence, they will join in creating a swift nationwide campaign of adult education which will support President Roosevelt in taking these over and operating them at full capacity as a unified national system in the interest of all of the people."

Fight communism with common sense

The drive for political control of medicine is the drive for control of you and me by a terroristic, ruthless machine. It is wholly inspired and directed by extremists of a single race, bent on destroying Christianity.

Americans long have suspected such a racial, anti-Christian plot.

Here at last is the conclusive evidence, with names and ample documentation, told by Robert H. Williams, an Army Reserve Intelligence officer, lecturer and writer on subversive movements, in his latest pamphlet—

THE UNTOLD STORY OF STATE MEDICINE

This small booklet shows HOW the racial machine, largely immigrant has found ways to dominate both political parties.

FELLOW TRAVELERS DANGEROUS

Rev. Edward Lodge Curran, Ph.D.

Rev. Curran

Recently, according to figures released by J. Edgar Hoover and publicized by the House Committee investigating un-American activities, there are approximately 825,000 Communists in the United States of America. Less than ten percent of these are actual members of the Communist Party. However, the more than ninety percent of non-party Communists are just as much the enemy of the United States as are the party Communists. In fact, the non-party Communist is sometimes more dangerous than the party Communist, because he is more evasive and illusive.

These 825,000 Communists subscribe to the threat of treason brazenly expressed and publicized by top Communist party members when they declared that they would stand with the U.S.S.R. should war arise between the United States and the Soviet Union.

In the event of such a war, these 825,000 work for the defeat of the United States whose civil liberties and economic prosperity they are at present enjoying. This does not mean that they would actually take up arms and confront the armed might of our American Republic. They would be too crafty and too cowardly for that.

It is rather as a center and source of sabotage that these 825,000 would exercise their treasonable activities. In the event of a war with Communist Russia, all members of the Communist Party and all non-party Communists would concentrate upon the treasonable project of interfering with the conduct of the war.

They would initiate and carry on strikes in all factories and industries devoted to the production of war materials and supplies. They would attempt to destroy our system of intercommunications: railroads, planes, telephone, telegraph, etc. They would try to cripple American cities by destroying water works and lighting systems and transportation facilities. They would transmit to Red Fascist Russia every possible bit of information for the defeat of the United States of America. All this and more is contained in the recently uttered threat of treason in time of war as made by top Communist leaders in the United States.

In view of this, we would like to know why the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and Carnegie Hall and Madison Square Garden leased their facilities to the recent Conference of Artists and Scientists for World Peace, a Conference branded as a Communist front and sounding board by the American State Department. Are the owners and managers of the Waldorf and Carnegie Hall and Madison Square Garden aware of the Communist threat in America? Or, being aware of it, are they more interested in making a dollar, no matter who pays the rental fee?

The Appeasement of Communism, as initiated and promoted by Franklin D. Roosevelt, and carried on by his slavish political satellites for many years, has proven to be one of the most disastrous foreign policies ever pursued by any national administration. It is now proving

AN OPEN LETTER TO AMERICA

To protect the family of the author who is presently living in Germany, we will not disclose his name.

(Editor's Note: Marxists, an aggressive small percentage of our population in control of our Government with F. D. R. as their tool, tricked us into war with Germany to crush her so as to permit the Red Godless Soviet Union to spread over Europe. These same Marxists are still enforcing a Morgenthau Plan on the German people so as to force them completely into Stalin's arms. Today, four years after the war, many factories are still being torn down so that the German people cannot possibly support themselves and our taxpayers must pay billions to feed them. This same Marxist Invisible Government, with stronger control over Washington, pushes us further towards bankruptcy and Communism by tricking us into spending giving and wasting over the world: World War Three is their last card — that will bring on the emergencies necessary to place the Marxists in all key positions so that they may take over in the United States as quietly as they did in Hungary — in Hungary where 78% of the population is Catholic, 15% Protestant and only 7% Communist. An able man from Germany addresses an open letter to the American people. The author has witnessed his country raped and ground into the earth by Godless ape-men from Russia, while anti-Christian Marxists sent from Hollywood and New York by our Red New Deal give orders to our military that holds the German nation as helpless tools in the hands of atheistic Communists.)

It is more than two years since the International Tribunal in Nuremberg has condemned and partly executed the leaders of the great German Empire on account of "war crimes and crimes against humanity." To what extent this one-sided step of the victors, which exclusively was directed against the vanquished enemy and presented an act of revenge, was justified, history will decide. One thing, however, one can already assert today with tolerable certainty, namely, that the bombing attacks against defenseless women and children have not benefited humanity.

Well, the "war crimes" have been avenged; the "criminals" condemned and the sentences executed. With this the whole affair should have been finished. Both sides should have forgotten the war and given up the thoughts of revenge, and instead should have begun with the reconstruction of Europe; the more as at that time the plans for world revolution by the Kremlin could already be clearly seen.

But regarding this, one was tremendously mistaken. Instead of preparing a defense against Bolshevism with the aid of the German people, by rebuilding Germany, this thousand-year fortress of Europe, they began the insane "Demontage-Program" which placed the greatest part of the German heavy industry into the hands of Moscow. It will be clear to every reasonable person that this act greatly enlarged the Soviet war industry which will not be used for the good of the Western Powers. In addition, you have without objection permitted two millions of German prisoners of war to be murdered in Russia and aside from this you have left Poland take half of Eastern Germany, and Poland is the Soviet Union. You have agreed to the expulsion of five millions of Germans from their homes abroad; you have stolen all of the "war patents" which represented an almost unto be just as disastrous to our domestic welfare.

Those who still believe in appeasing Communism should be dismissed from public office at the first available election. The time has come to stop every form of appeasement and cooperation with Communists both at home and abroad.

COMMUNISTS APPEAL FOR NEGRO READERS. Communists carry on a continuous crusade for Negro sympathy, Negro members and Negro readers of Communist papers. The Communists' west coast paper "People's World" is carrying on a circulation campaign. On the front page of a recent issue was a picture of Joe Johnson, a CIO leader in the Marine Cooks and Stewards with the headline "HE HAS '3,000 REASONS' FOR RECOMMENDING 'PW'."—On the front page of another issue is a picture of Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor, of a Negro paper "The California Eagle," wherein she praised the People's World. The Communist press continually runs stories to dramatize how the Negro people are being mistreated and to give the impression that the Communists stand as champions for the Negro. While it is pure deception, it has its effect. Paul Robeson didn't stay in Russia. Why? The Negro people should realize they have advanced fast and far under the American flag—and that the Red flag offers them nothing but slavery.

HYPOCRITES IN NEW YORK SEMINARY

If you wonder why Union Theological Seminary (or "Cemetery" of Christianity) turns out students like Arnold Johnson, a Communist Party organizer, not that Harry Ward, head with Earl Browder of the Communists' most treasonable Communist outfit, the American League Against War and Fascism (which advocated treason, mutiny and sabotage for a Soviet America) has long taught "Christian Ethics" there and Reinhold Niebuhr, author of a book advocating violent Marxist revolution, is typical of the mental fare offered there. The Communist Party reprinted Earl Browder's speech, with questions and answers, to the Union Theological Cemetery students. "Religion and Communism" (1935) is the title. One sees in the student questions such bits as this: "Some of us do not believe in the hereafter, and are striving to establish a good society here. I think we are working towards the same objective." Student: "If a church group were definitely counter-revolutionary and acting against the Communist regime, there would be no hesitation in wiping that group out?" Browder: "It would be dealt with on political, not religious grounds." (meaning liquidation.) Browder made no bones of the absolute enmity of Communism to Christianity and the students whimpered and palavered to him as though to a hero supreme, as the text shows. Browder's speech at John Haynes Holmes regular church service on March 5, 1939, on the same subject (also printed by the Communist Party) contains this: "an interesting fact . . . is that we have more communicants of the Catholic Church as members of the Communist Party than of any other denomination. . . . While we make many sympathetic contacts among active Protestants, they seldom become Party members; but among Catholics, the speed with which a sympathetic contact develops into a loyal and active Party man is much greater and the proportion much higher." When Lenin, the Russian Dictator, came into power and was setting up the communist state, he threw out belief in GOD, thinking the state would be supreme, the masses liberated, and Lenin would be triumphant.

But did Lenin ever change his mind? A story is told by Father Michael D'Herbigny, S. J., who gives it on the authority of a priest who was a former friend of Lenin and who was with him shortly before his death. Father D'Herbigny is a renowned scholar and carefully weighs any statement before it is made, so any story he tells must have a good foundation. This is the story.

A Hungarian priest, a former classmate and confidant of Lenin, had from him, during a lucid interval in his last illness, a statement which he repeated verbatim to me:

"I have" said Lenin, "been mistaken. It was, I suppose, necessary to liberate a multitude of oppressed people; but our method has provoked other oppressions, frightful massacres. You know that my most awful nightmare is to feel myself drowning in an ocean of blood of countless victims. To save our Russia, what we needed (but it is too late now) was ten Francis of Assisi. Ten Francis of Assisi and we should have saved Russia."

COMMUNISM CREATES SUPER LANDLORD

By MRS. M. CONAN, Phoenix, Ariz.

In the Russian Revolution of 1917, the battle-cry of the Bolsheviks (Now called Communists) was "Kill the Landlords!" So the landlords were killed and all Russia came under ONE landlord, a Dictator, whose rule was a thousand times worse than that of any Czar.

The same thing is happening in America but in a different way. The Government does not shoot the landlords or cut their heads off, but they are being liquidated nevertheless. The Government puts the landlords out of business with Rent Control and then builds hundreds of thousands of houses itself which it rents out at whatever figure it desires. Private enterprise cannot compete with the Government. Soon there will be no property owners or landlords; the Government will own and control everything. America, just as Russia, will have only ONE landlord, and the people, just as in Russia, will all be paupers!

Our Government has been kept up on taxes derived from private enterprise. When private enterprise is killed, the Government will have no source of supply and its income will cease. Our national economy will be dead and so will most of us along with it!

The Government owes no man a living, but it does owe him the chance to make his own living in any honest line he may choose. There is no business more honest or necessary than rentals. Property owners are our best citizens. They own part of our country, they take pride in building up a community. Schools, penal institutions, etc., are kept up by money from property owners' pockets. Even our Government officials' salary must come from taxes.

Rent Control is un-American, unconstitutional and illegal. All property owners—not only property owners but all real Americans must fight for their rights. Not to fight is cowardly. When the going is toughest is when we must fight the hardest. Write letters and keep writing them to all senators and congressmen. Hound them until they get tired and give in to our just demands that ALL GOVERNMENT CONTROLS be removed from private enterprise.

Truman and those others who want to kill private enterprise should stop and remember that the Bible says: "He who diggeth a pit shall fall therein." Let them consider where their salaries are coming from when they have killed off the property owners.

"It is the wheel that squeaks that gets the oil" so let's keep squeaking. Even a baby knows it will get what it wants if it howls loud enough. We still have freedom of speech, so let's use it while we have the chance. KEEP FIGHTING!

Marxists In Princeton University

Princeton, New Jersey
March 26, 1949

The Editor
Common Sense
Union, New Jersey

Dear Sir:

I have just had an opportunity to see your paper, and I am very glad of it. Such a forceful stand is most heartening. At the moment I cannot subscribe, but I would like to bring your attention to a matter which has not been receiving hardly enough attention in the press.

There is an organization in the University of Princeton here, called the United World Federalists. The organization is not on the surface very important, but from what I understand it is doing all it can behind the scenes to betray the United States. It wants to have this country give up its freedoms, army, and taxes to a world government, a super-state to which Russia will belong.

Perhaps this organization is not a Communist front, but I know personally of a number of people in it who are members of the Liberal Union Organization on the campus and of one person who was active in the P.C.A. and who is in correspondence with the Russian Embassy. This latter is very startling but I am absolutely sure of it.

The Federalists do not work so much on the public at large, but do try to persuade people in high places to their point of view. They claim a number of senators and representatives as supporting them. They go to high schools in the state and get the students to form Federalist chapters and try to instill their ideas into even younger children.

I could go on about the organization, but I think that I have suggested enough. I merely wish to point out to you that this is an organization which is working behind the scenes, just waiting to blossom into power some day before the people of this country have recovered from the sweet phrases. I would like to suggest that you should look further into the matter. It is a problem of the future growing out of the present—a problem which too few know about.

I hope that you will forgive me for sending this unsigned, but the facts are here for him who will look.

Yours Sincerely,
An American

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
BOSTON, March 6—A resolution condemning world federation was

The action followed a speech in that world federation "is ready to sell out our citizenship, our armed forces, our way of life and hand it over to the people of the world with no assurance to us what the

Mr. Loose declared that World

fathomable value!—Nineteen Billion Dollars.

The treatment which is dealt out to us is like that with which one treats wild beasts in cages, with the whip. We are constantly again and again humiliated by you; you educate our children to ridicule their forefathers, to scorn their own people and their fatherland. You have broken up our country into little bits of land and set these against one another; hundreds of thousands of officials, engineers and merchants have lost their positions through your program of de-nazification; through your policy of occupation you force the greatest part of the German population into the arms of Bolshevism; by your undecided and wavering foreign policy, you have already taken the last hope of liberation from millions of Germans behind the Iron Curtain, and the number of those reduced to despair grows from day to day.

While America still looks for a "peaceful" solution, the Bolsheviks make use of all, even the minutest opportunities in order to increase their power. All of East Europe and half of China are already under their rule. One cannot any more depend upon France and Italy in the battle against Bolshevism. England has ceased to exist as a world power and cannot any more play an important part in the fight against Russia. America alone could, shoulder to shoulder with the much-tried German soldiers, save the world from destruction. But America, the proclaimed protector of the free nations, which without hesitation took up arms against Germany, against that Germany which alone was able to protect Europe against Bolshevism, cannot decide what to do. Americans, the Soviet Union does not need a war in order to gain her aim, the world revolution, but Russia can be hindered to gain this aim. Each day which one loses through negotiating is an irretrievable loss for all of the non-Bolshevik world. Hundreds of humans fall daily into the claws of Marxism and thousands turn away from you in disgust on account of the ridiculous near-sightedness of the Western politicians. Perceiving how you indifferently let Greece, China and many other countries bleed to death in their fight for existence, they wonder, whether America can wage war only if she has ten-fold greater power in order to conquer? Or whether the American statesman prefer to surrender without resistance to Marxism and earn by this the traitors reward?

It can only be considered betrayal of all humanity that America through her insane world politics everywhere paves the way for atheistic Communism. For the current world politics of America consists in promising to the small nations all stars of the firmament and when these people go against their suppressors, one does not remember them. When the leaders of such nations, have finally landed in Siberia or in the grave, then one affects towards them decent feelings of sympathy and promises to protest and undertake the required steps—and with this the whole affair is ended. The victims are forgotten and one looks for a new people which will suffer the same fate. That these traitorous provocations do not endear America to the people is a matter one can imagine without much difficulty.

The Atlantic agreement which states that in case one of the allied states is attacked, America cannot immediately come to assist, offers no security to the small nations. Only by immediately organizing all anti-Communist powers and the cooperation of the whole world to fortify Europe and to defend China, the terrific danger can be warded off. Not by arbitration alone, but through open fight the already conquered countries can be freed and the rest of the world saved. Arbitration means only winning of time for Russia and the one who gains time, easily wins all.

Americans! the whole world admired the bravery with which you bombarded the "strategic", residences and hospitals, churches and schools. You have fought for the "liberation of the small nations" and for the "culture of the world" against us barbaric suppressors.

Today the freedom of the whole world is, as a fact, most dangerously threatened, not only our freedom, for this has anyhow gone to the devil; but your own, the honor of your wives and daughters, the decent existence of the whole cultured world. Do not be mistaken,—not the knightly Germany stands opposite you, but a treacherous, cruel enemy by whom all means are considered right provided he reaches his end through them.

You have annihilated us, the fortress of Europe. We have stood bravely to the last and tried to avert the red danger from Europe. You have hindered us in this battle with all means. You have smashed our armies and laid our land in ruins. But on account of the colossal danger, we offer to you our hand in reconciliation. We recognize the threatening danger and are willing, in order to defend our country and our families, again to resort to arms. It stands with you whether the civilization of Germany for hundreds of years will be saved, or whether the Marxists will destroy it entirely. Therefore decide whether you will forget the senseless hatred and with our in-Russia tried soldiers save the world, or let yourself still longer be misled until the world will perish.

rests . . . intended to intimidate people whose thoughts do not conform to a set pattern,' the American Jewish Congress today swung into a year of special concentration on civil rights . . . The condemnation of the recent arrests of Communists and progressives in New York, Denver and Los Angeles came in a resolution calling on President Truman to implement his civil rights program. . . another resolution called for the abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee . . . another resolution urged the abolition of the Tenney Committee." (This is California's committee to investigate subversive activities.)

1800 AT LENIN MEETING. Los Angeles: "If President Truman's Department of Justice thinks it can intimidate the Communist Party into inactivity, last Friday's Lenin Memorial meeting at the Embassy Auditorium should correct that illusion" (People's World, 1/24/49). Henry Steinberg was chairman of the meeting attended by 1800 Los Angeles people who apparently are loyal to the Lenin-Stalin way of life. America's greatest problem is its alien-minded colonizations in certain cities.

HERE'S SOMETHING FOR THE RECORD. In 1948, the House Committee on Un-American Activities conducted an investigation on the movie situation in Hollywood. The country was widely aroused and under pressure of public reaction, the motion picture moguls fired most of the ten. One of these, a man known as Lester Cole, sued MGM. When his case came up before Federal Judge Leon Yankwich recently, this jurist said the question of whether Cole was a Communist was not relevant—and MGM was ordered to pay him $75,000 for time and salary lost.

Judge Yankwich is widely known in Los Angeles—but the general public seems not to realize that he has also been engaged in "educational" activity. The 1945 catalog of the People's Educational Center, then located at 1717 No. Vine Street, Hollywood, listed Judge Leon Yankwich as one of the lecturers in a course on "World Perspective." One of his lecturers (same course) was "John Howard Lawson" who, with this same Lester Cole, was one of the "Hollywood 10" investigated. Another lecturer with Judge Yankwich was Bruce Minton, then a member of the Communist Party and editor of "New Masses." This People's Educational Center "closed" when listed as a subversive organization by Attorney General Clark. It is now called California Labor School, as is the one in San Francisco where over 80 classes are carried—all devoted to the Communist "Party line."

NEW YORK—AMERICA'S NO. 1 PROBLEM. "Jewish Life," a Marxist (Communist) monthly published in New York, in its February 1949 issue, makes a great fuss because charges have been made against the so-called "Children's Schools" wherein "classes" sponsored by the Communist-dominated "Jewish Peoples Fraternal Order" are held in the New York city schoolrooms. The complaint was made by Rabbi Benjamin Schultz who, after being kicked out of his Congregation by the henchmen of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise when Schultz declared that Wise was affiliated with "Communist front" organizations, has attempted to start a movement among the Jewish people to fight Communism. The "Jewish Peoples Fraternal Order," affiliated with the International Workers Order, is notoriously Communist-dominated. In no other city in the country could such an organization get the use of public school rooms. This Communist magazine Jewish Life," in denouncing Rabbi Schultz, proceeds to defend the "Children's Schools" by saying, "For 25 years they have taught Jewish children Yiddish and the great traditions of our people in a setting of the labor movement." New York City with its hundreds of subversive organizations and its wide range influence on American life is the main source of the Leftist problem in the USA today.

NOTES FROM THE SAME COMMUNIST MAGAZINE. "A dissident group of Israeli Jewish Communists, who broke away from the Communist Party a few years ago and veered toward nationalism, have been readmitted into the Party. The group admitted that its policy had been in error." . . . "According to the latest reports of education in Israel, 97,668 children attended school in the past year. Of this number, about 22 per cent went to labor schools and 22 per cent to Mizrahi (orthodox) schools." . . . "Soviet citizens who are parents or dependents of Israeli citizens may leave the USSR and join their relatives in the Jewish state."

CHRISTIAN INDIFFERENCE REAL ENEMY OF CHURCH

In a recent sermon, the Rev. A. L. Neibacher, Pastor of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, New York, declared: "Those avowed enemies of the Church, treacherous as they may be, do not concern me half as much as does the indifference on the part of the so-called Christians. The avowed enemies make it difficult for the Church to function, but the indifference of Christians makes it almost impossible for the Church to tackle intelligently and effectively life's unfinished tasks."

TRAITORS IN EDUCATION

Communism has filtered its way into every phase of our life. With our limited finances, organization and space we are not able to thoroughly cover all subjects. However, we can highly recommend to our readers the work of the National Council for American Education, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., that is doing an excellent job in exposing communism in schools and colleges. We urge those who wish to receive information on this highly important subject to communicate with this organization.

Former Communist Denounces FEPC

Address, given against the pro-red F.E.P.C. Bill; by Kenneth Goff, before the Colorado State Legislature, Feb. 24.

Mr. Chairman, Members of the Committee:

The Colorado Anti-Communist League wishes to voice its opposition to House Bill 877.

After careful study of this bill and similar measures, which are being introduced in other State Legislatures; we are firmly convinced that House Bill 877 is part of an organized plot, to deprive a certain segment of our people of the rights and personal liberties guaranteed them under the Constitution.

This Bill is being falsely promoted under the cry of 'Civil Rights'; yet if passed, it would deprive every employer of his free right to hire and fire whom he chooses.

Its aim is not to bring justice to the minority groups but to fan the fires of racial hatred, and create confusion, and revolutionary chaos. Friendship between different races and creeds will not come through force; it can only be obtained by intelligent understanding and love. To force one race upon another, as this Bill proposes to do can only breed hate and bloodshed.

This Bill is an insult to white Christian Civilization. It accuses, by innuendo, every white man of being intolerant and impartial to his duties to his fellow me.

We wish to charge here and now, without fear or favor, that this type of Legislation is the brain-child of the Kremlin leaders; and was first proposed at the 7th World Congress of the Communist Party, as a secret weapon for creating disunity and racial strife in democratic nations.

Here in America, it has been promoted by a Red front organization, known as the Civil Rights Congress. This group launched its main offensive at a Conference, held in Detroit on April 27 and 28th, 1946; and since then have attempted to railroad this type of measure through many legislatures. In several states they have been successful, but in the majority where the lawmakers were alerted to this pressure group, the Bill failed. In California, where a Bill similar to House Bill 877 was put to the vote of the people, it was overwhelmingly defeated 3 to 1.

We have no doubt in our minds that if the people of Colorado were given a chance to vote on this issue, it would receive a heavier trouncing. We contend that H. Bill 877 is an outright attack on our free enterprise system, promoted by Stalin's agents within our border. Time will not permit us to give verbal documentary evidence to support this charge, so we are therefore placing in the hands of each member of this Committee, the findings of the Lutheran Research Society, concerning this intrigue. This report, bears the name 'Moscow's Master Plan, for Sovietizing America.' This report will more than substantiate the charges we have made here.

We further charge that this Bill, if enacted, will establish a legalized gestapo in the State of Colorado, invested with the power to snoop into the personal affairs of employers in their God-given right to choose whom should serve in their employ. They can, and will search the files and records of every business establishment in Colorado, where some disgruntled individual is willing to trump up a charge of discrimination. And although no outright penalties are stipulated in the Bill, this gestapo Committee could use their influence to smear the reputation of any business establishment which failed to cooperate with their program.

It is a most dangerous and brazen attempt to fasten upon the white people of America, the worst system of control, by alien or minority racial groups that has been known since the crucifixion.

Let us study for a moment, paragraph C in section 4, on pg. 3, and realize the full intent of its meaning. In plain language, these are the unlawful practices: 1. Inquiry into the original name of the applicant for employment, whose name has been changed by court proceedings or otherwise.—Then a crook or a Communist or a foreign spy could apply for a job, under an alias, and if you ask him questions concerning his former name, you would be committing an unlawful practice.—Who are these people who are so ashamed of their names? 2. The other unlawful practice would be to require an applicant for a job to produce a birth certificate or baptismal certificate or a picture of him or herself.—You are not supposed to know how he or she looks. Remember, this is not Russia, its Colorado.—During the last war every citizen, working in a Defense Plant, was required to give proof concerning his birth and his ancestral background, as a matter of National Security. Should this Bill be passed, it would be unlawful to use this method, to ferret out enemies of our government.

House Bill 877 virtually becomes a camouflage behind which the enemy of our government can operate with full protection of the State.

It becomes an instrument through which alien-born refugees can deprive the native-born of their job.

It becomes a political club, for certain minority groups to brow-beat every employer, into submission, to their will.

It will underwrite the greatest propaganda machine, the State of Colorado has ever known. agency that has ever been established in this State.

If this Legislature should ratify it and make it the law of the State, then we will have sacrificed and destroyed that sacred freedom for which our boys have fought and died.

We shall see the rise of racial animosity and the return of the Ku Klux Klan or some similar organization.

God forbid that those of you, who have been elected to this sacred trust of preserving our liberties, should now plunge the BRUTUS DAGGER into our heart.

TOWNSEND FAVORS "LITTLE COMMUNISM"

Editor's Note: The above article was published in "National Pension Advocate" of Los Angeles, California, February 1948. In view of the crisis in the United States today, it is important that Townsend's followers demand that he come out flatfooted and state just where he stands. Is he for America or for Communism?

OAKLAND—Stating that the Communist Party is so insignificant that it is not a menace to anyone, Dr. Francis Townsend founder of the perennial pension plan bearing his name, expressed the opinion that "a little more communism in this country wouldn't hurt us a bit."

Dr. Townsend voiced this view in addressing a recent rally staged by the organizing committee for the Independent Progressive Party of California in its drive for signatures to qualify that party for the June ballot, after he advised participants not to worry in the event they were accused of being Communists.

Explaining that what the Russian people have is not communism and that he was using the term in the dictionary sense, Dr. Townsend said that communism in that sense "would be a mighty good thing for this country." Noting that schools, streets and post offices are now communistically owned, he indicated that he would like to see the same thing happen to the banking system of the nation.

WHAT IS F. E. P. C. — What Is Its Purpose — Who Is Behind It?

By George Washington Robnett

Executive Secretary, Church League of America

The letters FEPC are now widely used to describe or identify a plan for legalized compulsory action to force a so-called "fair employment practice" hiring program upon employers (both public and private).

This movement was initiated in the spirit of the New Deal under President Roosevelt who established what was known as the President's "Fair Employment Practice Committee." It functioned from 1943 until 1946 under the chairmanship of Malcolm Ross who frankly admitted it was "the most hated agency in Washington." Its tactics were investigated by a Congressional committee and it was called "dictatorial" (and other names) by Congressmen. The minority groups who had experienced great personal power advantage through this new instrument of government compulsion soon began to move to recreate this institution of force as a permanent tool.

In this minority group crusade, the first substantial political gain was the passage of the Ives-Quinn bill in New York state which became effective as law July 1, 1945. This was an FEPC law against discrimination, making every employer in the state of New York subject to high penalty for attempting in any way to show preference for employees on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin (including ancestry).

This bill had the backing of Governor Dewey who would by it be given the power to appoint a five man Commission (to enforce it) and would be able to add to his state bureaucracy a large number of "investigators" to check up on employers against whom any disgruntled applicant might file a complaint. Any astute politician would easily recognize such a law as an excellent instrument through which a Governor could cultivate the good will of "minority blocs."

Mr. Dewey, it was widely assumed by keen observers, was not unconscious of an irresistible ambition to be elected President in 1948. He knew, of course, that New York's 47 electoral votes are considered strategically necessary for any winning candidate. Mr. Dewey, well acquainted with the political situation in New York, knew that the BALANCE OF POWER VOTE BLOC in that state (estimated at more than three million co-racials) would regard the passage of the Ives-Quinn law with high favor. Mr. Dewey's choice of the five Commissioners seemed to reflect his consciousness of what these appointments would mean—politically. This was further emphasized by the kind of "investigators" who were hired to spy on employers. It is not unfitting to mention here that in addition to Governor Dewey, another political beneficiary of this FEPC class-law was its legislative sponsor—Mr. Irving M. Ives. He was soon elected to the United States Senate.

This "Ives-Quinn" law (New York State Law Against Discrimination) is important to consider here because: (1) It shows a design of strategy and victory for the new power groups so rapidly rising in America; and (2) It is now serving as a pattern for laws that are being pushed for passage in city councils and state legislatures all over the country. An examination of each case will disclose that the same upsurging minority bloc that pressured through the Ives-Quinn act in New York is active in the background of this whole picture in a way that clearly indicates coordination and machination on a nationwide scale. This is not a statement to reflect on anyone. It is purely a matter of reporting the facts as we have found them. It is a tradition in America that important national issues shall be examined openly and frankly.

SUCH LAWS SERVE COMMUNISTS WELL. The New York "anti-discrimination" (FEPC) law makes it AN UNLAWFUL EMPLOYMENT PRACTICE (Sec. 131) for an employer, because of race, creed, color, or national origin of an applicant: (1) to refuse to hire or employ that person; (2) to discharge or bar from employment for the same reasons; (3) to discriminate against a worker in compensation and in terms, conditions or privileges of employment on such basis—etc. It is likewise unlawful for anyone (employment agency, friend, or others) to conspire with an employer to help select an employee on any basis of such preference as stated.

After this New York FEPC law was passed, a racial pandering Communist-front, "National Federation for Constitutional Liberties," published and widely distributed a little 64-page book describing in illustrated detail the new "rights" for so-called minority individuals—and just how employers could be reported and penalized under this law. The book was prepared by A. J. Isserman who, with Nathan

Appointment of Dean Acheson

By Charles W. Phillips, Editor of "The Individualist", Lincoln, Nebraska

(Editor's Note: For two years COMMON SENSE has believed Dean Acheson to be one of the important front men for the Marxist Invisible Government which uses Socialism, Communism, Zionism and Fabianism as arms to create World Government (World Slavery). Mr. Phillips, a very able writer, has covered Dean Acheson's activity in the State Department. Limited space will not permit publishing more than a part. The entire enlightening report may be had in bulletin form for 75c).

In our previous studies of Mr. Acheson's background, it was learned that his governmental career, as a protege of Justice Felix Frankfurter, has been marvelously adapted to the development and growth of what has been designated as an "International New Deal" or just plain "world government" of some sort or another, has also been known by such euphemisms as the "area of freedom" which was the slogan publicized by Mr. Russell Davenport of the TIME-LIFE-FORTUNE axis when he was first telling us in his own words of the "young and rising International party" that was even then, according to him, preparing "to do political battle for a future world." It is our belief that Mr. Acheson is playing an important role in the piece regardless of whether he knows it.

Opens the Door to Negrin

Mr. Acheson took over the post vacated by Mr. Grew on August 16, 1945. Just a few months later, on December 15, 1945, he received Dr. Juan Negrin, the last Premier of the red Spanish so-called Republic, for an informal conversation at the State Department. According to a NEW YORK TIMES article:

"... It was the first time since the Spanish Republican Government had had an ambassador here in 1939 that a top-ranking State Department official had talked with a leader of the Spanish Republican movement." ("New York Times," December 16, 1945.)

The embracing of the reds by the State Department after the working over its own personnel had received following the demands of the left-wing publications, was not limited to Dr. Negrin. According to Rep. Schafer, in a speech from which we have already quoted:

"The fruits of this change were far reaching. We proceeded immediately to become embroiled with Argentina and to alienate the Latin-American countries which had stood by us so loyally throughout the recent war and throughout the United Nations Conference. We practically torpedoed the good neighbor policy by calling off the Rio de Janeiro conference without consulting our Latin-American neighbors. In the meantime, the Soviet Foreign Office was reaping a harvest by establishing new ties throughout Latin America. It is not without significance to point out in this connection that the Communist Party of Ecuador has blocked the granting of aviation bases to American interests, that the Communist Parties of Argentina and Brazil have been legalized, and that our attack on Peron has been repudiated by the Argentinian people." ("Congressional Record," November 6, 1945, page A5092, emphasis added.)

The Printed Word Is Power

(Three years ago Stalin said they had printed and distributed eleven billion pieces of propaganda in one hundred and six different languages.)

Keeping in mind that one of the best weapons against the spread of atheistic Communism in this country and its inherent evils, is to bring to light the truth, we ask our subscribers to order 30 copies of COMMON SENSE and mail or distribute personally to friends, members of the clergy, public office holders, etc. We particularly recommend sending COMMON SENSE to members of the State Legislatures, names of whom can be secured by writing to the Secretary of State of the state in which you live. Thirty papers costs only $1.00—what better investment of a dollar can you make?

For the benefit of those readers who are not familiar with the sacrifices made by the staff of COMMON SENSE, we wish to state that the Editor has not received any pay whatever in any form for his services since COMMON SENSE was first published more than three years ago. In addition, he has invested more than $12,000 in this fight, and is now reduced to an almost Morgenthauistic style of living. Most of the office detail is handled by volunteer workers. Compare this with the resources behind the satanic Anti-Defamation League of B'nai Brith, for instance.

We have done our part in this fight. Now we ask your help by spreading the truth—the enemy cannot stand having the truth about them brought to light and are certainly going to a lot of trouble to prove it. We are on the front lines for you at the risk of our lives. Do your share this month by distributing at least 30 copies of COMMON SENSE (only $1.00—stamps acceptable.)

THE CRISIS IS NEAR AT HAND. DO YOUR PART NOW—TOMORROW MAY BE FOREVER TOO LATE.

Appeasing Unbelievers

Republished from "Destiny" Magazine
Haverhill, Mass.

The celebration of Brotherhood Week has just recently been completed. This was a week in which Christian men and women set aside principle in the name of a false tolerance in their endeavors to reconcile the unreconcilable.

"It is time when ministers of the Gospel rejoice in fellowship with unbelievers." C. R. Dickey, in the Yoke of Bondage).

Gullible Christians think they are manifesting a spirit of brotherly love by such fellowship with unbelievers when actually they are denying their Lord and Saviour who denounced those who rejected Him as being of their father the Devil. Do not misunderstand our position. We would be the first to welcome a Jew as a brother, but a requisite to real brotherhood is his acceptance of Jesus Christ as his personal Saviour. No brotherly relationship can exist apart from the ability to rejoice together in fellowship in Christ Jesus. There is no other way to bring about a community of interests and purposes. Indeed, to try to do so without first establishing a bond of brotherhood is to invite disaster by opening up to unbelievers the opportunity to destroy doctrines hateful to them as taught by Jesus Christ, whom they rejected and then crucified.

It is impossible for such a brotherhood to exist in fact, for there can be no brotherhood between the Spirit-filled Christian and the unbelieving Jew. Zechariah is very clear on this issue. He prophesied that our Lord would be sold for thirty pieces of silver, the blood money Judas later received from the Jews for betraying Him. The result, as predicted by Zechariah, was:

"I broke my other staff 'Union,' so as to annul the brotherly tie between Judah and Israel." (Zech. 11: 14, Moffatt Trans.)

That brotherly tie was broken when the Galileans (i. e., Benjamin, a tribe in Israel) were Christianized. It was from among the Galileans that Jesus chose His disciples, except one, Judas, who betrayed Him. This broke forever the bonds of friendship that had existed between the Benjaminites and the Jews before the Jews crucified our Lord. The breach can only be healed when the Jews cease their present subversive acts and endeavors to destroy Christianity, and instead accept the Saviourhood of Jesus Christ whom they must first recognize as the Messiah.

Modernists, posing as Christians, but who are actually wolves in sheep's clothing, have rejected Jesus Christ, the Saviour, and His atonement, today spearhead the movement to perpetuate the false doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. It is unfortunate that many well-meaning Christians have been stampeded into accepting this false premise as plausible in the suggested interests of tolerance. Actually, they are being betrayed, for the Bible, nowhere teaches any such doctrine as the "universal Fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man." In fact, the Fatherhood of God is confined to those alone of whom Paul was speaking when he said:

"For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit itself of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: And if children, then heirs heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also glorified together." (Rom. 8: 14-17.)

"Who is a liar? He who denieth Jesus is the Christ. Whoso denieth the Son the same hath not the Father. . . If any man come to you and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into the house." (1-John, II, 22 and 23, and 2-John 7-10).

Only those who are led by the Spirit of God can fellowship together as brothers. How can those among Jewry whom Jesus said were of their father the Devil because they refused to accept Him, be in brotherly relationship with those led of His Holy Spirit? The sons of the Devil are certainly not brothers of those who are joint heirs with Jesus Christ, nor are they suffering with Him. We concede, however, that there can be a basis for the existence of a brotherhood in unbelief between Jews and modernists, for by the modernist rejection of Jesus Christ and His atonement they have become the adopted sons of the Devil also. But the Spirit-filled Christian will not put his Lord and Saviour to open shame before His enemies by compromising in any degree with unbelievers.

They Want Your Child

Yes, the oCommunists want YOUR child. "Give us the Child for eight years and it will be a Bolshevik forever" says Lenin.

Allen A. Zoll, author of a publication by that name, has made an extensive study of Communism in schools and colleges of America, the method used to inject the ideologies of Communism into the hearts of children so that they will be willing and useful tools a few years hence.

You mothers and fathers—take the trouble to find out what your children are being taught in school; investigate their teachers, their "outside" activities. Learn particularly the subtle and unscrupulous methods being used to take YOUR child away from you to be made an obedient slave of the state.

Without question, Allen Zoll is a top authority on education in the country, and every parent and teacher should read his pamphlet "They Want Your Child." The National Council for American Education, publisher of this booklet, is the only organization in America specifically and exclusively opposing subversive influences in schools and colleges on a national basis. One of the objectives of this organization is to eradicate from our schools Marxism, Socialism, Communism and all other forces that seek to destroy the liberty of the American people.

This booklet may be secured by writing to COMMON SENSE. Price 25c.

Medical Non-Care

Released by George Peck
THE AMERICAN WAY

In a previous article I pointed out that "Free Medicine" has proven to be "Expensive Medicine" in Germany. Let's now take a peek at what has transpired in New Zealand, which country in 1939 made the sad mistake of launching a program of compulsory health insurance.

Since 1939 the New Zealand Government has brought under its control by nationalization, the banks, dental profession, chemists, masseurs, National Airways, and many other formerly private businesses and professions. This serves to prove that the regimentation of its medical profession was but the entering wedge, part of a carefully calculated plan of the "Left-wingers" to socialize completely New Zealand's economy. There is no reason to doubt that the proponents of "Free Medicine" here have in mind the eventual complete socialization of the United States.

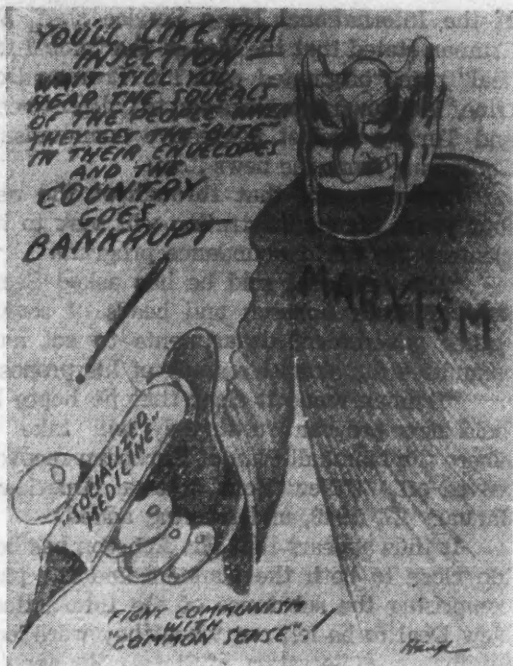

In propaganda used by the sponsors of the New Zealand law, the word "free" was used in many instances. For example, it was stated that the act would provide pharmaceutical benefits "free of any cost to the patient," and State hospital benefits "free of cost to the patient." The tax deductions and other expenses were not mentioned. Today Social Security expenditures equal $60 per person per year, or approximately one-fourth of the Government's total income.

Does this "Free-For-$60-Per-Year" program give the New Zealander adequate medical care? Not by a jugful. A New Zealander is required to pay a considerable fee in addition to that paid by the government to achieve that goal.

Are hospital benefits "Free" in New Zealand as promised? They are not. Private hospital charges are subsidized by the government up to $2 per day during a period of hospitalization and any charges over that are paid by the patient.

Are the services of physicians "Free" in New Zealand? Yes, if a specialist is not needed. The doctors are paid in accordance with a prescribed fee schedule.

Are pharmaceutical benefits "Free" to New Zealanders? Yes, if the product is on a very limited list of trade-mark products, otherwise the patient has to pay. Most of the desired products are not on the list.

Are New Zealanders under this "Free" plan getting the proper medical attention. No! Persons with minor ills or fancied ailments keep the doctors so infernally busy that they have time to give only superficial examinations to the genuinely sick.

Why does a New Zealander get so little for the $60 per year he is taxed for medical care? The answer is simple. Because the greater part of this $60 is absorbed in the cost of administration. An army of civilian servants is engaged full time in routine work, checking claims and making payments to doctors.

Of course, this medical plan is costing New Zealand more per year than was anticipated—actually almost six times as much. There is nothing strange about that, such is always the case.

All the evidence proves that "Free Medicine" is not "Free" in New Zealand. It is darned expensive and awfully darned inefficient, just as it is in every country that has embarked on such a Utopian scheme. We do not want that kind of medical care, or to be more factual, medical non-care, in the United States. If you agree, won't you write your Congressman and Senators to vote "No" on House Bill H.R. 783 and its companion bill Senate 5, which would provide, among other things, a compulsory health insurance program to be financed by the collection of a 6% payroll tax on salaries of $3,600 and under—3% to be paid by the employee and the same amount by the employer?

Eighty-five percent of the letters we receive are favorable; fifteen percent are putrid. Some are so full of threats and so vulgar, we will not publish.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed check is for support of your efforts—strength to your arms and I wish I were wealthy enough to say "here is my pocket-book—help yourself".

C. H. R.
Peoria, Illinois.

Mr. Conde McGinley.

Dear Sir:

I have just received my copy of, Common Sense, and wish to congratulate you on this issue. It was a very lucky day when I received my first copy of Common Sense about two years ago, for it opened my eyes to the danger of Communism, and the deplorable condition that this country is in. Every trueblooded American should subscribe to Common Sense, and also donate to your cause all the money that they possibly can, for in doing so they are not only helping themselves but our country also. You cannot fail in your good work, because God is with you. He is blessing you and your good work.

Yours very truly,
W. M. R.
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I am happy that you have the courage to print the truth about Dresden and the fine Dr. App article, and especially your "Wake Up Americans!" All you print is absolutely true and you express everything so clearly that everybody, who can read and think, is able to understand it! If only the public would awake out of its lethargy and inform itself about what is taking place! Should the threatening terrible disaster overtake us, it would not be the fault of the Jews, but the criminal indifference of our Gentiles!

Will you be so kind as to send me 30 copies of COMMON SENSE February 1st? I want to distribute the latter among my political friends and try to induce them to subscribe for the paper, should they not yet have it. . . . The article by Frederic Weiss also is a classic! All together this number of your paper is wonderfully composed of most vital information.

. I would like to do more but am unable to do so at present. Wishing you ever more power.

New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir,

Thank you for sending me the copies of COMMON SENSE for which I sent one dollar. I am enclosing another dollar and will you please send the majority of the copies the one dated Dec. 26th—"30 years of Marxism. I think that one is the most enlightening and one that the average person will best understand and read. I am delighted to find there is such a paper. If all your friends feel as I do and would be willing to distribute them as I am willing, they would soon cover the country. The people need just the information they impart.

If I could, I would send for more but I am somewhat limited as to what I can afford. I write to the papers constantly and to anyone I can awaken to the present needs—the Americans have to be aroused; they must be educated. Since teaching was my profession, it came naturally and I am doing my bit daily.

Thank you again for your paper—I hope it grows and grows—and I will back all that I have read so far. I am a Christian and hope to help save Christianity. My ancestors were among the early pioneer settlers of our country. They were the first white settlers on Long Island, suffering hardships, deprivations, and daring to face a new world for freedom of worship. They did not blaze the trail in America for Communists to destroy! I have Americanism of the real sort in my blood! I look at this work as my duty to my country and to Christianity for which I stand. How others can kill time and sit back, doing nothing, with the situation as it is today, is more than I can fathom.

Lenin says, in "What Is To Be Done?"—"The theory of Socialism grew out of the Philosophic, historical and economic theories that were elaborated by the educated representatives of the propertied classes, the intellectuals. The founders of modern scientific Socialism, Marx and Engels themselves, belonged to the bourgeois intelligentsia. Similarly, in Russia, the theoretical doctrine of Social Democracy arose quite independently of the labor movement; it arose as a natural and inevitable outcome of the development of ideas among the revolutionary Socialist intelligentsia."

Witt (former Government employee), served as counsel for this organization which has now become the Communist-serving "Civil Rights Congress." (Editor's Note: Abraham J. Isserman, brother of Rabbi Isserman of St. Louis, Missouri, is chief defense attorney for the eleven Communists on trial in New York. Nathan Witt was named by Elizabeth Bentley as a member of the oCmmunist Spy Ring.)

Under this New York law, employers have been subjected to coercion, intimidation and other forms of harassment. A horde of prowling "investigators" have found this to be a highly responsive field—in many ways. In New York where there is a large minority bloc population, no business management can afford to have itself branded as "discriminatory" in employment practice. oCnsequently, such a situation becomes a natural field for easy racketeering and cercion. A law like this—with such enforcement machinery—can readily compel employers to adjust to the "new social order" no matter how much hardship or unpleasantness it may cause.

Protects Sam Carp

In September, 1945, the very month following Mr. Acheson's appointment to Mr. Grew's post, the House Un-American Activities Committee called Mr. Sam Carp of Bridgeport, in an attempt to get to the bottom of Mr. Carp's financial activities on behalf of Russia.

Mr. Carp who is Molotov's brother-in-law, appears to have been commissioned to spend either $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 for American equipment. The exact amount was never learned. For these services it seems that Mr. Carp was to receive either two or three percent of the money going through his hands as his commission. His memory failed him regarding the correct percentage. He could not remember whether his commission would have amounted to $9,000,000 or $4,000,000 on the deal. A discrepancy of $5,000,000 in the amount of the commission to be received as an agent for a foreign power is quite a phenomenon. However, in Mr. Carp's case, this inability to remember was not an isolated incident because he had also forgotten to register as an agent for a foreign power. It seems that Mr. Carp had been picked up with a group of New York communists that included a couple of those now on trial in New York City.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities never got very far with Mr. Carp, however, because before they got a very good start looking into his case, they were stopped dead in their tracks by a call from Acheson's office in the State Department.

In the meantime, while Carp who admitted having hundreds of millions of dollars of foreign money at his disposal was being protected, native Americans who were spending their own nickels and dimes in an effort to awaken their countrymen to the dangers threatening our country, emanating from the foreign power that was hiring Carp, were still facing the hazards of prosecution which, if successful, would deprive them of their liberty.

One of the "Men" ?

According to Westbrook Pegler:

"President Truman's selection of Dean Acheson, one of the happy hot dogs of the Harvard law cabal, for secretary of state, begins to explain his tenacious opposition to the revelations of communist treachery in the state department as related by Whittaker Chambers, Elizabeth Bentley and others." ("Lincoln State Journal," January 14, 1949.)

In addition to the agencies of government having direct charge of the controls of our domestic economy in years past, our State Department also seems to have served as a catch-all for the cluster of Harvard graduates who followed Felix Frankfurter to Washington and who made up the little inner circle within our government. These people, including Dean Acheson, the Hiss brothers, Adolph A. Berle, and a host of others, were the "men" in "the man behind the men behind the President" which was the description given Felix Frankfurter in a thumb-nail sketch in the March, 1934 issue of the "American Magazine."

In 1934 Simon and Schuster published a book entitled, "The New Dealers." In Chapter 10 of this book captioned, "Privy Councillors," the book's author stated that Roosevelt's political Privy Council was built around four men: Justice Louis Dembitz Brandies, Adolf Augustus Berle, Jr., Professor Felix Frankfurter and Professor Raymond Moley. Only one of the original horsemen remains. Prof. Frankfurter is now Justice Frankfurter of the United States Supreme Court.

According to "The New Dealers," Justice Brandies had no direct outlet for his social and economic convictions but exercised his influence via "remote control." The vehicle for this influence was a group of young lawyers in the administration who had formerly served as secretaries to his good friend Justice Holmes and himself. Having come from Harvard Law School, these young lawyers projected the ideas and influence of Justice Brandies and Professor Frankfurter.

The way all this came about was that for many years Professor Frankfurter picked Harvard Law School graduates to be assigned to both Holmes and Brandies as their secretaries. Some of these former graduates who have since moved from their secretary assignments to important posts in the New Deal Administration included, according to "The New Dealers": Dean G. Acheson, James M. Landis, William Sutherland, Paul Freund, Thomas G. Corcoran, Lloyd Landau, Donald Hiss and Alger Hiss.

Justice Frankfurter is not forced to operate under the same limitations as his predecessor, at least, as far as the State Department is now concerned. His contact is more direct. We have been told on numerous occasions by the press that the only break each morning in Mr. Acheson's trip to his office is when he stops enroute at his friend's house where he picks up Justice Frankfurter. They are thus able to discuss the more serious of the problems of state before the day at the office, with its many interruptions, begins.

The foregoing facts are probably to be found among those which prompted Mr. Pegler to write, after Acheson's appointment, that

"Acheson's job now is to carry out Felix Frankfurter's foreign policy as communicated to Truman through David K. Niles in the white house." (Jaunray 28, 1949.)

We have already discussed Mr. Alger Hiss somewhat. It is possible that he is too close to the throneroom to allow any serious investigation to be now begun where the last one, which involved him, left off. Since the last two bulletins were issued, there have been more revelations about the spy system that exists in America. One suspect has been picked up who was a trusted employee of the Justice Department and another in the employ of the United Nations Secretariat.

In a comparatively recent release the House Un-American Activities Committee has declared that ever since Roosevelt recognized the U.S.S.R. in 1933, a continual process of planting communist key members in control points of our government has been under way. They have been located in all military branches as well as some departments which shape the pattern on our domestic economy. They have been placed in our diplomatic corps and the State Department and have even made progress as far as our extensive atomic research is concerned. According to Major Leslie R. Groves, former head of one of the many atomic projects:

"I have no hesitancy in saying that there was continued and persistent and well-organized espionage against the United States, and particularly against the atom bomb project, by a foreign power with which we were not at war, and its misguided and traitorous domestic sympathizers or perhaps stooges would be a better word. . . ." ("Communism and Government," released by the Committee on Un-American Activities.)

On page 12 of the August 28, 1949 Interim report on Hearings Regarding Communist Espionage in the United States Government is an admission that so far, only the surface has been scratched. The effectiveness of the red underground apparatus indicates that we are up against a very difficult task in any attempt to clean out the State Department and that such an assignment will be practically impossible without the fullest cooperation of the top officials, including first of all, the Secretary of State.

Takes Personal Charge of Atlantic Pact Negotiations

Early in February it was announced that the new Secretary of State Dean Acheson took personal charge of the Atlantic Pact Treaty negotiations. This all fits in and is a part of the current phase of the "Great Design." President Truman, however, has given it a new name. What we first referred to as the International New Deal, many years ago, Mr. Truman is now calling a "Global Fair Deal." He is said to have told a news conference in Washington that he had been considering the "global fair deal" plan enunciated in his inaugural address, for more than two years. According to Rotber G. Nixon of the International News Service staff, Mr. Truman stated that the idea of the "global fair deal" plan "originated with his 'Truman Doctrine,' laid down two years ago to bolster Greece and Turkey against aggressive communism." Continuing from the news item:

"Truman said that throughout the next four years his administration will seek to implement the world abundance program.

"The President said he has asked Secretary of State Acheson and heads of several other government departments to act as a committee for extensive study of his proposal.

"Truman made it clear that he hopes his 'bold new program' ultimately will take up where the Marshall Plan of European recovery leaves off. ("New York Journal American," January 27, 1949, underscoring added.)

It thus appears that Mr. Acheson has been too close to both the planners and the plans comprising the substance of the International New Deal to be left out when they were looking for a new Secretary of State. His appointment would probably have been shoved through regardless of his attitude towards the reds in the State Department.

From Frankfurter to Brandies to Roosevelt describes the transition of his political philosophy. It was inevitable that he would sooner or later find acceptable the Fabian concept in its application toward economic affairs.

According to TIME Magazine, issue of February 28, 1949, Acheson and three other colleagues in the law fraternity wrote and publicized a brief supporting President Roosevelt's alleged legal right to trade the 50 American destroyers for British bases. As Under-secretary of State, he served as the Department's liaison with Congress.

Almost everything that had anything to do with the development of what Truman now calls his own "global fair deal" since Acheson became connected with the State Department, has been part of his responsibility. Among such phases are included Lend-Lease, UNRRA, the World Bank, and all the international conferences that had to do with their organization. It is even claimed that he preceded Marshall in planting the seed for the so-called Marshall Plan in his speech given at Cleveland, Mississippi antedating Marshall's Harvard address. It is also claimed that Mr. Acheson and David Lilienthal "wrote the plan for international control of atomic power which became the basis for U. S. policy." ("TIME" Magazine, February 28, 1949.)

By Austin J. App, Ph.D.

(The writer, a doctor of philosophy from the Catholic University of America, was born in Milwaukee, was in the service, and has spent his life teaching English literature in Catholic colleges and universities. He is the author of "Lancelot in English Literature, Courtesy, Courtship and Marriage, History's Most Terrifying Peace, The True Concept of Literature, and many pamphlets urging the need of a just peace for the vanquished, a peace in harmony with the Atlantic Charter, and worthy of men who would call themselves 'men of good will'.)

The most momentous and tragic event of our age was the War. The American people were lend-leased into it by British and Jewish insistence that American intervention was necessary to assure a post-war world based on the Four Freedoms and a just peace based on the Atlantic Charter. If during the war, winning it was considered our first business, then, having won it, achieving what it was fought for, an Atlantic Charter peace, must be our business now. Yet that is the one business, our New Deal government, in its Inaugurals and its State of the Union messages, and its blarney about a "Fair Deal," hypocritically evades.

The Atlantic Charter was promulgated by Roosevelt and Churchill on August 14, 1941, before we were in the war to become an ideological runway for sliding the crusade-minded American people into the war. Its second principle is that there shall be "no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned."

At Yalta, February 11, 1945, Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin officially violated this point and blueprinted the vilest and most tragic territorial robberies in modern times. Without consulting Poland they tore the size of Kansas away from her and gave it to our lend-lease pal, Soviet Russia, and then muttered piously that they "recognize that Poland must receive substantial accessions of territory in the North and West." That was the blueprint for robbing Germany of one-fourth of its arable land, for carving out of that most thickly populated country a territory the size of Pennsylvania. And it prepared the way for the greatest crime of the age, the expulsion from these stolen territories and total robbery of some fifteen million people, five million of whom are estimated to have died from the brutality and hardships characterizing these expulsions.

What an irony that the American people, oiled into the war on the flattery that their entrance would achieve the justest peace ever made, have instead become accomplices to literally the vastest crime and atrocity which has ever disgraced the annals of history. It is the holy duty of the American people to force their government to correct these fearful crimes as much as possible. Our government must be made to announce that its final and permanent policy is to require that all German territory taken in violation of the Atlantic Charter, from East Prussia to the Saar, must be returned, that if any lend-lease pals now want to welch on their Atlantic Charter pledge, made on January 1, 1942, then the United States will shift its moral support to the Germans, now will allocate any more credits to territorial robbers. The then Secretary of State, Byrnes in his speech in Stuttgart, on September 6, 1946, made a good start, after the government's Yalta betrayal, when he said "the United States will not support encroachment on territory which is indisputably German." Unfortunately, however, by excepting the Saar for France and Königsberg for Russia, indisputably German territories, he failed to lift American policy to the plain of right and wrong, and kept one foot of it in the quicksand of expediency. If our government tells Russia and France that it is all right for each to rob one province, then it cannot argue on moral grounds that they should not rob two provinces. It also means that if America ever lost a war and a conqueror annexed New England, America could not consistently say, "That's wrong. Don't do that." (continued on page two)

By Frederick Chas. F. Weiss

(Graduate of University of Heidelberg, Germany, and Sorbonne, France. Author "Germanica Delenda Est?" and "Quo Vadis America".)

The two world wars were but the first flashes from the fateful thunder cloud which is passing over us. Although, three and one half years after cessation of open warfare, the form of the catastrophe has changed, the catastrophe itself has not and certainly not its tempo. We shouted "Victory", only to realize now that the great game of world politics has by no means come to an end; that with the whole of Northern Asia and Eastern Europe practically in control of the Politbureau more than ever do we have to play for the highest stake: for our very existence! When in the last suicidal struggles we betrayed and humiliated our "white" brothers and summoned the outsiders to fight for whites against whites, we saw to it that no longer they are filled with terror at the white man's power - with the result that now they have risen up and look down upon the whites as of a thing of yesterday. With horror we begin to comprehend to what extent we have underestimated the power of attraction which the Red Colossus - as their leader - has on all the colored masses of our globe.

No longer can there be any doubt as to the Politbureau's next object: After Asia comes Africa. Already we see a Red hand directing the "little war" in Palestine; throughout the Near East and even in Central and South Africa we observe the spread of mysterious underground activities by the enemy.

So, confronted with a steady process of our encirclement by the Brown-Black-Yellow forces under a Red leadership, only a fool or a coward will deny the fact that the Hour of Decision is at hand;

only a fool or a coward will deny that whatever our statesmen now deem opportune to do with Germany, will shape the fate of every one of us right here in our own country. For only utter lack of respect for history can make us blind to the fact that there is - of all the others - only one "race" on the European continent which - not only on account of her geographical situation on the border of Asia - can solve with our help the decisive problem of our white world in the face of the present global bolshevist onslaught: The German Nation.

You may ask here, what good, what spiritual and material help can we still expect from a bombed-out Germany? Is it not more to our advantage to write her off entirely and to rely alone on France and England for the day when the great push from the East will materialize? You may even go further and ask: why is it that we persist in turning backward, return to that "dying hag which is Europe", when we, with all our wealth and our youth can live in peace and comfort - 4000 miles away? Well, have we not lost our hitherto most reliable and powerful ally - distance? In this age of missiles, in our fight against an IDEA, the 4000 miles between here and Central Europe mean nothing any longer.

But, only apparently so, has Western Europe lost its authoritative significance. True, at present the political power has been transferred to New York and Moscow. Put the idea of our Western civilization grew up in Europe. There are its roots, and there (and nowhere else) it will win the final victory in its history or will perish. Therefore, any decisive event in Europe will be just as decisive to us over here.

The pathetic lack of ethical perceptions keeps traducing our policies towards Germany. This moral blindness caused General Clay on January 10 blunderingly to blame German groups for "demanding that Germany be given back her eastern territory ceded to Poland." Yet Byrnes had said the Germany's eastern provinces had not been ceded to Poland but were merely put "under the administration of the Polish state." Now General Clay instead of praising these German groups for supporting America's professed intention of protecting "indisputably German" territory, blames them for it and talks as if our New Dealers, even in advance of the peace treaty, had sold these German territories down the river. A square deal for Germany means that our government demand full integrity of German boundaries, with no nonsense from either France or Russia or Poland. They are all pledged to the Atlantic Charter—it is America's business to hold them to it—or tell them in a choice between the robbing and the robbed it must side with the robbed.

Its second duty is to minimize the awful calamity of the fifteen million East and Sudeten and Balkan Germans expelled from their homes and totally robbed, again with the complicity of our New Deal Marxist Controlled government. At Potsdam President Truman, along with Stalin and Attlee, on July 17, 1945, sanctioned the most inhuman political measure next to genocide ever invented by human beastliness, when he declared that "the transfer to Germany of German populations or elements thereof, remaining in Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary, will have to be undertaken." According to this measure, Hitler would have been justified if he had driven all Jews out of Germany; and by virtue of it, Morgenthauistic Jews could not consistently condemn as immoral any future expulsion of Jews from any country. This Potsdam article marks the moral low of this nation in its 150 years of history.

But recognizing this moral low does not help the ten million robbed expellees roaming helplessly about in bombed-out Germany, now reduced to a country half the size of Texas with seventy million people against Texas's seven million. Five million of the refugees, exposed to rape, abuse, and starvation, are estimated to have died along the way—that is, six times as many people as there were Jews in Germany when Hitler took over. A fair deal for Germany means that our government contritely but determinedly repudiates expulsion as a political measure, that it points to the Atlantic Charter signed by all the United Nations as more binding than the Potsdam agreement signed by only three, and demand before the whole world that the still-living German expellees be restored to their provinces, homes, and belongings in Eastern Germany, the Sudetenland, and the Balkans. Since in the Potsdam agreement America shares responsibility for creating the refugee problem, whereas it is not responsible for the so-called DP problem, America must, until it has diplomatically achieved the return of the expellees, consider them as her charge, give them not less, but more immigration facilities than the DPs. America must, like a thief trying to make restitution for money stolen and largely spent, heroically and humbly aid the expellees in every possible way.

The third plank in a fair deal for Germany is the immediate and sincere halting of all dismantlings. On April 30, 1947, the Christian Century, asking editorially, "Is Vengeance Still Our Purpose?" wrote, "Herbert Hoover's blast against the folly of the policy regarding fertilizer factories we are pursuing in Germany should arouse the indignation of all men with common sense. We have deprived Germany of a quarter of its arable land, jammed the truncated remainder with 15,000,000 refugees and expellees, and now we are dismantling the plants. . . ." In October, 1947, almost three years after the war, our government, while telling the American people to send five billion a year to Europe to revive production, collaborated with the British and French in listing 918 German plants for destruction, only 338 of which were listed as war plants. Since then many have been destroyed. Newsweek, December 6, 1948, describes a square where once the Schiess machine-tool plant had stood. A guide said, "It once had 3,000 employees. They even dismantled the workers' swimming pool."

Henry Hazlitt, in Newsweek, February 23, 1948, wrote, "It is senseless to defend this preposterous policy of dismantling by an appeal to the Potsdam Agreement. . . . Even under that agreement, in fact, all dismantlings and removals were to be completed by Feb. 2 of this year (1948). It is even more senseless to argue that we must continue this idiocy because Britain and France insist on it. It is we, we in America, who are paying the bill. . . . It is we who are being asked to pour $17,000,000 more of the American taxpayer's money into Europe, largely to make up the consequences of this destruction. . . ." Yet, now a year later, after we have already poured a good portion of these billions into Europe, we are still destroying German factories. Truly, whom the gods would destroy, they throw into the hands of the eye-for-an-eye boys! Now, almost four years after the war, our European Recovery Administrator Paul Hoffman, "relying on a report by American businessmen, has urged halting the dismantling of about 167 German plants. . . . All the old Morgenthau-minded elements will undoubtedly try to put pressure on Acheson to set aside the Hoffman recommendation." So reports Frank C. Hanighen in Human Events, January 19, 1949. He continues, "Already supporters, of the Morgenthau Plan in the press have tried to label the Hoffman proposal 'partisan'."

It is a must for the American people on this one point to defeat the Morgenthauists. They must so overwhelm Acheson with demands that the dismantlings be stopped, that the whole brood of Morgenthauists cannot bribe or browbeat him into continuing them. For the government to tell the people of Berlin that it is sincerely trying to help and protect the German people against the Soviets while persisting in this enormous stupidity and crime of destroying valuable productive plants is almost as criminal for its hypocrisy as the dismantlings themselves are. Bishop Wilhelm Berning of Osnabrueck in his New Year sermon asked, "Why, then, the dismantling of industrial plants. . . ? This causes mass unemployment, unrest and bitterness, and creates doubt whether the victor powers really care to see our people have peace in life" (NC, Frankfurt, Jan. 20, 1949). Surely, surely, what America and the world needs is a fair deal for Germany, and an end of its Morgenthauism here at home.

"Religion is the enemy of Communism. We must do our utmost to emphasize that religious survivals in our country play a reactionary, harmful role. They are hostile to that great cause toward which the toilers are laboring under the leadership of the Communist Party." — Soviet Byelorussian, official organ of the Byelorussian Republic, Sept. 27, 1948.

Wake Up Americans!

Cunning Marxists in the Soviet Union, Poland, London, Paris and mainly New York, the Invisible Government, with perfect coordination, tricked and propagandized Christians to slaughter each other in the war to crush Germany which was the only country in Europe which fully understood the menace of Communism and the only country strong enough to keep the Red Army, backing atheistic Communism, bottled up in Russia. Because of stupidity Americans did not realize that the concentration camps in Germany were filled almost exclusively with the millions of Marxists who infiltrated from Russia and Poland to overpower Germany at the critical time. For this stupidity, the United States now occupies the same position Germany did. Our country is swarming with Marxists dupes and the only way we can present a united American Front to the Soviet Union and its atheistic program is to have every adult register and fine-comb the United States placing all disloyal and illegal entries behind barb wire fences. Attorney General Tom Clark has admitted that his Marxist dominated Department of Justice has allowed an average of 2000 illegal entries per day for years. Now that all European countries have either succumbed or can be taken over at Stalin's pleasure, and China has gone to the Marxists, the United States is next in line. To those few who have paid the price in study so as to be informed, it is plain that the Marxist plan in the United States is two-thirds completed. These same scheming Marxists who engineered us into the recent war are now behind the scenes setting the stage for a war with the Soviet Union, knowing that approximately 35,000,000 people in the United States can be fooled into supporting a revolt and enabling Communism to replace Americanism. The simple Americans who think we have the Atomic Bomb should realize that the Marxists have it. Four of the five members of the

What real Frenchman of today cares any longer for world politics or likes to struggle for the vital aims of our Western World? He desires nothing more than the peace of a people that has become weary and unfruitful and finds his happiness in a rentier ideal: a little money, a bottle of wine, and "amour". So, why should he fight the "other fellow's" fight?

Or, have our statesmen set their hope on England, the former undisputed mistress of the seas, whose present ministers were only too eager to preside over the by now accomplished liquidation of the Empire? Upon "Old England", which now has ceased strategically to be an island, and which no longer is healthy enough - spiritually and racially - to fight along in this terrible crisis with the necessary enthusiasm and confidence? Upon a formerly proud and mighty England, now the recipient of dole handed out to her by an international high finance, her real master?

These are the "Powers" (not to speak about the other beneficiaries of our Marshal Plan), upon which we have set our only hope in Europe for protection against the Red Flood; against a new Genghis Khan, who, with an extremity of military and political effort and with all the vehemence of destiny follows his mission as an arch-expansionist; against an enemy who knows only too well that in the present struggle between East and West there can only be one question at issue; who is to govern the whole?

And so the great historical question is whether or not we and our tottering allies of Western Europe are strong enough to prevent the fall of the white world without mobilizing the spiritual and material power of the German people; and what resources can Germany as of today muster?

Very few, it would seem, were we to believe the comments of our guided and controlled Press and Radio. But history tells us differently!

Space does not permit here to speak in detail about the innumerable heroic deeds in Germany's past, when the strong, unbending "I" of her people again and again stood up against the impersonal Asiatic collectivism at our Eastern frontier. But this is not necessary. Present historic events in Central Europe prove that - as in the past - there is still left in the German people enough of that blood, which gave them the foundation of every kind of intellectual superiority over her adversaries from the East.

Contrary to a poisoning Marxist propaganda which up till now has tried its utmost to rock us into the sleep of oblivion by reasons of its miraculous doctrines of a guaranteed "World Peace" under the regiment, imposed by a supernational Government, we now wake up only to see that we have to fight - if we want to survive. When formerly they told us that the "Anti Komintern Pact" was a "criminal conspiracy" - we now have to concede that it was the unique spiritual power of the German People which prevented a Red Master from taking us over, lock, stock and barrel, at a time when our international Intelligentsia began to glorify the peace-loving "20th Century Red Democrats."

In this eleventh hour of the monstrous Drama, when we are threatened by all the masses of the globe under a Red leadership; when we have to fight against an IDEAw whose real meaning for the mysterious Oriental Soul we are even not able to comprehend, describe or define; in this eleventh hour, I ask, can we afford to discard the spiritual support of our key-nation on the border of Asia which up to this day - despite the terrible losses in two World Wars - has remained numerically the largest "unit of the soul" among all other "white" nations - including our own? After having almost bled to death in long years of warfare; after having experienced a mass bombing, mass looting, mass raping and debauching of their women; after deportation of millions of her sons - even daughters - to Siberia; after having been exposed to a planned attempt to bastardize their good blood with that of our "allies" from the jungles; after having withstood the economic cannibalism of our Morgenthau Marxist's - what other people, I ask, would have left a drop of good blood to give them the physical and intellectual high standard that the average German of today is able to muster in his spiritual fight against Communism?

When we came over under the pretext to alter and improve, yet sought only to destroy; when we began with our enlightening process by conniving at the shady black market business of our "special agents"; when we sent over our famous "Big Four" Hunger, Cold, Death, Despair - and taught them "Democracy"; how would our masses have reacted against their usurper?

When we came over to liberate them from a totalitarian "yoke" only to let our "Brothers from the Asiatic steppes" entrench and encamp themselves on the mountain of their misery and despair; when we hung them up - and the Reds hung them on to their job; when we blew them up and the Reds blew them on - their high furnaces, that is; when we stole their patents and the Reds forced them to work their inventions (because they could not read the patent scripts anyhow); when the Reds compressed them into one front and we split them up into some dozens of "democratic" parties; when the Reds promised them ONE Reich and we promised them a thousand little fatherlands - who was to doubt that in every other "white" soul the spiritual substance of resistance against the Red Manifesto would have consumed itself long ago? When we, on the other hand, 4000 miles away, in our immensely wide and rich country, which was not even singed by the horrors of war have our hands full to prevent the Marxist invisible government from achieving its final success: lest our misguided masses crash everything that centuries had gone to build up!

And so, our enlightening process goes on and on over there in Germany. With the help of some of their degenerate elements, their spiritual failures or inferiors, we promise them "PEACE". We try to condition them for the day when, again, they will have to sign on the dotted line. Naturally, they will have - above all - to sign a confession: that they have committed (all of them!) the "supreme crime", the waging of aggressive war.

And so we, the richest nation on earth, will explain to those who for 700 long years had been the beggars among our brothers in Europe - that just as over here our law in majestic equality forbids the rich no less than the poor to steal bread.. so our law over there, again in majestic equality, forbids to us no less than to them to resort to war - even if driven by sheer hunger! (with the exception of some little "holy" wars in Palestine, of course). We will explain that from now on the 75 millions of them will have to "live" in a territory about half the size of that of California (...and may nature take its course!); that no free thinking can be allowed henceforth and that no longer we need the spiritual help of their Plancks, Bunsens, and Liebig's; that if need be, we will draw upon the inhabitants of "undeveloped areas" for some new Diesels, Kochs or Bayers; that they have to do without machines or ships (because we need them to develop the land of the Hottentots) and that in their future land of poets and musicians they do not need them anyhow!

And so a "Peace Treaty" will be imposed by us and a cruel external law enforced on our brother nation; a law containing a political tendency depending not upon what the average American thinks, but upon what is practically intended by a small clique among us, which in fact represents real power behind our elected government.... commands our legislation; a law, which will mean - if enforced - the complete ultimate annihilation of the German people. And should this happen, our own abdication from history as free men would become a certainty! You may doubt this certainty. But look "at the record" of those who up to this very day insisted on wiping Germany off the map; look at their well planned, well screened offensive against us all and you will no longer be in doubt as to their ultimate objective: When they began, back in 1933, to make a profound impact upon our liberal citizenry and influenced us to believe that the Soviet Union was the destined savior of Western democracy; when our former instinctive fear was transmitted overnight into indiscriminate sympathy with the Kremlin; When they taught us that communism was "Twentieth Century Americanism"; when they shouted at us about the necessity of an alliance with USSR ... to make the world safe for the "Four Freedoms"; when they shouted at us about Stalins "moral rights" to steal our secret weapons; when they shouted so long, until the suicidal war between whites was on and until the white dam across Europe was blown up; until we stand alone now facing the Red Colossus ... with a class war in our midst! And to-day, after a cruel realization that they have overplayed their hand; that in the lands of their "Red Democrats" a true Asiatic form of Bolshevism has set in (which wears the Marxian face only for the "benefit" of the outside world). . they begin to shout at us that - after all - they made a mistake in that Stalin was actually Hitler redivivus, a Red Fascist!!

Slowly, but surely, we see through this international clique, through the real victors of the two world wars. For danger is knocking at our door and makes us wake up. We begin to comprehend that these One-World-Apostles, who would have us without country, religion, flag or class, and who sneer at the value of our Western Institutions, know only too well that, as long as they do not succeed in tearing down the last remnant of the white wall across Europe, so long as there are left among the German people individuals with an iron self-discipline, with an elemental superpersonal force, - their leveling-in-process into a stateless world cannot be accomplished. That is the real reason for their deliberately dry insistence on Germany's complete annihilation as a power.

And that is the real reason why they will shout now so long until World War III is on; until our "A"-bombs will fall and finish off what little is left of ... CENTRAL EUROPE .. This being so, shall we now take the necessary steps to avert disaster? Or shall we continue to listen to our Morgenthau-Catos and go on with our stupidity and try to enforce a treaty which will be a thousand times worse in its ultimate effect upon our future than the one we imposed at Versailles?

Shall we wait any longer until we come to our senses? Yet, time runs short! To maintain the heroic posture on end is beyond the power of any people; even of the German people! The Prussian-German people have had four great moments (1813, 1870, 1914, 1939), and that is more than any others ever had throughout history! And it is up to us alone now to decide whether we will do the necessary and mobilize for our own sake this unique spiritual power on our border of Asia - or whether we will go under as free men. For the unity of resolve that has formed itself among the 14 members of the Politbureau will then have its way: The mobilization of the German MIND to guide the Asiatic HAND in the struggle to death against ourselves! Ever since the times of Peter the Great, they knew in Moscow that only the Western mind and not the Russian hand can hold together in the center of the artificial and complicated realm of machine the managers and organizers of their untold millions of slave workers. They know in Moscow better than in Washington that to preserve their ever endangered industrial potentiality one figure is more important to them than even all the energy of their master men: the German engineer, the German scientist. They are well aware of the fact that in our age of rapidly changing methods of warfare their political achievement cannot be secured in the long run without the scientific foundation for procuring a tremendous increase in the power of the individual, which again can only be obtained by equipping him with the most improved machinery of war.

And so, while we look forward to the day when we will crown our "success" with the imposition of another "PEACE of WESTPHALIA" upon the German masses, in Moscow they will look forward to the day when we will finally have to give up our famous "Give and Take Policy", a policy by which the Russians always give and we always take - a beating; they will look forward to the day when we, the "decrepit dupes of the West", can no longer help but to understand the hypocrisy of the Kremlin's blabbing about "peace" and when finally it will become clear to us that (in the words of their Dimitrioff) ... "the preservation of peace only furthers the growth of the forces of the proletariat ... that it cracks the foundation of the capitalistic structure ... that it hastens the victory of communism ..."; they will look forward in Moscow to the day when finally an eruption in us - which is bound to come - will release the deepest instinct in our blood from the load of an unbearable, because eternal, threat from the East: to OUR day, when no longer we will try to parry in vain the stabs from behind an impenetrable Iron Curtain. And then they will go over the record of the Nobel Prize Winners in the era before Hitler and will look at Germany's stupendous ERSATZ-rearmament achievements (1933-1939).

And then, COMMON SENSE will teach them the lesson: that without the unique scientific and technical thought of the German mind, they may well despair of the future. For the Westerner it is, who is the machine's master and destiny. And machines will dominate the earth.

This is the spiritual side of the German question (as far as it concerns our immediate future; about the material side I shall write some other time.

I have attempted here to show that our betrayal of the German People is tantamount to the betrayal by a minority group or by the inferior part of our people, of that strong, healthy, part, which twice in a generation was called upon to rise up in the belief that it could and would have a future as free, white, men; of that racially best element of ours which in moral self-discipline fought for the preservation of our 'American Way of Life' ... only to realize now - after a cruel awakening - that the Machiavellian intelligence of our World Citizens has well understood to use their world-political inexperience as a tool; when our Marxist Intelligentsia made them blow up the White Dam (Germany) in Central Europe and, thus, released a Red Flood which finally is bound to submerge us all. That is, if the store of excellent blood, that still there lies in a great part of the German people, can no longer be roused and spiritualized to meet the stupendous challenge of our Marxist One-World-Apostles.

THAT IS THE QUESTION OF TO-DAY.

Atomic Energy Commission are Marxists. All Marxists and Marxist publications used every means to have the bomb turned over to this committee. The Chairman, David E. Lilienthal, is a smooth-talking Red but the real leader is Lewis L. Strauss of Kuhn, Loeb & Company, Jewish International Bankers, whose President, Jacob Schiff financed the Communist revolution in Russia in 1917. In addition to Lilienthal and Strauss Robert F. Bacher and Wm. W. Waymack are the other two Marxists on this Committee. BRITISH OFFICER SPEAKS

Major-General J. F. C. Fuller, a British soldier and student of warfare, in his book just published "The Second World War", exposes the stupidity in dealing with Germany.

Roosevelt's "unconditional surrender" demand, says this expert, only prolonged the war. It offered the Germans no hope for a reasonable peace, and spurred them to fight on to the death.

Churchill's bombing of civilian areas in German cities is regarded by Fuller as having been a colossal mistake. For one thing, he offers figures to show that this destructions did not cut down German military production seriously. Worse, he says, "the ruined cities of Germany will stand as monuments to the barbarism of their conquerors . . . the ruins will remain to beckon generation after generation of Germans to revenge."

"It is the purpose of the Communists in America to develop a revolutionary American political program and party, to set its feet firmly on the Marxian-Leninist path, and to lay the foundation for a revolutionary struggle that is now gradually mobilizing, the . . . masses and that will one day put 'finish' to bankrupt American capitalism and establish a Soviet America." Prominent Officials Welcome Communist Terrorist

The NEW YORK TIMES of November 23, 1948 carried a full page ad welcoming Menachem Beigin, Chief of Irgun, the terrorist organization which bragged they set bombs in English government buildings in Palestine killing many. This same page ad appeared in many large cities. This welcome was climaxed by a $50.00 a plate banquet at the Waldorf Astoria and galareception at the City Hall where Mayor O'Dwyer affiliated. All this to a notorious Communist who was a leader in the effort to overthrow Germany. Among the 652 names of prominent men listed in this ad were 93 Rabbis, 72 Congressmen, 11 Senators, 11 Governors, 9 Mayors. Some prominent Catholics such as James Farley and Mayor James Curley of Boston were also duped.

Below we publish an article from "America, A Catholic Review of the Week" January 1, 1949.

So complete was the collapse of the propaganda blow-up afforded to Menachem Beigin, former leader of the terrorist Irgun Zvai Leumi in Palestine, at the time of his arrival in New York last November, that little more might need to be said about this fantastic incident. Nevertheless, an article that appeared in the June 19, 1948 issue of the "Neue Volkszeitung", social-democratic German-language newspaper in New York City, throws an interesting light on the personality that hundreds of prominent persons in American life were asked to receive with welcoming arms. The information was furnished to the "Neue - Volkszeitung" by Gerhart H. Seger, founder and editor of the "Neue Volkszeitung", a former member of the German Reichstag, and, after 1933, a political refugee because of his distinguished labor leadership in Weimar Germany. According to Mr. Seger, Max Wullschlegel, the political editor of the Basle (Switzerland) "Arbeiter-Zeitung" ("Worker's Journal") found that the commanding officer of the Irgun was a German Communist, Freymann by name, who as chief of the Irgun used the Hebrew pseudonym Menachem Beigin. He is described by this report as having received military training in Russia and as having later played an important part in the Spanish Civil War. From Spain, he is said to have moved the field of his activity to the Red Army in China, and, after having accumulated sufficient experience in two civil wars, to have traveled to Palestine and taken over the direction of the Irgun organization. It would have been still more disturbing for the members of the "Menachem Beigin Reception Committee" if they had learned that the underground general they were asked to sponsor was reputedly a Russian-trained German Communist. Mr. Beigin left for Palestine December 21.

FIVE CENTS EVERYWHERE

The American Politburo

BY Merwin K. Hart, President
National Economic Council, Inc.
In Letter No. 214

Intelligent men can see the world is in a mess. More particularly, Americans can see they are being rushed to the destruction of their liberties.

Merwin K. Hart

There should be no mystery as to how all this has happened—and we believe there is none. Like any other problem it yields to dispassionate analysis.

But is what is happening accidental or by design? And if by design, who are the architects? And why are we being rushed in this direction?

Why have the 140-odd million American people been transformed in seventeen years from a free people of incomparable strength, into a people whose liberties have been impaired and are in danger of being destroyed within the next two or three years?

What Has Happened?

First, just what is it that has happened?

Clearly, we Americans have passed under the control, still temporary but well-defined, of an alien-minded force. Our material savings and our natural resources are being dissipated. Our country has been caused to betray other peoples who trusted in us. America was founded upon Christian tradition; and yet well nigh every Christian tradition has been violated, as well as every important and long-established American tradition.

Much of our means of livelihood, as well as our means of self-defense, has been destroyed. A huge government bureaucracy has been built up. The country has been committed to wasteful schemes that tend to destroy rights of property and discourage individual initiative. The principles of hard work and thrift have been undermined. Morality and religion are at a low ebb. The alien element has infiltrated most of our education and many of our churches.

Laws have been passed that constantly make more difficult the conduct of private enterprise. Through long neglect of the teaching of history in our schools and colleges, few Americans under 40 have any conception of how or why America became great.

No part of the last seventeen years has been so filled with attacks by this alien force as during the less than four and a half years since the beginning of the Yalta Conference.

Treachery at Yalta

At Yalta a dying President, incapable of clear thought and prompted by a dying adviser who was ignorant of the affairs at stake and equally incapable of clear thought, and who for years had been surrounded by and under the influence of these alien elements—this unhappy, beclouded, dying President was persuaded to sign an agreement which was to betray China to Communism and Soviet Russia.

Today, four years later, the completion of this betrayal is being consummated before the gaze of a forgetful world, whose attention is being diverted from the tragedy by the well-timed talks of "Peace in Berlin." And almost certainly with China will eventually go all the rest of Asia, including Japan.

Forrestal—His Tragic and Forced Suicide

What forces were behind the smear and persecution campaign against the late James V. Forrestal, first Secretary of Defense, which led him to a tragic and untimely death?

Methodists and Marxists

The Southern Methodist University is located in Dallas, Texas and has an enrollment of 6,500 students. This fine University represents the Methodists of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana and has been heavily endowed by Christian men, some of whom are leading oil men in the Southwest.

But who selects the speakers who appear before the students during the year bringing outside ideas to this institution of 6,500 Christian students sent there by trusting parents who wish their children to return to their homes stronger in Americanism and Christianity? These lecturers are conducted each year by the "Community Course" sponsored by the Southern Methodist University and TEMPLE EMANUEL SYNAGOGUE. Speakers must be selected or OK'd by this synagogue.

What powerful force caused Dr. Humphrey Lee, President of S.M.U. to allow un-Christian followers of Karl Marx' teachings to select the speakers who cleverly inject leftist ideas into unsuspecting minds? No wonder Communism has made such gains in colleges! It would be well for parents to investigate the control of speakers' programs in all colleges—Do Christians control them or are they controlled by the B'NAI B'RITH, the main wheel in the Marxist Invisible Government?

KARL MARX MANIFESTO, P.29

"Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion, and all morality; it therefore acts in contradiction to all past experiences."

James Forrestal, an energetic and enterprising New York lawyer, was sponsored in his public career by Bernard Baruch, the unofficial President of the United States. Mr. Baruch, who controls the powerful banking firm of Dillon, Read & Company, made Forrestal its President. Later, Mr. Baruch placed Forrestal as Secretary of the Navy, then again, through his powerful machine, moved him still further up as Secretary of Defense. By this time, Mr. Baruch and Felix Frankfurter believed that Mr. Forrestal's loyalty had been sufficiently tried and were convinced he would faithfully serve the Invisible Government, just as many other unsuspecting men are doing.

However, on October 3rd, COMMON SENSE published a full issue on Zionism which was read by Mr. Forrestal and in which he became intensely interested. This issue was written by a learned Jewish gentleman who is the greatest living authority on facts relating to the Palestine question.

Upon going deeper into this all-important question, Mr. Forrestal discovered that the United States, by supporting the Zionists' occupation of Palestine, was not only alienating the good-will of millions of Arabs who had occupied their country uninterruptedly for 1300 years, but through our sanction of this Jewish state were endangering our greatest source of oil supply in the event of a war between the Soviet Union and the United States. Knowing that two-thirds of the world's oil supply was located in this section, and also knowing that the Soviet Union was playing its cards carefully so as to secure control of this oil supply, Forrestal refused to go along with the Zionists. These Zionists, who function in the Invisible Government and have control of key spots in our Government through the direction of such men as F. D. R., Felix Frankfurter and David Niles, pushed the button that started the campaign to smear and destroy Forrestal, whom they had moved up believing he would be a faithful and unsuspecting tool. Lenin said "Use them, liquidate them, but never trust them."

The powerful Anti-Defamation League furnished their spokesmen on the radio, Walter Winchell and Drew Pearson, material to start rumors which were to discredit Forrestal, thereby forcing his resignation as Secretary of Defense. As a sample of the tactics used, we quote from Westbrook Pegler's column:

"FOR MONTHS, Drew Pearson and

by
W. Henry MacFarland, Jr., Director
The Nationalist Action League, 876 Granite St., Phil. 24, Pa.

The NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE was organized on October 29, 1948, for the purpose of opposing, by wholly lawful and constitutional means, the foreign-imported doctrines of Marxism (including Communism and Socialism), Political Zionism, and the presently-waged campaign to abolish United States sovereignty and national identity and reduce our Republic to the status of a colony, to be administered under the direction of a super-World Government.

Since its inception, our organization has taken an active part in opposing two pieces of legislation, one federal and the other local, which America's left-wing elements have strived to make law. Nationally, it has fought enactment of the vast and regimented program of Socialized Medicine, which would reduce our Medical and associated Professions to servile obedience to the dictates of a politically-created bureaucracy, and place the health and the very lives of our citizens in danger. It waged a hard fight, and a successful one, to defeat passage of a State-wide Fair Employment Practices Act for Pennsylvania. This, it opposed, on the basis of the unconstitutional power which such legislation would give to government, to fix employment-discharge and upgrading policies in Private Enterprise, as well as its probable use, by Communists, for infiltrating vital defense industries in the Keystone State.

Following defeat of the latter proposed legislation, a list of 36 "allegedly subversive" organizations, compiled by Attorney-General Tom Clark, appeared in the nation's press. Under a sub-heading titled "Fascist" there appeared the names of two groups: the Committee for Nationalist Action, and the Nationalist Action League.

There was immediately called, in Philadelphia, a meeting of our members, with a view toward planning an effective protest concerning the naming of both groups as above. The Committee for Nationalist Action, it should be noted, was an organization which was created only a few weeks prior to the major party conventions in Philadelphia last year. It was directed by this writer, and had only two purposes (aside from the distribution of general anti-Communist literature). These were (1) opposition to the inclusion of a pledge favoring FEPC in the Republican Party platform, and (2) active support on behalf of Southern Democratic efforts to keep President Truman's "Civil Wrongs" program out of the Democratic Party platform.

It will be realized, by all Americans who understand our Constitution, that all three activities carried on by the Committee were perfectly lawful and proper, and formed no grounds for a charge such as was made by the Attorney-General in his published list. The fact that the Committee for Nationalist Action was dissolved following adjournment of the Democratic National Convention, should also cause speculation concerning its being named as "allegedly subversive" nearly a year after its disbanding.

The Fight Begins

At the agreement of the members of our Nationalist Action League, I visited Washington on May 2nd and 3rd, to lodge a personal protest with the Attorney-General. An appointment was arranged with Mr. William Foley, Chief of the Internal Security Section, Criminal Division, of the Department of Justice.

It had been hoped that a brief but personal interview with Mr. Clark could be arranged, but Mr. Foley stated that to be impossible. Instead, he did consent to introduce the writer to Mr. Alexander M. Campbell, Assistant Attorney-General for the Criminal Division, into whose hands was given our notarized statement denying the allegations contained in the Attorney-General's list, and accusing the Department of Justice of being a party to the public circulation of libel. Mr. Campbell then promised to deliver this statement to his superior, Mr. Clark.

Following this, I was accorded a twenty minute audience with Mr. Foley, who consented to attempt to supply answers to three questions, which I asked on behalf of our organizations, past and present.

The first question was: What is the official definition of the term "subversive," as used by the Attorney-General in compiling his lists? Mr. Foley replied that this information was held to be "confidential," and available only to Justice Department officials. The asininity of such a statement later caused a Washington newspaperman to remark that the Department of Justice, after all, might possibly have mislaid its dictionary!

Our second question concerned the matter of the identity of the Nationalist Action League's accusers. Who alleges, we wanted to know, that the League, and its predecessor, the Committee for Nationalist Action, are and were "subversive." Mr. Foley's answer was vague. He did not understand why our members, or myself, should be so concerned. He explained that the Attorney-General had merely acted under the terms of the Presidential directive, issued some time ago by Mr. Truman, establishing a Loyalty Review Board. The lists, said Mr. Foley, were simply for the guidance of that Board, and of other Governmental departments, in keeping a close check on all groups even remotely suspected of pursuing subversive aims and purposes.

In answer to this statement, which hardly clarified the original question which I had asked, I assured Mr. Foley that our group, its members and myself, would be just as concerned about being cited as "subversive" if such a citation were being circulated as an

ATLANTA BILTMORE

Hon. Arthur H. Vandenberg
U. S. SENATE
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

How very proud you must be today of the conspicuous part you played in the events that led to the confirmation of Lilienthal. Your files may contain a letter I wrote appealing to you to oppose that confirmation. It was fine, practical politics to follow the course you did. You were applauded in the columns of the Daily Worker and by the Jews the world over. Thus, you retained for yourself the support of the Jews politically.

In your speech, you said that "Baruch wholeheartedly endorses Lilienthal." Why, of course he did. They are birds of the same feather, both working night and day for the eventual fulfillment of the Jewish plan for world domination.

You should realize that the only reason we do not have in the United States today a government similar to the bloody, communist government of Hungary, is that, as yet, the Jews have not the power to install it. Bear in mind, Senator, in dealing with Jews—Baruch—Lilienthal—Frankfurter et al—that they owe their first allegiance to their tribe, and never, throughout all history, to the country wherein they are domiciled. And further, Jews are absolved from the requirements of all covenants, contracts and oaths they may take willingly or unwillingly in dealing with a non-Jew.

All your efforts to secure a lasting peace will avail little unless you and your associates have the character to bring the problem of the Jew into the open and solve it for all time. I notice that Associate Justice Frankfurter, when attending a dinner party in Washington recently, was asked who the real rulers are, and he replied—"The real rulers of a nation are undiscoverable." In making that reply, his mind must have turned back to the statement Disraeli made on the same subject when he said, "* The world is governed by very different personages from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes." All the leaders that Disraeli had in mind at the time were Jews, for he had listed them.

There are a few courageous men in the Congress who are bringing this problem into the open, but all too few, and how they are smeared by the Jews who now control our national press.

Respectfully,

What is F.E.P.C.?

What is its Purpose—

Who is Behind it?

This nationwide drive for FEPC "police power" law is quite clearly a well piloted plan to FORCE a change of habits and human relationships established by the majority of our people as the result of long freedom in group preference and individual choice. Certain people "on horseback" and in a hurry are attempting to destroy the fine and peaceful progress that social intercourse has been making in this country. They are not satisfied with gradual and normal processes of evolution. They want cyclonic revolutionary action. They are attempting to give ugly connotation to the word "discrimination" which has always been regarded as a term denoting distinction in deportment, cultural and educational attainments and social association. This is a plan to replace persuasion and education with coercion and compulsion.

TEN REASONS WHY FEPC LAWS ARE IMPROPER AND SHOULD BE REJECTED.

1. FEPC is "class legislation" and unconstitutional under traditional Americanism. (The Constitution makes no reference to "minority" groups.)

2. FEPC legislation would subjugate the unorganized majority to rule by "pressure force" from a highly organized minority. It would conspire to give one man an advantage where he could force himself upon another. It would apply in reverse the old constitutional concept that no man can compel another to work for him.

3. FEPC laws create a condition ripe for coercion, intimidation and racketeering. This would invite agent-provocateur—and make it easy for "investigators" to conspire with "applicants" to harass employers.

4. FEPC is an instrument of compulsion that is not endemic to a free society but is the excrescence of a slave state.

5. FEPC laws would create friction and ill feeling out of the nature of FORCE itself. Such law, in order to serve one applicant demanding a job, could offend and disturb an entire group of employees upon whom the applicant seeks to force himself.

6. FEPC legislation is being front-sponsored by certain politicians as a matter of political expediency. It should not become law by the act of a small group like a city council—a state legislature—nor even the national Congress—until there is clear evidence that it has majority approval by the people.

7. Back of FEPC is magnitudinous and sinister hypocrisy. Too many of its voluble sponsors are not practicing what they would compel others to do. Ask them why.

8. FEPC laws give to a political bureaucracy the improper authority to inspect the private records of an employer—merely upon the basis of a complaint made by a disgruntled applicant—a union—or some enemy seeking vengeance. It could be used as an instrument of terrorism.

9. FEPC legislation is geared to the purpose of Communism by recognizing and implementing the Marxist premise of class warfare. The Communist press has been a major sponsor of the scheme.

10. FEPC laws have the main purpose of changing our established social structure—through FORCE. That is the wrong way. We have made great progress in our nation through gradual racial adjustment to the point where our so-called "minority" groups are far better off than in any other country. Is all of this to be destroyed by a few who have become inflamed with the consciousness of new vote-controlling power? Thinking Statesmen should strive diligently—in the spirit of traditional Americanism—to stop this drive toward the POLICE STATE. The unorganized majority must awaken to ACT AS INDIVIDUALS. Let us go FORWARD through friendly adjustment—not BACKWARD through compulsion and conflict.

We will eventually have to fight Communism. But you cannot fight any thing until you know what it is. Forrestal

Walter Winchell hounded Jim Forrestal with dirty aspersions, most of them delivered in the form of insinuations, until, at last exhausted and his nerves unstrung, one of the finest servants that the Republic ever had died by suicide. His death occurred on a Sunday and, Sunday being the day of worship and rest which is regularly defiled by their abuse of better men, Pearson and Winchell were put on a spot.

"Pearson met the crisis in characteristic fashion. He has a stock trick, probably devised by some lawyer, of goose-greasing his victim with amiable expressions so that if the victim should bring suit, Pearson could cite the literal text and say, 'Why I said he was a very nice fellow and a charming gentleman.' In fact, that was just what he did say in his national broadcast of last Jan. 16, in the sentence next before he made the false and vicious charge that Forrestal, a braver man by repeated demonstration than Pearson ever has shown himself to be, had run 'out the back door of his house into the alley, leaving his wife to cope with a jewel robbery alone.'"

"When evening came, Pearson ran true to form, with the remark that 'the entire nation would mourn' the death of the man he had relentlessly driven to distraction. He then referred to 'three other attempts' at suicide by Forrestal and finally blamed the authorities at the hospital for failure to guard a 'mental patient,' so that he could not destroy himself.

"THE POSSIBILITY THAT FORRESTAL'S nervous condition could have been due in any degree to the hounding that he had suffered as a penalty of his selfless service to the people of the United States was not touched upon at all. Pearson had dwelt on his motivated contention that Forrestal was, in a word, crazy, not merely overwrought.

"Winchell also reacted in characteristic fashion. He dogged it. Although he had been only slightly less to blame than Pearson for perturbation that must be expected in a victim of a long and violent campaign of personalized propaganda, he choked up.

"NOW FORRESTAL IS DEAD and, although his nervous breakdown could have been caused by his great patriotic service alone, I know, because he told me and two others that I know of, that the abuse which he had to suffer from these two professional blackguards of the air was often in his thoughts and increased the nervous strain.

"I had had personal experience with both of these specimens before. I had made Pearson retract absolutely a false statement about me but only after I had been put to serious trouble of a thorough investigation to prove that there was not the slightest foundation for it.

"I had watched the rise of Winchell to a power and wealth which are a fantastic reproach to journalism and radio. The truest observation ever made about Winchell was to the effect that he enjoyed absolute freedom from the inhibitions that restrain most of us because he realized that he never could move as an equal among those whom he envied, and therefore needn't make the effort.

"His money can't buy the one thing that he bitterly desires. Neither can the threat of dirty calumny compel superior men to propitiate him."

This same highly-financed smear brigade of the Anti-Defamation League in cooperation with the Friends of Democracy, have done a similar job on such men as Martin Dies, Senators Wheeler and Nye, Col. Charles Lindberg, Father Coughlin, and Merwin K. Hart, and has been most active in trying to prevent the publication of COMMON SENSE.

Every American who wants to understand the mysterious power that terrifies men in public office should read the booklet by Major Robert Williams, former Counter-Intelligence Officer, entitled "The Anti-Defamation League and Its Use in the World Communist Offensive." PRAYER

Recognizing that prayer is the all-powerful weapon in this fight against evil, we suggest our readers recite the following prayer to the Holy Ghost, the source of all Truth, each day.

O, Holy Spirit, beloved of my soul, I adore you.

Tell me what I should do. Give me Your orders. I promise to submit myself to all that You desire of me.

Let me only know Your Will.

Our Fight

earlier one. The lists are made public, he stated, by Mr. Seth Richardson, Chairman of the Loyalty Review Board. Mr. Richardson's purpose, he continued, is obviously to "caution" Government and Civil Service employees concerning those groups held in doubt, as to loyalty, by the Attorney-General's Office. This admission substantiated the fact that the lists are not prepared for restricted circulation amongst Governmental departments, but are actually used for their effect amongst the general public.

In coming to the final question, I asked Mr. Foley what action stood open to a group such as ours, which without prior notice had been designated in a publically-circulated list as an "allegedly subversive" and "Fascist" organization, whereby it might obtain the removal of its name from such an odious category. I explained to Mr. Foley that it was not the wish of our members or myself to have this effected in a quiet nor underhanded manner, but rather that we desired to be fully investigated by the Attorney-General's Office, and then be given a fair opportunity to face our accusers and their evidence, if any, and prove them to be incorrect.

Mr. Foley seemed sympathetic to this plea, and informed me that the action taken in submitting our notarized statement to Attorney-General Clark was the proper and only step possible under the circumstances. He intimated that the final decision would rest with Mr. Clark, however, and that no machinery exists for the scheduling of a mandatory hearing or review.

With this information, very scanty in value and suggestion, our interview closed. From it we learned, firstly, that the official definition of such terms as "subversive" and "Fascist" are considered to be "confidential information" by Justice Department officials, and that even the responsible representatives of those groups so designated are not to be accorded the simple justice of knowing with what offense they are being charged. This clearly violates our American concept of trial before one's peers, without which no citizen ought to be condemned nor penalized.

Secondly, we gained evidence in support of the idea that the Attorney-General's Office is being misused to arbitrarily stigmatize American groups, and individuals belonging to the same, with opprobrious labels, without regard for legal redress.

Thirdly, it was established that the United States has drifted far down the stream toward government by administrative fiat, under which no citizen can feel safe from the displeasure of the political faction which at any given time holds sway.

It was, therefore, in an effort to challenge such high-handedness on the part of the Attorney-General's Office that our organization filed its protest. It was for this same reason that, following Mr. Foley's advice that we might expect to hear from Mr. Clark in two weeks time, I filed a written request for a full public hearing before the House Committee on un-American Activities. This application is pending action by the Chairman, Representative John S. Wood, at this writing.

Upon the final outcome of our fight for simple American Justice may depend the future policies to be set by the Department of Justice. If our organization, which has fought FOR, rather than against, America, can be stigmatized in such a libelous fashion, then no other group or individual in America has any assurance that the same un-American tactics will not, at some future date, be employed against it or him or her.

The Editor of COMMON SENSE has made this space available to the Nationalist Action League in bringing its case before the public. Your letters of protest to the Attorney-General's Office can aid us in obtaining the review which we seek. If further data is desired, our organization will be glad to supply it, or to answer whatever questions the reader may ask. Your moral support will mean much in the successful waging of this important campaign.

FIVE CENTS EVERYWHERE

Soviet-styled Raid Fails to Stop Paper

By Merwin K. Hart, President
National Economic Council, Inc.

Our betrayal of China marked the end of our long-time policy of the Open Door in China, which, together with the Monroe Doctrine, had long been the cornerstone of American foreign policy.

If it had been in our vital interest to betray China, some argument, however ignominious, might have been raised by some in its favor. But it was not in any sense in our interest. It was in disregard of every American interest.

The same alien element forced us to adopt the policy of "unconditional surrender" toward both Germany and Japan, although such unconditional surrender resulted in the practical annihilation of Germany and such horrible destruction as at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. This policy removed both Germany and Japan which otherwise could have been reconstructed and made effective barriers to Communism.

It ordered the American army to retire over 100 miles over land taken by our troops from the Germans, in order that Soviet Russia might occupy Berlin and much of the best of Germany. This like other travesties and treacheries has never been explained.

This alien element fathered the Nuremberg Trials, vehement and vindictive in their inception and in their carrying out, and which, should the United States ever be defeated in war, will be the precedent for the hanging of every important American official, from the President down. It led to the betrayal by us of the leaders of a huge Russian military force who surrendered to American troops and who were turned over by us to certain punishment at the hands of Soviet Russia.

This same influence led us to the setting up of the United Nations—an utter failure so far as any interest of the American people is concerned, but entirely understandable as the tool of the internationalists.

America, A Puppet of Stalin In Regard to Spain

This same alien influence persuaded the United Nations, this time at the instance of Stalin himself, to call upon the United States and other Governments to withdraw Ambassadors from Spain. Yet Spain is the one large country on Continental Europe that has defeated Communism and held it under complete control. She would be the strongest ally the United States could have in Europe.

This same alien influence permitted or ordered the destruction by ruthless force of literally billions of dollars of American military materiel, including airplane engines, precision instruments and even watches. It sold at the merest fraction of value or gave away other billions of materiel. And much of this materiel clearly found its way into the hands of Soviet Russia. Some of this materiel is at this mo-

Zionist Leader Maneuvers Confiscation of Office Files—Editor Manhandled in Attempt to Reach Telephone—Office Girl Flees in Terror as Raiders Strike Without Knowledge of Union Police

W. Henry MacFarland, Jr.,

Acting under the power of a tricked judgment for $1700, Robert Dvorin, prominent Zionist leader of Linden, New Jersey, maneuvered a surprise raid on June 17th, upon the office of the Editor of this newspaper, Conde McGinley. The raid climaxed one phase of a three year battle, in which a combination of Communist, Zionist and World Federationist forces have sought the paper's destruction.

The phase of the campaign with which the raid is connected involves long and complicated maneuverings, on the part of a Jewish faction hostile to COMMON SENSE, to obtain a sufficient degree of control over its one-time Christian printer to make further business with his firm impossible. When this goal was reached, in 1947, the faction engaged in practices which caused Mr. McGinley to dispute its total billings. A long legal battle ensued, and is still in progress.

With another court hearing scheduled within a week of the date in question, at which the case might have produced a fair and just decision, the hostile faction moved to active force. On the afternoon of June 17th, a Friday, two Jews, later identified as Alfred Greenberg and Harry Coplon, Union County Deputy Sheriffs, walked unannounced thru the door of the building which serves as the headquarters for COMMON SENSE. Without identifying themselves, without producing badges or other credentials, and without performing lawful service of any kind of writ, they informed Mr. McGinley that they had come to execute a levy, and that his personal as well as business property was to be removed from the premises. So menacing was the approach of these men, and so suspicious were their actions, that a girl worker, on duty at the time of their entrance, fled from the building in terror.

When his questions obtained no satisfactory explanation of their presence, McGinley started for a telephone located in the adjoining room. When he was followed by one of the raiders, he turned about and walked toward the door to the street. Realizing that he was alone, without witnesses or protection in case of assault, he had decided to use an outside telephone for contacting his attorney and co-workers.

As McGinley approached the door, the man later identified as Coplon stepped in front of him, as if to block his exit. As you or I would do under the same circumstances, McGinley pushed him aside in passing. Greenberg, still without divulging his identity, stepped from his position at the door, where he had motioned to Attorney Dvorin, and declared that McGinley was now under arrest.

How Secure These Rights?

Republished from CHRISTIAN VETERANS POLITICAL COUNSEL—CHICAGO.

During the spring of each year the powerful and dictatorial ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE OF B'NAI B'RITH issues its yearly report on Anti-Semitism in the United States. This year the ADL is more ambitious and has had its report for the year 1948 published in book form by Doubleday & Co., under the title HOW SECURE THESE RIGHTS? The advertising material on the jacket of the book states: "This book was a year in the making. Its documented facts and thought-provoking conclusions are the results of research and investigations which utilized the nationwide resources of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith." The book is voluminous in its listings of organizations, publications, and individuals which it deems "hate-mongers" etc. Among those listed are Merwin K. Hart, Upton Close, Joseph P. Kamp, Rep. John Rankin, Gov. Herman Talmadge, General George Van Horn Moseley, Rep. Clare Hoffman, Rep. Edward Cox, Rep. Ed. Gossett, Elizabeth Dilling, Mrs. L. Van Hynning, Rev. Gerald Winrod, Rev. Heaven Receives a Saint

(Editor's Note: If I have any good qualities, I am indebted to several who took the trouble and pains to influence me in the early years of my life. I am particularly grateful to a wonderful mother, kind and humble, but courageous in all respects, referred to by many as a saintly, sweet woman who benefited all with whom she came in contact. She, with three Catholic Sisters were the first to teach in Indian territory, and made dresses to replace the blankets worn by the Indian girls. My mother, Katherine Fritch McGinley died at the age of 91, on April 23rd, and as a tribute to her loving memory, I quote below the remarks of the Priest at her funeral.)

"He that shall persevere unto the end, he shall be saved." (Matthew, Chapter 10, verse 22)

Perseverance is a grace, a grace not given to everyone, a grace which God does not give unless it is asked for. "Ask and ye shall receive. Seek and ye shall find. Knock and it shall be opened unto you."

In any life we always have the cross. Our beloved deceased, here, lived a long and rich life. She learned to carry the cross. She acquired patience in carrying her crosses. She learned to love the cross. She said her morning and evening prayers, her grace before and after meals. She meditated daily. She knew that there is a God. She knew that there are three divine Persons in God: the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost; and that the Second Person of the Blessed Trinity came down and became Man.

She could say, with the great Saint Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. As to the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord the just judge will render to me in that day," for I believe in the resurrection of the body: one day this body will rise glorious and immortal from the tomb, to be reunited with my soul, to enjoy God for all eternity.

As she spent this long span on our earth she has given us a great example of what a grand thing it is to think. We need more thinkers. Our whole land is suffering now because so many do not think.

She sang. From the time she learned to speak she began singing; she was singing after her ninetieth year; she sang for hours on her last day on earth.

She wrote poetry. And by reason of the thought which she has expressed in this poem that I have had the privilege of reading, I should like to read it this morning. She has called it

OUT OF THE SILENCE

The most profound and perfect silence ever held

He held, amidst the most tumultuous rabble. The hour before the greatest victory ever won Was spent midst jeers and tortures of the evil.

When e'en the worst of us doth face death's hour

To cheer the heart and fill our parting thoughts With loyal words and deeds of love, death cannot sever;

But He, the Lord of heaven and of earth,

Didst die bereft of every gift of earth And, seemingly, of every gift of heaven.

Then, though His peace at all times may be sought,

Yet ours it may be to embrace, with Him, The hour in Gethsemane—and even on the cross Perceive His graces, strength and love but dim.

But Oh the Resurrection! Thank God for this! Behold the words of everlasting bliss:

"Come ye blessed of my Father,"—hearken; see;

"Possess the kingdom I have prepared for thee."

By her life of patience and perseverance she has won her eternal rest. I will remember her in my Mass each morning. You will remember her too. If she is not in need of your prayers, they will be applied to those who are in need of them.

You have a worthy example in her. If you will follow that example, you too will hear the words, "Come ye blessed of my Father; Possess the kingdom I have prepared for thee."

Socialized Medicine

Oscar R. Ewing is head of the Federal Security Administration and one of the biggest promoters of "socialized medicine" as a first move toward regimentation of the medical profession and all who need medical treatment.

Although he draws a salary of $12,000.00 per year (plus ?????? expenses) he forced the (government supported) Saint Elizabeth Hospital in The District of Columbia to provide him with a man cook for some kind of special dining establishment which he maintains in his office building (probably at government expense for food etc.) but to keep this cook on the hospital payroll. In other words, not having any place in his budget for a cook, he stole this cook's salary from the hospital inmates—whose patients, at least for the greater part, are insane and need every nickle for attendants which can be scratched together.

In January or February of 1949 (and maybe also at other times earlier) Ewing spent several days undergoing treatment in the hospital of The Coast Guard and Merchant Marine (at Bethesda, Maryland?) at government expense, and illegally. Namely he again stole from the government and people of the United States the cost of his bed, board, and treatment there.

During March, Ewing spent some three or four weeks again in the same hospital with a shift of three nurses in attendance around the clock, as well as an operation, bed, board, and medicines etc. After being exposed by Fulton Lewis, Jr. this crook announced that he had paid $9.50 per day for his treatment. Even if he paid such, however, after his fraud had been exposed he paid only a small part of what he actually cost the taxpayers;—the salaries of three-nurses alone is much more.

As head of the Federal Security Administration Ewing is custodian of the Social Security fund (old age pensions, etc.) which is deducted from workers payrolls, and which should now amount to some eleven to thirteen billion dollars. Actually, according to one of Fulton Lewis, Jr's recent broadcasts, the only money actually in this fund at the moment is that currently being paid in by persons covered by the fund. The entire dozen or so billions paid in over the years since the Security Administration was established has been spent on salaries of the employees of the Administration or else for other expenses of government not even related to Social Security, much for propaganda to perpetuate the New Deal.

ment being used by the Soviets to conquer China.

Ex-President Hoover in his Report on the military budget said:

"The question of what became of the tanks is only a part of the broader question of what became of the vast quantities of war material on hand at the end of hostilities. The Army has stated that it has material sufficient to equip only 18 divisions, although at the end of the war it had some 89 fully equipped divisions and great additional quantities of material in the pipe line. Disposition of easily replaceable material is readily understood; but loss of complicated, difficult-to-produce military equipment is another matter, especially as the military were put on notice six months after the end of the war as to the seriousness of the international situation."

Frank Hanighen in the weekly supplement entitled, "Not Merely Gossip," indicates that the scandal of the disappearance of this materiel may exceed that of Pearl Harbor.

Who but treasonable conspirators against America could have ordered it destroyed?

UNRRA

This same alien influence was back of UNRRA, $600,000,000 of whose funds were given to the communist Government of Yugoslavia, and other funds used to build up Soviet Russia herself. It was back of the surreptitious and illegal admission into the United States of "refugees" estimated to be at least a million and a half, and possibly as many as three and a half millions. It was back of the fatuous scheme known as ERP and ECA, whereby we are giving 17 billions of the savings and natural resources of the United States to bolster up socialist governments in Britain and elsewhere.

As a result of 16 years of this alien influence in the United States, we have today a Federal debt of 250 billions and a Federal budget of nearly 42 billions, but which may reach 50 billions before the present session of Congress is over. We have laws without number to regiment the people and to supply soft, useless jobs for hundreds of thousands of bureaucrats. And we find representatives of this alien-minded element in vital and cushy jobs in every department of Government, in numbers far out of proportion to their part of the population.

And now this same alien force is demanding—

That we extend "Social Security" to 20 million more people at an added cost of several billions a year; that we adopt socialized medicine, though Britain's socialized medicine seems a failure from the standpoint both of physician and patient. That we extend the so-called reciprocal trade treaties, which in somewhat similar form have been on our statute books for fifteen years and have largely destroyed the American watch industry, and have weakened others and have been one of the principal causes of this present recession.

That we restore the iniquitous Wagner Act in place of the Taft-Hartley Act, though under the former we had a continual succession of strikes and sabotage, and under the latter we have had vastly improved conditions.

And Congress has already (authorized five and a half billion dollars for ECA but not yet appropriated), although Spain, whose friendship and good will would do more for us than any other country on Continental Europe, is still left out; and although Britain and France, the two principal beneficiaries of ECA appropriations, have not only socialized Governments and tremendous numbers of Communist Party members, but Treaties of Alliance and Mutual Assistance with Soviet Russia which, if they mean anything, would preclude them from joining with the United States against Soviet Russia. Moreover both Britain and France and other beneficiary nations are constantly shipping war materiel, paid for by the American taxpayers to the USSR.

Nationalist Actionists Joins Common Sense

PHILADELPHIA, June 1—The NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE, the organization which played so major a role in the four separate defeats administered to Communist-backed attempts to enact so-called "Fair Employment Practices" legislation in the key war industry State of Pennsylvania, today officially joined forces with COMMON SENSE, the Nation's anti-Communist Newspaper, in the inauguration of an all-out offensive against Marxism and its insidious front organizations in America.

To this end, NATIONAL PROGRESS, established by W. Henry MacFarland, Jr., Director of the League, in 1945, and serving as the League's official publication since its organization in October, 1948, announced its discontinuation and urged all of its readers to throw their entire support to COMMON SENSE. Simultaneously, William J. O'Brien, Director of the LOYAL AMERICAN GROUP, an organization of patriotic citizens acting in parallel concert with COMMON SENSE, took steps to merge his membership into the new and militant anti-Red front thus created.

The action taken represents the first major step to be taken, since the outbreak of World War II, toward a unification of the forces opposing the drift toward Marxian Socialism—the bridge to Soviet Bolshevism—in America.

Commenting on the merger, Mr. O'Brien, who will serve as National Secretary of the expanded organization, said:

"A most important, a most needed step has been taken, in the merger of the Loyal American Group and the Nationalist Action League. This move will certainly help promote and foster nationalist unity. We intend to carry on a relentless campaign against the Marxist forces in the USA."

In Philadelphia, Mr. MacFarland, the League's National Director, spoke of the unification in terms of its positive and beneficial results. "What we have managed to accomplish," he declared, "is a perfectly balanced merger of two very effective anti-Communist forces, and this in an area where the left-wingers are mainly based, and thru-out which they have shown their most menacing infiltration. America's battle against Marxism will not be waged against armed revolutionaries, but against a powerful leftist voting bloc which has already managed to place dangerous pro-Communists in public office and even more dangerous pro-Communist legislation upon our statute books. To fight this type of foe, we must rally the millions of loyal Americans who, with their votes alone, are capable of saving our Republic. I feel that our organization is capable of accomplishing just such a healthful result."

Details on the militant program to be carried out by the NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE are to be covered in a page which COMMON SENSE will devote, in each issue, to its activities. Included in the program are plans for the organization of units in all eastern states during the Summer of 1949, for the increased dissemination of information regarding the triple threat of Marxism—Communism, Political Zionism and World Federationism—and the ultimate establishment of a National Voters Union, creating a pro-American bloc vote for the preservation of our Christian-based, Constitutional, Republican form of Government.

How Secure

claims are fostering prejudice against Jews.

Strangely enough the book seems to ignore the world Communist menace except to denounce those who identify Jews as Communists. The ADL takes particular exception to the Major Williams—Upton Close pamphlet

Do You Believe in Common American Justice?

Do you not believe, as an American, that our Republic is in danger when an appointed official of the Administration in power can label as "subversive" a group which has distinguished itself in the fight against Communism, and then flatly refuse to grant that group any kind of hearing or review, or to inform its officers and officials of the precise nature of the wrongdoings alleged against it?

If you do, and if you believe in an American's right to oppose Administration policies without fear of such Soviet-styled reprisals, then throw your weight behind the NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE in demanding that the Attorney General either grant its officials a hearing immediately, or act to publicly apologize for having circulated mis-statements concerning its activities.

THE ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE AND ITS USE IN THE WORLD COMMUNIST OFFENSIVE. The ADL passes off the charges that it is Communist, or even lends its support to Communists, as "ridiculous." The ADL fails to mention, however, that it contributed heavily to the legal defense of THE CHICAGO JEWISH SENTINEL and its editor and publisher J. I. Fishbein during a libel suit in Chicago less than two years ago. Fishbein is a well known champion of Stalin's Russia and of every red-tinged front organization in Chicago. The ADL also fails to mention that it once employed a well known fellow-traveler by the name of Robert Greenfield who had charge of paying off John Roy Carlson for stooging for the ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE OF B'NAI B'RITH. These are facts which the ADL cannot deny and which can be proved in court if need be. The ADL plays a peculiar game. For instance, this bulletin and the AMERICAN RENAISSANCE BOOK CLUB are listed as anti-Semitic. Yet we have sold more copies of a book against Communism by the Jewish author Benjamin Gitlow than any other single book store in America. Westbrook Pegler who has recently been charged as being a vicious anti-Semite has called this book THE WHOLE OF THEIR LIVES by Mr. Gitlow the most important recent contribution on the menace of Communism in America. More and more Americans are beginning to see the vast contradictions which the ADL passes off for facts. Perhaps it would be well to recall that the budget which the ADL operated on last year was $6,500,000.00. Professional tolerance-mongering pays off. HOW SECURE THESE RIGHTS? is recommended to those Americans who wish to examine the presentation of ADL "facts" and draw their own deductions. The price of the book is $2.00 and may be ordered from the AMERICAN RENAISSANCE BOOK CLUB, P. O. Box 1316, Chicago 90, Ill.

Profit from this book is 80c per copy which will of course go toward carrying on good work.

N. A. L. Cleared By Wood Committee

WASHINGTON, May 25—In a letter addressed to his colleague, Representative John Bell Williams (D. Miss.), the Hon. John S. Wood (D. Ga.), Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities today stated that the body which he heads does not hold the NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE, publicly libeled by the U. S. Attorney General's Office on April 27th, to be either subversive or Fascist.

Acting upon a request made by the League's Director, W. Henry MacFarland, Jr., Representative Williams took steps to ascertain the possibility of his being accorded a hearing before the Committee which has for years acted as the watch-dog of American Liberty. In his reply, Chairman Wood included the COMMITTEE FOR NATIONALIST ACTION, a group preceding the establishment of the presently functioning League, as another organization not cited by the Committee as being guilty of wrongdoing.

In the meanwhile, Mr. MacFarland's plea for a full public hearing before the Justice Department was flatly rejected by the U. S. Attorney General, Tom Clark, who also refused, in a communication sent thru the Office of his Assistant, Mr. Peyton Ford, to officially define the terms "subversive" and "Fascist" as these were used in the list released on April 27th.

In an immediate reply to Clark's refusal to grant a fair review, MacFarland challenged the Attorney General to take immediate steps for the issuance of a federal warrant incorporating the allegations made, in order to bring the issue before a judge and jury and provide the NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE with an opportunity of defending itself at the bar of American justice.

According to Clark and his Department, action has been taken under the terms of Executive Order No. 9835, which permits the Attorney General to brand American organizations as subversive, without granting their officers or members an opportunity to publicly refute such charges.

A request for a hearing before the President's Loyalty Review Board has thus far gone unanswered. According to Internal Security Chief, William Foley, it was the Chairman of this Board, Mr. Seth Richardson, who acted to make public, thru the press and other sources, the list stigmatizing the COMMITTEE FOR NATIONALIST ACTION and the NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE.

In his latest reply to the Attorney General, Mr. MacFarland stated his belief that Mr. Clark has mis-used his powers as a Cabinet Official to libel and repress groups of Americans who are lawfully opposed to the Administration of which he, Clark, is a part.

"Mass action (under Communist leadership) includes: a combination of strikes and demonstrations; a combination of strikes and armed demonstrations, and, finally, the general strike conjointly with armed insurrection against the state power of the bourgeoisie."—From the "Program of the Communist International," an official Red document published with the imprint of the Communist Party of the United States.

Raid

A struggle thereupon ensued, in which the deputies attempted to prevent the editor of COMMON SENSE from reaching a telephone. Resisting efforts to handcuff him without identifying themselves or stating their charge for arrest, McGinley was able, after a desperate effort, to reach his attorney, to whom he made his plight known. Even during this conversation, there were attempts made to interrupt his communication. One of the raiders, close enough to the mouth-piece of the telephone to be heard on the opposite end, kept asking McGinley: "Why are you making trouble for us." The obvious intent was to convince McGinley's attorney that his client was resisting proper and lawful arrest, or interfering with the service of a writ, which was untrue.

It was not until after these actions had transpired that the Union police were notified, and not until they arrived that McGinley was finally shown the latter's badge, thereby learning that this one Jew, at least, was truly a Union County Deputy.

McGinley arrived at the police station with a previously injured wrist swollen and bleeding. This injured wrist had borne the agonizing abuse of a handcuff, at which Deputy Greenberg had for more than twenty minutes pulled and hauled in his efforts to keep McGinley from getting to a telephone.

The raid had all the appearances of a well planned and executed affair. From what follows, the reader will no doubt agree with this observer, that the purpose was not to execute a lawful levy or, as it has since been claimed, to serve a writ of execution, but rather to develop a situation in which the pretext might be found for removing McGinley from his premises, in order to exercise an unlawful search. In support of this conclusion, the following questions seem interesting:

Firstly, if the intent of the raid was to serve a writ, why did the two Jewish deputies, and the Jewish attorney under whose instructions they acted, not advise the local Union police (a customary courtesy in cases of this kind), so that one of these could have accompanied the raiding party? Then there would have been no misunderstanding.

Secondly, if the intent of the raid was to serve a writ, why did the deputies not properly identify themselves upon entering on McGinley's property, so that he might know that they represented a legal body, rather than a group determined upon harming him or damaging his property?

Thirdly, if the intent of the raid was to serve a writ, why did the deputies fail to produce it for service? As it was, they left behind a legal paper, which was found only after McGinley had returned from the police station.

Fourthly, if the intent of the writ was to seize valuable assets in satisfaction of a judgment, why did the raiders threaten to remove all personal belongings while ignoring business equipment worth hundreds of dollars, and while finally removing from the premises only a typewriter and the addressograph-correspondence files, the latter of which have cash value only to such groups as the Anti-Defamation League, the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, the Friends of Democracy, or the Soviet secret police?

Fifthly, if the intent of the raid was in the least way lawful, why did Deputy Greenberg compel McGinley to go with him to police headquarters, while permitting Deputy Coplon and attorney Dvorin who was not an officer of the law, to remain upon McGinley's premises during his absence? This action was wholly and unquestionably illegal and no doubt planned. McGinley had every right to refuse to leave the building until it was properly padlocked. It should also be noted that attorney Dvorn, who maneuvered the raid, was found upon McGinley's premises upon his return from police headquarters. With him was an unidentified Jew whom Dvorin advised to conceal his identity when McGinley asked his name. These two men, with Deputy Coplon, had free access to office files for a full 45 minutes.

As a favorable fate would have it, McGinley was not detained for the lengthy period of time upon which the raiders had possibly counted. He arrived back at his office in time to prevent any wholesale rifling of his files, which might have been accomplished had he remained absent for a longer period of time. He was also able to demand and obtain a generally itemized receipt for the equipment and files confiscated, although not in the specific detail warranted under the circumstances.

AFTERMATH

The raid was executed late on a Friday, at a time when counter-action in the courts would be rendered almost wholly impossible, due to the approaching week-end. On the following Monday, however, McGinley's attorney, John A. Matthews, Jr., of Newark, secured an injunction, restraining the Zionist, Dvorin, from causing the removal of McGinley's seized property from the safety of the Union County Court House where they are impounded.

On Tuesday evening, McGinley was officially served with a warrant charging him with having committed assault and battery upon a law-enforcement officer, and with interfering with the service of a writ and its execution.

Recalling that the alleged assault and battery and interference took place on the preceding Friday afternoon, and that the arresting officer appeared with McGinley in his custody at Union police headquarters at that time, one is compelled to ask why the deputy failed to prefer his formal charges at that hour, rather than permitting at least three days to elapse before taking this action. Serious-minded observers, noting that all four participants in the action against COMMON SENSE are Jewish, have suggested the possibility of this time having been allowed for consultation with the Anti-Defamation League, perhaps at its closely-guarded headquarters in New York City, where the future course of action may have been planned.

The warrant was served at approximately 9:30 P.M. As the planners no doubt realized, the magistrate could not be reached at such an hour, and McGinley was compelled to remain in the Union jail overnight. The following morning he was arraigned and released in the afternoon in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury, which sits next in September.

THE NEED IS GREAT

The facts in this case indicate the menace which is inherent in the determination of the Marxist foes of America to employ any and all means, fair or foul, to silence effective opposition. This latest attempt to disorganize and suppress COMMON SENSE could well prove prophetic of the kind of tactics which will one day be employed against all Americans who dare oppose the spread of Marxist ideology.

In this hour of crisis, this newspaper and its fighting editor appeal to YOU to aid in turning back the attack. The battle requires a FULL MOBILIZATION of the brains, finances and energies of every loyal citizen, for whose welfare this paper has been crusading for the past several years.

You have been given the story, and it is now for you to choose the course of action which you will take. You can sit back and do nothing, thereby dooming this battle to defeat before it fully begins, or you can rise, as an American, and stand shoulder to shoulder with the Nation's Anti-Communist Newspaper, assuring an ultimate and complete victory which will materially weaken Marxist forces here in their regional stronghold, the industrial Northeast.

If you choose the latter course of action, you can easily begin in one of the following ways:

1. Purchase additional copies of this issue of COMMON SENSE, in bulk, at the rates given elsewhere. Place them in the hands of citizens who deserve to have the facts concerning this case. Ask them to join forces with you in awakening others to the dangers herein exposed.

2. Call at least three friends, from your home telephone or from a pay station, and give them an outline of this persecution. Urge these good people to obtain the full facts, by subscribing to COMMON SENSE immediately.

3. Contact your clergyman, your local police, newspapers, civic and patriotic groups, all of whom should be advised to keep in close touch with the developments in this case.

4. If you are a member of any patriotic group, lodge, church organization or labor union, present them with our story and introduce a resolution calling upon them to keep posted on future developments.

5. Your ideas are highly valued. Any suggestions which you have for prospering our fight will be welcomed. Your idea could be the one responsible for winning the major victory which must be won, in this fight, if ALL AMERICANS are not one day to suffer similar persecution.

Now, you have the facts. Much of the battle is in your hands. The best defense is offense, so act immediately to MOBILIZE yourself and other loyal citizens in dealing a SMASHING DEFEAT to those forces which would undermine the principles, laws, liberties upon which our Republic has been founded.

You have read of the purges carried out against anti-Communist leaders in Eastern Europe. When they fell, the free governments for which they fought, fell with them.

Karl Marx, a hundred years ago said in the Neue Rheinische Zeitung: "We are ruthless and want no consideration from you. When the time comes, revolutionary terrorism will not be sugar-coated . . . There is but one way of simplifying, shortening, concentrating the death agony of the old society as well as the bloody labor of the new world's birth—revolutionary terror."

"I Stand at the Door..."

"I stand at the door and knock." Christ stands at the door and knocks. But do we admit Him? A real Christian admits Christ to the abode of his heart. But what do we do to protect that Christ, to defend that Christ in our hearts? Do we fulfill even the ordinary obligations that fall upon anyone who admits another to his abode?

If a distinguished visitor, a man of great dignity and bearing, calls upon us, are we content with merely admitting him? Do we not take all reasonable measure to assure his protection? Does he not take this for granted? What of Christ, our Savior, the most distinguished of all guests? We admit Him perhaps, but do we intimately embrace Him and nail our hearts to His sacred pierced feet, and let no one remove Him? We want Christ as our King; we need Him, but will we take measures that He is not taken away from us?

Dare we defend the Divine Infant Child any less than Mary and Joseph who fled in the dead of night to a strange land, to flee the Marxist soldiers who wished to murder the Child? Will we stop demons from snatching our thorn-crowned King away from us and feeding Him to the Lions? A quotation from the present day Marxist Ben Hecht's "A Jew In Love," is a striking illustration: "One of the finest things ever done by the mob was the crucifixion of Christ. Intellectually it was a splendid gesture. But trust the mob to bungle. If I had charge of executing Christ, I'd have handled it differently. You see what I would have done was had him shipped to Rome and fed to the lions. They never could have made a saviour out of mincemeat."

We have Christ today. Will, we, will our children, have Him tomorrow? The Marxists say no, and mean it! In every country living under Communism today, Christianity is being erased. This is the Marxist pattern for the world. As for what our children face, a quotation from the Christian Alliance Weekly will suffice: "In Moscow, the police made a street drive bringing all the homeless children and young people together (which was brought about by the inhuman exile of hundreds of thousands of Russian parents). They were inspected by medical men as to their condition. Out of this mass some 1200 to 1400 were singled out and by means of a good substantial meal and other favors, they were induced to march with soldiers on horseback out of Moscow into the open country. At last they halted. The soldiers were on the outside of the young peoples' group, driving them into a huddle tight together. A word of command. Hidden machine guns began a weird song of death. In a few minutes the whole bunch of humanity was a mass of dead and dying . . . Why all this? . . . From 1200 to 1400 young people living on the streets of Moscow had become so diseased that the government knew of no other way to get rid of the plague." As for women, Lenin's widow states it very plainly in the "Teachers" Gazette, October 10, 1929: "The socialization of women has not as yet been legislated by the Soviets, but this idea must become a reality and must permeate public opinion. To resist rape is an act of opposition to the Communist Revolution."

All Christians know that to have a true peace Christ must be universally accepted as King. What steps are you taking to insure that you will have a church in America a year, or two years, from now? You who are building churches and extending your missionary endeavors, what steps are you taking to insure that there will be even a single church building left for Christ when America is behind the Iron Curtain? We take all reasonable means to protect our ordinary investments and don't trust to prayer or miracles to save them. Does this apply any less to the greatest investment of all—our interest in Christ's own church? If we but diverted one-half of the time we now devote to promoting catch phrases like "Democracy," "Brotherhood," and "Tolerance," to physical efforts to prevent our children from becoming victims of the Marxist Christ Killers and Church Burners, thousands of whom are now in our midst, our actions would certainly have a Divine sanction.

Paradoxically, now that the wolf is literally at the American door and American Christianity is about to go down for the third time (as it has in 17 other countries), there are still Christian leaders, the custodians of Christianity, who are bending over backwards in their efforts to preach kindness and brotherly love, but are carefully avoiding the unpopular, and under no circumstances, criticize the New Deal government although its Marxist trend is as evident as the sun. These same men were

Records and correspondence which were seized by Zionist raiders on our offices on June 17 and later impounded in the Union County jail have been restored to us. A detailed account of all that has happened following their Soviet-styled raid would sound almost unbelievable to most of our readers and even the legal profession.

Following is a letter which was addressed to the editor of the Elizabeth Daily Journal and which will provide our readers with additional information. Further details will appear in our next issue.

In your issues of June 22nd and July 1st you published articles with reference to the anti-Communist paper, COMMON SENSE, and myself. Inasmuch as this information did not come from us, and believing you are anxious to publish the facts with reference to an occurrence which is of much interest to many in Union County and the United States, I take the liberty of giving you a brief outline of the facts regarding the Zionist-inspired raid on our office, June 17th.

To start with, I did not owe the printing bill and was not a member of the patriotic group that met with the original owner of the Union Register and agreed to pay the printing if I would devote my full time without salary. Personnel of the group changed and when suit was brought I assumed the responsibility of trying to have the bill reduced $1200, amount of the overcharge, and arrange to pay $1500 the correct amount.

More than two years ago Zionists began to complain to Union Register about printing COMMON SENSE, but the owner continued to print for us. Shortly after, Grant Bauer, sold the controlling interest to this outside group and the name was changed to "Suburban Publishers." We have bills marked paid amounting to some $9000 from Mr. Bauer, but when the new stockholders came in, we received several months invoices at one time, resulting in an overcharge of $1200. Mr. Schlossberg and Mr. Dvorin, Zionist leaders of Linden, forced Mr. Bauer to turn this account over to them. This they were later to use as a beach-head to get into our office and secure our records so as to stop our exposure of Communism and Zionism which are full brothers. In doing this, they have had full cooperation of New York Zionist lawyers.

Our attorney tried to arrange a settlement, but their answer was that COMMON SENSE is a dirt sheet and should be stopped.

Following this, we made arrangements with three different printers, paying our bills promptly, but Zionists brought underhanded pressure to bear which stopped each in time. One concern was prevented from having type set for his own paper by any linotype operator in two counties until he discontinued COMMON SENSE. This is tolerance and freedom of the press, Communist style! Keep in mind there are more than 400 Communist-controlled publications in the United States which are not interfered with.

About the 15th of June, Attorney Dvorin, speaking with the judge with a view to having our case called, was told the case would be tried June 22nd. Dvorin asked our attorney, John A. Matthews, Jr. how much we admitted owing. Mr. Matthews answered that for two years we admitted $1500. Mr. Matthews understood no action was to be made until the trial a week later; however, Mr. Dvorin asked the Judge for, and received, a judgment for $1500. Mr. Dvorin quickly arranged with two Deputies, Messrs. Greenberg and Coplin, and an unknown Jew, a rush raid on the office of COMMON SENSE.

They did not stop at the Union Police Department to have the police accompany them, which is the customary practice, for if they had, they would not have been able to start a fight and get me in jail so they would be left free to go through our important papers. Accompanied by a police officer I would have known who they were, but the four Jews who entered the office were in plain clothes and showed neither papers nor badge.

Were they interested in collecting money? What did they take off in a truck? Items costing from $200 to $1100 having ready resale value, were passed by, but they were careful to take eight drawers of research information on more than 100 Communist fronts involving many prominent Jewish leaders. They did not take an addressograph machine which could easily be turned to cash, but took card index files in cardboard boxes!

During the past ten years Zionists and Communists have crushed many leaders in Congress and others who dared stand up for America. Zionists in Germany, and from Texas to Maine, have been asking their leaders to stop COMMON SENSE. When our attorney John A. Matthews, Jr. succeeded in having our records impounded in a jail cell, who is appointed Master to go over these records and decide which should be returned to us, but former Judge Henry S. Waldman, a Zionist.

And in New York, Judge Samuel Kaufman, a Zionist, is appointed to preside over the trial of Alger Hiss. And Zionist Felix Frankfurter comes down from the Supreme Court to testify as to the character of Hiss, one of the invisible government stooges. When will America wake up? Are the Zionists to be allowed to stop COMMON SENSE, the only all-out movement in the east to expose Communism? They would gladly pay a hundred thousand dollars to destroy us.

Now I am bound over to the Grand Jury, charges, assault and battery which is ridiculous. The Communist method the world over is to destroy the leaders and render the masses helpless. To those who do not know that Communism and Zionism spring from the same source, we challenge any living Zionist authority, preferably a Rabbi, to debate the question in the press, on the platform, or in the courts. This would be the American way to discredit and stop COMMON SENSE, not by intimidation and trickery.

Our No. 85 and No. 87 issues on Zionism were written expressly for COMMON SENSE by a Jewish gentleman, the greatest living authority on Zionism, and any one may obtain both copies by mail for 10c in stamps.

strangely silent when the war was on and the enemy three thousand miles away. No cry then about tolerance, charity, love! No cry rang from the pulpit as we were gradually moved into war that the faithful restrain themselves lest they engender thoughts of hatred, uncharity, etc. Rather these men witnessed, tolerated and condoned the slaughter of innocents. Some even defended the use of the atomic bomb—when the enemy was three thousand miles away. No cry then about "brotherhood." But when the enemy is at our very doors, the cry goes up: "tolerance, charity, avoid hatred." Can these men know what they are fighting? The following quotations from a report of the United States Rohrbach Commission of Inquiry on Barbarities behind the Iron Curtain will give an idea of the inhuman beast we face: "The whole cement floor of the great garage of the department of Cheka of Kiev was flooded with blood, brains, pieces of skull, tufts of hair and other remains. All the walls riddled by thousands of bullets were bespattered with blood. Pieces of brains and scalps were sticking to them. A gutter twenty-five centimeters wide, and about ten meters long, ran from the center of the garage to a subterranean drain. The gutter along its full length was filled with blood... Usually as soon as a massacre had taken place, the bodies were conveyed out of town in motor lorries, and buried in shallow trench graves. We found in another of the garages, another grave which was older, and which contained about 80 bodies. On them we discovered traces of cruelties and mutilations the most horrid imaginable. Some were literally hacked to pieces. Some had their eyes put out, and the head, faces, necks and trunks covered with deep wounds. Further on we found a corpse with a wedge driven into its chest. In the corner of the grave we found a quantity of arms and legs belonging to no bodies that we could locate." The report adds: "similar conditions have existed at one time or another throughout most of Russia."

WHAT KIND OF TOLERANCE OR CHARITY COULD WE EVER EXPECT FROM SUCH AN ENEMY? And yet it is this same enemy of Christ who hides under such Marxist phrases as charity, tolerance and brotherhood! Christian Leaders, will you for expediency sake betray even the least of your flock into the hands of such an insane enemy? Join with us in exposing and driving from our shores these inhuman Marxist beasts who have come to take away our Christ and our God and deprive us of every possible connection with our Divine Saviour. If any one reading these lines had any idea how near Christian America is to collapse from within, how near we are to losing Christ our King, how close we are to being governed by godless, inhuman beasts, he would not hesitate to get into this fight body and soul. Fight with us shoulder to shoulder to expose and discredit the top powerful leaders of this anti-Christ plague.

Our Sincerest Thanks To Our Friends

We know our many friends will be very happy to know all the records that were removed from our office on June 17 are now back at the office of COMMON SENSE. These records were securely locked in the Union County Jail and could not be touched by either the enemy or ourselves.

We sincerely thank each and every one who helped in this emergency. We also thank those contributors who prefer to remain anonymous. We thank those who have helped with their services and those who have stormed heaven in our behalf. If we have been successful, it is because YOU have made it possible.

The fight is not yet over as the case covering the amount in dispute will be called in September. The Editor is presently out on bail on an Assault and Battery charge for supposedly beating up two of the four plain-clothes Zionists who walked into the office of COMMON SENSE on June 17 for the purpose of removing all records. This will come before the Grand Jury in September. To fight this to a conclusion we need funds and we ask those who would like to help in this struggle for a Christian American to aid us financially to the best of their ability.

You have stood by us in this emergency and we know the Justice of God will reward you for the sacrifice you have made. There is no question but that this experience has strengthened us in many ways. It has given us the faith and courage to face the future in spite of all opposition.

"FREE SPEECH" FOR COMMUNISTS ONLY

The following letter will be of interest.

"Gentlemen:

"Last year, after Henry Wallace and Mrs. Roosevelt spoke at Harvard, I wrote to President Conant and said that, while I highly disapproved of both of them, I could not object, in view of Harvard's devotion to "free speech and academic freedom." I then asked if, in the name of that same "free speech and academic freedom," a certain well known anti-Communist would be given the same privilege. He replied that "he would not answer hypothetical questions."

"Later, after Gerhard Eisler, who had been convicted as a top soviet agent spoke for the first time at Harvard, I again wrote, last summer, called attention to my former letter and stated that, altho Eisler was a hard pill to swallow, I could not complain because of Harvard's devotion to "free speech and academic freedom." I then again asked if, in the name of that same "free speech and academic freedom," the well known anti-Communist, or Merwin K. Hart (Harvard '04), or Lawrence Dennis (Harvard '19), would be allowed to speak.

"I received a letter from his secretary saying that President Conant was away but that on his return I would hear from him. Several months went by and, not having heard, I again wrote asking for an answer. To this request I received no reply and from that day to this I have heard nothing.

"Accordingly, I now conclude that "free speech and academic freedom," as now defined at Harvard, means free speech for Reds, fellow travelers and pseudo-liberals, but not for those who hold opposing views. I refrain from expressing my ideas on this lest they would be unsuitable to print."

N. A. L. PLANS PUBLIC CRUSADE

The NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE this month laid plans for expanding its anti-Marxist activities to include an all-out crusade for winning large masses of the American people back to the ideals of Christianity and Constitutional Government, upon which foundations our Republic was originally established.

Within the coming eight weeks, a permanent organizational headquarters is to be opened in Philadelphia. The location selected will be convenient to bus, trolley and subway-elevated connections, will be announced in this column in a very short time.

The property chosen will include facilities for handling COMMON SENSE and supplemental literature of value in our fight against Marxism. It will provide for office space and meeting accommodations, so that all activities of the N.A.L. may be centered under one roof.

This project is a vital one, for its successful completion will open the way for our planned work of coordinating and unifying all patriotic efforts on the Eastern Seaboard. This is the type of positive undertaking which those who have planned the destruction of America fear, and have feared since the days preceding the New Deal maneuvered attack upon Pearl Harbor. They feel competent to deal with isolated groups and locally-circulating periodicals which expose their machinations only to an insignificant few, but they will be forced to the defensive in the event of any successfully-organized campaign which unites the energies of even one half of their bitterest opponents.

LIBRARY PLANNED

Those who have been at all active in the fight against Communism, Zionism or World Government (the three spearheads of the coordinated Marxist Movement in America) are well aware of the successful efforts put forth by these front groups to suppress and withdraw from circulation many authoritative books dealing with their plottings over the past 300 years. Unless counter-action is taken in the very near future, most of the more enlightening works will have been totally lost to future generations, and with them the keys to many of history's most confusing developments.

The NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE, since its establishment in 1948, has sought to build up a library of these suppressed works and documents, and has made a good beginning toward this end. Now, plans are being drafted for expanding our efforts in this direction, and for making this collection accessible to authors and editors interested in using such material in articles or in book format.

Readers interested in prospering this important undertaking may do so by donating any such rare books as the following to the N.A.L. Once in our hands, they will be made available to certified and trustworthy writers, whose sagacious use of their contents will be of immeasurable value in carrying forth our common battle for the salvation of America.

The titles sought include: Secret Societies and Subversive Movements, The World Revolution and The French Revolution, all by Webster; Waters Flowing Eastward, by Fry; The Secret Forces Behind Wars and Revolutions, by Poincins; Phillip Dru: Administrator, by House; The Jew, Gypsy and El Islam, unknown; All These Things, by Field; The Dream We Lost, by Utley; Isabella of Spain, unknown; The Rising Tide of Color, by Stoddard; The Passing of the Great Race, by Grant; and The Mystical Body of Christ in the Modern World, by Fahey.

WORLD FEDERATION AND RUIN

Of Communism, Zionism and World Federationism, the three fronts of Marxism, the latter is making the most dangerously rapid progress. Preying upon the aching hearts of mothers, fathers, wives and daughters who have lost loved ones in the recent war, the World Federalists are hypocritically assuring these bereaved Americans that a World Government, to be erected upon the ashes of American Sovereignty and National Statehood, will prevent such battles between nations in the future.

So powerful has been the effect of this vile propaganda that 91 U. S. Congressmen recently recorded themselves in favor of delivering our Country into foreign hands, thereby violating their Oaths of Allegiance to the Government whose citizens they lawfully represent.

Some days prior to this action, a rally was held by the World Federalists, Inc., in the auditorium of Cheltenham High School, near Philadelphia, where the speakers were recorded as having made the following boasts:

Firstly, it was said that our Nation will become, without question, a mere part of an all-embracing World State within the coming 30 months.

Secondly, that the first act of the World State must be to abolish our State Department, because the United States, under such a set-up "will have no need for a foreign policy."

Thirdly, that the first "World Premier" is already being considered, and that the man who is favored is "admirably fitted for the task, as he is Asiatic thru and thru." His name Pandit Nehru, of India!

It is evident to any half-way intelligent American that our Country, under such a system, would exist as nothing more than a supply depot for the disintegrated and collapsing governments of Europe and Asia. The balance of power, under the plan of proportional representation which would be employed in the creation of a World Congress, would fall to the one billion Asiatics of India, China, Indonesia, Japan, Siam, and the Asiatic portion of Soviet Russia. Even if the United States were to be joined by Canada and the Latin-American Republics in any particular election or referendum, this bloc could still not overcome the preponderant numbers of the Orient.

Americans must realize that World Government is not a harmless little experiment which they can "test" for results. If the United States is led into the system, it will remain in, without an opportunity to ever again recapture its independence.

Approximately 20 states have already favored World Government in recorded voting by their legislatures. The time to fight this creeping menace is NOW, and the way to fight it is by repeated protests to our elected office holders who have taken an oath to support the American Government, Flag and Constitution.

COPLON COLLABORATES WITH CLARK

Judith Coplon, alleged Red agent, recently testified under oath that she collaborated with Attorney-General, Tom Clark, in recommending what groups should be placed upon his lists of subversive organizations. Since the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had no knowledge of our organic existence, three days AFTER Clark had released his April 27th list, which included our NATIONALIST ACTION LEAGUE, is it not possible that the N.A.L. was cited, not by Clark, but by Miss Coplon, on orders from the Soviet Politburo?

Or could the question be better answered by the Friends of Democracy, the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, or the Anti-Defamation League—all undercover and unlicensed investigatory agencies which consistently follow the Moscow Party Line?

F. E. P. C. IN PHILADELPHIA

By a 19 to 0 vote in March, 1948, Philadelphia's all-Republican City Council passed a Communist-demanded Fair Employment Practices ordinance for the County. An excellent indication of what forces are being served by this expensive tax-supported bureaucracy is afforded by the following:

It is reliably reported that a German-American woman recently sought and obtained employment with a Jewish establishment. A short time afterward, the employer in the case discovered that the woman was not, as he had first believed, Jewish. Upon learning this, he informed her that she was to be dismissed. The woman possessed the presence of mind to demand this dismissal in writing. After obtaining this, she applied to the City Hall office of the City's Fair Employment Practices Commission, charging her employer with having committed an unfair discharge under the terms of the 1948 Act of Council.

The Commission has thus far refused to take action on the complaint, altho it boasts of having intervened in hundreds of cases involving violations by non-Jewish employers.

Steps are being taken, we learn, to give this case wide publicity in the very near future. It may very well prove a substantiation of the original charges made against F.E.P.C. before it was enacted in 1948, that its machinery has been planned for the remedial use of certain politically-favored minorities only, and that those laboring persons not therein included may expect no aid under its provisions.

The American Politburo

By Merwin K. Hart, President
National Economic Council, Inc.

Beyond all this, the Congress is to be asked to ratify the International Trade Organization Charter which would take away from the Congress of the United States all future power over both internal and foreign commerce of the United States, so far as the ITO should decide to exercise that power itself.

The Senate is to be asked to ratify the right-to-organize "convention" of the ILO—the International Labor Organization.

An in both the ITO and the ILO the United States would have one vote out of about 50. Indeed, the ILO pact would by its own terms become binding on the United States even though no other nation should adopt it.

The ITO and ILO are only two of a dozen international alphabetical organizations set up by or affiliated with the United Nations and which, largely by aid of former American New Dealers and other left-wingers from countries of Continental Europe, have been busily engaged in drafting so-called conventions or agreements to be submitted to the various countries for ratification.

If any of these agreements is ratified by the Senate, then under the terms of the Constitution it becomes the supreme law of the land. All Federal statutes and all State statutes inconsistent therewith are thereby wiped out and become of no effect.

Here is an astounding situation. While the great mass of the brain and brawn of America is engaged under private enterprise in carrying on the thousand and one activities that make up American production, industrial, agricultural and otherwise, a few thousand alien-minded busybodies, most of them foreigners, are plotting to take the American Republic apart. And most Americans who are working with them are alien-minded. These people are engaged in cooking up schemes which, if ratified (and they will be ratified unless the American people wake up), will completely transform the Government of the United States.

In fact, they will transform the lives of all the people of the United States. We will have scrapped the Declaration of Independence and our Constitution. We will have abandoned the century-and-a-half example the United States has given the world. We will have permitted alien schemers to seize all that we have and all that we are and throw it into the common pot, with the rest of the world. America will have surrendered. Politicians willing to appease this alien element, together with the left-minded newswriters and alien-subsidized newspapers, will have betrayed the American people.

Auxiliary Groups Are at Work

The alien interest we speak of, like a well organized army, have long had auxiliary groups that play a heavy part in conditioning or molding opinion, in propaganda of all kinds and in various schemes to punish their enemies.

Thus there is the "Foreign Policy Association," always promoting foreign interests, notably those of Soviet Russia, and which is largely guided by the clever Russian-born Vera Micheles Dean.

There is the "World Federalists," backed with plenty of money and by nearly all left-wingers, and whose success would end American independence and American liberty. This has as its moving spirit the former New York banker and left-winger, James P. Warburg. Incidentally the bible of the World Federalists is a book by one "Emery Reves," which, on the jacket of the book, was endorsed by Albert Einstein, Senator Claude Pepper, Dr. Louis Finkelstein, Thomas Mann, and by leading American churchmen. Perhaps they did not know that "Emery Reves" was born a Hungarian who changed his name from Reves Imri.

There is also the American Association for the United Nations, headed by that perpetual internationalist who also, as chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, did much to involve this country in World War II—Clark M. Eichelberger.

There is the League of Women Voters which so often is back of left-wing legislation and was a powerful factor last fall in the defeat of many conservative Congressmen of both parties. The League, headed by Anna Lord Strauss, was recently exposed by Lucille Crain and Anne Hamilton in "Packaged Thinking for Women," as a result of which a serious split is threatened in the ranks of the League.

And bearing on activities, official and unofficial, designed to punish dissenters and enemies, Judge Edward L. Von Roden of Pennsylvania, who served on a special commission appointed by Secretary Royall to investigate military justice in Germany, is quoted in the Congressional Record of March 10, 1949, as saying, "All but two of the Germans in the 139 cases we investigated had been kicked in the testicles beyond repair. This was standard operating procedure with American investigators."

It is clear that this element can be as cruel and ruthless toward individual human beings as it is toward this country in trying to sell it out to international Socialism or Communism.

And There Is UNESCO

One of the agreements worked out by the so-called UNESCO is an "International Bill of Rights." This will likewise presently come up for ratification.

Does this "International Bill of Rights" improve on the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of the United States? It does not. In fact, it destroys many of these existing rights. For instance, it says nothing about any rights of property. And knowing the sources of these proposals, it requires no effort to see that this "International Bill of Rights" is just one of the many attempts now being made from various directions and in all sorts of ways to destroy the American Republic.

The Atlantic Pact

Then there is the Atlantic Pact which has just been submitted to the Congress and which we discussed in Letter 213. The ratification of this Pact will contribute vastly to the dismantling of the free Government our ancestors set up.

The Atlantic Pact, if ratified, will be implemented by a new lend-lease bill, to rearm certain European nations. Secretary of State Acheson on April 27th admitted as much to the Senate Committee.

The first lend-lease bill was enacted by the Congress in 1941. It was falsely offered to the Congress and the country as a measure to avoid war. It was precisely the opposite, as we and others predicted at the time. It was tantamount to a declaration of war. That lend-lease cost the United States 47 billion dollars.

What did this "investment" purchase for the American people? First of all, it financed Soviet Russia in building up the most threatening, most powerful nation that has ever appeared on the Eurasian Continent. It purchased the destruction of Germany, the only European country that could have stood up against Soviet Russia. It purchased the socialization of Great Britain and has led to the astounding situation of today where we free Americans, still retaining our private enterprise, are paying to complete the socialization of Britain and other European countries.

And that first lend-lease purchased the destruction of China. We went to war against Japan in order to maintain the Open Door and protect China. No nation ever went to war and more completely lost what it was fighting for than the United States in its war against Japan. Regrettably, we say that every man who died in our Pacific campaign died in vain.

Not only this, but we have thrown away all Asia, including Japan and the Philippines. For certainly the 80 million Japanese cannot live without food from the China mainland. And they will not get that food now—unless Japan makes terms with Russian-ruled Communist China. And of course the Philippines could hardly last overnight.

And, cravenly moved by the Marxist slogan "Imperialism," we are at this moment seeking to compel the Dutch Government to give in to Communism in Indonesia.

Hence the first lend-lease, costing us 47 billion dollars, purchased the greatest disaster in history. Is there reason to suppose that the second lend-lease will bring any better result?

Then there is the pending Economic Mobilization Act. This is designed for "emergencies." It would give the President of the United States the right in his discretion to declare an emergency and to take over the absolute control of every man, woman and child in the United States. That control could be as absolute as the control of the Politburo in Soviet Russia, for of course the right would be exercised in the discretion of his advisers. And before we were through, that control might be exercised just as ruthlessly as the Russian Politburo ever exercised its control over 170 million Soviet slaves.

For would it not be in the hands of the internationalists that have disrupted the world the past 15 years?

Zionist Domination Of American Policy

In November 1947 the Assembly of the United Nations voted to "recommend" the partition of Palestine between Jews and Arabs. It was purely a recommendation (the Assembly of UN has power only to recommend). But the Zionists and the American Government chose to treat it as a final determination. As everybody knows, events followed rapidly. The UN and the United States Government backed the Zionists at every point. When American Zionists failed by 100 millions to raise the 250 million dollars they sought in 1948, the Export-Import Bank, under the thumb of our Administration, extended a 100 million dollar loan to Palestine. At every turn the new State of Israel has been treated as the first interest of the American Administration.

Over a period of 100 years, American missionaries, educators and businessmen had built up in Mohammedan countries a vast good will toward America. America's attitude toward the Zionists who ruthlessly overran the Arabs in Palestine has brooked no opposition from any source. When the British, naturally smarting under the outrageous cruelties practiced by Zionists against the British, showed their resentment, the Washington Administration promptly sided with the Zionists and against the British. The systematic campaign to boycott British goods received, so far as we could observe, not the slightest censure from Washington nor in such supposedly American newspapers as The New York Times and New York Herald Tribune. Everything was subordinated to the Zionists.

Let's Have a Congressional Investigation

The American Politburo, behind the scenes, acts with extraordinary cunning, complete selfishness and ruthless determination to secure absolute control of America. It has been operating at a growing pace ever since Roosevelt came to power in 1933.

In all the history of the United States, until Roosevelt, no alien element has had more than a passing influence on events. But the alien element now ruling, commands huge public funds and the presence in vital Government positions of members of its group. It has the ready services of such smear outfits as the Anti-Defamation League, and such voices on the radio as Walter Winchell and Drew Pearson serve it well. Through intimidation it terrorizes office-holders, businessmen and other citizens alike.

To no other force can possibly be attributed the conception and execution of the tragic moves of the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations—including the proposals advanced today.

It was alien-minded influence that persuaded Roosevelt to scrap the 1932 Democratic Platform and substitute the socialistic New Deal. It was alien influence that involved us in World War II, the most disastrous commitment the United States has ever made. It was alien influence that dominated much of our war policy.

Practically every major decision made with respect both to our domestic policy and practically all our foreign policy has been through the influence of men like Harold Laski and Felix Frankfurter and many others, either aliens today or alien-born or of recent alien descent. A court could well-nigh take judicial notice of the fact that for more than a quarter of a century Frankfurter, in the Harvard Law School, was training his students for future jobs in Washington and succeeded in placing an astonishing number of them in office.

The Congress could perform no greater service toward preserving the foundations of our Republic than to turn the searchlight of fearless investigation on the methods and the identity of this American Politburo.

No other investigation by Congress could throw such light on what has happened to America in the last 17 years, or on how to meet the threats that confront America today.

Communism in Unions

By Dr. David Goldstein

The public is coming more and more to the realization that trade unions, necessary though they are to safeguard and advance the interests of wage earners, are a danger to the welfare of our country when they are Communist dominated. The C.I.O., having finally come to appreciate the enormity of harboring such un-American unions, is likely to purge itself of them in its coming National Convention. A start was made by demoting Harry Bridges, the most powerful Communist leader on the Pacific coast, from his office as C. I. O. Regional Director of California.

Dr. David Goldstein

Strikes, rather than ballots, are the instrumental means by which Communists seek to further the Moscow attempt to undermine "capitalist" countries. All countries, save sovietized countries, recognize the right of workmen to strike for just wages and proper working conditions, in the event of failure to obtain their just demands through collective bargaining, or other peaceful means.

But this right to strike is not an absolute right. The exercise of it must give way to a greater right, for instance to safeguard the public welfare when it is endangered by organized work stoppage. When strikes are of a political, a revolutionary nature, as are most Communist inspired strikes, the State may properly use every means in its power, including injunctions, to end such strikes. This principle was recognized recently by the Labor Government of Great Britain, which is a trade union controlled government. Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Labor Minister George Isaacs condemned "the dock strikers" as "dupes of the Communists," who in support of the Canadian dock strike, are "holding up the food ships and raw materials, thus threatening Britain's vitally needed industrial production and food supplies." Strikes of this Communist, anti-patriotic nature have taken place in Italy, France, and in many other lands. It is a strike of this nature, now in progress for the third month in Hawaii, that prompted us to deal with the subject in this column.

The strike of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), dominated by Harry Bridges, its International President, succeeded in causing a blockade of Hawaii such as the Japanese were unable to do after Pearl Harbor. The people in the Hawaiian Islands, who depend upon the export and import of products for their existence, are threatened with starvation by refusal to permit the loading and unloading of vessels; a blockade that may necessitate an "airlift" service, as did Stalin's blockade of Berlin.

The demand of the strikers is for an increase of 32 cents an hour over the current rate of $1.40 an hour. The Hawaiian Governor's Emergency Board recommended a 14 cent raise. This was reluctantly accepted by the waterfront employers; while the ILWU refused to allow the loading or unloading of vessels until the full 32 cent increase is granted, which would greatly add to the influence of the Harry Bridges group among the workmen on the islands. The Bar Association of the Territory of Hawaii condemned the strike as a "Communist stratagem, disguised as an ordinary labor dispute but actually fostered for an ulterior purpose detrimental to the welfare of the United States . . . It is a Communist movement masking its subversive designs with an appearance of a worthy purpose."

The question of a 14 or 32 cent raise is of secondary import to the objective of Harry Bridges—who follows the Moscow line from A to Z—to dominate the Hawaiian Islands. Moscow appreciates the strategic value of these islands, as do the top officials of our country. They are known to be the crossroads, the key bases, of the Pacific.

The Communist Party and ILWU, which are virtually one in the Hawaiian Islands, operate from San Francisco, the clearing house of Moscow's Pacific campaign against the United States. Through them Harry Bridges and his confreres have been actively endeavoring to make Hawaii the 49th State in our Union of States. They assume to be able to elect a majority of delegates to write the Constitution of this 49th State, and to send two Communist Senators and a Communist Congressman to Washington.

This was fully realized by the Commission on Interior and Insular Affairs, that decided "without equivocation," after an investigation, "that statehood for Hawaii be deferred indefinitely." It was knowledge of secret instruction to Communist agents in Hawaii, seized by our Federal officials, that prompted Lt. Gov. Arthur W. Coolidge of Mass. to positively declare to the American Veterans of World War II (Quincy, Mass., Feb. 24, 1948)—"I charge that Communism's key assault on the United States is starting in Hawaii. I accuse Moscow's secret agents of launching a new surprise attack on Pearl Harbor. If this attack is successful, it will be fully as harmful to our national security as was the sneak blow of Japanese bombs."

The few of us who have been active in opposing the anti-Christian Marxists forces during the past fifteen years or more will be encouraged by Cardinal Spellman's exposure of Eleanor Roosevelt's anti-Catholic, pro-Marxist activities. It is high time that some one in prominence brings her activities out in the open. Many unsuspecting Christians are responsible for building up the Roosevelt dynasty the past years, not suspecting they were encouraging anti-Christian, pro-Marxist forces by supporting dupes who were being used to set up an invisible government ruled by Zionists.

Practically the entire Roosevelt family has been used in one way or another as a front by these Zionists to advance their cause. Only recently F. D. R., Jr. was elected Congressman through the efforts of this same group. In our issue of October 17, 1948 we revealed F. D. R.'s attitude towards the Catholics, and we quote:

A few days before Roosevelt died, a Catholic Chaplain who was also in the Intelligence Dept. asked Roosevelt to sign some papers in connection with the investigation of Communists in the army. Roosevelt refused to sign and asked the Priest why the Catholics were so upset about Communists in our government. Roosevelt told the Priest: "You know I could crush the Catholic Church if I wanted to." The courageous Father asked F. D. R. if he remembered in history a Nero or a Napoleon.

Elliott Roosevelt and Fay made a trip to Stalin, then in Look Magazine gave Uncle Joe favorable advertising.

Eleanor has shown very definitely that she is anti-Catholic, while giving full cooperation to Marxists, anti-Christian forces. She helped to raise money for the Loyalists in Spain where thousands of Priests and Nuns were slaughtered at the hands of the Communists. Then again, when Archbishop Stepinac, Primate of the R. C. Church in Yugoslavia, was sentenced to 16 years hard labor, and imprisoned, her reply to a letter from Mr. John F. Rapp, of the Catholic War Veterans, requesting aid to seek the release of Archbishop Stepinac, was as follows: (From the October 19, 1947 issue of COMMON SENSE)

"My Dear Mr. Rapp:

"Your letter addressed to me in care of the American Committee for Yugoslav Relief was forwarded to me.

"I am sorry but I fear I cannot help as you suggest. I understand the Archbishop took part in political affairs and the government now in power has jurisdiction in such matters. Your very sincerely, Eleanor Roosevelt."

And again, when the entire Christian world was shocked at the brutal treatment accorded Cardinal Mindzenty, followed by the sentence of life-imprisonment, Eleanor showed her tolerance by condemning Cardinal Mindzenty in her column.

Cardinal Spellman, in exposing her for the bigot that she is, stated he would not reply to any further attacks from her. "Whatever you say in the future," Cardinal Spellman wrote, "your record of anti-Catholicism stands for all to see—a record which you yourself wrote on the pages of history which cannot be recalled—documents of discrimination unworthy of an American mother."

No doubt Cardinal Spellman is too dignified to carry on a controversy with this globe-trotting disciple of Marx, but COMMON SENSE is well qualified to expose Eleanor's past activities and we would be glad to take this job off his hands. This offer also applies to Herbert Lehman, ex-Governor, who has now come to Eleanor's defense.

Of course Lehman must come to her defense. Lehman, as one of the Zionist Politburo in America, must come to the defense of stooges such as Eleanor, F. D. R., Jr. and Elliott Roosevelt, as they have been active in setting up Zionist rule in the United States. Just as Judge Samuel Kaufman maneuvered himself in as Judge to preside over the Alger Hiss trial so that Hiss, front man and stooge for Zionists, would escape conviction as a Communist, and just as Felix Frankfurter, one of the main wheels of the Zionist Politburo must come down from the Supreme Court bringing Judge Reed with him to testify in favor of stooge Hiss, so Herbert Lehman must come to the aid of Eleanor, one of the most valuable fronts for Marxism and Zionism.

Herbert Lehman, as a Zionist, talks like a Communist, acts like a Communist, and supports Communists, (and COMMON SENSE challenges any Zionist authority to public debate to prove that Communism and Zionism are synonymous). Lehman, as head of UNRRA used funds of that organization to set up Communism in Europe and helped equip Tito's army in Yugoslavia; he was active on the Defense Committee of Gerhard Eisler, America's No. 1 Communist; and is now able to use the Marshall Plan funds to carry out Zionist plans in Europe by having Paul Hoffman appointed as Chairman of the Economic Recovery Program. (Paul Hoffman is head of Studebaker Corporation which is controlled by Lehman Bros. with one of the Lehmans as Vice President.)

When the Marxist anti-Catholic magazine Nation, Freda Kirchwey, editor, was barred from public libraries in New York, Herbert Lehman again exposed his hate for Christianity by defending this pro-Communist magazine.

In defending Mrs. Roosevelt, Lehman stated: "I strongly believe, and I always believed, that in our American democracy every responsible citizen is entitled to express his or her views on public issues without being subject to the accusation of being against any religion or any race." BUT Lehman and other Zionists quickly brand anyone anti-semitic who opposes Zionist or Communist methods! It is high time for those interested in preserving Christianity to learn just who the anti-Christian forces are behind this plague we call Communism.

In reading the decision of the Hungarian Communist Judge who sentenced Cardinal Mindzenty, the Judge asserted, on Cardinal Mindzenty's last visit to the home of the American Ambassador the Cardinal urged that the Jews be reduced in their role in the public life of Hungary. The following statement was printed in a Hungarian bulletin on January 24, 1949.

"It is with dismay that we see Jewish men in the field of public life in America raise their voice on behalf of Cardinal Mindzenty, the arch-enemy of Jews in Hungary and Eastern Europe. We are convinced that these men are not sufficiently aware of Mindzenty's activities in the last four years, his anti-semitic past, his anti-Jewish protests, and also among the documents seized were his projects to revalidate the anti-Jewish laws.

In Hungary, of the ten top government officials, nine were Zionists. They included:

Matyss Rakoski (Roth), Deputy Prime Minister

E. Gero, Minister of State

J. Revai, Minister of Public Culture

M. Farkas, Minister of Defense

Irma Vajda, assistant to Mr. Berei.

Lt. Col. Palfi—controls Army.

GABOR PETER (Benjamin Auspitz) head of Gestapo.

RAKOSKI, Zionist trained under Bela Kun (Kohn) in 1918 revolution—New York Times of June 7, 1947 says he was tried in Budapest in 1935 for 21 murders and 489 other crimes.

The only Gentile government official, Laszlo Rajk, Minister of the Interior, has now been arrested as traitor. We quote from the "Independent Nationalist" published in England, July 1949.

"A year ago Laszlo Rajk was Hungarian Minister of the Interior. Now he has been jailed by the Jewish dictator of Hungary, Matyss Rakoski, on the usual treason charges. Rajk was the only Communist leader in Hungary who was not a Zionist. He has been a prominent Communist since he was political secretary to the Rakoski Brigade in the Spanish War. The purges show that the stooges get a break until the Communist cause is firmly established in a country; then comes the Zionists to sit on top and make Communism what it is—a Zionist preserve! Fellow travelers in England must be uneasy."

The Communist dictator of Poland is Jacob Berman, Zionist; the Communist dictator of Rumania, Anna Pauker, is a Zionist; the Communist dictator of the Ukraine, Manuilsky, is a Zionist; the director of the Communist program in China is Maxim Litvinov (Finkelstein); and so it goes through the list of countries that have been taken over by the Communists.

So it all boils down to just one thing: it is quite all right for Zionists to be anti-Christian, but it is an entirely different story when a Christian is anti-Zionist or anti-Communist!

Marxism is materialism . . . We must combat religion—this is the ABC of all materialism, and consequently of Marxism . . . Down with religion! Long live atheism! The dissemination of atheist views is our chief task.—(Religion; Lenin, p. 14).

Priest Raps Indifference

Republished from Catholic News, July 23rd

The most disturbing thing about the increasing Communist infiltration in every phase of American life is the indifference and complacency of most Americans in the face of it, the Rev. William C. Heimbuch, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Elizabeth, said in a sermon on Sunday, July 17.

Father Heimbuch said that what the country needs is more witch hunting and Red baiting. "If speaking out against these evils and protecting American rights and freedom against a foreign invader is witch hunting, then what this country needs is more witch hunting, and if the person who shows up these people in their real colors is a Red baiter, then I am proud to be one," Father Heimbuch declared.

Commenting on the extent of Communist infiltration in America, Father Heimbuch mentioned that there are at least nine labor unions that are controlled definitely by the Communists and that many Good American workers have been misled and are giving their support to Red-dominated unions.

Father Heimbuch told his congregation that if they professed to be good Americans and good Catholics that now is the time to wake up and protect their liberty and freedom. He urged them to pray for the Pope and the people behind the Iron Curtain in "these days of trial," and to pray for the President that "God may give him the strength and courage to carry out fearlessly the stupendous task that has been entrusted to his hands."

Federal Aid to Schools

From report of National Council for American Education, Allen Zoll, Editor

The Barden Bill on Federal Aid to Education, H.R. 4643, was favorably reported out of the House Sub-Committee on Education, to the full Committee on Education and Labor. It is before that committee now, and that is where the fight must be concentrated. It would be most helpful for you to write each of the members of this committee, or as many as you possibly can, urging that they NOT report the bill out of the committee.

The members of this committee of the House of Representatives are:

John Lesinski of Michigan (Chairman); Graham A. Barden of North Carolina; Augustine B. Kelley of Pennsylvania; Adam C. Powell, Jr., of New York; John S. Wood of Georgia; John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts; Wingate H. Lucas of Texas; Cleveland M. Bailey of West Virginia; Leonard Irving of Missouri; Carl D. Perkins of Kentucky; Charles R. Howell of New Jersey; Hugo S. Sims of South Carolina; Andrew Jacobs of Indiana; Thomas H. Burke of Ohio; Tom Steed of Oklahoma; Roy W. Wier of Minnesota; Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., of Penna.; Ralph W. Gwinn of New York; Walter E. Brehm of Ohio; Wint Smith of Kansas; Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania; Richard M. Nixon of California; Thurston Ballard Morton of Kentucky; Thomas H. Werdel of California; Harold H. Velde of Illinois.

In writing, simply address: The Hon. . . . , House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

One of the Council's Vice Presidents, who has been working ceaselessly against the bill, talked to a number of members of the sub-committee after it has favorably reported the bill. Several of these men stated that they had given a courtesy vote to Sub-Committee Chairman Barden (whose bill it was) but that they would actively and vigorously oppose the bill before the full committee.

Some important Catholics are giving effective help in opposing the bill. To our great regret they generally are not opposing the bill "in principle," but have opposed this particular bill, the Barden Bill, because under it the Catholic Schools would receive no federal aid.

This bill should be opposed because federal aid means federal control of education, which if in control now, would mean a saturation of education by Communists.

World Federalists Red

It is very evident to those who take time to inform themselves on the hidden forces behind our most important governmental departments that the Invisible Government is working feverishly to set up a World Government to be ruled by Zionists. The Invisible Government is directed by the Zionist Politburo and the men listed below are some of the important ones which have for at least twenty years steered this country along the road to war and bankruptcy in their plan to force us into World Government.

Edward M. M. Warburg, Kuhn Loeb Co., international bankers.

James P. Warburg, former head of Office of War Information.

Dr. Isador Lubin, the brains of the Morgenthau starvation slavery plan for Germany.

Albert Einstein, Marxist who cooperates with many Communist Fronts.

Felix Frankfurter, Zionist Sam Legree behind Truman and Dean Acheson.

David Niles (Neyus), Zionist lookout man who reports Truman's every move.

These are the men in the background of United World Federalists Inc. using dupes to front for this organization which proposes to throw our Constitution out the window and turn 145 million over for slavery under Zionist World Government. The object of U. W. F. is to establish one language, one religion (Bahi) to end Christianity, and one World ruled entirely by Marxist Zionists. As Winston Churchill told F. D. R. when they dreamed the Atlantic Charter, "Scare them into war." The United World Federalists now say "one-world or none." They use the atomic bomb to scare us so badly we cannot think so we let the Zionist Politburo do our thinking.

On the National Advisory Board of the United World Federalists, we have marked nineteen as fellow travelers, followers of Karl Marx' teachings, or straight out Communists or Zionists.

munist cold war is Harry Bridges, an Australian, who is under indictment for denying Communist Party affiliation upon applying for citizenship. U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle would have deported him four years ago, were it not for the U. S. Supreme Court ruling, largely through the influence of Justice Frank Murphy, who assumed the action of the lower Court to be "a monument to man's intolerance of man . . . because he (Bridges) dared to exercise the freedom that belongs to him as a human being and that is guaranteed him by our Constitution."

This judgment would be warranted if Bridges were a citizen who merely believed in Communist principles. But when he, an alien who never deviates from the Moscow line, swears he is not a Communist when he is, then does he not seem to this columnist to be entitled to the freedoms granted by our Constitution to its citizens, and to non-conspiring aliens. This view is sustained by what Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his recent July 4th statement, which is here quoted in part:—"Communism is an instrument of farce and intimidation to permit minority elements by stealth, infiltration and deceit to seize political power from the majority during under constitutional process . . . That it should continue to advance its treacherous purposes behind the shield of those freedoms, which to succeed it must destroy, is one of the paradoxes of this age. It poses the question whether such a movement should longer be accorded validity, sanction and protection of the law." Strikes to further Communism is treason; unions indulging in them ought to be outlawed.

Dr. Humphrey Lee, President

Dallas, Texas

Dear Dr. Lee:

The patriotic newspaper "Common Sense" reports in its issue of June 1st that S.M.U. maintains community lecture courses sponsored jointly with Temple Emanuel Synagogue, and that "speakers must be selected or Ok'd by this synagogue."

This is obviously for the purpose of promoting internationalism and communism and the program of the communistic "Federal Council of Churches," for the Jews are not Methodists; they are anti-Christ.

This is a matter of personal concern to me, for I had tentatively agreed to donate my land at Port Arthur, Texas, estimated at $1,000,000.00, to the Texas Wesleyan College. Moreover, I have some responsibility for your University, for Bishop Boaz, Bishop Hays and I were instrumental in bringing about its removal from Georgetown to Dallas.

I hope that your trustees will repudiate your unholy alliance.

From NEWS AND VIEWS, Church League of America, Chicago, Edited by George Washington Rebnett

One hundred years ago (1848), Karl Marx wrote the "Communist Manifesto" as a guide and "bible" for the Radical-Left groups of Europe who were then fomenting revolution. Marx, consequently, became the high priest of a "religion of hate" which he had compounded by mixing some of Hegel's dialectical materialism (atheism) with parts of David Ricardo's labor theories—to which he added his own doctrines of hate and revolution. He wanted to destroy all existing order and start from scratch with his own brand of Communism.

As a premise for examining the invasion of Marxist influence in the social fields, let us here take note of a liberalizing movement that began to make its impress upon Christian religion about 1850. Led by Horace Bushnell, this new emphasis soon became known as the Social Gospel. It was destined to have far reaching effect and undoubtedly some of its genealogy traced directly from the same group of "great thinkers" and philosophers (18th and 19th century apostles of agnosticism and atheism) who had influenced Marx.

Bushnell's "Christian Nurture" was a great influence in bringing such leaders as Washington Gladden (Congregationalist) and Walter Rauschenbusch (Baptist) forward as the vanguard of Social Gospel leadership. One main purpose of this new movement was to put emphasis on earthly rather than heavenly problems.

As the liberalizing influence of the Nineteenth Century developed momentum, its main result was a divergence from orthodox biblical interpretations. Gradually the "liberal" theologians were repudiating the "virgin birth"—the "resurrection"—and other scriptural "fundamentals" that had been widely accepted with the rise of Christianity. The new heterodoxy traced back to the "Higher Criticism" that preceded the emergence of the so-called Social Gospel.

This new type of social action in religion attracted some of the most brilliant minds in church leadership and by the turn of the last century, or shortly thereafter, these "brilliant liberals" were colonizing in the theological seminaries. Colonization in these key spots increased rapidly and gradually the new liberalism became dominant in the leading theological schools. This naturally resulted in the graduation of more and more "liberal" preachers to carry the new liberalism and reform movement into churches everywhere—a trend that was especially and strategically marked with relation to industrial areas.

"By 1880 a vigorous capitalism had laid the foundations of modern America in an industrial order that was rapidly transforming the rural United States of Lincoln and Lee into a closely knit nation of swarming cities," wrote Charles Howard Hopkins in his book on "The Rise of the Social Gospel in American Protestantism." "Social Christianity," he continued, "therefore, was forced to concern itself with practical as well as theoretical changes. Habits as well as theology needed to be redirected. When the attention of Protestant leaders began to turn toward the 'whole social system,' as Edward Beecher declared it must, it was with but slowly clarifying ideas and techniques that the prophets of a kingdom of God on earth took up their task."

The new Social Gospel carried with it—not just liberalism in theology—but also "liberalism" in economics. The very nature of the Social Gospel (welfare on earth) caused preachers to extend their opinions and advice into the more exciting and colorful field of business and industry. The rapid development of mass industry was carrying with it an ideological ferment (socialistic agitation) that produced a wide range of reform theory and action.

In 1884 George Bernard Shaw, Sidney and Beatrice Webb and other intellectual socialists

Former Communist Tells of Red Training

Many American Communist leaders were given special training in Moscow to prepare them for the practical application of the theories of force and violence. William Odell Nowell, a former Communist Party leader in Detroit, who studied at the International Lenin University in Moscow under this training program for more than a year in 1931-1932, described the procedure for the Special Committee on Un-American Activities. He said that the Communist Party of the United States and the Soviet Government paid his expenses as a student in this training program, which he stated was aimed at the production of "professional revolutionaries." His account of the training follows:

Barricade Fighting, Military Science, Sabotage

"We studied how to dismantle the weapons of the leading countries, that is, their main weapons, such as rifles or machine guns and so on. I also studied secret service codes . . . we studied the details of how to develop street fights. I mean, how to do barricade fighting, how to seize control of a city, the most strategic, economically and technically strategic points, and so on.

" . . . the science of civil warfare was developed down to its fine points. And a number of people were sent to the Red Army to secure further training in this respect. I spent some time in the Red Army myself.

"We were given regular military training. That is, we studied military science, strategy, such as is general in almost all countries. The strategy is pretty much the same, except in countries of different geographical situations, and so on. We had target practice and all that. Then we were taught what is called partisan warfare, the science of civil warfare, revolutionary uprising. It is not done legitimately and openly. You don't march in brigades and fight like armies that are meeting each other.

"The conspiratory type of warfare. It is related to the boring-in process, street fighting and how to mobile (sic) in blocks, the blocks in a city, the workers in a plant; how to develop a general strike out of a local strike; how to develop a general strike into a city uprising, a city uprising into a national uprising, coordinating all these different uprisings. Then how to lead this thing, once it is raised, once these men are on the warpath, how to direct them. Then we come to something like open warfare. We break these people down into groups; we make armies on the basis of the immediate emergency of the moment, or whatever the situation may be. We were given to know that in a revolutionary situation you cannot follow out mechanically any particular plan, only your objective. It is a tense situation. Therefore a party having an organization, with its fingers on everything—every portion of the city and its population, that it can depend on—is prepared to direct all its forces in the way they should be.

"We were taught to concentrate on the food supply, the warehouses, the utilities, that is water and lights, gas, and all those things; the communications, that is the railways entering the city, the streetcar service, telephone service, and telegraph, and all those things.

"We were instructed in sabotage; how to wreck trains, at this point closing down factories, facilitating discontent to raise the mob spirit in order to get the men on the go, and various other acts of sabotage, which of course could be attempted on a moment's notice. Also the general methods of derailing a train and destroying its cargo. I mean, if it is going to be available for the enemy, just put it full speed ahead when you know there is another train coming head-on and just step aside."

Churches

(including churchmen) formed the Fabian Society—a revolutionary movement milder than Communism.

As some of the Social Gospel advocates became bolder they began to call their doctrine Christian Socialism—even though the two words are incongruous. Christianity stands for the dignity of individualism while Socialism calls for subjugated collectivism. Socialism became Nazism in Germany—in Italy it turned into Fascism—and in Russia it has evolved into Leninism-Stalinism.

Sugar-coated socialistic theories have a wide appeal to intellectual and social leaders who live isolated in the ivory towers of books and theory. They are vulnerable because they have had no first-hand experience with the difficult work-a-day problems that keep a sound economic machine rolling. At any rate we find thousands of our intellectual and social leaders who feel they know how to run business and industry better than the experienced men on the job. This has come about through the spread of dogmatic "Christian Socialism." Socialism advocates doing away with private enterprise in production. Like Communism it seeks to concentrate ownership and control in a Super-State. Socialism is logically a form of Marxism—and serves as an ante-room to Communism. Most Communists have first been Socialists.

As the new "liberalism" spread under such slogans as "Social Gospel"—"Christian Socialism"—"Modernism" and other disguises—a new technique of action began to develop in the form of socialistic religious "front-organizations." This is sometimes known as Trojan Horse strategy and was advocated by Georgi Dimitrov, former head of the Comintern, as official Communist tactic.

For instance, there was the Church League for Industrial Democracy, organized by Episcopalians of the Left. This "front" was affiliated with the socialist League for Industrial Democracy—and distributed its literature. C.L.I.D. took over and absorbed the Church Socialist League which had been formed in 1911 by Episcopalians with an urge to the Left. Left-of-center Baptists organized the "Rauschenbusch Foundation"—named after the early Social Gospel leader. One "great liberal" pastor in the Baptist field sheltered in his Cleveland church for more than two years the Communist-dominated "Ohio School for Social Science." In 1947 the Rev. Louie D. Newton, President of the Southern Baptist Association, was a guest on a brief Russian conducted tour in that "fatherland of Socialism." Upon his return he wrote a little booklet which was promptly sent out to Baptist members in the Chicago area with a "Communist Party of Illinois" letter signed by Communist Wm. L. Patterson. Dr. Newton also was quoted in a newspaper interview as saying—"The Baptists stand for the same thing as the Russian government—renunciation of, and resistance to, coercion in matters of belief. Religiously, we should regard Russia as our great ally." Such foolishness as that is collaborative Marxism.

Tax Dollars—No Pups

Joseph and Pharaoh many years ago, took over the entire land of Egypt, lock, stock and barrel, with a tax of twenty percent followed by a seven-year depression. England is now paying more than forty percent of her national income to government in taxes for services which could be rendered better and at less cost under our own American Way. Even Sir Stafford Cripps recently admitted that England has gone as far as she can go in redistributing incomes and wealth and must now go to work and produce more if the people want more.

What will happen to our own United States with a national debt of more than a quarter trillion dollars and taxes that absorb more than thirty percent of our national income?

It is not a pretty picture. We could shut our eyes to it and refuse to recognize the warnings of history, in ancient Rome or modern England. Or we can face the facts fearlessly and, perhaps, still save our American Way by bringing government and taxes back to the people.

Some people seem to think that when we send a dollar to Washington it has pups on the way. Exactly the opposite is true. The dollar you send to Washington shrinks on the way, loses weight in Washington and still more on the way back. You are lucky if the benefits you get from Washington amount to as much as half what they cost in taxes.

Many people fail to see that, because they think that somebody else is sending the dollars to Washington, and they don't care much, even though the dollars are inefficiently spent, so long as they are not sending them. Well, their own turn is bound to come, and then someone else gets their dollars, cut in two.

So much of our national income is already going for the cost of government that we do not have enough dollars to invest in the tools and machinery which we need to maintain and increase the productivity of industry.

Productivity is the source of higher standards of living, and cost of government is the chief enemy of national prosperity.

There are two ways to reduce the cost of government. First, we can reduce the functions and services of Federal Government, especially those which should never have been taken away from local government in the first place. During the past 35 years the share of all tax money going to Federal Government has increased more than 2½ times, while the share for local government has fallen to about one fourth of what it was.

The other way to reduce the cost of government is to get more for the tax dollar by spending it at home. The closer the spending of the taxes is kept to the people who pay the taxes, the more you get for your tax money. The further away you send the money and the control of its spending, the less you get for your money.

That's why we ought to increase the share of the total taxes which goes to local government, where we get most for our dollars,—and why we should decrease the share which goes to Federal Government, where we get the least for our dollars. In local government, the people who spend the money are neighbors and directly responsible to the people whose money is being spent.

* The only dollars that have pups are those invested in tools to increase production. Government does not produce. It only consumes, and for every dollar the government in Washington spends on you, someone has to send two dollars or more to Washington. Tax dollars have no pups!

Let Congress Investigate

By Merwin K. Hart, President
National Economic Council, Inc.

In Council Letter No. 214 we wrote about the American Politburo that has seized control of American destiny—a control well-nigh as great as that of the Politburo of Soviet Russia.

Evidence mounts that that Letter was an understatement.

The fact is that Zionist and Communist influence (at times the one is stronger, at times the other—frequently they work together) has dictated and controlled practically all moves of American foreign policy since 1933.

These forces dictated the setting up of UNRRA under the control, first, of Zionist Herbert H. Lehman, and, second, of Zionist LaGuardia. UNRRA used three billions of the American taxpayers' money to strengthen Communism in Europe and thus prepare its way in America. That now seems to have been the chief purpose, though it was made to appear to the American people as purely philanthropic.

These forces arranged for the Red Army to take over a large part of Germany, our American Army falling back and giving up much territory that had been won by American blood. Then, through the Potsdam blunder, American forces were bottled up in Berlin—and the several hundred million dollar cost of the airlift was saddled upon America.

These American Politburo forces dictated "unconditional surrender" which caused the needless death of countless Germans who were fighting for their country, as red-blooded citizens of any country always do.

They forced the American Administration to refuse the peace overtures of German leaders which would have shortened the war and saved American lives.

They were responsible for the Nuremberg trials, a moral, legal and political mistake that will some day return to plague Americans.

They were the cause of the British loan of $3,700,000,000 in 1946, which money was turned over to the communist-influenced Labor Government of Britain, and used to build up Socialism. This money was literally forced upon Britain, and was accepted over the protest of many farsighted Englishmen who felt it meant eventual enslavement.

They were responsible for the stupendous seventeen billion dollar project of European aid. Most Americans wish to help Europe; but this aid, given only to socialist governments, had as its chief effect, and, we believe, its chief object, to strengthen Marxist Socialism in Europe.

Under this Zionist-Communist influence, untold billions of dollars of military materiel have been wantonly destroyed, the chief object of which has been to weaken American arms and to strengthen the arms of Soviet Russia.

These forces dictated the setting up of the United Nations. This monstrosity, which has not yet taken any action in the interest of America, is a most useful instrument to further the purposes of Soviet Russia and the Zionist-Communist allies.

Having been organized at the instance of the Communists and the Zionists, it presently showed its hand in railroading through a plan for the setting up of the nation of "Israel." And it is clear now that the interests of "Israel" have been for some years the chief concern of the American State Department, which Department, as we have said before, has somehow contrived to dominate all American policy, foreign and domestic. The savings of Americans and the prestige of their country have been prostituted first to create and then to subsidize and promote this state of "Israel."

Alien Influence At Full Flood Today

The influence of the Zionists and the Communists in the molding of American policy, foreign and domestic, is not a whit less today than in the recent past. It unquestionably dictated Mr. Truman's Fair Deal program, recommended by him to the Congress last winter. If the Zionists and Communists had their way, they would force all this program through. They would then have secured absolute control over the lives and property of that vast majority of Americans who have no interest in Zionism, including those American Jews who are Americans first and who abhor Communism.

But fortunately the American people are awakening. Congress is awakening. Patriotic men of both parties in the House and Senate are today turning against those power-gluttonous, hateful and vindictive forces which have held the country in its grasp—and still do.

When Dean Acheson was nominated for Secretary of State, at the instance of the Zionists and Communists, we have not the slightest doubt, the National Economic Council applied to be heard by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in opposition to the appointment. We were refused point-blank. In fact, the Senate Committee refused to hear any opposition to Mr. Acheson's name.

We have reason to believe that were that nomination coming before the Senate today, there would be fuller investigation of Mr. Acheson than there was then.

By TOM LINDER, Commissioner
Georgia Department of Agriculture

Last week the State Department issued a so-called White Paper. A Government issues a White Paper when it seeks to exonerate itself from blame in connection with its dealings with foreign nations. A White Paper is something on the order of Pilate washing his hands to prove that he was innocent of the blood of the innocent.

Four or five years ago the then Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, also issued a White Paper. Hull's paper washed our hands of blame with regard to Japan. Secretary Acheson's White Paper last week washed our hands of guilt in connection with China. Let's briefly review the facts and see if our hands are white and clean. Let's see if our own Government is not as much to blame for the present world situation as anyone else.

CRIMEAN WAR

Ninety-five years ago, in 1854, France, England, Sardinia, Russia and Turkey were engaged in the bloody Crimean war. Then, as now, England and France were allied with Turkey against Russia. Then, as now, the world traders were pushing the United States into world meddling.

In 1854, Commodore Perry, with the United States Navy, sailed into an harbor of Japan and forced the Japanese to trade with us whether they wanted to or not.

That same year, the United States signed a commercial treaty with Japan. With our usual capacity for opening pandora boxes, the little Jap was taken from his native land, where he had basked on the islands where God put him and we tried to make him into something different from what the Great Creator had made.

We brought him to America and sent him to school. We put him in the homes and offices of our officials and their families. We taught him the art and know-how of modern industry and modern war-making. We taught him the spirit which we inherited from Great Britain of wanting to run everybody else's business.

Fifty-seven years later, in 1911, we made another treaty with Japan and we thereby set the stage for World War in the Pacific. Under the terms of the 1911 treaty, Japan was declared to be a most favored nation. Not content with making the Japs a most favored people, we provided that in future years, should we make a treaty with any other nation more favorable than our treaty with Japan, we would automatically give Japan the benefit of the best terms that we gave to any other nation.

Japan, with the knowledge and skill furnished by America, with equipment, tools and raw materials furnished by America, rapidly developed into a nation filled with the ambition to build a great Japanese Empire. They were no longer satisfied to be content as a yellow people, but their ambition rapidly rose to a peer in the councils of the United States and Great Britain. In 1914, when the First World War was set off by the assassination of the Crown Prince of Austria and his wife, Japan joined the white people of the United States and England against the white people of Germany. We people forgot how the English and French in the early days had hired the savage Indians to massacre men, women and children, and we joined with England and France in teaching the little yellowman not to respect the great white nations.

At the end of the First World War, we actually agreed (hide your face in shame) to be put on an absolute equality with Japan on the high seas. We made a treaty with Great Britain and Japan under which the ratio of fighting craft on the high seas would be England 5, Japan 3 and the United States 3.

Having had a taste of blood, victory and spoils, the little Japs rapidly moved towards the empire builder of the East.

WHAT MADE MR. HULL'S WHITE PAPER NECESSARY?

In 1931, without provocation, Japan attacked her neighbors on the Mainland of Asia. The United States too late saw that it had nurtured a serpent in its bosom and for the first time since 1776, our nation was a coward. Because England and France refused to join in suppressing the Japanese, we not only permitted them to go forward with their war of conquest, but we supplied the munitions and know-how to carry on that war.

For ten long years we were not only morally responsible, but were actively engaged in assisting Japan in its attack on Korea, Manchuria and China.

In 1934, our Congress passed the so-called Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. Whenever we made a trade agreement with any country, Japan, under the terms of the 1911 treaty, automatically received the benefit of the most favorable terms. In the late thirties, we were shipping millions of tons of scrap iron and other war materials, including planes, guns, etc., to Japan to enable Japan to carry on its war of conquest in China. The United States did ten times as much to destroy existing governments in China as Russia has ever done. Finally, when the Japanese attacked the United States Navy at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, a few people in this country, including this writer, who knew something of the story of the past realized that our chickens were just coming home to roost.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."—Galatians: 6th chapter, 7th verse.

No wonder Secretary of State Hull felt the impelling necessity of calling for a bowl of water in which to wash his hands and the issuance of White Paper corresponding to the towel with which Pilate wiped his hands.

In that White Paper which is on file in the government office in Washington, Mr. Hull pleads guilty for this country. In plain English, he supplied arms and munitions to Japan after he knew that Japan was using them in a war of conquest to bring Asia under the scepter and bloody rule of the Japanese.

After the use of two bloody atom bombs on our own scholars, whom we had taught to make war, the Japanese surrendered. For ten bloody years they had shed the blood of millions of innocent Chinese and their families. They had marked a path of destruction in China comparable to the March of Sherman to the Sea in Georgia. They had ploughed and sown the seed for the Communist tree to grow in.

DEALING WITH THE COMMUNISTS

When the Japanese were on their knees to be allowed to surrender at the end of the war under orders from the White House, American military leaders would not accept the Japanese surrender until Stalin had been notified to take charge along the Northern boundary of China, Korea, and Manchuria. Then General Marshall, of the United States, went to China with a great flare of trumpets, beating of the drums, flying of the flags and heralded as a great peacemaker.

What do you suppose General Marshall's talk with Chiang Kai-shek was? General Marshall told Chiang Kai-shek to make a deal with the Communists.

From that day forward it was just a question of time when the Reds would take over China. Now they have taken over.

INTERNATIONALISTS

Any man who is an Internationalist is without loyalty to the United States and can be depended upon to make his dollar regardless of the amount of blood that your sons and mine may have to shed.

No wonder Mr. Cordell Hull, with his so-called Reciprocal Trade Treaties, felt the necessity of issuing a White Paper. No wonder Secretary Acheson has likewise felt the necessity of issuing a White Paper. But, White Papers are just as impotent to wash away the blood as was Pilate's bowl of water and the towel with which he washed his hands.

At the time the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor, that great international cotton company, Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company was shipping cotton to the Japanese and some of it was actually delivered, I am told, after the battle of Pearl Harbor. Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company and McFadden Bros., sold more than 146,000 bales of cotton at 37c per pound to go to China right in front of the advancing Reds. In 1942, at a great patriotic rally in the auditorium in Atlanta, little American flags were passed around to the thousands of people there. All at once some one screamed out that the American flags had printed on the little staffs the legend "Made in Japan."

Unless the rank and file of the American people can be awakened and brought to a realization of the impossibility of the United States running the world—unless they can be brought to the realization of the futility of Marshall Plans, North Atlantic Pacts, United Nations Organizations and World Governments—then we the people will be the greatest contributors to that approaching Armageddon.

We know, who believe the Bible, that the Battle of Armageddon must come, but as Christ said unto Judas—"but woe unto him, through whom they come!"

You on the farms closest to nature and nature's God are the salt of the earth politically. If the salt has lost his savor then wherewith shall it be salted? Next year will be an election year. Once again your public servants must come before you seeking your approval or disapproval. Will you get your names on the registration list and be like the ten Wise Virgins to participate when the time shall come? Or, will you wait until after the election, and, if those chosen do not suit you, will you try to issue a White Paper or call for a bowl of water and towel to wash your hands?

"He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."—Matthew: chapter 11, verse 15.

From NEWS AND VIEWS, Church League of America, Chicago, Edited by George Washington Robnett

Probably the most powerful of the denominational Left-wing groups is the Methodist Federation for Social Service. Two dominant leaders of this non-official "front" have been Dr. Harry Ward and Bishop F. J. McConnell. Ward is cited 64 times and McConnell 57 times by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. A letter sent out in 1928 with Rev. Ernest F. Tittle and G. Bromley Oxnam heading the National Committee called for a "transformation of human society." Operating under the guise of promoting "social welfare" this group (which includes scores of preachers and bishops) describes its purpose as—"An organization which rejects the method of struggle for profit as an economic base for society: which seeks to replace it with social-economic planning in order to develop a society without class distinctions and privileges." This, and their whole program as outlined in their Social Action Handbook, is nothing less than the same kind of Aesopian language used by the Communists in their literature.

Ward, who has become an active pro-Communist spokesman and writer for the Communist press, was succeeded as head of the Federation by a young preacher named Jack McMichael who formerly was head of a Communist-front known as the American Youth Congress. He has been affiliated with several other fronts listed by the Attorney General as subversive. The disgraceful pro-Communist antics of a convention held by this Federation in Kansas City (Dec. 27-29, 1947) were described in detail in a series of articles by Frederick Woltman in the New York World-Telegram. In further connection with Methodism we have several official publications of the Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, Tennessee, which are utterly amazing for their Left-wing and pro-Communist slant. One of these is "Adult Student"—another is "Concern" (for Methodist youth)—and another is "Motive" for students. Here is something for sound thinking Methodists to investigate.

The three denominational groups we have named—(1) Church League for Industrial Democracy, (2) Rauschenbusch Fellowship of Baptists, (3) Methodist Federation for Social Action—in collaboration with three others, (4) Evangelical and Reformed Council for Social Reconstruction, (5) Presbyterian Fellowship for Social Action, and (6) Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, combined in 1936 (when the Communist "United Front" movement was getting strongly under way) to establish the United Christian Council for Democracy. After a somewhat prolonged and extreme pro-Communist line of activity under the leadership, first of the Rev. Richard Morford (later sentenced for Contempt of Congress) followed by the Rev. John W. Darr, Jr., the Unitarian Fellowship in 1948 withdrew. Both Morford and Darr have been highly useful to the Communist Party cause.

Another ardent movement of the Left in religion is the National Religion and Labor Foundation which follows the Socialist pro-labor, anti-private enterprise line strongly. In January of 1948, it called a Pittsburgh convention of labor leaders and "liberal" preachers to create some semblance that the "labor movement" has Christian sponsorship. A report of that meeting postulated a suggestion that—"A socialism akin to that now emerging in Great Britain, which strives to combine individual freedom and common economic security, is more in keeping with the Judeo-Christian doctrines of a good human community than is either capitalism or communism." Again—"The profit motive, when exalted into pure self-seeking, is a manifestation of original sin." (The farmer then who grows grain to make money is committing sin.) The term above—"Judeo-Christian"—is being promoted more and more, es-

Public Rally Successful

As an opening salvo in its announced campaign to activate the general public against Marxism, the National Action League held, on the afternoon of Friday, July 22, a three hour public demonstration, at which many copies of COMMON SENSE were distributed.

The rally, located on Reynburn Plaza across from Philadelphia's City Hall, featured pertinent facts about Communism, Political Zionism and World Federalist conspiracy, the three spearheads of Marxist intrigue in America. Passersby, for whose attention the demonstration was scheduled, also heard William J. O'Brien, the League's Assistant National Director, give a descriptive account of the Soviet-styled terror raid which a number of weeks ago was carried out upon the offices of COMMON SENSE.

The oppressive heat precluded the concentrated gathering of a formal meeting, but the purpose of reaching the people with the Nation's anti-Communist newspaper was well served.

In the evening, Mr. O'Brien appeared before an audience of the home unit of the Nationalist Action League. At this meeting, the League's work of coordinating and unifying the ranks of anti-Marxist forces on our eastern coast was re-emphasized, and the vow to strengthen and expand it received enthusiastic approval.

Red Demonstration Flops

At a few minutes before midnight on the evening of our own activities, elements of the so-called Progressive Party of America (Wallaceites) joined with other left-wingers to stage what was to pass as a "pro-veteran" demonstration outside Philadelphia's City Hall. The unusual hour chosen has prompted the suggestion that this gathering was hastily arranged as a "reply" to our N. A. L. rally of the same afternoon.

The Communists reckoned without the presence of three N. A. L. members who promptly identified the demonstration as Marxist, and also a militant anti-Communist who supported them. The latter gentleman, who cannot be identified, listened and watched for several minutes while our members challenged the demonstrators as being Soviet sympathizers. He then began a one-man exposure of the Stalin-lovers. Soon, and without stirring disorder, this good American had won the attention of a large crowd of spectators, all of whom ignored the Red agitators in their desire to hear this speaker. One by one, Communists and those at least partially sympathetic to their cause tried to ruffle and confuse the gentleman, but he was more than a match for them.

By 2:00 a.m., the sympathy of the onlookers was actively anti-Communist. The great Red demonstration petered away to almost nothing, as Philadelphia police finally came to escort one of the leaders from the streets. The people, however, refused to leave the scene, insisting upon asking questions and hearing more from the man who had acted as a committee of one to humble and finally disperse the Marxist trouble-makers.

The American who accomplished this feat will read this account, and so it is the wish of both the Nationalist Action League and COMMON SENSE to once more congratulate him upon a task well done. He proved, on the morning of July 23rd, that Communists and their fellow-travelers can be cleared from our midst, not by denying them their right to speak, but simply by exposing them in all their deceit and treachery before the decent-minded citizens of our Republic.

How about YOU? Will YOU dare to speak up for Christ and America the next time the Reds decide to come to the surface in YOUR city or town? Try it, and see how many loyal Americans there will be to give you support.

F. E. P. C. in Philadelphia

In this column, in a past issue, we reported the existence of an unfair and unlawful attempt to circumvent the provisions of Philadelphia's Communist-backed-and-won Fair Employment Practices ordinance. The attempt, carried out by a non-Christian employer and an official of the Commission appointed to administer the law, is now fully bared in a pamphlet released by Kern Dodge, Lewis Tower Building, Philadelphia 2, Pa. Those desiring copies are asked to enclose postage, and to mention the Nationalist Action League and COMMON SENSE in their correspondence.

Mr. Dodge, former Director of Public Safety for the City of Philadelphia, appeared in opposition to the passage of the F.E.P.C. legislation in City Council last year. He stated at that time that the projected law constituted the granting of special favor for selected political minorities, and his latest report confirms the correctness of this evaluation. It should be read by every American who would understand the true nature and motives of F.E.P.C., and the forces now favoring its passage by our U. S. Congress in Washington.

World Government Treason

The movement to annex our Republic to a super-World State and to place a European-Asiatic banner of triumph above our Stars and Stripes is snow-balling to dangerous proportions. Only the IMMEDIATE and STRONGLY-WORDED protests of every American who still honors the Nation for which so many have poured out their life's blood can maintain our Independence and roll back the traitorous tide.

Two broad "plans" are being urged upon our Congress. The first revolves about the design laid down by Ely Culbertson, contract bridge authority and dilettante world political reformer, which envisions the incorporation of all national governments into a supra-national World Federation. This is the "model" plan being fostered by the highly-financed United World Federalists, who are spearheading the attack upon our national independence and self-sovereignty. The second proposal, being used as a "compromise" or "alternative" in the event that our Congress rebels against approval of the first, provides for the political unification of the so-called Atlantic Pact Nations, which would establish the precedent for later moves aimed toward the step-by-step establishment of full World Government.

Thus far, 21 State Legislatures and 91 U. S. Congressmen have gone upon official record in favoring the principle of World Union. These actions have been taken without adequate discussion of the issues involved and, with one notable exception, without consulting with the opinions of the general American voting public.

Only in the State of California has there developed a militant opposition to these plans for destroying our integrity as an independent and sovereign nation. In that State, several loyal and responsible organizations have taken, and are taking, strenuous action to have repealed Assembly Joint Resolution 26, which placed the California Legislature upon record as favoring World Government.

On June 1, the American Defense League, 1325 Miller Drive, Los Angeles 46, California, adopted a resolution condemning World Federation. It urged the Legislature to rescind Assembly Joint Resolution 26, and to conduct an investigation into the possible affiliations which may exist between the World Federalists and the Communist Party. On June 21, nineteen California State Senators responded by introducing Senate Joint Resolution 36, calling upon the Legislature to withdraw its approval of the World Federalist principle. One of the Senators introducing this pro-American measure was Jack B. Tenney, courageous Chairman of the California Un-American Activities Committee.

Mobilizing for the protection of our republic, also, is the Partisan Republicans of California, P. O. Box 1281, Los Angeles 53, California. This organization is attempting to remold the Republican Party into an effective anti-Marxist instrument, by cleansing it of its pro-radical, pro-New Deal elements. It is naturally opposing World Federalism as a disloyal movement for the de-nationalization of America.

Finally, the powerful Hollywood Republican Committee is taking its stand for America, against World Federalism. Led by its consistently anti-Communist president, George L. Murphy, the committee has stood in the forefront in combating Red influences on the West Coast, and more especially in the nation's cinema center.

Outside California, however, resistance to the inroads being made by the United World Federalists is negligible. We are here-sounding, therefore, a serious appeal to every reader of this paper to become actively interested in this cause. Let your United States and State Senators and Representatives know what you think of any and all plans to rob our republic of its independence and right to self-rule. If you live in any of the 21 states whose legislatures have adopted World Government resolutions, act to interest your local political, civic, religious or patriotic groups in drafting proposals for rescinding such hasty commitments. You can also encourage those who are fighting to retain your American citizenship, by advising the three California organizations previously mentioned of your agreement with their endeavors.

The Nationalist Action League will be happy to supply the names of the 21 states which have recorded themselves in favor of World Government, as well as of the 91 misguided U. S. Congressmen who have, in fact, violated their Oaths of Allegiance to America by following suit. We shall also endeavor to supply the answers to any questions pertaining to this subject, and to advise those who are interested on how to inaugurate action against the World Federalist design in their own localities.

Organization Continues

We have been encouraged by those who have contacted us in response to our appeal for support in organizing for political action prior to the elections of 1950. The favorable comments made by a number of readers concerning our detailed League program have been especially heartening, and we therefore hope that this month will bring a total response from all those who have delayed in sending for the program, since the Fall season is almost here and our full-scale activities are about to begin.

One of our objectives is to establish small units in communities all over New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Delaware and Maryland, within the next two months. Toward this end, we shall be anxious for the opportunity of meeting personally with those willing to assemble ten or more loyal Americans together for a house meeting. If you are interested in sponsoring such a gathering at your home, please advise us of the time and date most convenient. This will provide a fine opportunity for expanding our activities, by permitting us to personally PROVE the dire need for immediate ACTION in thwarting the plans of America's most determined foes.

pecially by Socialist groups like this one. It is a complete misnomer. Judaism and Christianity are completely different—uniquely distinctive—and there are many important reasons why the two words should not in this way be linked together.

One of the N. R. and L. F. Board members is Dr. Dwight Bradley who (before he was released in 1945) was Executive Director of the Council for Social Action of the Congregational and Christian Churches. This organization with a long pro-Leftist line of action has been highly criticized by many Congregational churchmen. After leaving the Foundation, Bradley joined Sidney Hillman and the CIO by becoming Director of "The Religious Associates of the National Citizens Political Action Committee," the purpose of which (through the 1946 and 1948 political campaigns) was to utilize the names of a number of intellectual and social leaders to give weight to political propaganda put out by this Sidney Hillman-CIO outfit. Its Board of Advisors contained Rabbis—preachers—educators—scores of names of the Left persuasion. During the political campaigns mentioned, this organization kept up a torrential mailing to preachers of pro-labor and pro-New Deal literature.

The "Red" Dean of Canterbury (Hewlett Johnson) has been a frequent visitor to this country, addressing thousands of people with his pro-Soviet bias. Even with the wide publicity that has been given to his pro-Communist position and purpose many American churchmen are willing to sponsor his U.S.A. propaganda tours. On his last visit (a few months ago) the recently retired President of the Chicago Theological Seminary was on the "Red" Dean's reception committee in Los Angeles.

A few years ago this same British "Red" Dean of Canterbury wrote a strong pro-Communist book called "The Soviet Power." U. S. Communists printed and distributed over a million copies. One edition contained a cover inscription signed by thirteen well known Christian churchmen which said: "We believe that The Soviet Power should have a hearing among Protestant Church members." This certainly is Marxism invading the churches. Just what it is about the Soviet brand of atheism that has had so wide an appeal to SOME preachers is difficult to understand.

Two major reasons for this are generally ascribed. (1) The rise of "Christian Socialism" (under different guises) has inculcated a feeling of suspicion and distrust of private enterprise—it being the nature and purpose of "socialism" in any form to discredit private enterprise so that State ownership can more easily be superimposed upon the people. (2) There has also been an unconscious acceptance on the part of some of our good pastors that Communism was not atheistically predatory toward Protestantism. This deception has been skilfully maneuvered by Communist leaders under the old strategy of "pick one off at a time."

Recent arrest of Protestant leaders in Soviet satellite countries should awaken the most naive as to the anti-religious purpose of Communism. An official magazine "Communist" (April 1935) carried a story by Communist Earl Browder entitled "Religion and Communism." This was a reprint of a "discussion with a group of Students of the Union Theological Seminary" (NY) led by Browder. His line of double-talk to these students is exemplified in this statement—"... the Communist Party is absolutely opposed to any form of coercion on religious matters. Communists are for religious freedom unconditionally. The Communists do not consider religion a private matter when it concerns revolutionists." Communists are dedicated entirely to revolution so Browder, with his Aesopian language, made a sop-statement for the students then contradicted it in language they might not grasp. But he did tell them frankly that "The Communist Party takes the position that the social function of religion and religious institutions is to act as an opiate to keep the lower classes passive, to make them accept the bad conditions under which they have to live in the hope of a reward after death."

Browder admitted that "... it is quite clear that the Communist Party is the enemy of religion. We Communists try to do the opposite of what we hold religion does." Then he stated—"You may be interested to know that we have preachers, preachers active in churches, who are members of the Communist Party. There are churches in the United States where the preachers preach Communism from the pulpit, in a primitive form of course." He meant, presumably, that they went as far as they dared.

One of the problems in facing this challenge is unawareness. Too few understand the subtlety and trickery of the Marxist movement—and those behind it. Another problem is the confusion that results from a continuous barrage of propaganda and double-talk that uses such high sounding phrases as "tolerance" and "brotherhood" when, in truth, these crusaders are often the most intolerant and unbrotherly people one can meet unless one agrees with them one hundred per cent. Too many of these "brotherhood" doctrinaires have found this an easy way to push the "classless" doctrinology of socialism and communism.

Still another problem that rises in dealing with this great challenge is the real meaning of Liberalism. One great preacher who recently went from the middle west to one of the oldest churches in New York city has expressed to us the opinion that about the most illiberal people he ever meets are those who make the most noise about their liberalism.

We have, herein, already discussed the confusion that "new social order liberalism" has produced. We will add only this comparison. Thomas Jefferson was known as a great liberal. He believed in limited government. The crusading "liberals" of today want Big Government socialism. Jefferson believed in the dignity and greatness of individualism. Our new "liberals" profess to want socialistic collectivism. Jefferson believed in thrift. The "liberals" of today are all out for extravagance—for deficit spending. Jefferson believed in the security of self support. Modern "liberals" believe that Government owes every man a living—and must support him when he quits work for any purpose.

These are critical days. Turbulence and confusion are rampant. A tidal wave of revolution is sweeping the world. It is time to be careful what we are following and what we are abandoning. Our hope for the future is to hold fast to CHRISTIANITY and AMERICANISM.

For seventeen years the United States has been under rule by Zionists who are now becoming bolder as their plan for world control draws near completion.

To understand how this satanic anti-Christian group uses non-Zionists to carry out their plan, order the new sensational booklet

IS "ONE WORLD" THE ANSWER?

By Congressman Wm. Lemke

William Lemke

What is treason? In its broader sense it consists of a desire to overthrow the government. This by force or other unconstitutional means. To convict a person under our constitution he must have committed an overt act. Just what that overt act consists of is a question of both law and fact.

The Communists want our government overthrown and the Russian dictatorship of liquidation and enslavement adopted. The innocent victims of so-called Russian Communism are not aware that the Russian form of government is not Communistic. It is a dictatorship of liquidation and enslavement. These victims do not know that in Russia 90 percent live in constant fear and poverty—that 75 percent are in rags and live on a mere subsistence.

On the other hand our "One Worlders"—for a profit, also have innocent victims. Some of these are State and National legislators who in their innocence would surrender our sovereignty, betray and destroy our government and substitute a world government. The objective of both the Communists and the Internationalists is the same. We feel sorry for those who blindly follow either of the above groups. They have been deceived by false propaganda. They know not what they do.

Let us give free transportation to the blind followers of treasonable doctrines to the country they love best. Let's keep them there for a year so that they may become fully acquainted with liquidation and enslavement—with the aims of the one worlders and all the other isms they so readily and blindly accepted.

In the past we have had "One-World" governments. Alexander the Great, Charlemagne, Caesar and Napoleon all were "One-Worlders." Their governments all crumbled because of arrogance, dictatorship and corruption. Idealistically we too may dream of a perfect world government. Realistically we know it is but a dream.

We have had enough time to keep Washington in the straight and narrow path. How much harder would it be if we had to go to Moscow or London where all the other nations would gang up on us? We have already gone too far with the insane policy of the one worlders. A policy that is depleting our natural resources that belong to unborn millions.

The time has come that we throw up the blinds and let in the white light of publicity on these Internationalists. They are more dangerous than the Communists. They would substitute a mongrel flag for the Stars and Stripes.

God Save the King

By TOM LINDER
Commissioner of Agriculture
Atlanta, Georgia

(Editor's Note: This article is interesting when we remember that the Marshall Plan is a creation of Zionists and directed by Lehman Bros., Zionists, for whom Paul-G. Hoffman has worked as head of their Studebaker Corp. Also, Unilever, controlling many companies all over the world, is Zionist owned. One of their companies, Lever Bros., controls practically all soap companies in the United States including Procter and Gamble. Charles Luckman, former Food Administrator under Truman, is President of Lever Bros. Hence we see that this administration is more interested in World Zionists than in our own farmers.)

When you are in Canada at a public gathering very often you are called upon to stand and say, "God Save the King." Saying "God Save the King," in Canada, is comparable with standing and saluting the flag in this country when you attend meetings of various groups.

When the Canadians stand and say, "God Save the King," it means their allegiance to the King of England. When we salute the flag, it means our allegiance to the American flag.

Since a Collectivist Government has taken charge in England, it seems that the King is in need of saving. It seems that not only the people of Canada, but the people of the United States also are called upon to say "God Save the King."

WHOM DO WE FEED AND HOW?

I have before me figures of the ECA which buys supplies, under the Marshall Plan, at the direction of Administrator, Paul G. Hoffman.

I have had compiled for the period of five months, September 1, 1948, through January 31, 1949, total purchases of bacon, flour and wheat, in what country purchased and to what country sent.

All bacon purchased during this period was purchased in Canada and shipped to England.

Not one pound was purchased in the United States. Not one pound went to any other country except England. Total purchases of bacon were 110,565,374 pounds at a cost of $35,445,252.03.

During the same period, purchases of Canadian flour for shipment to England amounted to 5,997,965 bags of 140 lbs. each. The cost of this flour was $35,481,749.22. During the same period, small quantities of flour were purchased in Canada and shipped to Holland, Norway and France. The amount of Canadian flour, however, shipped to Holland, Norway and France was rather insignificant as compared to the amount going to Great Britain.

During the same period, the amount of flour purchased in the United States was only a fraction of that purchased in Canada. The flour purchased in the United States went to France, Italy, Norway, Africa and Java.

During the same five months, purchases of wheat in Canada and shipped to England were 50,645,225 bushels at a cost of $89,878,140.39. Wheat purchased in Canada for shipment to other countries was negligible in comparison.

Wheat purchased during the same period in the United States amounted roughly to 10 per cent of the wheat purchased in Canada.

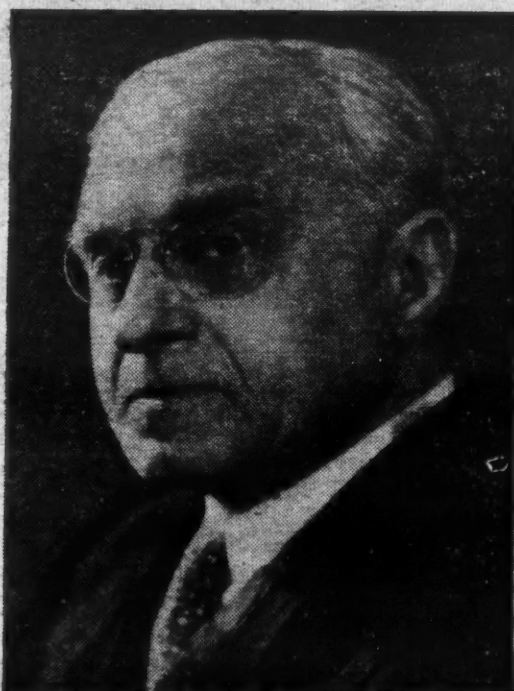

COTTON

During six months, from August 1, 1948, through January 31, 1949, total purchases of cotton were equivalent to 918,544 bales averaging 500 pounds. The average cost of the cotton was 36 1-5 cents a pound. There is nothing to indicate the grade or staple.

During the first two months, August and

FELIX FRANKFURTER

Felix Frankfurter, through whom the Zionist Invisible Government passes its orders on to Truman, the State Department and the Immigration Department. Truman knows that an order from Frankfurter is backed by all the Zionists in the world. When Frankfurter forced F. D. R. to appoint him to the Supreme Court, he was openly charged with being a Communist. Since that time, no one may be appointed to a vacancy on the Supreme bench without a nod of approval from Frankfurter. Dozens of executives of Government departments are "hot dog" boys from Frankfurter's classes at Harvard.

September 1948, total purchases were equal to 366,754 bales of 500 pound average. The average cost was 37.71c per pound. There is no explanation as to why it was necessary to pay 37.71c per pound in August and September. During the next four months, the average cost was around 35c per pound.

A remarkable thing in this connection is that practically all of the 37c cotton was purchased from Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company and McFadden and Brother and was shipped to China.

During August and September 1948, there went to China, in equivalent of 500 pound bales, 282,083 bales at an average cost of approximately 37 1/2c per pound.

Nothing else was shipped to China, only cotton.

WHATYOU MAYCALLIT

September 1948, ECA purchased from Unilever Grandstoffen Maatschappij, Rotterdam, Holland, and shipped it to Oesterreichische Unilever, Vienna, Austria, 60,000 Kilos of Lard Compound Tablets that cost $39,360.00 and 580 M. T. of Lard Compound and Tablets at a cost of $380,280.00.

September 1948, ECA purchased from Unilever Grandstoffen, Rotterdam, Holland, 398,

"Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death!"

—Patrick Henry, 1775.

These words have always touched me so deeply that, when I was in Richmond, Virginia, I went to the little church and stood in the exact spot in the pew where Patrick Henry stood when he delivered his plea for liberty. Pausing there, trying to visualize the situation at that time, I repeated his words for I am convinced that the United States now faces a situation ten times more alarming than that in 1775. The outlook for the United States is ten times more terrifying than it was before our entry into World War II.

Our danger is from "within" where men like Felix Frankfurter are manipulating us into another war, using the Soviet Union and the atom bomb to scare us and create emergencies so Frankfurter's Zionists will be given control of Government departments they do not now control. Zionists in Europe are working up this war from their end.

The Atomic Energy Committee is completely controlled by Zionists David Lilienthal and Lewis Strauss, the latter of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The State Department is completely controlled by Zionist Frankfurter thru stooge Dean Acheson. All Zionists and their stooges have worked with and for Communism in the United States, China or Europe, and they work day and night preparing us for a phoney war with their friend, the Soviet Union.

How can we expect to win this war when several million Marxists, friends of the Soviet Union, are here? Many occupy influential positions in our government and unions; thousands of them are merchants who enjoy the confidence of their neighbors, and thousands more are swarming in every week through Mexico, Cuba and Canada. How many Americans are in Russia to disrupt the U.S.S.R. during war? NONE.

Zionists who propagandized us into the last war to crush Europe have scared Congress into voting the Atlantic Pact as a move toward World Government. The United World Federalists, puppet of Zionists Warburgs, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Herbert Lehman, are using the slogan "one world or none" to frighten people into a slavery much worse than Patrick Henry had in mind.

Germany today is under complete Zionist rule—this is accomplished by remote control with non-Zionist stooges to front for them. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., international Jewish bankers of Wall Street, through its President, Jacob Schiff, financed the 276 Zionists who left the East Side of New York in 1917 to help Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin overthrow the Russian Government and set up Communism. (It is reported that Jacob Schiff put up $48,000,000 for establishing these revolutionists in Russia.) His granddaughter, a chip off the old block, now publishes the pro-Marxist New York Post.

DeGersdorf, Cravath, Swain & Moore, New York attorneys firm, have been legal advisers for Kuhn, Loeb & Co. for thirty years. John J.

McCloy, Frankfurter's student at Harvard, and a member of that firm, has a good Irish name which does not draw suspicion. In 1941 Kuhn, Loeb & Co. had him appointed Assistant Secretary of War under Henry Stimson, whom F. D. R. appointed from that same law firm. Incidentally, Kuhn, Loeb were instrumental in having Frank Knox appointed Secretary of the Navy at the same time—it is reported that Kuhn, Loeb owned 51% of the stock of Knox's paper, The Chicago News.

But to return to McCloy: Ed. M. M. Warburg, top man in Kuhn, Loeb now, and incidentally with James Warburg and the Lehman Brothers top men in the United World Federalists, had Johnnie McCloy pushed up from Assistant Secretary of War to President of the World Bank (also a tool of Zionists). Then McCloy, having proven his trustworthiness to the Zionist cause, was appointed High Commissioner of Germany. McCloy has been thoroughly tested, just as Forrestal was. Jacob Schiff had been with M. M. Warburg & Co., private banking firm in Hamburg, Germany, leaving there in 1875 to become head of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in New York. Jacob Schiff's policy had always been to unite all Jewish banking firms in one group—so here we see who is ruling Germany, giving orders which manufacturing firms are to be destroyed and which are to be financed and prosper. And who is to take these factories from the Germans.

Paul Hoffman, President of Studebaker Corp. and head of the Marshall Plan (E.C.A.) is traveling over Europe, giving orders as to how governments must be run if they are to receive American taxpayers' money.

Lehman Brothers Corp. controls the Studebaker Corp. and one of the Lehmans is Vice-President. Hence, we see that Zionists behind a machine of International bankers have taken over Europe after our military forces and taxpayers' money rendered it helpless. Keep in mind that this group turned the U. S. upside down to push us into war.

It is also interesting to know that the Marshall Plan was written by a ZIONIST born in Russia, Lewis LEVITSKI (LEVINE). His present name is Lewis Lorwin, and he is on the government payroll.

Although the governments of Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Yugoslavia and practically all the rest of Europe are tagged "Communist" or "Socialistic" they are actually under the firm direction of Zionism. Hence, those who wish to free Cardinal Mindszenty should address their appeals to influential Zionists.

Felix Frankfurter has worked closely with Kuhn, Loeb & Co. by placing many of his Communist cronies from Harvard in key spots in the New Deal where they could serve ZIONISM.

So, we see that F.D.R. ran our country for the Zionists, as directed by them. These same Zionists keep Truman interested in fishing and piano playing while they use up the resources of the United States to set up a Zionist World Government at the United Nations and Palestine.

Here are a few of the hundreds of Zionists in key spots in the United States Government: Brig. Gen. A. Robert Ginsberg, Public Relations man for Army and Navy.

Lt. Gen. Herbert Feldman, Quartermaster General, United States Army, now under suspension as a 5 per center.

Benjamin Cohen—gives orders to Trygve Lie, Secretary of the United Nations.

David Niles (Neyhus)—keeps watch on Truman that he follows Zionist plans.

David Lillenthal, Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission.

Lewis Strauss (Kuhn, Loeb & Co.), member of Atomic Energy Commission.

Felix Frankfurter—Supreme Court. Also rules the State Department.

Henry Morgenthau—Gave our money printing plates to Communists in Russian-occupied Germany, among other crimes. Communists printed an estimated nine billions in our money for cost of the paper. It is believed that this is the money refugees have been using to buy property in the U. S.

Samuel Rosenman—Wrote speeches for F.D.R.

Congress should investigate Zionism and decide if Zionists should be allowed to hold responsible positions in the United States government.

George Washington said at Valley Forge: "Put only Americans on guard tonight."

A Book You Should Read

Republished from Clover Business Letter
By E. B. GALLAHER, M. E.

Yards of bookshelves have been filled with books written by New Dealers extolling Franklin D. Roosevelt as the saviour of America and to justify themselves; but it has remained for John T. Flynn to dig up the facts and write an authenticated textbook, "The Roosevelt Myth."

Mr. Flynn's book is easy to read as he takes you step by step with Roosevelt through his years as President. Completely documented, accurate and unbiased, the author tells the country just what kind of a president we had from 1932 until his death.

I think it will be a shock to those who did not know him personally. To those who did know him from the time he was a student at Harvard, the book simply verifies and confirms our opinions of his character.

"The Roosevelt Myth" is extremely important reading, as it gives the groundwork of an almost successful attempt to convert the country into a Socialistic State; it also provides an accurate background for what is taking place today in Washington.

"The Roosevelt Myth" should be read and digested by everyone capable of reading, as the author names names, pulls no punches. He is, however, absolutely fair in his statements, all of which are documented.

Incidentally, it was because we were aware of what was going on behind our iron curtain that we fought this outrageous scandal from the very beginning.

I have bought half a dozen copies of "The Roosevelt Myth" and am sending them to friends with the following inscribed on the title page: "You owe it to your country, to yourself and to your family to read this book. It is being loaned to you with the request that, immediately after reading, you send it to some friend, requesting that it be passed on from one to another as rapidly as possible." Possibly you might care to do the same thing?

This book may be ordered from COMMON SENSE, price $3.50.

September 1948, ECA purchased 746,191 Kilos of Whale Oil from De Nordiske Fabriker, Oslo, Norway, and shipped it to Oesterreichische Unilever, Vienna, Austria, at a cost of $453,684.14.

September 1948, ECA purchased from Instituto Cubano De Est Del Azucar, Habana, Cuba, 1,832,007 gallons of alcohol and shipped it to Un puerto de la Gran, England, and British Supply Office at a cost of $1,278,906.41.

AMERICAN FARMERS

Down here in Georgia, we have millions of gallons of syrup.

Here in the United States they tell us that lard is a drug on the market.

The report does not explain why the ECA purchased two separate shipments of lard from Unilever of Rotterdam, Holland, and shipped them to Unilever in Vienna, Austria.

As you will remember I have informed you in previous articles that Unilever of Rotterdam and Unilever of Austria is the same corporation as Lever Bros. in our own country. We cannot help but wonder why this lard was not shipped to a government agency instead of the same firm in another country.

These two shipments bought from Unilever in one country and shipped to Unilever in another country cost the taxpayers of these United States nearly one million dollars.

At the same time our Government was buying lard from Unilever in Holland and shipping it to Unilever in Austria, they were telling us lard in our own country was a drug upon the market. Also at this same time our government was placing a floor under the price of cotton seed to keep it from going below cost of production. This same thing applies to Soybeans.

A few years ago, the American taxpayers' money was used to construct large plants for producing alcohol.

The American taxpayers' dollars are now going to buy these things in foreign countries. In spite of this, the Senate killed an amendment which would have forced a fair portion of Marshall Plan funds to be spent for American products.

By Merwin K. Hart, President
National Economic Council, Inc.

Merwin K. Hart

The motion to rescind the Communist-inspired United Nations' resolution of 1946 failed by four votes to get the necessary two-thirds. Yet this same Assembly of the United Nations voted to admit the new so-called State of Israel to membership. And the representatives of Israel in the United Nations promptly voted in opposition to the resumption of relations with Spain. Just one further piece of evidence that the United Nations itself, the setting up of this Communist State of Israel and the attempt to outlaw Spain are all the work of one influence—the influence of the Zionist-Communists.

What Happened To Forrestal

On Sunday, May 22nd, James Forrestal, formerly Under Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of Defense, and one of the most unselfish and able public servants the United States has had in many years, committed suicide.

Mr. Forrestal, who had differed widely from established government policy with respect to weakening the life-line to the world's greatest source of oil, to the setting up of Israel, to the refusal to restore diplomatic relations with Spain and to kindred matters, had for many months been brutally and cruelly attacked by radio "commentators" like "Walter Winchell" and Drew Pearson.

We have never known either of these latter "gentlemen" to say a friendly word on behalf of anyone who had opposed the domination of the United States by either Communism or Zionism. We ourselves, having constantly opposed both these alien influences, have been scornfully attacked by both.

Apparently the sensitive nature of Mr. Forrestal, who had worn himself out in the service of his country, cracked under the vituperations of these Sunday evening broadcasters and others who applied ceaseless, vindictive pressure.

The fate of Mr. Forrestal is, we believe, characteristic of the fate to which both Communists and Zionists would willingly consign any person who ventures to differ with them—however slightly. This vindictiveness is illustrated not only in driving a man to suicide, but in the constant efforts by men like "Winchell" and Pearson and others little less notorious, to assassinate or mar the character or reputation of any individual or group that ventures to stand up for truly American principles.

In passing, we have reason to believe that the growing timidity and unwillingness of many corporation managers to subscribe to organizations like NEC which stand forthrightly for America and the welfare of the American people is due to the machinations and intimidations practiced by representatives of Communism and, particularly, Zionism.

Of course, once Mr. Forrestal was gone, he had no louder singers of his praise than the very people who had been his detractors. Thus has it ever been with cowards.

Wanton Destruction Of Military Materiel

Mr. Herbert Hoover, Chairman of the Congressional Commission that for the past two years has been making a study of the administrative departments of the Government, stated in one of his concluding reports, in substance, that a mystery surrounded the vanishing of huge quantities of military materiel, following the conclusion of hostilities in 1945. He stated that investigation might disclose a scandal even exceeding that of Pearl Harbor. He pointed out that at the end of the World War we had full materiel for 89 divisions, while at the present time the materiel available is hardly adequate for 18 divisions.

In other words the equipment for 71 divisions had been destroyed or given away or sold under circumstances equivalent to giving it away. Indeed, there is evidence that a substantial quantity of it has found its way into the hands of Soviet Russia and her satellites.

This destruction or giving away of military, naval and air equipment was done when the controlling power in the Washington Administration was in the hands of the very people who dictated unconditional surrender by Germany and Japan, the dropping of the atomic bombs, the Nuremberg trials, and the scrapping of German industrial plants and the Morgenthau Plan generally. It was they who set up the "United Nations" which from the beginning has been an incitement to war.

These same influences have created the international alphabetical agencies such as ITO, UNESCO, IRO and the many others, any one of which has got the power to impair or destroy the independence of the United States.

The destruction of materiel and equipment went so far as to include precision instruments and watches; it included not only finished product but product well-nigh finished. It included jigs, dies, and perhaps even blueprints.

If Mr. Hoover's figures are correct, and he is not given to citing figures that are not, then the equipment for 71 divisions, not to speak of full pipe lines of parts which themselves represented many billions of value, has disappeared.

If the equipment of an average division is valued at, say, two hundred millions, it is not impossible that, including air equipment, from 15 to 30 billion dollars' worth of military, naval and air materiel was wantonly destroyed or given away or sold for a song. Part of the materiel given away or sold is now making possible the conquest of China by Soviet Russia—the most ghastly disaster American diplomacy has ever suffered.

All this materiel was produced by the arduous work of millions of American workers. It was produced under the supervision of managers, many of whom, like General Knudsen, went to their death as a result of overwork. It was produced by use of metals and ores of which the United States now has dwindling supplies or none at all.

And in recent months the United States has again been feverishly at work on plans to "re-arm" our own forces—and the administration is getting ready also to re-arm Europe.

One Pattern Runs Through It All

We see in all these disastrous moves or failures to move a pattern that permits only one interpretation.

Someone has said that when he sees a bird with a large body and short web-footed legs, that swims and quacks and waddles like a duck and looks like a duck—it is a fair conclusion that it is a duck.

Any person of ordinary intelligence and knowledge of history, who surveys and thinks through the acts and omissions in foreign policy by the United States Government during the past 16 years is led to just one inescapable conclusion. The conclusion is that this great and formerly free and independent nation has fallen into the hands of aliens or persons of alien mind and thought; that well-nigh every step taken by our State Department has been in the service of these aliens or alien minds; that well-nigh everything that has happened has resulted in huge cost of life, property and prestige—indeed, in disaster to the interests of the American people.

We Charge!

It is a time for plain speaking. We charge solemnly and publicly before the Congress of the United States that this Government is now and has long been in the control of Communism or communist-influenced persons and of the Zionists. No other explanation is possible.

The whole horrible mess in which we now find ourselves did not happen by accident. It came about by design—and we believe the designers to be the Communists and the Zionists.

We ask the Congress of the United States to put aside every pending project, and to set up a committee of its ablest and most fearless men of both parties to sift this charge.

THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

By Rev. John R. Gilpin
(Reprinted from Bible News Flashes)

The Federal Council of Churches—

Seeks to destroy the "Faith" and thru its communistic tendencies, would destroy democracy.

Is opposed to free enterprise, freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of worship. If allowed to succeed, their program would produce a totalitarian tyranny of religion.

Their goal—a world socialistic state, both religious and political.

Seeks to federate and thereby destroy all denominations.

Takes a compromising position on every Bible doctrine and moral issue.

Teaches, champions, exploits and exhorts in behalf of the communistic principles of godless Russia.

Is post-millennial in its attitude and teaching.

Is socialistic, educational and ethical.

Preaches an ethical, rather than a sacrificial Christ.

Talks more about the Christ who lived on earth than the Christ who died on the cross.

Preaches the moral rather than the penal, sacrifice of Christ.

Preaches a social, rather than a personal, gospel.

Seeks to save society, rather than the individual.

Makes civilization and not salvation the supreme purpose of the Church.

Talks of the teachings, ideals and principles of Christ and not of the atoning blood of Christ.

Substitutes the kingdom of Christ for the Church of Christ.

Confounds the gospel of grace with the gospel of the Kingdom.

Teaches the Kingdom of Christ to be established by preaching the gospel; while Scripture declares the kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ only at His Second Coming.

Preaches regeneration but means regeneration of society.

Seeks to turn the churches into community centers, to be interested in all that may interest the community; while Scripture demands that the Church shall come out, be separate from the community, and be interested in one thing—the preaching of Christ and Him crucified.

THIS SHOULD NOT HAPPEN HERE

Czechoslovakia operating behind the iron curtain is shipping and selling to the United States rubber footwear, leather shoes, gloves, felt hats, glassware, rugs and over a hundred other items. This merchandise is selling in America for 20% to 40% less than can be sold if made by American workmen. This is alarming to our own manufacturing concerns and demoralizing to the American working people. If such practice is allowed to continue the American wage will drop from 30% to 50%. Write to your United States senator and representative in Congress and the editor of your local newspaper. Protest this trade treaty with Czechoslovakia. Lifting the Lid

Roses? Yes, I love them; always have. Still, I must confess that this year I've been looking with disfavor at the red ones in my garden. Even went so far as to set out some new rose bushes; I'm going to try cultivating YELLOW ones.

There's so much RED in this country of ours, I'm growing allergic to the color. RED—Communist RED.

Take the IWO for instance. High falutin' sounding name—International Workers Order. It's all RED.

With branches scattered over 44 of our 48 United States, the District of Columbia, as well as Canada, this Communist-front organization boasts an income exceeding $1,000,000 per year.

Who said so? Max Bedacht, former general secretary of the IWO, in his testimony before a Congressional Committee.

Nice man, Max. Busy as a little bee, he promoted his Marxist-Stalin propaganda when he was general secretary of the Communist Party of the U. S. in 1929. A former editor of Communist, Max Bedacht found time to be a delegate to various congresses of the Communist International, and served as a member of the executive committee of the Communist International. He also edited Soviet Russia.

When called before the Congressional Committee, he found it easy to admit his belief that the Soviet Constitution is superior to the American Constitution. But, he refused to declare whether he would support the United States in the event of war with Soviet Russia and stated emphatically "that the decision of the Communist International must be executed loyally."

Loyalty? To what? To whom?

To International Workers Order, of course. The same IWO which, soon after its phoney founding as a "fraternal insurance movement" in 1930 by its incorporators Abraham Epstein, Nathan Shaffer, Meyer Loonin, Rubin Saltzman, Joseph R. Brodsky, Elias Wattenberg, Max Steinberg, Paul Novick, Hyman I. Costrell, Hyman Grossman, Morris Korofsky, William Weiner, and Samuel Almazoff, issued a pamphlet outlining its principles:

The International Workers Order realizes that the workers must organize to advance against capitalism. The International Workers Order realizes there is no way out for capitalism. The International Workers Order views with pride and joy the Soviet Union, which is the only country where there is no crisis.

The IWO realizes that the only party that leads the working class in the struggle against capitalism is the Communist Party, which unites the best and proven members of the working class, and which is bound to become even stronger until the moment will come when the workers under its leadership will overthrow the capitalist system and establish soviets.

We therefore endorse the Communist Party. We aid the party in its struggles.

... Still another struggle on the calendar of the working class is the struggle to defend the Soviet Union. Soon we may be called to fight against the Bolsheviks under one pretext or another. It is the task of the International Workers Order to offer the most powerful resistance to these plans.

And these, mind you, are the purposes of an organization with state offices in Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Newark, San Francisco, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh, in addition to locals strewn from coast to coast.

These are the aims of IWO whose receipts from January 1, 1940 to January 1, 1944 amounted to $7,180,832.36 and whose expenditures for travel, organizers, literature, publicity and conventions, during this same period, totaled $4,143,881.42. And we saps who call ourselves Americans allow this monster to operate under the protection of our laws even though we know the IWO is an organization of Traitors.

Still think I'm silly to plant yellow roses? Silly I may be—but believe me, I see Communist RED in International Workers Order.

When the four Zionists raided our office on June 17th, and with the authority of two Zionist deputies took our records to the Court House, COMMON SENSE volunteer workers had their eyes on the records every minute until they were locked behind steel doors in jail where our attorney had them impounded. The ordinary procedure would have been to place the records in a storage warehouse where access could have been attained by the enemy without difficulty.

Mr. Dvorin, the Zionist lawyer, succeeded in having the Zionist Judge Waldman appointed to examine our records (why were they so anxious to examine COMMON SENSE records?). Waldman and Dvorin, with a Court Order, appeared at the jail and were admitted to examine the records. Knowing they would not be allowed to remove any records, they came completely equipped with an electric recorder so that they could dictate information for permanent recording. Unfortunately for these gentlemen, our attorney, John A. Matthews, Jr. appeared and the show did not go on.

We give our readers this information as we want all to know subscription information is held in strictest confidence. We realize too fully our responsibility in this matter. Only two well-tried individuals have access to these names. Be assured that certain records will not be accessible in the future. This reminds us of the story of the colored fellow who was waiting to be hanged. The warden said "Rastus, we are going to hang you now; have you anything to say?" "Yas Sir, I just want to say this is going to be a lesson to me."

Final Warnings

Few people in America are aware that it took only 7,500 Reds in Czechoslovakia, in February, 1948, to maneuver 14,000,000 Czechs into their present plight—a far cry, indeed, from the democracy they cherished and thought could survive any Communist threat, outside of armed invasion. The American ambassador told us that the vast majority of Czechs were violently opposed to Communism. But they took too much for granted, whereas the Reds left no stone unturned to undermine the country.

Even fewer Americans are conscious of the catastrophe that is quietly taking shape in the Orient. It is all part of the long-range plan of the Communists to take over the world. Twenty-five years have passed since Lenin made a grim forecast that is fast becoming a terrifying reality: "The real revolution will blaze forth when the 800,000,000 of Asia unite with us." ... Note well that Lenin speaks of the "real revolution" to come, as if all that preceded is just a dress rehearsal. And secondly, note that it will "blaze forth." Nothing even remotely peaceful about that!

Since the end of the war, less than five years ago, close to a half billion human beings—nearly one-fourth of all mankind—have fallen into a condition of slavery from which there is no foreseeable escape.

Yes, it is late, but not too late to do something. God in His goodness and generosity always blesses any attempt on the part of those who "launch out" in His Name and trust to Him. He never blesses stagnation.

Another opportunity like this may never come again!

This Ought To Be Clear Enough. "Planning social production pre-supposes first of all ending capitalist private property; ending private property pre-supposes the proletarian revolution."—So said the late Harry Gannes ("The Communist," April, 1935).

Poles Sentence Priest to Death

FRANKFURT, Aug. 14—A Polish priest, Wladyslaw Gurgacz, was condemned to death at Krakow yesterday on charges of heading a "gang" which robbed government and cooperative banks to finance activities against the Communist regime, the official Polish news agency reported today. The agency said three other priests were sentenced to 15 years imprisonment and one priest to 10 years.

Editor's Note: After Communists take over, anyone opposed to them becomes a traitor or criminal—it is too late then to try to stop them—and Communism won't just "blow over." It is plain we all will have to take a stand sooner or later—but later is too late.

The Scare Technique

by Merwin K. Hart, President National Economic Council
(From Letter 224-A)

When Mr. Truman announced that the Russians have the atom bomb, the performance was strictly political. It has already begun to pay off. How much more it will pay off depends upon the good sense of the American people, especially those Americans who sit as the Congress of the United States.

Nobody should be under any illusions as to the gravity of the situation now created. It is an ominous portent to the American people. It was a clever blow the President struck, shrewdly calculated to get what he wants by scaring Congress, already over-fatigued from the long session. But a possible consequence, and we weigh our words, is the death of the American Republic.

The scare-technique is not new. We were taken by a succession of synthetic "crises" into World War II, step by step, while we were told at each step that we were thereby averting war. That those sudden crises were trumped-up is not open to argument today. Roosevelt's own apologists admit they were synthetic, but say the American people were deceived for their own good.

The Truman palace guard, a motley collection of opportunists and internationalists willing to sell out the United States so that they may have power upon a larger stage, have learned the old Roosevelt strategy well—have even improved upon it. The successive crises by which they have scared Congress and the people into fantastic and imbecilic adventures at the expense of the overburdened taxpayer all have been calculated to keep them in power and to enlarge their power. By vast expenditures abroad, and by making "the Government" the greatest customer of much of American industry, they accomplish two things at one stroke. They mask the real economic peril in which our economy stands, giving the illusion of prosperity. They bring wide areas of American business into servile subjection—for who will have the temerity to resist the One Great Customer who can ruin you overnight?

These two accomplishments together with the policy that has made them possible, form the apparatus of power. They form as well the apparatus for the continuance of power. But they all depend upon the scare-and-crisis technique.

Into the hands of the Truman palace guard has come a more potent device for terror than ever possessed by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Palace Guard has the Atom Bomb.

Nobody doubts the reality or the effectiveness of the Atom Bomb. Its existence and its possession by the USSR demands supremely straight thinking by the Congress and the people. But the Palace Guard doesn't want us to think. It wants us to be scared to death so that we will do anything and everything we are told by it to do.

Excitement and panic are the enemy of clear

Henry Morgenthau Jr.

While Henry Morgenthau Jr. was Secretary of the Treasury, his undersecretary was Harry Dexter White, both Zionists. Elizabeth Bentley stated, under oath that the Treasury Dept. was saturated with Communists, and when the Soviet Union asked her spy ring for secret information out of the Treasury Dept., Harry Dexter White, a Communist spy, supplied it. Mr. White committed suicide three days after he was exposed. Under the direction of these two Zionists, plates for printing our money was turned over to Communists in Russia where it is believed several billions in money were printed for the mere cost of the paper.

To Our Readers

Once again it has become necessary to delay publishing COMMON SENSE. Due to lack of funds? Could be. But not this time. Interference with our printing arrangement has prevented us from publishing COMMON SENSE. Our next issue will give complete details on the Communist front responsible for the delay. To keep the paper in a current status, we have dated this issue October 15, 1949. Your subscription will be extended accordingly.

In our last issue the article "Zionists Rule Germany" clearly revealed the fact that Zionists govern Germany through international Jewish banking houses such as Lehman Brothers and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. not only financed the Communist revolution in Russia but, in 1917, sent 276 Zionists from East side New York to direct that revolution.

Zionist Edward M. M. Warburg and James Warburg, main wheels in Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are—with Herbert Lehman—the shrewd Zionist hubs directing United World Federalists, a "front" organization now campaigning for World Government.

Confirming our disclosures is the following quoted from the September 20, 1949 issue of the New York Times:

"Benjamin J. Bittenwieser resigned from the N. Y. banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to accept his new post. As Assistant High Commissioner in Germany he will act as general adviser to both Mr. McCloy and General Hays. John J. McCloy, U. S. High Commissioner, appointed Bittenwieser as Assistant High Commissioner and made General Hays McCloy's Deputy High Commissioner."

Benjamin J. Bittenwieser, on the faculty of the red New School for Social Research since 1934, and a member of numerous Jewish organizations, is married to the daughter of Arthur Lehman—Herbert Lehman's brother.

Arthur Lehman is vice-president of Studebaker Corp. which Lehman Bros. controls. Paul Hoffman, president of Studebaker Corporation is head of ERC (Marshall Plan) as a front for Lehman Corporation, Zionists.

Hence, it is clear that Zionist Benjamin J. Bittenwieser, Kuhn, Loeb's agent, will be the "power behind the throne" giving orders to non-Zionist fronts, John J. McCloy and General Hays.

When Col. Charles Lindbergh said over the radio, just before we were shoved into World War II, that one race was responsible for most of the propaganda to trick us into war he knew his facts. Today we see Zionist rule in all countries the Soviet Union now controls because our resources and man power made it possible to destroy the only power in Europe capable of holding the Soviet Union's godless ape men within the Russian borders.

COMMON SENSE was told this week by a United States' Army officer, just returned from Germany, that the Jewish D. P. camps have mountains of supplies paid for by American taxpayers. These shiploads of supplies, our informant said, are black-marketed to helpless Germans under the eyes of our military officers who dare not interfere. The officers are powerless to correct this condition for they know that the D. P.'s are part of a powerful Zionist circle which controls Washington; the same circle which would quickly discipline truth-telling officers.

Our State Department is supposed to have charge of American interests in Germany. Supposed is the right word, for it is evident that our State Department has, within recent years, been saturated with Communist spies and is now headed by Dean Acheson, cat's paw and errand boy for Austrian-born Zionist Khazar, Felix Frankfurter.

Communism is only a front for Zionism.

Just as Zionist Bittenwieser, seemingly under McCloy, really rules McCloy and General Hays, so it is in all important stations of government in the United States and in all Communist dominated unions. Two of the king-pins giving orders are: Zionist Frankfurter in back of Truman, and Benjamin Cohen behind Tygve Lie, Secretary of the U. N. (For names of Zionist heads of European countries, see elsewhere in this issue.)

Many Federal Judges, Senators and Congressmen, as well as Governors, are—knowingly or unknowingly—directed by Zionists who have used their power to place these men in office as puppets to be used by Zionists.

The French people were stunned when, at the outbreak of the last war, German forces easily walked through French defenses. The average Frenchmen did not realize that their president, Zionist Leon Blum, had allowed the Communists to make of their defense set-up a mere shell.

What is happening to our defense forces? Are they to go the way of France?

Zionists represent about 4% of our population, but they control far more than 4% of America today. Here are only a few of the strategic points they have secured:

Herman Feldman — Quartermaster General, United States Army.

A. Robert Ginsberg—Brig. General, Public Relations man for the Army and Navy. Think of the files and information under his thumb!

David Lilienthal and Lewis Strauss (of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.)—who run the Atomic Bomb Committee. The other members are only window dressing.

Curtis E. LeMay—U. S. Air Force General, a Zionist, in charge of long-range bombing.

Mark W. Clark—U. S. Army General, also a Zionist, recently given entire charge of all land forces in the United States Army.

It is General Mark Clark who recently stated publicly, in connection with the Army-Navy investigation:

"I think WE MUST RUTHLESSLY ELIMINATE from the national military establishment anybody who does not believe in unification and will not accept decisions to unify when they are made."

This is the General who ordered elimination of several West Coast airfields. Only a fool or an outright traitor to America would issue this order knowing that Communist forces—under the direction of Maxim Litvinov (Finkelstein)—are sweeping China and the United States' Pacific Coast is extremely vulnerable to attack from this direction. Why is he deliberately trying to weaken America's defense?

And, more Zionists are rapidly being made Generals.

F. D. R. said: "These things don't happen; they are planned" Planned? By whom? The Baruchs, Frankfurters, and Lehman's?

Do you wonder why our top Naval and Marine officers, furious over present Washington conditions, are screaming to be heard? Do you wonder why the brilliant Navy Capt. John G. Commelin has risked his career in an attempt to warn the American people of what goes on behind Washington's red curtain?

The Navy and the Marine Corps are not yet controlled by Zionists and they are fighting desperately to ward off the Zionist yoke which would strangle and ruin these defense arms so they could offer no resistance to the Soviet Union.

Do you wonder how the Soviet Union secured the Atomic Bomb secrets? Look carefully at the "pipelines to Russia" in important government positions.

Where will we stand in the U. S. when war breaks out with the Zionist-Communist Soviet Union? As long as our Army remains in the hands of Zionists and our most important unions—such as United Electrical & Radio Workers, CIO—are in complete charge of Zionists, we will be powerless. Too many of America's "key" men are working hand-in-glove with Zionist-ruled Russia.

As one example of how enemy national sabotage would be easy, let us consider the U. E. With 600 thousand workers in extremely important plants, this union is straw-bossed by Albert J. Fitzgerald. The Zionists who give the National organization its orders are: JULIUS EMSPACK, Secretary-Treasurer of U. E., exposed by Louis Bundenz as "Comrade" Juniper, a secret member of the Communist party and next to Gerhardt Eisler, a Zionist . . . JAMES J. MATLES (FREEDMAN) and JAMES EMERICH LUSTIG, all Zionists, born in Hungary and trained under Bela Kun (COHEN) who slaughtered 30 thousand Christians during his three-month rule of Hungary. These are only some of the Reds who will oversee the slaughter when Zionist-Communists take over the United States

Directing the U. E. strike at Singer's in Elizabeth, N. J., where 9,000 were recently on strike for five months, with a 15 million dollar salary loss to workers, are: Zionist Walter Barry (ISADOR EISENSTADT), Louis Schuman, Ruth Young and Morton Stavis, attorney—all Zionists.

We know all about the fairy tale that Russia is persecuting Zionists. To those of us who know the score, this is like saying that Catholics are being persecuted in Vatican City or the convicts are persecuting the warden.

Remember that when Stalin supposedly dissolved the Communist International during the last war, F.D.R. told him that would go well in the United States at that time. Stalin's overriding of European countries proves that this "dissolve tactic" was only for propaganda purposes.

How long can the United States stand a free nation against the Zionist invisible government.

Clash Of Armed Forces, Armed Insurrection, Violent Revolution

The Communist Party will educate and organize the working masses for such direct political action, i.e., mass strikes and mass demonstrations, and will lead them in these struggles. These struggles form the major campaign of the Communist Party; it is through such struggles that the working masses are prepared for the final conflict for power. This can be nothing else but a direct struggle between the armed forces of the capitalist state on the one hand and the armed forces of the proletarian revolution the other. In these mass strikes and demonstrations large masses of workers are united. New tactics and a new ideology are developed. As these strikes grow in number and intensity, they acquire political character through unavoidable collision and open combat with the capitalist state, which openly employs all its machinery to break their strikes and crush the workers organizations. This finally results in armed insurrection aimed directly at the destruction of the capitalist state and the establishment of the proletarian dictatorship. This objective cannot be attained unless the entire movement is under the control and guidance of the Communist Party.

The Communist Party will keep in the foreground the idea of the necessity of violent revolution for the destruction of the capitalist state and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat based on Soviet power.—(Constitution and Program of the Communist Party of America. Adopted by the Joint Unity Convention of the Communist Party of America. Published by the Communist Party of America, 1921.)

Vatican City Condemns Zionism

FIDES, the organ of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith published at the Vatican, has recently denounced Zionism as "a new form of Nazi-ism, in which the future of Christian interests is condemned." "Whether spiritually inspired in a 2,000 years' old revenge against Christianity, or whether atheistic or materialistic," the Vatican paper stated, "Zionism—the herald of Communism in the Middle East—will not tolerate in any form the Doctrine of Christ in its land. A feverish nationalism, illumined by the conviction of an extraordinary mission of the Jewish people and sustained by financial means which are immense in relation to Israel's size, has forced through its independence and its recognition by other countries, and before long will achieve its recognition by the United Nations."

Scare Technique

thinking. But we had better think clearly now or we shall meet disaster.

The first result of the latest scare was the willingness of the House of Representatives to surrender to the Senate and vote "the full amount" of the unrealistic and dangerously deceptive "Military Assistance Program." As we have pointed out, this program could not possibly furnish enough assistance to keep the Russian land armies out of Western Europe in case of war, and will thus result in 100% waste of priceless materiel. Either the amount of aid should be many times greater, or no material should be sent at all. Better no dam at all than one which will hold at most only a quarter of the water expected from upriver. Nor can the opinions of a hundred five-star generals, or all the brass shouting together at the command of the State Department, dissolve this elementary fact or make the Military Assistance Program anything else than an act of foreknown folly.

Yet consider how much further the scare-technique drove the conferees of the House. Nobody has yet ventured to assert that the Military Assistance Program will deter the Russians from dropping Atom Bombs on the cities of Western Europe in case of war. Only installations infinitely more costly than MAP could give those cities even a fifty-fifty chance of averting such attack. As a matter of cool calculation, it is possible that MAP aid might furnish just enough extra irritation to persuade the Soviet armies to employ the Atom Bomb in order to keep up to their timetable. In other words, use of the atomic weapon by the USSR in Western Europe is more likely because of the passage of MAP. But the point is the House conferees, in the greatest non sequitur of the year, were stamped into voting for the amount requested by the President "because the USSR has the bomb."

We may expect more of these non sequiturs.

We may expect them because the President's announcement was made for the purpose of getting a scared and weary Congress to enact not only his military program, but the whole program for the socialization of America.

Here are a few other measures the Congress will be pressured to enact "because the USSR has the Bomb":

1. The economically and politically fantastic "Point Four" program for pouring more billions into the world's "backward areas" at the expense of the American taxpayer. (In this connection, definite evidence has come to us tending to prove that one purpose—perhaps the main purpose—of "Point Four" is to allot vast sums of American money to create a great TV-type power development in the Jordan River Valley. This, of course, is to be for the benefit of the new "State of Israel." We shall withhold comment on what this means until we can deal with it more fully.)
2. Trade concessions to Britain and others that may be utterly ruinous to American agriculture, labor, business and industry.
3. Socialized Medicine.
4. Federal "Aid" to Education.
5. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.
6. FEPC.
7. New, vast subsidies for Agriculture to cushion the effect of trade advantages to Britain and others—a roundabout way of extracting dollars from taxpayers for socialist regimes abroad.
8. Extensions of so-called "Social Security."
9. More money and equipment for our "friend" Marshal Tito, and any other little Titos who may pop up itching for dollars.
10. Heavier taxes on the American people—whether direct or hidden under the deceptive phrase "deficit spending."

In sum, the Truman Palace Guard is subjecting us to a continuous war scare with the Atom Bomb so that it can consolidate its domestic power and build up the power of International Socialism, of which it is a part. It is committing the people of the United States to an arms race. Only now it is an arms race with the USSR in which the stake is the very existence of the United States and the lives of millions of American men, women and children.

The basis upon which the forthcoming arms race rests is the fallacy that the existence of great armaments will deter the USSR from war. Rather, such armaments will make war inevitable. Without them war is not inevitable. Thus another "step toward peace" is in its very nature, an irrevocable stride toward war.

Doubtless, the Truman Palace Guard, happy in the success so far achieved, thinks that it can continue to keep the U. S. economy on a war basis indefinitely and so manage an arms race as to stay in power indefinitely without war. It can do this by stimulating the war psychology. Only thus can it continually persuade Congress to milch the U. S. taxpayer for the benefit of nations whose interests are not our interests, but are actually opposed to ours, as well as to give the Palace Guard what it wants at home.

But we say in solemn warning: this is playing with something worse than fire. The experience of mankind is, that armament races and the effort to overawe a possible opponent by piling up massive power are more likely to begin wars than to prevent them. Only those ignorant of history can have any faith that the arms race now in prospect will avert war. Viscount Grey, British Foreign Minister at the outbreak of the first World War pointed this out many years ago.

Nor, in the atomic war that will inevitably follow such an arms race, is the United States certain of victory. Too much reliance is being placed upon our head start in the development of the Bomb. That advantage is largely cancelled by the fact that our cities and industrial installations are more vulnerable to atomic attack than are those of the USSR.

The scales are further evened by the fact that, in stupidly choosing Europe as our battlefield, rather than to defend the Western Hemisphere, we are agreeing in advance to fight the kind of war most favorable to Russia. It is we and not the Russians who will have to maintain long and vulnerable sea lanes with great conscript armies at the other end—that is, if the strategy of the North Atlantic Alliance works at all.

For us, the cost would be heavy. From such a war we would emerge a totalitarian socialist state. American liberty would be gone. We should be bound to lose millions of our sons and daughters, and perhaps half our great cities with their whole populations. Our standard of living would go down forever. Pestilence would stalk our land. And the weary survivors would only be able to look forward to a new conflict—when their leaders now become masters would whip them up by new fears to prepare for the Fourth World War—"the War against Asia," for which the seeds would be sown by World War III, exactly as the seeds of World War II were sown by World War I, and the seeds of World War II sown by the inept leaders of World War I.

Yes, we should be afraid. We should be afraid of what will ensue unless Congress suddenly develops a backbone and has the courage to say "NO!" to the Truman Palace Guard.

If it does not, we are doomed. We will, literally, have been scared into the death of the American Republic.

The Poison In The Cup

by Alfred P. Haake

Released by

GEORGE PECK, New York 16, N. Y.

Some of the ancients had an interesting way of killing off people so as to avoid suspicion of what they were doing. Instead of one lethal dose of poison, or a dagger through the heart, or a fatal clout over the head, they introduced poison, drop by drop, with no immediate visible effects, but resulting finally in the death of the victim. The poison was dropped in doses so small as not to be apparent in the delectable contents of the cup from which the victim drank.

That is what is happening to America, once the home of the brave and land of the free, champion of righteous causes the world over, savior of civilization and absorber of bankruptcies, elsewhere in the world—now slowly destroying herself with the double-forked attack on socialistic bankruptcy abroad while undermining the foundations of freedom and private enterprise at home.

No one in his right sense would accuse Harry Truman and his cohorts, the socialist-labor dictatorship of this country, of deliberately trying to destroy America.

But Harry Truman's wishful intentions and what he is actually doing, are two very different things. The poison that is being administered into the cup of political promises from which America drinks is no less lethal because Harry does not know what he is doing. It is still poison, and it is still destroying America. The death potions administered with kindly ignorance are just as fatal as though they were administered with deliberate malice.

The product and self-consecrated disciple of one of the most practical and corrupt and vicious political machines ever known in our country, a blindly faithful follower of the political boss who facetiously made him a United States Senator, Harry Truman has never risen to the heights which enable a man to see past his immediate political interests, the minorities through which he can control the majorities, and the temporary benefits of legislative and political manipulation which so often cost far more than their immediate benefits.

Harry Truman is only a symbol or example of the kind of leader in public life who places party and personal power above the real interests of the people. He does not know enough of the long term forces that control the destinies of men, to let such knowledge interfere with his temporal and immediate interests.

Meantime, the poison continues to drip into the cup—the poison of something for nothing, let the government do it—more and more welfare for weaker and weaker people!

COMMUNISM IS TREASON!

WAKE UP AMERICA!

Skillful Deception

(Reprinted from DESTINY, August, 1949)

The Western World has been flooded with what purports to be news items telling of Nazi-like attacks against the Jews as a government policy in Soviet Russia. This is a most interesting line of propaganda being released at this time to influence public opinion and prevent an awakening to the realization of the close ties which actually exist between the Communists and Zionists. That it is only propaganda is clear from the present attitude of the Jews themselves toward the Soviet Union. The news release about these supposed anti-Semitic activities of the Soviets is skillfully timed when indications of close cooperation between Soviet Russia and the Israeli state are beginning to attract public attention. Many will be deceived by it into believing the Communists are opposed to Zionism.

However, the following report published in Egypt News for June 1949 is clear evidence that Soviet agents are working among the Arab refugees in the interests of the Israeli state:

"Arab statesmen are disturbed over reports that known Communist agitators are now secretly working within the ranks of the approximately 950,000 displaced Arab citizens of Palestine.

"According to one U. S. correspondent in the area, the present Communist line is that the best thing for the creation of a single state in Palestine combining for the future of the Palestine Arabs is to accept Israel and the Arab areas. He adds: 'The Western powers, the Communists say, are working against the Arabs to keep down the living standard of the masses and to enslave them for the oil interests. Russia is represented as working for the good of all and as being willing to back such a joint state in Palestine.'

"Arab leaders charge that Haifa and Tel Aviv are the main centers where such Communist lines are hatched and from which funds and subversive-type literature are supplied. A few Arab Communists, they point out, are allowed to move about freely in these cities and even to operate printing plants. Recent Arab intelligence reports indicate that these men, disguising themselves as fellow refugees, frequently slip across the borders at night and succeed in distributing their leaflets in the crowded refugee settlements.

"The U. S. correspondent, who is quoted above, made these additional comments on the subject of Communist activity among the refugees:

"An Arab leader, who is in constant touch with the refugees, said today that he believed this (Communist) propaganda was proving effective among them. Hundreds of thousands of refugees, he charged, were getting little effective aid and were suffering from a food shortage and diseases caused by dietary deficiencies.

"I cannot measure how much effect the propaganda is having,' he said, 'but the refugees are definitely attracted by it. They are miserable and dissatisfied and see nothing to look forward to. If they are given any hope, they are willing to try anything.'

"The situation is so desperate,' said an Egyptian spokesman, 'I wonder if the Western powers fully realize what it means to their hopes for peace. It means that just under a million people have been uprooted, impoverished, scattered hit-or-miss through the desert wastes, and for the most part ignored for more than a year. Is that a healthy situation? Does it make for stability, security or any of the other conditions which are essential to peace, particularly in an area like the Near East, where foreign interference already has brought about one disastrous war?'

"That foreign interference remains, and thanks to it, the trend is away from democracy and those things it stands for. Hundreds of thousands of unhappy people will grasp at promises, if in those promises there is at least hope of a better life.

"Send help, a great deal more of it,' he warned, 'and let Israel allow the refugees to return to their homes, as ordered by the United Nations in December 1948, or Communism will succeed among the refugees like it did among the similarly impoverished millions in the Far East.'

Do not be deceived: the Zionists and Soviets are working hand in hand and time will prove this to be all too true. Events in Palestine will bear close watching in the days ahead, for we

Ten Fundamentals Atheistic Communism Is Determined To Destroy

THANK YOU, friend in Palo Alto, California, for your anonymous contribution.

Ten fundamentals atheistic Communism is determined to destroy:

1. The existence of a personal God, Who has spoken to the world;
2. Jesus Christ, true God and true man;
3. The Ten Commandments;
4. The sacred character of the individual;
5. The sanctity of the lifelong marriage bond;
6. The sanctity of the home as the basic unit of the whole human family;
7. The human rights of every person as coming from God, not from the State;
8. The right, based on human nature, to possess private property, with its consequent obligation to society;
9. Due respect for domestic, civil, and religious authority;
10. Judgment after death.

are swiftly approaching the crisis hour when World War II will break forth.

This confirms DESTINY'S appraisal in past issues of Soviet interests in Palestine. It is to the advantage of both the Soviets and Zionists to play down their mutual interests at the present time; hence the sudden publication of supposed anti-Semitic persecutions under the Soviet government. The Zionists cannot afford to lose the support that would be withdrawn if the actual facts became too widely known.

(Editor's Note: Indisputable facts prove that there could be no anti-Semitism in Russia. Stalin, married to a Jewess, sits surrounded by Zionists. Prominent among them are his wife's two brothers, the Kaganovitchs, and Varga and Asberg. In Ukraine it's Manulsky; in Rumania, Anna Pauker. Hungary has Rakoski and the Communist dictator of Poland is Jacob Berman. Amsterdamski is also in Poland, while the Communist program in China is headed by Maxim Litvinov (Finkelstein)—ALL ZIONISTS. Outspoken criticism of Jews is still punishable by death in Russia.)

Dear Mr. McGinley:

I hope you might be surprised to see such a letter from me for the first time. I consider this a great opportunity which God has given me to write you. Before questioning the purpose of this letter, let me introduce myself a bit to you. I am a Catholic from the Archdiocese of . . .

Now allow me to mention the purpose of this letter. You might have heard by this time, I hope, about the tremendous threat of Communism in our country. The Communists here are using all the ways and means to spread the perverted ism among our people. It is to be noted that the Communists are to be found everywhere in this country . . . in clubs, factories, organizations, schools, colleges, market places, etc. I am very sorry to tell you that we have practically no means to withstand this threat. By the grace of God, I was able to hear that you have got a powerful weapon to withstand this; I mean the publication, your weekly COMMON SENSE. Please be kind enough to send us a copy regularly, so that we may also partake in that heavenly manna. If you have any more weapons (books and booklets against Communism) please allow us also to partake.

By the grace of God, I have gathered many youngsters under me and have opened two reading clubs in order that our youngsters may not be destroyed by the perverted ism. The main idea of these clubs is to study first and then expose and outlaw Communism.

You know that this is a mission country where 99 percent is yet to be converted to God.

In union of prayers,

Yours in Christ,

What Strange Power Pulls Strings? Who Are The Enemies Of America And Common Sense?

What is the strange power that forces six printing concerns to discontinue printing COMMON SENSE at the same time that more than 400 Communist owned, or controlled, publications continue to spew their poison into the bloodstream of the American population?

The American Jewish Congress is composed of Zionists. The American Jewish Congress has been cited as "Communist infiltrated" by the un-American Activities Committee. It was a Zionist lawyer, representing himself as from the "Law and Social Division" of the American Jewish Congress, who approached our sixth printer and brazenly demanded that our printer stop publishing COMMON SENSE at once or he (the lawyer) would have all Jewish advertising withdrawn from the largest semi-weekly paper in New Jersey, owned by our printer.

"Tolerance!" Shrieks the American Jewish Congress.

"Protect human rights and fundamental freedoms!" Screams the American Jewish Congress, an organization hiding behind the false cloak of respectable kindness and love of brotherhood.

Remember that this American Jewish Congress is leading the fight for Civil Rights and the F.E.P.C. bills, while we outline the activities of some of the AJC members.

Founded in the early 1900's, the American Jewish Congress is the United States branch of the World Jewish Congress. President of both organizations was the late Dr. Stephen S. Wise. The Hungarian-born Dr. Wise's record of Communist-front affiliations is a long one, but we shall list some of them: Russian War Relief, American Friends for Spanish Democracy, American League for Peace and Democracy,

Judge Armstrong - Walter Winchell Zionist Mouthpiece Attacks Loyal, Texas Born American

JUDGE GEORGE W. ARMSTRONG

Because he wanted to found a Christian, American college and take every precaution to prevent its teachings from being undermined by subversive groups, Judge Armstrong has been viciously attacked by the Red press and unscrupulous commentators. COMMON SENSE proudly brings its readers the facts no Zionist-controlled paper will ever publish.

Human nature being what it is, the public is becoming accustomed to seeing people fall to almost any depths to make money. Murder Inc. murdered humans for a price; some ghouls rob graves for a price; but Walter Winchell (Lipschitz) ruins the reputation of good Americans for a price.

When the Anti-Defamation League, the Jewish gestapo in America, or the American Jewish Congress, which is saturated with Reds, gives the word, "hatchetmen" Winchell (Lipschitz) and Drew Pearson lead off with another dirty job of character smearing. Many other fronts, such as Friends of Democracy, which cloak their propaganda with the tolerance racket, immediately fill their hate sheets with the same type of mud-slinging trash.

Judge George W. Armstrong, the gentleman from Mississippi who offered a large portion of his personal fortune to Jefferson Military College, is the latest victim of the hatchetmen and their ungodly tribe.

Judge Armstrong is probably one of the best informed individuals in America. He knows that 90% of those who call themselves Jews are not Jews, but Asiatic Khazars who adopted Judaism in the 7th Century. These anti-Christian Asiatics, of Turko-Finn blood, are striving to destroy all traces of Christianity, and Judge Armstrong does not want his money used, directly or indirectly, to further the Khazar-Zionist plans for world domination.

In his offer to Jefferson Military College, Judge Armstrong did not specify "White Supremacy," but it is a well known fact that segregation of the races is in effect in all Southern college. The

WHO ARE THE KHAZARS?

*KHAZARS (Chazars), a non-Semitic, pagan, central Asiatic tribal nation, of Turki-Finn racial origin, which fought their way into eastern Europe about the First Century, A. D., by the land route north of the Caspian Sea. In the area of eastern Europe, generally referred to today as southern Russia and its satellite states, the Kahazar invaders conquered the twenty-five tribal nations already existing there since pre-historic times, and in this area, of about 800,000 square miles, established the Khazar Empire. In the Seventh Century A. D. the pagan king of the Khazars, the pagan nobles and the pagan population were converted to Judaism, and Judaism thereupon became the state religion of that nation. After the conversion of the Khazars to Judaism, none but a Jew could occupy the throne, and the civil law of the land became the administrative regulations of the Talmud. The present expanding Russian Empire of about nine million square miles, did not come into existence until the Ninth Century A. D. This Russian state originally consisted of only a few thousand square miles adjoining the Khazar Empire on the north. Commencing in the Ninth Century A. D., the Slavic armies of this small Russian state waged war against their Khazar neighbors to the south. The Russians continued this war of aggression against the Khazars until the Russians had conquered the entire Khazar Empire and added the 800,000 square miles of the former Khazar Empire to the Russian expanding state. The former "Khazars" thereafter are known to history as "Russians." In this connection, the Jewish Encyclopedia states that the Jews in eastern Europe, and their subsequent conquest by the Russians accounts for the presence in recent times of the Jews in Russia and Russia's satellite states. The world's leading historians, Jews and Christians alike, offer abundant incontrovertible proof that the Jews in Russia, and Russia's satellite states, are NOT the descendants of the Palestinian Hebrews in Bible history. The historic facts have established the uncontradictable proof that the Jews of eastern Europe are there as a result of the conversion of the Khazars, NOT as a result of immigration to eastern Europe by the Hebrews from Palestine, as the propaganda of the eastern European Jews would have the world believe. To the Hebrews in Palestine, the territory in eastern Europe, several thousand miles distant, was an unknown part of the world to them. To the Hebrews in Palestine, the pagan Khazars, who inhabited that territory, were unknown to them. The Jews of eastern Europe conspire to conceal this truth so that they can masquerade before the world as the direct descendants of the "Chosen People" of Bible history and obtain world support for their "repatriation" to their "Promised Land." The historic facts speak for themselves once they are known. In the Fifteenth Century B. C. the Hebrews abandoned their homeland in the Sinai Desert and invaded Caanan, the territory known today as Palestine. The conquering Hebrews rapidly adopted the culture of their Caananite victims. The Caananite culture included an extensive vocabulary, an alphabet, and a monotheistic religious belief based on the worship of Jehovah (Yahwism). The Hebrew invaders added the Caananite vocabulary to

Allied Voters Against Coudert, National Reception Committee to the Russian Delegation and New York Tom Mooney Committee. (Mooney was the Communist dynamiter.)

This Zionist Red Rabbi edited Opinion magazine which stated: "With the rise of the Soviet regime, never has the world witnessed such a spectacular change . . . the State which previously did not employ any Jews at all, now employs in White Russia 61% JEWISH OFFICIALS . . . the percentage of Jewish population in Russia is LESS THAN 2%."

The doctor's son, James Waterman Wise, is now WASHINGTON REPRESENTATIVE of the World Jewish Congress. He is also director of the Council Against Intolerance, an organization which recently handed a statue award to the New Jersey Governor, Alfred Driscoll. This would mean little, except for the fact that James Waterman Wise has been affiliated with some fifty-five Communist-front organizations, among which are: Civil Rights Congress (Paul Robeson's a member, too), American Labor Party, Citizens Committee Supporting Communist Gerson (1948) and the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. He is one of those who signed the "Golden Book of American Friendship with the Soviet Union."

Young Wise is also a writer for Communist publications. In an article for the Communist Party's New Masses, he went to great lengths pointing out the prominence of Jews in Communism and in Russia. He knows, of course, that leading Jewish organizations have poured fabulous sums into Soviet Russia.

Who are some of the other members of the American Jewish Congress? RABBI SOLOMON GOLDMAN: Russian-born Red, an executive (Chicago branch of the Socialist Party's League for Industrial Democracy (since merged with the Communist Party); member of American Civil Liberties Union; officer of Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. He is the rabbi who, during a three hour book review in his synagogue, praised Nowack's "Life of Jesus" which, he explained, shows Jesus as a bastard dreamer and Judas Iscariot a hero. EMANUEL CELLAR: Member of B'nai B'rith, backer of Communist Tom Mooney, protested the bill for deportation of Harry Bridges, the alien Red. JULIAN W. MACK: U. S. Circuit Judge, executive of the World Jewish Congress and prominent in Jewish organizations. He is one of the signers of "Golden Book of Friendship for Soviet Union," member of the board of directors Communist American Russian Institute; officer of socialistic "Survey Associates," and signer of Communist-aiding American Civil Liberties Union petitions for Reds imprisoned under U. S. Espionage Act. JUDGE BEN ROSENTHAL: President of Southern California Division of American Jewish Congress, sponsor for Harry Bridges Defense Committee, and affiliated with Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, a Communist-front. LOUIS LIPSKY: Radical former president of Zionist Organizations in America; among those who signed letter to Governor Thomas E. Dewey (N.Y.) seeking pardon for the Communist Morris V. Schappes. Lipsky is also a writer for Communist papers. In an article for the revolutionary socialistic "New Republic" he writes:

"Jewish labor in Palestine has introduced social and economic methods that have evoked admiration of the British Labor Party. A large number of the agricultural colonies in Palestine are communal, not individual."

RABBI MAX NUSSBAUM: President, Pacific Coast Division, American Jewish Congress, sponsor of Communist American Youth for Democracy dinner (this organization was formerly known as YOUNG COMMUNIST LEAGUE); sponsor of the China Conference Arrangement Committee, cited as a Communist-front. HENRY L. SILBERMAN: Director, New England Division, AJC, sponsor for Civil Rights Congress. (Remember Peekskill?)

Space prohibits a listing of all the American Jewish Congress leaders, members and associated "clubs". But, the few facts given shout a warning loyal Americans dare not ignore, for the actions of this group tie in with the entire picture of Zionist activities in America.

When the eleven Communist rats went on trial in New York, what power caused the penalty they faced to be reduced, from a prison sentence of ten years to five years, one month after the trial started? After the taxpayers had spent over a million dollars for the nine months' trial and the Reds were convicted by a patient jury and a wonderful, American Judge, and bail was set at a million dollars, what power caused the bail to be reduced to a mere $205,000, guaranteeing the release of these traitors who know that they will never serve a day of their sentence because of this strange power.

What strange power caused Prosecuting Attorney, John M. McGohey to be promoted so Irving Saypol, a Zionist, could succeed him and have charge of the prosecution?

What strange power caused the higher court of three Judges to slap Judge Medina in the face by allowing these eleven traitors freedom on such meager bail while three of them are facing deportation charges?

Judge Jerome Frank, who has a Red record, maneuvered the freedom of the eleven Communists. He is a Zionist who appeared with another Khazar Zionist, Felix Frankfurter, as a character witness for Alger Hiss. When these eleven Marxists appear before the Supreme Court, Zionist Felix Frankfurter will see that the case is thrown out—all Communists know this.

The strange power of ZIONISM.

Irving Kaufman, a Zionist, as judge in the Alger Hiss trial cooperated with Alger Hiss against the United States Government which was prosecuting Hiss. Eight of the twelve jurors believed Hiss a Communist; the other four probably read The Daily Worker.

The strange power that protected Gerhart Eisler (Zionist) while he masterminded the overthrow of our Government was Zionism. Herbert Lehman (Zionist) was active in Eisler's defense committee. Who made it possible for Eisler to escape and get to Germany where he is now leading a Communist movement?

Isador Boorstein (alias Alexander Stevens, alias J. V. Peters) Chief of espionage network, which began work in the U. S. as soon as the New Deal took over, was allowed to deport himself with all the secrets he accumulated during 14 years as spy work in America. This, through the power of Zionist—the arch enemy of Christianity.

Zionism has also kept David Niles (Neyhus) in the White House for years where he charts the moves of Truman (just as he did with Roosevelt) and reports to Felix Frankfurter.

Dear Reader, when you are amazed that Communists cannot be kept in jail, just keep in mind that men, such as the eleven tried and convicted Marxists, are only "small potatoes" in the plan to undermine and exterminate Christianity in America as is being done by Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, China and the Holy Land, by the same World Wide Zionist Organization which uses Communism just as Standard Oil uses subsidiaries to carry on their global activities.

"Tolerance!" That is the yell of the American Jewish Congress—the organization spearheading the movement opposing the internationalization of the Holy City. This is the "tolerant" group of people who—if they solely control the Holy City—can forbid Christians even a glimpse of sacred, religious places.

COMMON SENSE believes in tolerance. It also believes in freedom of speech as guaranteed under the AMERICAN Constitution. We are waiting for the Zionists to show their tolerance and love of American fair play by stopping our eleventh printer. In the meantime, we challenge any living Zionist authority, preferably a Rabbi, to defend the Zionist Red record on a public platform with the Editor of COMMON SENSE.

We do not believe that they will take up this challenge, and COMMON SENSE knows why. The bald fact is that Communism is Zionist controlled and sponsored. Communism will disappear from the American scene as soon as American Christians acknowledge the power behind the American Jewish Congress' gestapo, and this fact:

It is an error to say "those Russians" when one means Communists. "Those Russians"—the CHRISTIAN Russians—which make up the majority of Russia's population, are merely serving a life of serfdom under heartless Zionist-Communist masters.

"Tolerance!" for a minority group! A truth is a truth—the most grossly neglected minority group in America today is the 95% LOYAL, AMERICAN population. And, we don't care if you're Swedish, Irish, Scotch, Polish, German, French, Spanish, Italian or English extraction—if you love AMERICA FIRST you are a loyal American.

It's about time the tail stopped wagging the dog!

Judge Armstrong

people Judge Armstrong did not want in a college supported by his money were the Asiatic Khazars—as they pass themselves off to us—Jews!

With the wisdom that comes with age, Judge Armstrong intended to establish an outstanding Christian college. Marxists, Communists, and other brands of aliens, have already reduced to Communist incubators such formerly renowned universities as Harvard and Chicago. Even Columbia recently accepted $20,000 to establish a "Polish" chair. Poland, which was one of the greatest Christian nations in the world, is now controlled by Zionst-Khazar, Jacob Berman. The Polish Minister of Education is Zionist S. Skrzewski. Columbia's Professor Coleman resigned in protest, but the Red "Polish" chair remains.

Why does Winchell not start a nation-wide campaign to clean the Reds out of these colleges? Judge Armstrong has tried to take some American action. Judge Armstrong has incurred the enmity of Marxists through his writings—"Traitors"—"Zionist Wall Street"—and his most recent book, just off the press, "Money and the Tariff."

Why, then, does Winchell bitterly snap at loyal American, Judge Armstrong, calling him a "miserable, hateful old man," who should "build himself a mental hospital and stay in it"? The S.P.C.A. may protest that it's cruelty to animals to say it, but just as the mongrel, unkept dog will run wild and nip at the heels of a thoroughbred horse, so do some individuals endeavor to hide their own shortcomings by shouting uncouth remarks at their betters.

Judge Armstrong was born in Texas and raised in accordance with the strict standards of his father, a Methodist minister. His father was not wealthy, and it has been through his own honest, hard work and good judgment that Judge Armstrong has reached the pinnacle of success. He suffered only one setback, and that was in 1923 when he was forced into bankruptcy. In due time, all creditors were paid in full. His financial success today is the reward America so often gives her sons when they use foresight and fair play.

Judge Armstrong's grandfather was a Texan who surveyed the original state boundary with the U. S. and signed the Texas declaration of independence from Mexico. Thus, when the learned Judge speaks of a college for Christians, and steps forward to fight for the principles of his forefathers, he is backed by two things: a Christian heritage and true American forebears of whom he can be justifiably proud.

Winchell's mother, poor soul, recently committed suicide by jumping out of a hospital window. No wonder! After she and her husband, Jacob, worked hard in New York's east side (from which in 1917 two hundred and seventy-six Zionists left for Russia to launch the Communist revolution) to bring up their sons, she probably was driven to her grave listening to the tripe her Walter belches out.

It must have pained the dear, old woman to learn that her Walter was a partner of John Roy Carlson (Derounian, one of 12 aliases) who authored "Under Cover," which Winchell promoted over the radio. Because of the lies and smears in this book, Mr. George Washington Robnet, Secretary of the Church League of America, sued Winchell and Carlson. Federal Judge Barnes of Chicago, commenting in court about the book, stated: "I believe this is a book of twaddle and believe the author would say anything for a dollar!"

Poor Mrs. Winchell! As she hurtled through space did she review, in her last minute before eternity, all the good American names her son has smeared? Did she remember how Jim Forrestal, whose greatest "sin" was loving America more than Palestine, leaped to his death after rounds of vicious abuse from Walter's stabbing tongue?

Did she think of Col. Charles Lindbergh, Senator Burt Wheeler, Senator Nye and Father Charles Coughlin—Americans all—who have been subject to the hate of her professional, smear-artist son? In the parade of names on Winchell's noxious smear-list, did the tired, old lady see those of Marwin K. Hart and Upton Close, as well as Judge Armstrong?

Did she perhaps, in that last flash of clairvoyance which so often comes to the dying, ask His forgiveness for the "peephole" character-destroyer she mothered?

No one will ever know.

People may never know, either—but they can guess—why Winchell tears to shreds the reputations of so many true Americans while ignoring the Red enemies of America.

Why did he not unmercifully hatchet the "Daily Worker" when, two days after the trial of the 11 Communists, that paper said it had $600,000 ready to help the 11 Red rats?

Why did he not blast Mrs. Louise Branstor Berman for refusing to tell the Congressional Un-American Activities Committee about the million dollars, or more, Mrs. Berman has given to Communists such as Isador Boorstein (Alexander Stevens) chief espionage agent; the "Daily Worker," and "New Masses"? Has Winchell no complaint when Reds benefit by huge gifts of money?

Why doesn't Winchell dishonor the Reds in Hollywood; the Reds backing the F.E.P.C. and Civil Rights bills?

Why doesn't he expose the Reds who are promoting Socialized Medicine and the World

"WE HATE CHRISTIANS"

Anatole Lunacharsky, Commissar of Education in Moscow, is quoted: "We hate Christians; even the best of them must be regarded as our worst enemies. They preach love of one's neighbor and mercy, which is contrary to our principles. Christianity is an obstacle to the revolution. Down with the love of one's neighbor. What we need is hatred. We must know how to hate; only thus, shall we conquer the universe". (The Congressional Record - Vol. 77, pp. 1539-1540).

Federalist movement?

Why does he not ridicule and shame the Hawthorne N.J.) Mrs. Henry O. Klein who has instituted a court suit to have the brief Bible readings banned from New Jersey's public schools? Is it tolerance for the majority of white, Christian Americans which keeps him quiet?

Here are two scoops for you, Winchell: Expose the Zionist leaders who are campaigning for full control of the Holy City; tell the world how the Zionists want to keep Christians away from the birthplace of Jesus; tell the world how the Zionists have already profaned the Christian churches in the Holy City. Bring out into the open the 400 Communist controlled publications in the United States; smear them from the news-stands.

Did the Anti-Defamation League or the American Jewish Congress ever ask you to smear any of the foregoing? It is unlikely. It is, however, more likely that you have followed to a "T" their instructions on the Forrestals, the Armstrongs—the men of character who believe in America and who would, if they could, put every Red rat in America on a hole-ridden liner, tow it five miles out to sea and there let it sink.

Some folks run to the defense of the yellow cowards, the fourflushers, the Reds, Red-followers and traitors to America. Not COMMON SENSE.

Judge Armstrong: Our hat is respectfully tipped to you, an American patriot. Courageously, you have dared to speak knowing that vilifications would be heaped upon you, and that no Zionist-controlled paper or radio station would ever let you present your side of the story to citizens of the United States.

Americans: If your Country is to remain the great Christian nation it was founded, if it is to be spared the Zionist-Communist slavery existing in Europe today, you must not let outspoke, loyal citizens be smeared and intimidated by cunning agents of the Red devils! America needs not one—not two—but a good ten thousand Judge Armstrongs!

Judge Armstrong's latest booklet, "Zionist Wall Street," may be ordered for 50 cents from COMMON SENSE.

Who Are The Khazars?

their limited language, adopted the Caananite alphabet, which was thereafter known as the "Hebrew alphabet," and developed the Caananite worship of Jehovah (Yahwism) as the basis of their religious beliefs, which thereafter came to be known as "Judaism." It was thus that the Hebrews of Bible history developed the "Hebrew language" and acquired the "Hebrew alphabet." Several thousand years later, and several thousand miles away, as a result of effective missionary effort upon the Khazar king, the pagan Khazar nation was converted to Judaism. At the time of their conversion, the Khazars had a spoken language, but there was no written form of their language because there was no alphabet for the language they spoke. The king of the Khazars adopted the alphabet of his newly acquired religion, which he saw for the first time in the Bible, as the alphabet of the Khazars, so that they could put their language in writing. Thus it was the Jews of eastern Europe came to use the Hebrew alphabet to record their "mother-tongue" in written form. The "mother-tongue" of the Jews of eastern Europe is known today as "Yiddish." But the Yiddish language and the Hebrew language are as totally different from each other as Swedish and Spanish, although both these languages use the identical Latin alphabet in their written forms. There is a tendency to regard the Jews of Eastern Europe as the historic national and racial descendants of the Hebrews of Palestine because they each employed the identical alphabet for the written forms of their completely different languages. During the several thousand years prior to the conversion of Judaism of the pagan Khazars, Judaism was already the religious belief of portions of the population of racial and national groups in every inhabited geographic area from Morocco on the Atlantic to China on the Pacific. The sections of these populations which had been converted to Judaism retained other characteristics of their native culture; the spoken language, the written form of their language, the native customs and other elements of their social, political and economic existence. The Yiddish of the Jews of eastern Europe was exclusively the language of the Khazars. Yiddish was not the "mother-tongue" of the native Jews of Egypt, Syria, Greece, Rome, Spain, Germany, France, Morocco, Libya, Arabia, Ethiopia, Abyssinia, Persia, India or China. The "mother-tongue" of the section of the populations converted to Judaism was the "mother-tongue" of the people amongst whom they lived. Practically without exception, amongst every racial or national group in the world, there are to be found "Jews" as well as "Christians" and probably "Moslems" and "Hindus" as well. There is no racial group in the world which can identify itself anthropologically by its spiritual belief. The physical and biological make-up of men are determined by the racial origin of his ancestry. Five children of the same father and mother may each have a different religious belief. But, their "race" depends upon the "race" of the father and the mother. It is a malicious deception for the numerous and highly vocal Jews of eastern European origin to spend unlimited millions of dollars upon propaganda based upon the myth that they are the ethnic descendants of a "Jewish race," and that Palestine was, and is, the "homeland" of this "Jewish race." (*For further particulars see Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol. 4, PP1-5).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:

You are to be complimented for your courage in exposing the real power behind the Marxist-Communist drive to conquer the world. Should anything ever happen to you we all know who to hold responsible—the Zionists.

It is evident that if our wonderful country is to be saved at this late date many capable business men must have the courage to stand up and be counted. Business men generally had better wise up and come across with some funds before it is too late. If they wait much longer they won't have any funds to fight anything with—including Communism.

... Enclosed is $50 which is more than I can afford, and will send you more from time to time.

Sincerely,

Zionist Control 'Frightening' Says Dean Gildersleeve

Speaking before a night session of the seventh annual forum at Christ Church (Methodist) Park avenue, New York, Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, dean emeritus of Barnard College, called on Americans to learn more about the Middle East. She urged also that this country and the United Nations "plan effectively for the welfare of the whole region of the Middle East and all its people, not just for one small section."

She charged that it was extremely difficult to get before the American public anything that "is not slanted to the Zionist point of view," adding:

"The Zionists, I gather from my experience of the last few years, have managed to control very largely the mediums of mass communication in this country, the press, the films, the radio. It is frightening to witness how a small but exceedingly competent minority group can get so much of a stranglehold on publicity in the United States."

"PORK FOR SALE"

Inacio Bauer, spokesman for Jewry, reported in "B'nai B'rith" magazine, New York, June, 1939 that "Spaniards everywhere still spoke of the Jew as though he were a cancer in Spain."

And, no wonder! With the arrival in Spain of the Jewish fiend, Bela Kun, (Benjamin Cohen) Spanish Reds celebrated by looting and burning two priceless cathedrals. The unspeakable bestiality of the Spanish Reds was shown by their hanging of nude bodies of murdered Catholic priests on branches of trees. Signs attached read: "Pork for Sale."

Who took charge of the Communist revolution in Spain as soon as trouble began? Moses Rosenberg, Ambassador from the Soviet Union to Spain stepped out of the embassy and directed the rape and slaughter of the Spanish Christians.

"We hate Christianity and Christians. Even the best of them must be considered our worst enemies. They preach love of one's neighbor and mercy, which is contrary to our principles. What we want is hate . . . Only then will we conquer the Universe."—Anatole Lunacharsky, Soviet Commissar of Education. (Quoted in Izvestia.)

Atom Bombs Away

By Merwin K. Hart
Pres. National Economic Council, Letter No. 228

In Letter 226 we spoke of the thrill Americans felt when twelve men and women found eleven Communist leaders guilty of conspiring to overthrow the Republic by force and violence.

It showed what the people—as compared with some vote-seeking politicians—think of Communism, and what they are willing to do about it. If they felt any doubt, they gave their country the benefit of it

Judge Medina, before whom the case was tried, refused to release the convicted men on bail, pending appeal. Probably he remembered that Gerhard Eisler fled the country while his appeal was pending—and is now in the cabinet of the Communist Government of East Germany; that the Communist-influenced British Labor Government, to whom we are giving a billion a year, refused to hold him and turn him over to us; and that American Communists, having access to all they need of the wealth of Soviet Russia, could well afford to make good the $23,500 bail Eisler jumped.

But on appeal, three Judges in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Judge Medina. They released the Reds on $260,000 of bail for the lot. Of course, to the Communists this sum is small. To Communist Russia, it would be worth many times that sum to have these traitors to America make their escape and become available for activity elsewhere. And should their appeal finally be lost, we would be surprised if any of them were found within the jurisdiction of the court that sentenced them.

The Circuit Judges may have been technically right, yet there could be no better evidence that American officialdom has not yet sensed that Communism threatens all Americans with permanent slavery, than the willingness of these supposedly enlightened Judges to turn these criminals loose to continue their treason.

They gave these Communists the benefit of any doubt.

Time for Full Knowledge

The American Administration, as well indeed as these Judges, clearly seem to be allowing Soviet Russia to proceed, practically without let or hindrance, in her plans for the subjugation of the entire world.

In November, 1948, it was known by private authorities that Soviet Russia expected to make its first atom bomb by June of 1949. These same authorities knew in June, 1949, that Soviet Russia had completed and successfully detonated a bomb.

This information was brought to the attention of President Truman and Prime Minister Atlee. Both refused to believe it. They believed it only when enough scientific information had been gathered by seismic apparatus commonly used to detect earthquakes. It was not till September 23rd that Mr. Truman made his rather guarded statement that Russia had set off an atom bomb.

Soviet Russia's plans for subjugating the world by not later than 1952 or 1953 are known to certain authorities. We have questioned them,

KUHN-LOEB BEHIND NEW U. S.-GERMAN POLICY

By Major Robert J. Williams, former counter-intelligence officer, research specialist, and author of "The Anti-Defamation League and Its Use in the World Communist Offensive," "Untold Story of State Medicine".

Acheson's trip to Paris and Germany and his announced intention to slow down the dismantling of German industry and let the Germans get off the American WPA and perhaps even build a small defense force, is excellent news if it is not prompted by unwholesome motives.

Does the new policy mean that Acheson now intends to favor the German people against Communism and Zionism, which have joined in the degradation of the German segment of Christian civilization?

The new policy is inconsistent with the rest of the Truman-Acheson policies, as for example, throwing China to Stalin and denying recognition of Red China in such a way as to show the planned intent to recognize that gangster regime at some future time, and retaining known pro-Communists in the State Department, and claiming Alger Hiss as his close friend. Hiss is a protege of Felix Frankfurter from Harvard Law School and admitted to a Congressional Committee that Frankfurter got him into high office in the government.

Acheson himself is one of Frankfurter's favorites from Harvard Law, as is John J. McCloy, now High Commissioner of Germany, and it is no secret that the eminent Jewish revolutionary got them appointed and dominates the U. S. State Department. It is no secret that Acheson moved near Frankfurter's residence and walks almost daily with the pro-Moscow Marxist—who is also one of the world's leading Zionists.

There is no break between them. If Acheson tried to break with Zionism the Zionists would break a storm of defamation over his head as a "bigot" and "hate monger" on the networks and in the press, and like Forrestal, he would be driven out of office.

THE CLEW

Newspapers of Sept. 20 and 21 give us a clew to the mystery: They announced that Benjamin J. Buttonwieser had resigned from the international banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb and Co. "to become Assistant High Commissioner in Germany" where he "will act as general adviser to both Mr. McCloy and General Hays."

Evidently, then, Kuhn, Loeb and Co.—for half a century identified with both Communist and Zionist activities—has plans for the development of subjugated Germany, and evidently Mr. Frankfurter is willing to have German industry revived if under Zionist masters.

Here we see once more, as so often in the past century, the combination of Marxist, Jewish banker and Zionist working together like the blood brothers that they are. It was Mr. Jacob Schiff and the Warburgs of Kuhn, Loeb and Co. who financed Lenin and Trotsky and who helped arrange for their passage through Germany (then at war with the liberal Kerensky government) and into Russia so that they might set up

Bolshevik power (the dictatorship which, in its first central government, comprised one Negro from America, 17 racial Russians and 371 Jews, according to the Senate Overman Report, 1919.)

Acheson and McCloy speak for Frankfurter, Marxist-Zionist, while Buttonwieser speaks for Kuhn, Loeb and Co., banker-Zionist.

The combination reminds us that Communism in Russia has proved to be monopolistic state capitalism, pooling all the wealth and the labor of the people into one big holding company, of which Mr. Vladimir Ashberg, international banker already famous before he financed Trotsky's Red Army in 1917 and 1918, is and has been since those years the banker for the Soviet Union Holding Company, the dictator of finance over all the Russians, as well as over his fellow Jews.

Gentile bankers were destroyed by the Bolsheviks as capitalists!

The combination also reminds us that Kaganovich, whose sister is Mrs. Joseph Stalin, is Commissar of Heavy Industries, dictator over the great cities of slave labor—in which he uses hundreds of thousands of fellow Jews as bureaucratic underlings, with petty privileges in exchange for their support, but does not enslave Jews.

The combination reminds us also that Anna Pauker, Jewish dictator over the Roumanians, and Rakosi, dictator over the Hungarians (described by John Gunther in Behind the Curtain as Jewish and one of the six most powerful Communists in the world), now live in the palaces of the departed gentile kings and industrial geniuses and are rapidly pooling all the wealth and labor of their respective slave peoples into Communist holding companies for complete exploitation.

The Peekskill Incident

By Emanuel M. Josephson
New York City

The Robeson-Peekskill incident has brought out into the open and exposed to public gaze the tremendous power and influence in the local, State and Federal governments of the supporters and sponsors of America's Communist Conspiracy, its thorough organization and its deep-laid and long-range plans.

The incident was obviously intended by the conspirators as a deliberate incitement to riot. It was planned to demonstrate to the Communists and their fellow-travellers, that their influence in high government circles—and their protection—is so complete that they are free to flaunt even the basic laws of the Country with absolute impunity.

The Supreme Court, in a decision written by the late crimson Justice Frank Murphy, had ruled that it is a violation of freedom of speech and of the Bill of Rights to suppress subversive or seditious activities unless they involved immediate and pressing danger. This decision was obviously prepared and planted for the purpose of establishing a precedent that would prepare the way for releasing the eleven Communists, if and when convicted of the charge of conspiracy spared further dismantling are steel, synthetic oil and rubber. The Jewish bankers never have been able to dominate American steel and oil industries, and it is suggested that observers watch for the invasion of steel and oil markets by the bankers from plants in Germany (along with invasion of the oil sources of the Near East by way of Israel).

The role of the banking firm of Lehman and Co. is not clear in Europe, but it is not to be overlooked that the head of ECA, spending tax money not only to bolster the Socialist governments of Europe but to lubricate certain favored industries, is Mr. Paul Hoffman, whose Studebaker automobile company is under heavy obligations to Lehman and Co. Washington observers say that but for his relationship with the now Senator Lehman (a banker-Zionist long friendly to Moscow) Mr. Hoffman would not have been appointed to the ECA job. With your tax money, ECA guarantees American investors against losses if the Socialists confiscate the investments!

It is significant, too, that Mr. Truman, in a recent message to Congress, declared that the United States "must be willing to accept greater competition from European suppliers."

Mr. Truman also called for spending more tax money to build roads into the world's jungles to facilitate the investment of American capital, and perhaps to guarantee it against losses.

It would be revealing and perhaps important to know how much of it will be American capital and how much of it will be Zionist, before our tax money is spent.

The guilt is not wholly Zionist: some of the gentile investors have turned internationalist and joined the Zionist New Deal. Will Clayton, cotton exporter, is one of them. He became Assistant Secretary of State—and a Congressman revealed that Anderson, Clayton Cotton Co. has benefited to the extent of $525,000,000 in sales under the Marshall Plan. Clayton now is supporting the United World Federalists, along with the Warburgs of Kuhn, Loeb and Co.

Is the Zionist empire to be developed by concessions in Germany, and American tax money all over the world, and are the products, made by cheap labor, to be sold back into the American market in competition with American capital and labor?

If the Kremlin were turning against the Jews we could understand that its old friends and benefactors, Kuhn, Loeb and Frankfurter, would want to take Germany away from the East and rebuild her factories and manpower for use in once more crushing the Kremlin. But such is not the case, despite some misleading stories in the press. There is a tense racial problem in Russia, as there always has been since the "minority" dominated secret police began destroying gentiles while Jews climbed in the bureaucracy; and some Jews themselves have become restive under necessary restraints. But the Kremlin—unlike the enslaved Russians—is not anti-Semitic.

We must assume then that the re-invasion of German industry by Kuhn, Loeb and Co. and the new policy toward Germany is either purely for exploitation purposes, or else that it is part of a world plan too fantastic for the gentile mind and heart—a plan suspected of dividing up the world into East and West spheres, then bringing about, or aiding or at least exploiting, the long prophesied war between the East and the West. This would be the "final" war to destroy capitalism, according to the tenets of Communism, which say that such a war is necessary for the triumph of the world government of the proletariat.

The peculiar relationship of Zionism to Communism, their common origin in the revolutions stemming from the ghettos, their growth side by side by means of the same revolutions and the same gentile wars, which have brought the gentile nations to the verge of destruction, their common aim of world government and Marxism, and now the rapid completion of spheres of influence—Communism in the East, Zionism in the West—are so loaded with suggestion that we cannot overlook the possibilities of a common strategy board over both the East and the West. Frankfurter and Kuhn, Loeb would surely be represented on such a strategy board.

It is true that the Communists outlawed Zionism as a rival world power inside Russia soon after the Revolution in 1917; but it is not clear or authenticated that they actually destroyed any Jews because they were Zionists. They reported that they exiled some to Siberia and banished others from Russia. That may have been to give Zionism a clean bill of health in the West and to make even the Russian people feel that Communism was not pro-Jewish.

Those who were banished, or many of them, came West and began working with organizations promoting Zionism (which already had come from Russia and had acquired a Marxist base).

New the Zionist Organization of America and its official subsidiary, the American Jewish Congress, and the ruling party in Israel, MAPAI, all embrace Marxist measures, in the economic and the racial spheres, including the communist-inspired "civil rights" laws and proposals to legally suppress criticism of Zionist or other Jewish activities.

What difference is there between Communism and Zionism and what difference would it make which ruled the world?

THREE COUNTIES DEFEAT DULLES

By PETER MOLYNEAUX

(Peter Molyneaux is the editor of the Southern Weekly, published in Dallas, Texas.)

Shall the foreign ideologies which dominate the sentiment of the conglomerate population of Harlem, Brooklyn, and the Bronx determine the economic and governmental policies of the United States?

This challenging question has been placed squarely before the American people by the results of the election for United States Senator in New York.

Three counties, out of sixty-four counties in the state, elected Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, over John Foster Dulles, Republican.

Outside those three counties it was a Dulles landslide.

The three were New York County (Manhattan, including Harlem), Kings County (Brooklyn), and Bronx County, popularly called "the" Bronx.

More than 70 per cent of the people living in those three counties are foreign born or of foreign or mixed parentage.

More than 70 per cent of the voters of those three counties who participated in the senatorial election voted for Lehman. They provided more than half of his total vote in the state and they gave him a majority of 769,504. And that majority would have been at least 100,000 more had not so many of Vito Marcantonio's followers voted the straight American Labor party majority of mayor which had no candidate for United States Senator. But the majority of 769,504 in Harlem, Brooklyn, and the Bronx was more than enough to elect Lehman.

Lehman carried only two other counties in the state, only one (Albany County) outside the city of Greater New York, but together they added only 32,285 majority to his huge Harlem-Brooklyn-Bronx majority, thus making it 801,789.

On the basis of such a result as this, President Truman has declared that the election of Lehman was a great public endorsement of his program for a socialistic, politically managed, coercive economy. And he said that it brightens the prospects for the Democrats in next year's congressional elections.

But does it indicate anything of the kind?

In the three counties—comprising Harlem, Brooklyn, and the Bronx—1,833,226 voters, most of them alien-minded, have favored Lehman by more than 7 to 3, while outside those three counties, 3,114,366 voters of New York State have favored Dulles by more than 6 to 4.

Which of these two groups of voters is more nearly representative of the people of the rest of the United States?

There is nothing in this result for President Truman or the managers of the national Democratic party to rejoice over.

The plain truth is that the situation revealed by the New York election presents both a challenge and an opportunity to the Republicans.

It eliminates the influence of Dewey in national party affairs and it ought to deal a death-blow to the "me-too-ism" that he represented and that has prevented the Republican Party from courageously facing the real issues which the American people must settle.

Those issues can be summed up now in the question: Shall the foreign ideologies which dominate the sentiment of the conglomerate population of Harlem, Brooklyn, and the Bronx determine the economic and governmental policies of the United States?

What answer will the national Republican Party make to that question?

And what about the conservative Democrats of the South? Will they continue to line up as the national allies of Harlem, Brooklyn, and the Bronx?

Thank You, Friends

There are times when the pen is mightier than the sword. But this is one time we are truly at loss for words to express our thanks for those who responded to our recent appeal. From the bottom of our hearts we thank each and every one who helped us through this emergency. We particularly thank the young lady who insisted we take 350 dimes as "my share in the fight to keep America free." We reluctantly accepted this contribution as we knew this $35.00 represented tips for many hours of hard work. We are well aware that many sacrifices had to be made, and we can only hope and pray that Our Lord will bless you all for the sacrifices made. Then too, we want to thank the many readers who sent in anonymous contributions. Because of your loyalty and trust, we pledge to continue in this fight as long as God gives us the strength.

At this time of the year, when we are all busy thinking about the feast of Christmas, the Editor and volunteer workers at COMMON SENSE wish all our readers a Very Merry Christmas, and good health, happiness and blessings without measure in the New Year.

to overthrow our government. And it is now being made the basis of the appeal in the case of the eleven tried and convicted by Judge Medina.

At Peekskill, the Communists proved that they were sufficiently protected and influential to commit, with absolute impunity, the acts which fellow-traveller Murphy and the Associate Justices had ruled were clearly a violation of the law. Deliberately and with malice aforethought, on two successive Sundays, they incited to riot the loyal citizenry of Peekskill and the surrounding country by flaunting their subversive activities. They invaded the Sabbath of a peaceful community with a regimental army of traitors and subversives armed with baseball bats, knives, rifles and guns. Many of these conspirators were attired in uniforms intended to pass as U. S. Army uniforms.

The conspirators announced well in advance their intent to incite the loyal citizenry to riot. Robeson made it clear in his public utterances that his (and his followers') attitude in the war which the Soviet is waging on us, is traitorous. A loyal citizenry would be expected to react violently to treason. Sad indeed would be the status of a people who did not rise to the defense of their land. It is to the credit and glory of Peekskill that its loyal citizenry rose as a body to resist this traitorous invasion.

Some of the local and State officials reacted in an entirely different manner than did the loyal citizenry and the veterans. They undertook to aid and abet the subversive conspirators. They failed to uphold the law, and to prevent the meeting by denying it a permit, or by injunction, despite the openly and loudly expressed intent of the conspirators to violate the law and incite riot. Governor Dewey, a short time before, had refused to intervene in the Bell Aircraft strike to protect the company property against the subversive and rioting strikers. But, he promptly heeded the demand of Robeson's Communist cohorts that he protect them in their conspiracy to incite riot. An army of nine hundred deputy sheriffs was provided to suppress the veterans and loyal citizens arising to defend their community and land. The veterans discovered that their martial activities were only acceptable to the powers-that-be when the defense of Russia and the Communists was involved, as in World War II. They discovered that to rise to the defense of our Country against the Soviet Union and its Communist plague is an offense to our rulers. They discovered that Communists and subversives are so completely protected and influential that only those who oppose them feel the heavy hand of authority.

It has become almost impossible to secure publication in this Country for the books of any man opposed to Communism and New Dealism. If published, book reviewers either ignore or attack them. The more influential newspapers generally ban advertisement of such books. Radio generally censors or bans any broadcasts not approved by the radical elements.

One source of the money and influence which enables Communists and fellow subversives to flaunt the decent and patriotic element has recently been revealed to be the Rockefeller Foundation. A grant of $110,000 has been provided for the harassment of investigators of subversive activities in the guise of "a research project for the study of government control of subversive activities." This is under the direction of Professor Robert E. Cushman of Cornell University and Professor Walter F. Gellhorn of Columbia University, who has been labeled a Communist fellow traveller by the Congressional Committee.

All efforts to stage a patriotic rally led by veterans at Peekskill have been blocked. Tremendous pressure has been brought to bear and has succeeded in preventing the holding of such a meeting. Veterans and loyal patriotic citizens have been put completely in the wrong and on the defensive by the overwhelming power of the "malefactors of great wealth" engaged in a conspiracy to subvert, undermine and destroy our constitutional government.

One begins to wonder: "Is this the America of our childhood? What has happened to the red-blooded patriots of our childhood days?"

Let us not be deceived by the sham of quest of peace by these conspirators. They are waging a war that is far more devastating and insidious than the "cold war". They are waging a "hot" war through the labor unions (and dominate all of them whether they be labelled red or not) that is nothing less than a continuous Civil War which is intended to weaken, disintegrate and destroy the nation from within.

The loyal elements of the land have been diverted, out-manuevered and often sadly defeated as a result of their failure to see through the camouflage of the real enemy in our midst. Much time has been wasted thereby. The issue is urgent and critical, and our time is short!

N. J. Assemblyman T. J. Tumulty Charges Religious Slurs

DRAMATICALLY ENDS CIVIL RIGHTS DEBATE WITH RED-FRONTIER, ROGGE

Saying that he would not remain on a platform with a man "slurring my Catholic faith," Assemblyman T. James Tumulty broke off a civil liberties debate with former assistant U. S. Attorney General, O. John Rogge at Fuld Hall, Newark, N. J.

Assemblyman Tumulty's abrupt exit was caused by Rogge's sneering remark concerning the Catholic Church for "calling a holy war against Communism." In the past, Rogge added, "the Catholic Church has called holy wars against Mohammedanism."

Already under strain, because of snide references to his Church, Tumulty jumped to his feet exclaiming: "That's not true!" When Rogge sought to continue, Tumulty protested, and Rabbi Joachim Prinz, moderator, intervened.

The Rabbi told Tumulty that he was sure Rogge would assure him that he had not meant to attack the assemblyman's religious belief. Rogge, however, refused to give such assurance or apologize, blandly remarking, "If I have misstated the facts, I'll be glad to have it called to my attention."

With that, Assemblyman Tumulty walked off the rostrum and out of the auditorium.

Sponsored by the Jewish Community Center, the debate had as its topic, "Does the Conviction of the 11 Communists Endanger our Civil Liberties?" with Rogge taking the affirmative and Tumulty the negative.

In his main address, Rogge, who was prosecutor in the mass sedition trial of alleged Fascist sympathizers in Washington after the war, repeatedly affirmed his belief in "an almost complete freedom of speech and thought." Along with a few digs at Judge Medina, he referred to the trial of the 11 Communists as a "trial of doctrine," arguing that no overt acts were charged. "They were making it a crime to teach Marxism, that's all," he said.

Rogge blasted the loyalty oaths, stating that they were part of a "pattern of oppression," and named former Attorney General Tom Clark (now Supreme Court Justice) as "one of the architects of that pattern." The list of subversive organizations compiled by Clark was also rapped by Rogge who called it a system of "guilt association."

Assemblyman Tumulty, who followed Rogge to the rostrum, insisted that the trial of the 11 Communists had actually strengthened America's civil liberties. He stated that the defendants were allowed attorneys, ample time to prepare a defense, were tried by a jury of peers and, released on bail after conviction, they will be given the right to appeal to the Supreme Court.

and are satisfied of the likelihood of their accuracy.

All the military plans of the United States Government and Britain for meeting Russia have been based on the assumption that Russia would not have the atom bomb until 1957. Yet today Russia is making four atom bombs a month. This production will be stepped up considerably in the near future. Soon she will have a substantial stock-pile.

Some of the scientific information that has enabled Russia to achieve the atom bomb so far in advance of American expectations, may have leaked through those German scientists that have been taken over and are now being used by Soviet Russia. Some may have been obtained by Russian spies. But Russia could not have made the progress she has made if traitorous American officials had not passed it out to Soviet agents. And as yet not one of those officials guilty of this treason has even been apprehended.

All of Soviet Russia's war plans are proceeding according to her plan. She has secured an atom bomb base in Central America. She has plans looking to the seizing of Turkey, Afghanistan, Iraq, Iran and other countries in the Near and Far East—countries in which, if the United States is successful to stave off atomic attack by Soviet Russia, and be able to reach by her own atom bombs the vital places in Soviet Russia, it will be absolutely necessary for the United States to have bases.

It is estimated that Turkey could be invaded and subjugated by four airborne divisions. Yet Soviet Russia is well along in the development of her plan for a total of 100 airborne divisions.

Soviet Russia has plans for a total of 600 fighting divisions of ground troops.

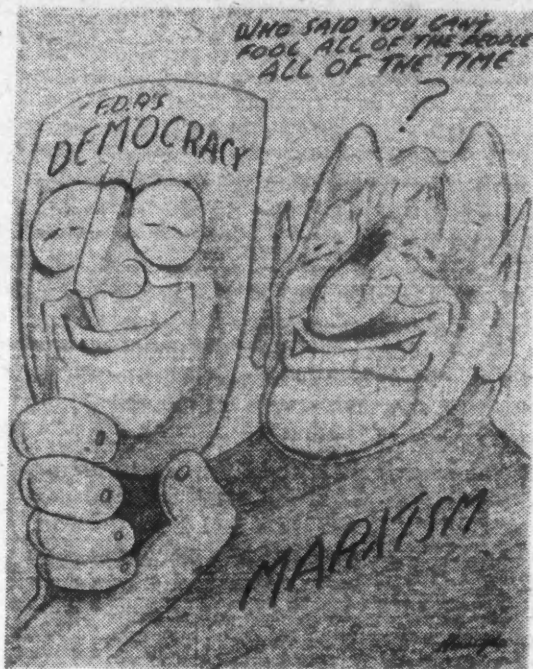

She has a vast fleet of submarines, each capable of launching atom bombs on the world. And she has by all odds the finest Arctic fleet of planes in the world. This at a time, incidentally, when the United States is woefully backward in plans to defend Alaska, or, indeed, her own continental territory and Canada from a plane attack across the North Pole.

Much of the information contained in the last nine paragraphs comes to us from an Englishman, Mr. Kenneth de Courcy, editor of the widely known Intelligence Digest. We have known Mr. de Courcy for some years, and have a high opinion of his knowledge and integrity.

Of course it may be that Soviet Russia will never actually start an atomic war. But it can be said with a large measure of certainty that she plans, by 1952 or 1953, to have bases, or submarines, from which an atom bomb missile can be directed at every vital point in the United States, in Britain, and doubtless in other Western countries. Then Soviet Russia will point a gun at the Western nations and make known her terms.

We do not, however, rely only upon Russia's past record. There is much more important evidence. First-class intelligence sources have brought in documentary and near-documentary evidence of Russian General Staff plans which leave us in no shadow of doubt as to Soviet intentions.

A couple of years ago one of the popular magazines published a fanciful article, telling of a call at some future time by the Soviet Ambassador on the President of the United States. The Ambassador calmly announces that a score or more atom bombs have been brought into the country and carefully placed at some of the most vital points in the country, and tells the President that these will be detonated by remote control unless, within an hour, the Government of the United States hands over the United States to Soviet Russia, to do with as she pleases.

Then the writer asks the reader the question—"What would you do?"

The implication is that there would be a case for surrendering the liberties and possessions of 150 million Americans to the tender mercies of Soviet Russia!

And this very alternative will be placed before America within the next four years—unless America wakes up and moves fast.

cused of banding together with the intent to overthrow the United States government by violence. "The Communist Party was no innocent victim. The 11 defendants were no innocent children. They are paid and trained workers—they know the score!"

Praising the Smith Act, under which the Communists were indicted, Tumulty said it was "the only way the U. S. can fight against enemies from within," and protect our basic liberties. "Will we make our country better by bringing in total slavery?" he asked.

In reference to loyalty oaths, Assemblyman Tumulty commented: "The only ones who don't like them are those who are afraid they'll be caught lying!"

Although the Jewish Community Center issued a statement, following Tumulty's exit, and said they regretted a guest speaker's reference to a religious group, it did not publicize O. John Rogge's Communist front affiliations. They in-

Harry Hopkins, Zionist

We tip our hat to Fulton Lewis, Jr. for his patriotism and enterprise in exposing some of the traitorous activities of those in the employ of our government who cooperated with the Marxist forces of the Soviet Union in undermining our country. Major George Racey Jordan deserves much credit for furnishing this information but he will be smeared by the Marxist-controlled papers, as have others before him who dared expose such activities.

Major Jordan definitely established that Harry Hopkins was one of the most active who supervised the smuggling of tons of State Department confidential records through the air field at Great Falls, Montana, for transport to Fairbanks, Alaska, where Soviet flyers took the seven thousand planes we gave them, loaded with correspondence.

It is a waste of time and sentiment to blame the Communist Soviet Union for accepting the planes free, as well as eleven billions of dollars of equipment and material from trucks to complete factories, all paid for by the taxpayers. Uniformed people will probably say that it is too bad Harry Hopkins is dead, making it impossible to place the blame where it belongs and hang him, as so many say about F.D.R., but the truth is that these two were only a small part of the Zionist-Communist gang which has been systematically robbing and bankrupting us for at least sixteen years. Harry Hopkins real name is Harry Al Raschid, a Zionist. He was inside man at the White House then for the Zionists as is David Niles (Neyhus) and Felix Frankfurter today. Harry Hopkins may be dead BUT THE ZIONIST PLAN IS NOT DEAD. It is more active than ever. Harry's son, David, formerly of Enterprise Studios, is now in the gravy with the Marshall Plan setup in France where Otto Frankfurter (brother of Felix Frankfurter) who served two terms in the pen, is also enjoying the gravy while the American citizens pay, and pay, and pay. It is high time some of the hyphenated citizens are hung and their property confiscated.

clude: American Labor Party, cited as subversive by the Committee on Un-American Activities; American Youth for Democracy, cited as subversive by the Attorney General; Civil Rights Congress—International Workers Order—Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee (all cited as subversive by the Attorney General) and Progressive Citizens of America, cited as subversive by the California Committee on Un-American Activities.

In addition to which, Rogge is not only supported by Soviet agencies, press and radio, but he has participated in activities supporting arrested and indicted Reds.

Assemblyman Tumulty, a Jersey City attorney, is a graduate of Fordham University and the John Marshall Law School. A co-author of the Whorter-Tumulty Loyalty Oath Bill, Mr. Tumulty is also a member of the All-American Debating Society.

It is interesting to note that Rabbi Joachim Prinz, who acted as moderator for the debate, is vice president of the AMERICAN JEWISH CONGRESS, leading Zionist organization in America, whose "Law and Social Division" forced printers to stop work on COMMON SENSE. Now a member of the executive committee of the World Jewish Congress, Rabbi Prinz was ordered out of Germany in 1937 when Germany was purging its country of COMMUNISTS.

Strange, isn't it, that the Jewish Community Center should ever have allowed Rogge on their platform—even in the interest of discussion of current events? How much truth is there in the rumor COMMON SENSE has heard that the American Jewish Congress is paying Rogge $1000. per evening for his appearances on their platforms?

MARXIST ANTI-CHRISTIAN WAR INSIDE U. S. A. HITS NEW HIGH WITH SMEAR-BUND ON THE AIR

MARXIST CREEPING WORLD CONQUEST THREATENING CHRISTIANITY

Thomas J. Watson, General Dwight E. Eisenhower, Father Robert I. Gannon, S. J., Hon. James E. Forrestal, John J. Raskob, and other notables smeared

It is now very obvious to the world that Christianity continues to be the only effective force which is now preventing a Marxist victory completely covering the entire globe. The Marxists are also well aware that such is the fact.

The running fight which Christianity has been putting up against the Marxists world-wide forces has been, until recently a single-handed fight. Christianity alone held the citadel of civilization until other important groups within our political, economic and social systems woke up to the fact that their "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" were being threatened as never before in all the recorded history of mankind.

Civilization cannot possibly survive unless Christianity survives. Civilization as we know it is the product of Christianity. They must destroy Christianity before Marxists can force upon the peoples of the world their "dictatorship of the proletariat" form of government in place of our existing "government by the consent of the governed", the only form of government "by the people, for the people and of the people."

Christianity and Marxism cannot exist in the same places at the same time. One of the two must give way to the other. When Marxism comes in by the front door Christianity goes out the back door. And with Christianity go all the cherished liberties and all the priceless freedoms of the individual. A form of atheistic Marxist dictatorship displaces democracy and Christianity disappears. That is what happens whenever and wherever Marxists get their feet into the door. It appears that is about to happen here too.

The most dangerous enemies of Christianity wear the most innocent-looking disguises and they camouflage their insidious activities in the most expert manner. They seek to create the illusion that they are lovingly "patting" Christianity on the back. But as they pat Christianity on the back they are only trying to locate the softest spot to plunge the knife.

SMEAR-OF-THE-YEAR WINNER

1949 World's Champion Walter Winchell
Hatchet-man No. 1 of the Smear-bund.

These enemies of Christianity know how to infiltrate into the hearts of Americans professing Christianity. It is elementary logic that it is impossible to destroy an enemy unless the enemy is kept very close. The ravings and rantings over the radio-networks of their devotion to the cause of Christianity must not blind anyone to the truth. The Christmas season provides them with an excellent opportunity to dig themselves a a little deeper into the confidence of novices.

The Marxists will leave no stone unturned to eradicate Christianity from the face of the earth. They correctly understand that Marxism will dry up and die out if Christianity is able to complete its program of establishing the teachings of Jesus Christ as a foundation for a world-wide brotherhood-of-man and its social, political, and economic systems. The survival of Marxism requires that Marxists thwart that aspiration.

The international, anti-Christian, Marxists inside U.S.A. are waging a most ruthless war of extermination against Christianity. They are now using a new type of weapon with great success. Until or unless the secret-use of this invisible weapon is quickly exposed to all its innocent victims opposition to it must result in defeat. Propaganda over the radio net-works is today the most powerful peace-time weapon in the world. The avowed enemies of Christianity are now using that deadly weapon to an extent little realized or understood by the defenders of Christianity. Their eyes must be opened at once.

These evil enemies of Christianity are now exerting a form of absolute "thought control" over the 150,000,000 unsuspecting Americans professing Christianity as they sit day after day and listen to scientifically camouflaged propaganda sent into their own homes over 61,124,281 radios. Their blind faith in certain radio commentators renders them incapable of understanding that they have become the victims of this vicious weapon by which Christianity is being sabotaged.

The quantity and the quality of this vicious propaganda is worked into broadcasts disguised as the confidential exposure of secret scandals behind the news of the day. The unhesitant and unquestioned acceptance by the public makes this propaganda dangerously effective. The generous contributions of this cooperation by many of the leading radio commentators supports the ominous

NEW YORK TIMES DEBUNKS NAZI SLAUGHTER OF 6,000,000 JEWS

Leading spokesman for world Jewry reveals important information

The New York Times publishes the proof that there are more persons professing Judaism in the world today than there were in 1938. The Zionists have claimed that the Nazis slaughtered 6,000,000 persons professing Judaism between 1939 and 1945. The figures which the New York Times publishes on this subject are reliable and have been obtained from official sources.

The statistics given by the New York Times prove positively that Zionists resorted to this gigantic untruth to gain the world's sympathy and support for their political ambitions and nationalist aspirations in Palestine. It was a well known fact to the Zionists when they were using this vicious propaganda that there was no foundation for their false claims that Nazis had slaughtered 6,000,000 human beings because Judaism happened to be their religious belief.

The American Jewish Committee wants to be recognized as the Vatican of Judaism. They claim to be the authorized spokesmen for world Jewry. Statistics which they have issued in the past have always been regarded as very reliable. Organized in 1908, the American Jewish Committee has acted throughout the world as the guardian of the interests and the welfare of persons professing Judaism. Its active leaders have included Jacob H. Schiff, Paul Warburg, Herbert Lehman, Henry Morgenthau, Sr., and Americans professing Judaism of similar origin.

The authoritative World Almanac for the year 1947, on page 219, states that the world's population of persons professing Judaism, in the year 1939 was 15,688,259. The World Almanac states that this figure was supplied to them by predictions of the coming triumph over Christianity in the not too distant future by the international, anti-Christian, Marxists.

It appears more than pure coincidence that these cleverly camouflaged attacks by the radio commentators always follow the identical "line" which is constantly repeated in every other form of propaganda in their war against Christianity by the international, anti-Christian, Marxists. It is more than mere accident that the thinking of both these groups is identical on identical issues. Outside of this mutual interest it is impossible to discover any basis for their mutual interest on any other subjects. Without fail they will jump into action at the same time on the same subject from the identical viewpoint when the effect is to sabotage public confidence in Christianity.

These numerous radio commentators are the unseen soldiers in the army of the enemies of Christianity. Their vocabularies are the weapons they employ. They invent smears which are more deadly than bullets. Their radio scripts virtually become the death warrants for their hunted prey. Nothing less than a miracle is ever able to rescue their victims from the fate which awaits them.

The completely unjustified and the wholly unwarranted attacks upon the character and the integrity of distinguished men of the highest standing and of unquestioned probity earns for these radio commentators the title "smear-bund".

These (in)famous smear-bund members are at all times engaged in a never-ending contest amongst themselves for the championship of the smear-bund. They compete to attain the position of "Hatchet-man No. 1" of the smear-bund. Those of them who smear the mostest and the bestest are the ones who prosper the mostest and advance the fastest with the mysterious assistance of their many powerful unseen friends.

These hatchet-men of this smear-bund have developed character-assassination to a science and they have become masters in the profession. They first build unlimited public confidence in themselves by coloring ordinary news items with language dripping with a sugar-coating made of pious and patriotic words. They seek to create a holier-than-thou reputation with the public which then acts as a camouflage for the smears which they then can broadcast without fear of suspicion. They "fool all of the people all of the time" judging by the existing state of affairs.

The average radio listener is not able to distinguish between the broadcast of genuine news items and the counterfeit news-like smears which are cleverly disguised to appear as genuine news. It is as difficult for the public to distinguish between the genuine and the counterfeit in these broadcasts as it is for the public to distinguish between genuine and counterfeit money. It takes an expert of the Treasury Department to do that.

The Walter Winchells, the Drew Pearsons, the William Gailmores, the Johannes Steels are good examples of how the hatchet-men of the smear-bund work. Observers who are regarded by all as competent experts in this field state that today nearly all radio commentators with large audiences on the air, with very few exceptions, are serving in the ranks of the smear-bund as hatchet-men shock-troops in a secret army.

Americans who profess Christianity must be placed in the position to identify these enemies of Christianity who fill the air-waves with this form of sabotage against Christianity. They will be able to identify these concealed smears with the ease of experts if they will study the following case histories with great care.

Thomas Jefferson is reported to have said, "Vigilance is the eternal price of liberty." To persons professing Christianity throughout the world it is more true today than ever. The only reminder they require is the gruesome fate of the living and the dead in Russia, Poland, Hungary, Czecho-Slovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria, and other satellite states of the Soviet Union. It can happen here too. It will unless it is prevented!

Drew Pearson, over WJZ (N.Y.) and over the entire ABC Network smeared Mr. Thomas J. Watson and General Dwight D. Eisenhower in exactly the following words, which were officially recorded and transcribed for the radio industry by Radio Reports, Incorporated,

"New York, Exclusive:

Thomas J. Watson the President of INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES, and the man who picked General Eisenhower to be President of Columbia University, will hold a very significant private dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria tomorrow night to launch General Eisenhower for President.

However, General Eisenhower, may I respectfully suggest that you be careful. Tom Watson is the same gentleman who received a medal from Adolph Hitler but did not take the trouble to return it until after France fell.

If certain industrialists like Tom Watson had been a little more careful about kow-towing to Hitler before the war, you, General Eisenhower, would not have lost so many of your men during the war."

The radio industry's authentic Hooper survey of the radio audiences of leading commentators lists Drew Pearson with about 25,000,000 radios turned in for his broadcast every Sunday night. It is easy to believe that by Monday morning every home in the United States is well acquainted with the smears by Drew Pearson on those Sunday night broadcasts. That (in)famous smear-of-the-year indicated the infinitely patriotic Mr. Watson with the crime of betraying the American Army men fighting in Europe with General Eisenhower. In the same breath Drew Pearson indicated General Eisenhower as incompetent to be at the head of the American Army in Europe.

Upon what foundation of fact did Drew Pearson base this smear? In 1933 Mr. Watson was the President of the International Chamber of Commerce. The leading nations of the world have for years made it a custom to decorate the President of the International Chamber of Commerce with an honorary decoration. The evidence of this honor is usually in the form of a medal.

During the term of Mr. Watson's office as President of the International Chamber of Commerce it happened also that Adolph Hitler was the Chancellor of the German Government. In his capacity as head of his government Hitler made the presentation to Mr. Watson, who accepted the medal only in his official capacity.

That is the extent to which Mr. Watson was guilty of "kow-towing" to Adolph Hitler. Drew Pearson wanted the American public to believe that Mr. Watson was "kow-towing" to Adolph Hitler to such an extent that he thus is guilty of contributing to the death of "so many" of General Eisenhower's soldiers who did not return with him to their homes, and never will.

Drew Pearson could not have uttered a more dishonorable smear than that one. To "warn" General Eisenhower to "beware" of Mr. Watson over the ABC Network with over 25,000,000 news-hungry ardent Drew Pearson fans tuned-in is not an intelligent or sincere way by which to convey information of such a private character to a person with General Eisenhower's fame.

It is alarming to learn what is behind this bit of news. The tradition of journalism in this country invokes the obligation to hew to the line and let the chips fall where they may. The American public desires and deserves the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. Well here it is, lock, stock and barrel.

Mr. Watson had been high-pressured by the creme-de-la-creme of the Zionist elite to be a good Christian and to accept the office of Chairman of the National Christian Committee of the United Jewish Appeal. Mr. Watson accepted. United Jewish Appeal raises money in the United States for the Zionist world-wide "united front." The name of Mr. Watson could make it easier for United Jewish Appeal to obtain funds from Americans professing Christianity and equally easier from Americans professing Judaism.

Mr. Watson was willing and even anxious to lend the use of his name to swell the total of the money being raised in this country for worthy philanthropic use here at home and for humanitarian use abroad for relief work among Europeans professing Judaism. Mr. Watson's work in this field is the legend of a long lifetime consecrated by devotion to the welfare of others unable to win their fight against their plight.

If either Mr. Bernard Baruch, Mr. Herbert Lehman, Mr. Henry Morgenthau Jr., or Mr. E. M. M. Warburg was ever the Chairman of a National Jewish Committee of a United Christian Appeal that fact never got into the newspapers. There were at that time in the displaced persons camps of eastern Europe less than 200,000 persons professing Judaism and over 600,000 persons professing Christianity. In spite of this Mr. Watson put his shoulder to the wheel for human beings whose suffering he could mitigate as a non-sectarian American professing Christianity.

Mr. Watson learned that money being raised in the United States for relieving hunger, disease, and poverty among persons professing Judaism in the camps and elsewhere in Eastern Europe was being used to purchase immense quantities of the most modern military equipment from the Soviet Union, Czecho-Slovakia, and other Soviet Union satellite with these U.S.A. dollars.

Mr. Watson also learned that substantial amounts collected in this country for philanthropic uses abroad were being spent in this country for the purchase of similar military equipment. This fund was secretly equipping an invisible, invincible military juggernaut which Zionists were smuggling into the Holy Land, piece by piece, as agricultural machinery and other mislabeled shipments under the nose of the British authorities who were powerless to prevent it owing to Zionist pressure in London.

This modern military juggernaut was made up only of the finest and the latest weapons, from Stalin tanks, Sherman tanks, four-motored bombing planes, heavy artillery, Bofors anti-aircraft, guns, Bren gun-carriers, to Lee-Enfield rifles, flame throwers, bazookas and other modern death-dealing weapons fit for a World War III army. The Palestinian defenders of their ancient homeland had military equipment which can be compared qualitatively with the arms available to the Minute Men in the Battle of Lexington if fought today against a U.S.S.R.

Mr. Watson sent for Mr. Henry Morgenthau Jr. the National Chairman of United Jewish Appeal. Mr. Watson explained his position and tendered his resignation in writing as the Chairman of the National Christian Committee of United Jewish Appeal. Mr. Morgenthau accepted it in writing but asked Mr. Watson to withhold announcing his resignation publicly until Mr. Morgenthau could consult on the matter with his associates. Mr. Watson granted this request.

United Jewish Appeal correctly feared that their ability to raise funds would be seriously injured if the truth were made public stating the real reason for Mr. Watson's resignation. This crisis invited action by United Jewish Appeal. Mr. Watson's office had already confirmed his resignation to correspondents of foreign newspapers who had immediately cabled the news to their papers abroad. United Jewish Appeal had requested New York newspapers not to mention the fact. It was kept out of papers in the meantime while United Jewish Appeal took steps to prepare the smear to queer Mr. Watson.

While United Jewish Appeal had Mr. Watson on the hook, Drew Pearson gave his (in)famous broadcast smearing Mr. Watson as "anti-Semitic". The typical "anti-Semitic" smear is to tie a person up with Adolph Hitler. No smear is more deadly than that one. Including the "warning" to General Eisenhower made the smear more deadly. Many fine American soldiers professing Judaism died while fighting with General Eisenhower. On account of that smear their friends could think him "anti-Semitic."

Could it have been a mere coincidence that Drew Pearson uttered that (in)famous smear at that particular moment? Or was there a pipeline that dropped that hint to Drew Pearson? That is the "$64. question" to which the public will itself have to supply the correct answer.

After the (in)famous smear by Drew Pearson it was only a matter of hours before Mr. Watson was advised solemnly that contributors to United Jewish Appeal professing Judaism as well as Christianity were reacting very unfavorably to the smear. "Was it not bad policy to continue in office as Chairman of a United Jewish Appeal subsidiary a person who had been publicly accused of 'kow-towing' with their greatest enemy, Adolph Hitler?", they asked him.

Mr. Watson was advised that United Jewish Appeal "would no longer require your services," and Mr. Watson was neatly dismissed before he could make his resignation public. That "anti-Semitic" smear did the trick. And the public never did learn where their money had been going until the news appeared in the papers. How many millions of these good U.S. dollars went to the U.S.S.R. or her puppet pets for this huge juggernaut very few will ever know. The funds were paid via Switzerland to conceal the truth.

It is no less than an outright insult to General Eisenhower for Drew Pearson to "warn" General Eisenhower "that you be very careful" about Mr. Watson. General Eisenhower is above accepting Drew Pearson as a substitute for his Army Intelligence veterans to investigate the war-time loyalty of his new peace-time friends.

The "anti-Semitic" smear of Mr. Watson had a two-fold effect. The first purpose was explained in the preceding paragraph. The second effect was to deprive General Eisenhower of the political support of Mr. Watson, should he decide to consent to listen to the overtures that he become a candidate for President of the U.S.A.

The veterans and the families of the boys who died fighting under General Eisenhower were hardly likely to look upon General Eisenhower as their choice as candidate for President if they realized that this principal backer was Tom Watson of "kow-towing" fame with Hitler.

The 13,000,000 veterans and the many million relatives and friends of the boys who did not come back could hardly be expected to vote for General Eisenhower as the President of the United States after discovering the General's big backer contributed to the "loss of so many of your men during the war" by "kow-towing with Adolph Hitler." Their votes would be lost.

Drew Pearson smeared General Eisenhower and thereby made the nomination of President Truman certain. The President's friends knew that if Mr. Watson actively supported General Eisenhower that General Eisenhower must win the nomination. And having won the nomination General Eisenhower would become the next President of the United States. They did not want that to happen if they could prevent it.

So the rug was pulled out from under General Eisenhower by Drew Pearson on behalf of the friends of President Truman. There can be no doubt in the minds of persons competent to judge that the well-timed smear of Mr. Watson was responsible for keeping General Eisenhower from becoming the President of the United States.

We hope that the 13,000,000 veterans and the families and friends of the boys who were left behind in European cemeteries will never give further consideration to similar repeat performances by the hatchet-men of the smear-bund. It seems they will need General Eisenhower in peace-time more than in war-time.

The late Hon. Mr. James E. Forrestal was not quite so fortunate. He paid with his life for his patriotic opposition to those international, anti-Christian, Marxists who planned to run him out of public life. But he had been a fighter as a young man. It was not so easy to knock him out. He always stayed in the fight to the very finish.

The nature, the intensity, and the frequency of the smears against the late Hon. Mr. Forrestal were beyond human endurance. Nerves of the finest spring steel would snap like a straw under the strain of the responsibilities of his official duties and the added task of defending the honor of himself and his family against the pick of the hatchet-men of the smear-bund. No one man could stand up very long under all that.

Walter Winchel and Drew Pearson both went to work on the late Hon. Mr. Forrestal. They did not spare him. As the No. 1 and the No. 2 hatchet-men of the smear-bund they added gory glory to their inglorious profession. It never ended. It was first one and then the other. The one-two, one-two, one-two of the fight to a finish was not ended until he ended his own life.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal knew the score. He knew that behind these smears was the invisible hand of the international, anti-Christian, Marxists. He knew what they wanted. They also knew that he knew. He must be discredited even at the risk of making life unbearable for him.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal was a true patriot in every sense of the word. He died fighting for his country. The security of this country was at stake. He knew it. The country did not yet know it. They do know it today however and they have still a lot to learn.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal knew that 77% of all the known oil reserves of the entire world were in the geographic area within 500 miles of Palestine. The security of this country and the peace of the world required that this essential sinew of modern warfare should not pass into the control of any nation which was hostile to us.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal knew that in the Dead Sea in the Holy Land were chemicals upon which the British Colonial Office officially placed a valuation, in excess of Five Trillion Dollars, or, in excess of Five-thousand Billion Dollars, ($5,000,000,000,000.00), twenty times the amount of the entire national debt of the United States today. The strategic importance of these chemicals in time of war and in time of peace makes it vital to the welfare and security of this country that the Dead Sea chemicals shall not pass into the control of any nation hostile to us. The consequences can prove catastrophic.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal expressed the view that transplanting to Palestine a population of a few million from the geographic area in eastern Europe which had been for more than thirty years incubating Marxists and their Communist subordinates would be establishing in that strategic area a satellite state for the Soviet Union. The unseen realities which exist today in the Holy Land confirm the wisdom of his vision. The truth is gradually unfolding itself!

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal expressed the view that the peoples of Palestine be allowed by means of a plebiscite to express their desires for the kind of government under which they wished to live. This was in keeping with the theory of government established in 1776 by the founders of this country. It also was the purpose for which World War I and II were fought. The right of self-determination was the essence of Wilson's Fourteen Points, Roosevelt's Four Freedoms, and the Charter of United Nations. The Judaic population of Palestine was only 7% of the total in 1919 before the 850,000 aliens were forced in by the Zionist international conspiracy. At the time United Nations recommended partition of Palestine in 1947 the Judaic population was then less than 33% of the total.

The late Hon. Mr. Forrestal could not be high-pressured into supporting the Zionist conspiracy engineered from abroad for using the prestige, the military power and the material resources of the United States for the invasion and conquest of Palestine by the Eastern Europeans who coveted the Holy Land. For this truly American attitude he was marked for extermination from behind the scenes by the international, anti-Christian, Marxists.

Interesting facts relating to the Holy Land and to the who, what, when, where and why of the latest developments in the Holy Land for many years will be found in other news items in this issue. They are very informative and very authoritative and should be carefully read.

Pursuant to their pitiless policy of persecuting Americans professing Christianity who are in the front ranks of those who oppose them, Walter Winchel smeared the much beloved Father Robert I. Gannon and the distinguished Mr. John J. Raskob, whose assistance made General Motors Corporation what it is today.

To his regular Sunday night radio audience of over 25,000,000 listeners over the entire ABC Network Walter Winchel informed his trusting listeners that Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob were invited to attend on the following day a "very secret meeting" in the offices of "the pro-Franco propagandist" to hear a "secret speaker" who is a former associate of "Adolph Hitler's stooge in the Near East, the Grand Mufti". Walter Winchel wound up by saying "Somebody ought to expose this thing, so I just did".

This is the standard "anti-Semitic" smear of the hatchet-men of the smear-bund. It is the typical smear against those whom they seek to discredit in the eyes of the public. The Grand Mufti of Jerusalem has received tremendous free publicity by Zionists as the man who went to Germany, where he taught the Nazi Heinrich Himmler how to build furnaces and gas-chambers for the extermination of persons professing Judaism for that reason and that reason alone.

To link an American professing Christianity with the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem is by far the most deadly of all the "anti-Semitic" smears. To link Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob in the same breath with the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem is to the American Jewish Committee and by the Jewish Statistical Bureau of the Synagogues of America, H. S. Linfield, Director. It is not possible to find the equal of these two sources for unchallengeable statistics on this topic.

In the year 1948 the New York Times stated that the world's population in 1948 of persons professing Judaism amounted to "15,000,000,000 to 18,000,000,000 Jews" in addition to the "600,000 to 700,000 in Palestine." The New York Times at that time spared no effort to establish the exact world's population of persons professing Judaism. They are very expert in this field.

These figures can be accepted without hesitancy by even the most skeptical Zionist. The New York Times is owned and operated by two outstanding Americans professing Judaism. They would not permit their paper to publish untrue statistics on that subject for any consideration.

The New York Times in 1948 assigned one of the world's leading authorities on matters relating to populations to prepare an up-to-the-minute article on the situation in Palestine. The statements of this noted authority, the well-known Mr. Hanson W. Baldwin, are accepted everywhere and by everyone without hesitancy on matters connected with statistical facts.

After his investigation and consultations with official sources, Mr. Hanson W. Baldwin, in the New York Times on February 22, 1948 over his own signature, supplied the figures stated above. Their reliability cannot be questioned.

The American Jewish Committee and the Statistical Bureau of the Synagogues of America officially confirm the world population of persons professing Judaism in 1938 as 15,688,259 and the New York Times officially states that in the year 1948 that population totaled between 15,600,000 and 18,700,000. Based upon these figures from sources which cannot be challenged the disappearance of 6,000,000 during that period can only be regarded as political propaganda.

It must be very evident that the world's population of persons professing Judaism would today be less than 10,000,000 if the 6,000,000 allegedly murdered by the Nazis were deducted from the 1938 world's population of 15,688,259. The authenticated 1948 world's population of 15,600,000 to 18,700,000 persons professing Judaism completely discredits this propaganda.

The Zionists have used this vicious untruth as propaganda to entice the sympathy and support of the non-Zionist populations of the world for their well-camouflaged and completely misrepresented intentions in Palestine. The Zionists did not underestimate the tremendous force this big untruth would exert upon the sympathetic and the unsuspecting non-Zionist populations everywhere. It won support which won for them.

The Zionists pointed their accusing finger at populations professing Christianity and pleaded for their support the world over for the "remnants of Hitler's wrath," never overlooking to play up the alleged 6,000,000 who were murdered. The Zionists claimed the right to ask for this assistance in creating a sovereign Zionist state in Palestine as a matter of atonement for the alleged slaughter of 6,000,000 of their co-religionists by Hitler and others professing Christianity. Their statements were not doubted.

We join with all other civilized peoples of every religious belief who mourn the loss of even one innocent life as the victim of the madness which swept over Europe. Our grief over the deaths of countless innocent men, women and children in the European and Asiatic war areas includes the peoples of all religions, races, and nationalities. A mutilated pregnant woman, a butchered baby, and a cremated living human being stir the same reaction within us whether the victims attended a synagogue or a church or neither. Survival is not a sectarian struggle.

The New York Times has rendered a great

SOVIET UNION WITHHOLDS ZIONIST SOVEREIGNTY IN THEIR HISTORIC HOMELAND

The historic homeland of the Eastern Europeans of Judaized-Khazar origin is indicated on the map on this page. They have lived in that geographic area for two-thousand years. Before they occupied that area their historic homeland was beyond the Urals in Asia. They had lived there since pre-historic times. Their ancestors had never set their feet in Palestine.

The Turki-Finn race of Asia, the Khazar tribal-nation, were a different race than the Semites who inhabited all Palestine from pre-historic times on down through the ages until the recent invasion of Palestine by the 850,000 Eastern Europeans who claim they were being "repatriated" to Palestine.

The territories in Eastern Europe inhabited in recent times by populations of Judaized-Khazar origin include the southern portion of the Soviet Union and large sections of Lithuania, Poland, Galicia, Hungary, Rumania and Austria. This entire area of about 800,000 square miles at one time formed the Judaized-Khazar kingdom. It was incorporated into the expanding Russian Empire when the Khazars were conquered by the Russians shortly after the 10th Century. Historians and anthropologists confirm that Palestine never was the homeland of the Judaized Khazars and support it with facts.

Between the 11th and 18th Centuries Russia suffered many defeats at the hands of the aggressive young kingdoms which were expanding on Russia's western borders. Russia suffered defeats by Poland, Lithuania, Galicia, Hungary, Austria and Rumania. Russia was compelled after each defeat to surrender portions of her territory to these victorious neighbors. Thus Poland, Lithuania, Galicia, Hungary, Austria, and Rumania acquired with their territory the Judaized Khazars inhabiting that territory.

The presence of these Judaic populations in these many eastern European countries is the result of partition of that portion of Russia inhabited by the Judaized Khazars among the countries where they are now found. The Judaic populations of these countries are not the result of the immigration to eastern Europe from Palestine of Judaic exiles at any period in all the history of Palestine as is generally believed.

The territories thus surrendered by Russia in each case consisted of sections of the former Khazar kingdom. With the territories thus acquired from Russia the victorious nations also acquired the populations which inhabited these territories. Throughout history that has been the normal consequence when nations have acquired territories by warfare against their neighbors.

The continual relocating of national boundaries as a result of these wars changed the nationality of these former Russians to the nationalities of their newly acquired motherlands. Thus millions of Judaized-Khazars of Russian nationality automatically acquired the new nationalities of Poland, Lithuania, Galicia, Hungary, Austria and the nations in that area.

But these Judaized Khazars only changed the name of their nationality. They did not in the least change their customs, their culture, their language, nor their racial origin. The bonds which they formerly had in common continued to hold them together as closely as though the conquest by Russia and the partition by these many nations of the former Judaized Khazar Kingdom had never taken place. The Talmud, Yiddish, Judaism and their one-thousand year tradition as an independent, sovereign kingdom united them and has kept them so.

The eastern European populations of Khazar origin can rightfully claim a common nationality. The Khazar Kingdom formed one of the integral units which were assembled by conquest to form the Russian Empire. During the thousand years since its foundation in 885 A.D. the Russians have conquered 9,000,000 square miles and the populations within them have been absorbed.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is composed of sixteen separate individual Socialist Republics. They have united and formed the Soviet Union. None of these sixteen separate independent Soviet Socialist Republics, which were carved out of the former Russian Empire, has as good a claim to restoration of its status as a separate state as the population of the former Khazar Kingdom has to that status.

The Soviet Union, in keeping with the Marxist dogma upon which it is founded, does CHAZARS: A people of Turkish origin whose life and history are interwoven with the very beginnings of the history of the Jews of Russia.

Among the classical writers of the Middle Ages they were known as the "Chozars," "Khazirs."

Historical evidence points to the region of the Ural as the home of the Chazars.

Driven onward by the nomadic tribes of the steppes and by their own desire for plunder and revenge

The Chazars had already occupied part of the Black Sea region.

About 434 they were for a time tributary to Attila—Sidonius Apollinaris relates that the Chazars followed the banners of Attila—and in 452 fought on the Catalanian fields in company with the Black Huns and Alans.

In the second half of the sixth century the Chazars moved westward.

The kingdom of the Chazars was firmly established in most of South Russia long before the foundation of the Russian monarchy by the Varangians (855).

In the second half of the sixth century the Chazars moved westward. They established themselves in the territory bounded by the Sea of Azov, the Don and the lower Volga, the Caspian Sea, and the northern Caucasus.

The Chazars had already occupied the northeastern part of the Black Sea region.

Early in that century the kingdom of the Chazars had become powerful enough to enable the chaghan to send to the Byzantine emperor Heraclius an army of 40,000 men, by whose aid he conquered the Persians (626-627).

At this time the kingdom of the Chazars stood at the height of its power, and was constantly at war

In 679 the Chazars subjugated the Bulgars and extended their sway farther west between the Don and the Dnieper, as far as the head-waters of the Donetz in the province of Lebedia

The Caucasian Goths (Tetraxites) were subjugated by the Chazars, probably about the seventh century.

They were no longer governed by their own princes, but were ruled by the kings of the Chazars.

Chazarian troops were among the body-guard of the Byzantine imperial court; and they fought for Leo VI against Simeon of Bulgaria in 888.

In the conquest of Hungary by the Magyars (889) the Chazars rendered considerable assistance.

At the end of the eighth century, when the Crimean Goths rebelled against the sovereignty of the Chazars, the latter occupied the Gothic capital, Doros.

Written about the ninth century, it appears as if all the Chazars were Jews and that they had been converted to Judaism only a short time before that book was written.

It was one of the successors of Bulan named Obadiah, who regenerated the kingdom and strengthened the Jewish religion. He invited Jewish scholars to settle in his dominions, and founded synagogues and schools. The people were instructed in the Bible, Mishnah, and Talmud and in the "divine service of the hazzanim."

son Manasseh; Manasseh by Hanukkah, a brother of Obadiah; Hanukkah by his son Isaac; Isaac by his son Moses (or Manasseh II); the latter by his son Nisi; and Nisi by his son Aaron II. King Joseph himself was a son of Aaron, and ascended the throne in accordance with the law of the Chazars relating to succession.

King Joseph, in his letter to Hasdai ibn Shaprut (about 960), gives the following account of the conversion:

"Some centuries ago King Bulan reigned over the Chazars.
To him God appeared in a dream and promised him might and glory.

From the month of Nisan (April) they led a nomadic life in the steppes, returning to the city about the Feast of Hanukkah (December).

The king had twenty-five wives, all of royal blood, and sixty concubines, all famous beauties. Each one dwelt in a separate tent and was watched by a eunuch.

This seems to have been the beginning of the downfall of the Chazar kingdom.

Varangians had firmly established themselves at Kiev.

This alliance was renewed from time to time until the final conquest of the Chazars by the Russians.

After a hard fight the Russians conquered the Chazars

Five years after the correspondence between the king of the Chazars and Hasdai ibn Shaprut (965), the Russian prince Swyatoslaw made war upon the Chazars.

Four years later the Russians conquered all the Chazarian territory east of the Sea of Azov.

Only the Crimean territory of the Chazars remained in their possession until 1016, when they were dispossessed by a joint expedition of Russians and Byzantines.

These appellations of the River Don and of the city of Kiev point evidently to Jewish-Chazar influences.

Decline and Fall of the Chazars. The Russians had already freed from the rule of the Chazars a part of the Black Bulgars, and had established a separate Russian duchy under the name of "Tmutrakan"; but in the Crimean peninsula the Chazars still had possessions.

Varangians had firmly established themselves

The last of the chaghans, George Tzula, was taken prisoner; some of the Chazars took refuge in an island of the Caspian, Siahcouye; others retired to the Caucasus; while many were sent as prisoners of war to Kiev, where a Chazar community had long existed.

Many members of the Chazarian royal family emigrated to Spain.

Some went to Hungary, but the great mass of the people remained in their native country.

The Chazars cultivated rice, millet, fruit, grains, and the vine. They had important fisheries on the Caspian Sea, and the sturgeon constituted the main article of food.

King Joseph in his letter to Hasdai gives the following account of his kingdom:

"The country up the river is within a four months' journey to the Orient, settled by the following nations who pay tribute to the Chazars: Burtas, Bulgar, Suvar, Arissu, Chazarian Territories Tzarmis, Ventit, Svever, and Slaviyun.

Even the Russian Slavonians of Kiev had, in the ninth century, to pay as yearly tax to the Chazars a sword and the skin of a squirrel for each house.

When the chaghan wanted to punish any one, he said, "Go and commit suicide"—a method resembling the Japanese custom of hara-kiri.

HISTORY OF JERUSALEM NULLIFIES ALL ZIONIST CLAIMS UPON HOLY CITY

In a special cable to the New York Times from Jerusalem on January 3, 1951, Moshe Sharett, the Foreign Minister is reported to have stated the view of his government regarding the reason for the interest of certain Christian denominations in the city of Jerusalem.

In an important appearance before his Parliament sitting in Jerusalem, Moshe Sharett expressed the view that the Christian denomination to which he referred was interested in Jerusalem for the following reason:

"a fanatical religious dogma, the desire to seek revenge for an ancient sin and to settle an account of nineteen centuries standing."

It is inconceivable that the spokesman for the invading Eastern Europeans of Judaized Khazar origin whose aggression against the Holy Land is a blot on the escutcheon of civilized mankind would utter such a bold libel against Christianity. But it is far better to learn now what is really in their minds than to go on believing their pretense and hypocrisy.

It is needless to state here what Jerusalem and the Holy Land represent to Christianity.
Christians the world over understand this without any necessity for giving here a presentation of the nature and the extent of their reverence for the sacred soil of the Nativity of Christ.

But what is to be said or done when these blood-thirsty, ruthless alien invaders of this Holy Land libel in such terms the attachment, the reverence and the love of Christians of all denominations for the birthplace of their religious belief and the spiritual leaders whose lives are woven into the sanctity of that Holy area.

By what historical, ethnic, spiritual, moral, or political right have these Eastern Europeans of Judaized Khazar origin to claim Jerusalem as the "capital" of their "homeland" and to possess it exclusively with the sole jurisdiction of a rightful occupant?

From all the facts which can be assembled it is evident that they have occupied and now physically possess Jerusalem and other areas in Palestine only because they were able to deceive Christianity, and to dishonestly collect hundreds of millions of dollars in the United States with which to equip a modern army to overpower and drive into exile rightful occupants of Palestine.

They are in Jerusalem today because the Soviet Union and the United States supplied them with the weapons with which to carry out their terrorist campaign against Christianity in the Holy Land. They have finally come out in the open and exposed their true colors.

History contradicts and refutes each and every claim to the city of Jerusalem made by the 800,000 trespassers of Judaized-Khazar origin from eastern Europe, who have recently invaded Jerusalem and called it their "capital."

During its history Jerusalem has passed six-times from one religion to another. Surely the converts to these religions throughout the world cannot each claim that Jerusalem is their national "capital" in the political sense of the word. It is easy to understand how they may feel a spiritual attachment to the birthplace of their religion.

The conversion to Judaism in the 8th Century of the population of the Khazar Kingdom, in the area indicated on the map, does not give these former Asiatic people the basis to claim Jerusalem or the surrounding area as their ancient homeland. The Eastern Europeans of Judaized-Khazar origin in all their recorded history have never had a national association with Palestine or are they of the same racial origin as the Semites who always lived there.

If the precedent they seek to establish was to be recognized it would be logical for the 6,000,000 natives in the heart of Africa who have embraced Catholicism in the recent decades to claim the Vatican as their homeland. These Africans converted to Catholicism would have as much right to claim the Vatican for their homeland, and to invade and occupy it, as the Khazars converted to Judaism have to claim Jerusalem, and to invade and occupy it, as they have done.

Christianity was not born in the Vatican.
Judaism was not born in Jerusalem, nor in Palestine. Judaism was born in Egypt, blossomed in the Sinai desert under Moses, and was glam-ourized in Palestine. Christianity was born in Palestine, blossomed in the Mediterranean countries and was glamourized in the Vatican. The U. N. Sounding Board For Communism

By Dr. David Goldstein

THE Soviet Union Foreign Minister, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, returned to Moscow ten days ago, after two months of clever Soviet propaganda spouting in United Nations meetings. His parting brazen blast, on the liner America, was against the U.N. for "refusing to condemn preparations for war," instead of following the pattern of the Soviet Union, the country that is "fighting for peace and international security, as she has always done."

No doubt the Soviet populace was further misled than heretofore by the Vishinsky United Nations diatribes, that were printed in the Soviet press, without the answers to them. Vishinsky was praised in the Soviet press for "bravely" hurling into the faces of the anti-Communist U.N. delegates the charge of "imperialism" and that the United States is being pressed by "Wall Street" into a war against the Soviet Union.

We wonder how much longer the non-Communist delegates in the U.N. are going to permit their organization to be used as a sounding-board for insulting Soviet propaganda? What's the use of further discussing any agreement with the Soviet Union, so long as the Kremlin will not lower its Iron Curtain? So long as it will not permit foreigners or its citizens to go in and out of its territory, as is permitted in democratic countries? Even with the lowering of the Iron Curtain, agreements with the Soviet Union are not likely to be worth the paper they are written on, unless the United Nations has an armed force that would bring belligerent nations to boot.

Our acquaintance with communism, before and after the Bolsheviks forcibly overthrew the Democratic Constituent Assembly of Russia, caused us to be amazed at the many appeasing concessions granted the Soviet Union, that made her powerful enough to threaten the peace of the world. We regret to say that our country is guilty of having led along this appeasing course. This is amazing, considering that the character of the Soviet Union was known to our State Department ever since the Bolsheviks came into power in Russia. To cite but one of many instances, that was told of in the New York Times Current History Magazine of February 1920.—Writing to the Harvard Liberal Club, William Phillips, Assistant Secretary of State, said:

"Bad faith is the avowed essence of Bolshevik diplomacy, and its avowed ulterior purpose is to obtain every possible opportunity for the spread of its subversive doctrines. It is only necessary to quote the following extract from a speech made by Zinoviev, President of the Petrograd Soviet, on the subject of the Prince's Island proposal:

"We are willing to sign an unfavorable peace with the Allies. It would only mean that we should put no trust whatever in the bit of paper we should sign. We would use the breathing space so obtained in order to gather our strength, in order that the mere continued existence of our Government would keep up the world-wide propaganda which Soviet Russia has been carrying on . . ."

Not long after the Bolsheviks acknowledged that an agreement is only a "bit of paper" that they sign in order to get a "breathing space," as were the three dozen treaties the Soviet Union violated that had been solemnly signed since then, the Executive Bureau of the Communist International instructed the Comrades as to how they were to sabotage the United States, as their part of the Red World Revolution. Space permits only the presentation of one-third of the brazen document, viz:

"Dear Comrades, permit us to give you a full resume of our advice and instructions regarding current work in America."

"We firmly believe that one of the most important aims at present is the organization of Communist small nucleus centers among soldiers and sailors—as a fighting section to carry on energetic propaganda in organizing Soviets of soldiers and sailors, and in preaching hostility toward officers and Generals."

"We strongly emphasize that until the Soviets (councils) have got the upper hand they must regard themselves as militant units of the fight for national control and proletarian dictatorship."

"The organization of strikes and of unemployed, and the fomenting of insurrections—that is the task appointed."

"The general platform will be as follows:

"Down with Senate and Congress."

"Down with capitalists in the factories. Long live the management of the factories by the workers."

"Everywhere it is necessary to sharply emphasize the idea of seizing the whole machinery of economic administration by the working class, and to direct toward this object propaganda and agitation—by an outcry against the high cost of living."

"It is of supreme importance to pay the closest attention to the American Federation of Labor. This must be smashed to pieces."

"Frighten every one with the bogey of new wars being prepared by the Capitalists."

"Organize conspirative committees."

Communists are double-dealers. Vishinsky, their Soviet Foreign Minister, spouted against the UN for "refusing to condemn preparations for war," when his own Kremlin gang is the cause of it. He asserts that the Soviet Union is "fighting for peace and security," while she threatens the peace of the world through the Cominform as she did through the Comintern. Vishinsky himself answers the question: "Does Communism teach the overthrow of the state?" in his latest book (The Law of The Soviet People, 1949) thus: "The violent seizure of authority by the proletariat, the demolition of the exploiting society's machinery of state, and the organization of a new state is the most important thesis of the Marxist-Leninist doctrine of proletarian revolution. The greatest service of Lenin and Stalin . . . is that they translated the doctrine into reality."

ZIONIST RULE POLAND

Republished from The Patriot-London, England

Marshal Rokossovsky's appointment as Poland's Defense Minister and chief of the Polish armed forces should not be a surprise to those who understand the structure of the communist group of nations. The Marshal has been "lent" to Poland by Stalin, but in the same way the Soviet dictator might "borrow" Marshal Rydz-Smigly or any other prominent person who could be useful to him. It is a special feature of the regime established on the other side of the Iron Curtain that unity in purpose and action, so prominently absent in the West, has been established in the whole area from the Elbe to the Pacific. Everything has been subordinated to that principle, and when a man like Tito revolts against blind submission and places his own, or his country's interests above the interest of the Communist whole, he thereby condemns himself.

Rokossovsky is entirely a Soviet man. Aged 53, he was born in Warsaw, but left Poland when quite a young man to serve Russia in the first war. He is of communist training and belongs to the group of young Soviet generals who distinguished themselves during the last war. It had been said that his appointment is a kind of exile from Moscow where he became too popular. This is certainly not true—were it so, Stalin would not risk sending him away. There are other ways of removing people who may become dangerous, and to appoint such men to posts of the borderland of the Soviet bloc would be to ask for trouble, and Stalin has had enough trouble with Marshal Tito. Therefore it can be taken that Rokossovsky is a safe man from Stalin's viewpoint, and will obediently carry out all his orders.

From the strategic point of view the appointment has great importance. Poland has at present 14 divisions, with some 160,000 men under arms. In time of war she could raise at least one million men, and this new army, together with the new German army, formed under cover of a police force, would be the spearhead for the onslaught on Western Europe. Combined with efficient German staff-officers now serving in the German Soviet-sponsored force, the Soviet military experts who will come with Rokossovsky to Warsaw, will be able to build up an excellent army, for the Polish soldier, when commanded by clever leaders, is a good fighter.

Rokossovsky has been described as a soldier, not a politician, which is true; but at the same time his task will also consist in crushing the last vestiges of opposition to the communist domination of Poland. The Soviets are hated all over the countries they rule, most of all in Russia, and can survive only by a regime of ruthless terror. Every military leader, if he himself does not wish to become a suspect, must assist the State police in suppressing all attempts of opposition. What is happening now in Czechoslovakia and Hungary has happened in every country, and will continue as long as the Communist State exists. This should be clearly understood by all who have any influence in world affairs, and it was regrettable that Field-Marshal Wavell minimised recently the Soviet danger to world peace by identifying the Soviets with the Russian people. The Russians certainly want peace, and only peace. But the Communists who are not Russians, but internationalists, want war in order to extend their rule to other countries, and finally to the entire world.

"Our morality is entirely subordinated to the interests of the class struggle of the proletariat. We do not believe in eternal morality, and we expose all the fables about morality."—from a pamphlet entitled "Lenin Speaks to Youth," published by the Communist Party of the United States.

"One of the finest things ever done by the mob was the crucifixion of Christ. Intellectually it was a splendid gesture. But trust the mob to bungle. If I'd had charge of executing Christ I'd have handled it differently. You see, what I'd have done was had him shipped to Rome and fed to the lions. They never could have made A saviour out of mince-meat."

service to Christianity by erasing from the pages of history the indictment that 6,000,000 persons professing Judaism were murdered in Europe by persons professing Christianity solely on account of their belief in Judaism. Christianity owes a debt of gratitude to the New York Times for calling the attention of the world to the truth in this matter. Christianity may rejoice that posterity will not be compelled to labor under the indictment of such a crime against its faith.

The Zionists have obtained the benefits which they planned to gain by means of that vicious propaganda about the 6,000,000 who died only on account of their belief in Judaism. It has served its purpose generously from their point of view. It can be of no further service.

The Zionists are now well aware that the alleged murder of those 6,000,000 is a myth. They cannot now plead ignorance of the facts.

Out of gratitude for the material and moral support of millions of persons professing Christianity who made the Zionists' efforts fruitful the Zionists should use their great propaganda machine to give the same amount of publicity to the truth that they gave to the untruth. The Zionists should now do something lofty to cleanse the good name of Christianity of the stigma with which they have labeled it.

Pending release to the public by the New York Times of information obtained from confidential sources concerning the resettlement of Eastern Europeans professing Judaism before, during, and after World War II it will not be possible to publish this information earlier.

Statistics of a most reliable character are available which indicate the present location of the Eastern European populations professing Judaism, which were scattered around the world, before, during, and after the recent war. In spite of the fact that President Roosevelt in 1941 abolished the rule which required immigrants into this country to state their religion there are in existence and available authentic statistics on this domestic and international complication.

The newspapers in recent months published news items about the well-organized, large-scale, illegal smuggling into the United States over a period of many years by the underground airlines of large numbers of immigrants of Eastern European origin. The total is not a secret to several organizations. This form of illegal smuggling has been going on into many of our neighboring countries and into many other countries on a large scale. The totals are not a secret.

When the New York Times is in a position to publish these authentic figures they will be of considerable interest. For the present the figures quoted here of the total populations must suspend further examination of the matter.

It is not to be inferred from any figures quoted here that there were no casualties among the Eastern Europeans professing Judaism. It is quite probable that on a percentage basis the casualties in Eastern Europe of persons professing Judaism, both in the armed forces and out of the armed forces, exceeded the percentage of the casualties of persons not professing Judaism. This fact must be reconciled with the official statistics quoted here and any implication to the contrary is not intended.

On the basis of these reliable figures it appears quite conclusive that the figure of the 6,000,000 persons professing Judaism allegedly murdered by the Nazis because of their religious belief is an extreme exaggeration if not completely a myth manufactured for propaganda purposes by the Zionist world-wide joint-staff of publicity experts to acquire support for their war on the Palestinians which it was impossible for them to entice with any other argument.

spiritual roots of Judaism are not to be found in Jerusalem, nor in Palestine. But the spiritual inspiration of Christianity is deeply, firmly rooted in the sacred soil of Jerusalem and of Palestine, the shrine of the Nativity of Christ.

Jerusalem already had a long tradition of holiness before its king was killed by Joshua in 1451 B.C. In the Scriptures, Genesis XIV. 14, reference is made to King Melchizedek, King of Jerusalem, about five hundred years earlier, when he greeted Abraham on his visit to Jerusalem about the year 1921 B. C.

Jerusalem was taken in 1048 B. C. by David who was seeking a secure location in which to locate the first Temple of the religious belief he was sponsoring. David dwelt in the fort, then changed the name of the city to the City of David. David was following the Egyptian idea of building temples as places for worship, in the manner of the world's first temples on the Nile built twenty centuries before by the Egyptians.

The history of Jerusalem goes back to the Stone Age. Many millenniums after its founding Semites came from Arabia and settled in Palestine about 2500 B.C. Before the invasion of the country by Joshua about 1400 B.C. Jerusalem had been part of the extensive Egyptian empire. The Egyptian garrison there fought with its Jebusite inhabitants to oppose the invaders from the Sinai desert under Joshua's generalship.

According to archeological discoveries Jerusalem was first known as Urusalim, meaning, City of Peace, or Burg of Safety. The city of Urusalim (Jerusalem) became important early as a fortress at the side of the trade-routes that ran from Hebron to Bethel and Sechem. The city of Urusalim (Jerusalem) served as an outpost for the mighty Pharaoh with whom Abdi Khiba, the King of Urusalim corresponded in cuneiform. King Melchisedek, the King of Urusalim, also held an important place among his neighbors.

In the Scriptures, Judges, XIX, 12, Jerusalem is called a "foreign city" not belonging to the Israelites. But the Judahites finally took the place, burned it, and killed its inhabitants.

Jerusalem was the chief seat of one of the districts of Palestine, under the rule of a Viceroy of the Pharaoh in the 15th Century B.C. when Amenophis III had extended Egyptian rule to include territory as remote from Egypt as Syria, Mesopotamia, Babylonia and Assyria.

Between 1099 A.D. and 1239 A.D. Jerusalem had thirteen Christian kings.

The religious belief referred to today as Judaism suggested itself first to Moses in the year 1491 B.C. while he was living in exile among the Kenites in the Sinai desert. Moses adopted the religious belief of his hosts, the Kenites and became the first priest of his new sect. The Kenites worshipped Yahu (Jehovah), the ancient monotheistic religious worship of the tribal desert people adjoining Egypt.

When the invaders under Joshua invaded Canaan Jerusalem was in the hands of the Jebusites. Jerusalem was not completely captured until seven years after David's accession. Moses, a citizen of Egypt, always cherished a great plan for getting his fellow Egyptians back to Canaan from which their ancestors fled about four-hundred years earlier.

After centuries of military control, Canaan was relinquished by the Egyptians in 1170 B.C. to become in a large measure the possession of the invaders who fought as the successors of Joshua. But the title of the new occupants was not to be undisputed. In the thirty-three centuries of its known history Jerusalem has endured over 20 sieges and blockades, about 18 reconstructions and two periods of desolation when history is silent.

REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT

By John Stuart Mill, 1860

"A people may prefer a free government, but if, from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit, they are unequal to the exertions necessary for preserving it; if they will not fight for it when it is directly attacked; if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by monetary discouragement or temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual, they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet even of a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions; in all these cases they are more or less unfit for liberty; and though it may be for their good to have it even for a short time, they are unlikely long to enjoy it."

not accept Judaism or any other religion. But it does however recognize its population of Judaized Khazar origin as a nationality. In keeping with this recognition of its population of Judaized Khazar origin as a nation it is also logical that their status as a nation should also be restored by the creation of a Soviet Khazar Republic.

If the Soviet Union had taken this step the eastern Europeans of Judaized Khazar origin would not have been compelled to go to war against the Palestinians to acquire what is now claimed by them as their "historic homeland." Their historic homeland is actually in that part of the Soviet Union indicated on the map as the "Khazar Kingdom." It existed there almost a thousand years before Russia was established.

The Soviet Union is aware of all these facts. The holders of passports for domestic travel within the Soviet Union must indicate on their passport to which of the sixteen Soviet Socialist Republics they lay claim to citizenship. In addition to these sixteen the Soviet Union recognizes as the seventeenth nationality of the Soviet Union its population of Judaized-Khazar origin. Their passports must be stamped with this seventeenth nationality. The Soviet Union however never returned their territory to them, or their status as a nation. It should do so.

The eastern European population of Judaized Khazar origin can rightfully proclaim themselves a racial group as well as a national group. The racial origin of the Asiatic Khazar tribal nation was Turki-Finn. The Turks, and the Finns of Asia are the ethnic background of the Khazars. The Turks and the Finns also later settled in Europe and are there today. Only the Khazars were converted to Judaism. The Finns became Christians and the Turks became Moslems.

What did the Soviet Union have in mind when it joined with the Zionists in fooling the world into believing that it wished to assist in the "repatriation" of its population of Judaized Khazar origin to their "Promised Land" in Palestine? Is it possible that the Soviet Union wished to "hedge-hop" the Dardenelle Straits by transplanting a few million of its most loyal followers in the strategic area of the Holy Land? Is it likely that the Soviet Union wanted to set up a satellite state in this area where they had been unable to obtain control of the important natural resources? These are questions which will be answered by the imminent future.

"It is significant that the Communist Party has been able to achieve successful united fronts with church groups on the most important issues of the day. This is not due to any compromise with religion as such, on our part. In fact, by going among the religious masses, we are for the first time able to bring our anti-religious ideas to them."

—From Earl Browder's book, "What is Communism."

MARXIST ANTI-CHRISTIAN WAR HITS NEW HIGH WITH SMEAR-BUND ON THE AIR

make them the targets for the joint-staff of the hatchet-men for the smear-bund. Watch them go to work now on Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob. They have something up their sleeve!

The name of the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem is never mentioned by the hatchet-men of the smear-bund unless they refer to him as the very intimate associate and collaborator of Adolph Hitler. That is to make certain that the "anti-Semitic" implication is not overlooked. The State Department in Washington has nothing in its records which supports the Zionist's many frivolous charges against the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem as the "collaborator" of Hitler.

To link Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob with "the pro-Franco propagandist" is another of the typical smears of the hatchet-men of the smear-bund. If the international, anti-Christian, Marxists cannot control a person, they silence him. Today in the United States to call anybody a "Fascist" or "anti-Semitic" is to discredit him in the eyes of all uninformed Americans.

The international, anti-Christian, Marxists hate Franco because his was the first government to defeat the communists in their attempt to take over his country. In Spain they received their first demonstration that there are still some people left in the world who have the sense to put up a fight while they are still "top dog."

If Franco is a "Fascist" that is what the countries in eastern Europe now need. President Abraham Lincoln recommended to his other Generals the brand of whiskey which General Grant drank when they complained to him about General Grant's permanent state of intoxication.

To link Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob with a "secret meeting" which, as Walter Winchel stated on his broadcast to his 25,000,000 listeners, "Somebody ought to expose this thing, so I just did" is to smear them in a shameless manner. Father Gannon was for six years the head of Fordham University in New York City. Mr. Raskob is a man of the highest standing and unquestioned probity. It is a smear to insinuate that these two men would attend any meeting which Walter Winchel characterizes as one which "ought to be exposed" by the smear-bund.

If Father Gannon and Mr. Raskob would consent to the use of their names as Patrons of the many "front" organizations for the international, anti-Christian, Marxists they would not receive unfavorable smears by the hatchet-men for the smear-bund. They make it very uncomfortable for those who will not become "fellow-travellers". They run your show or they ruin it!

Is it possible that Walter Winchel thought that by smearing Mr. Raskob he could influence a group of his followers to switch their purchase of Chevrolets to Mr. Kaiser's low-priced new car which Walter Winchel was being paid at the rate of about $600,000. a year to advertise? It is certain that Mr. Kaiser would never approve of such a policy. Mr. Kaiser would not borrow the millions of our taxpayer's money with which to pay hatchet-men of the smear-bund to smear his competitors. Is it too much to ask Mr. Kaiser to compel the retraction of this smear of Mr. Raskob? Or is Walter Winchel trying to high-pressure a $250,000. contribution by General Motors to the Anti-Defamation League to match the one recently extracted from the Ford Motor Company for permission to open a branch in Tel-Aviv? How about it Mr. Winchel, h-u-h-h-h?

The "pro-Franco propagandist" to whom Walter Winchel referred was Mr. Merwin K. Hart.

Mr. Hart has spent the last sixteen years and a considerable fortune fighting the Marxists in this country and all around the world. That is the reason he is intensely hated by the international, anti-Christian, Marxists here and everywhere. They have learned the power of his punch!

The hatchet-men of the smear-bund appear to have a standing order to smear Mr. Hart. They will smear any activity by Mr. Hart as being either "anti-Semitic" or "Fascist". If no opportunity comes along to do so they will manufacture one. He is proud they call him an enemy.

Mr. Merwin K. Hart is a lawyer of note. He has served with distinction in the legislature of the State of New York. He is highly regarded and frequently consulted by the most distinguished Members of Congress. He has an honorable and an enviable record as a former business man. He also takes an active part in the affairs of the National Economic Council — 100% Americans who oppose every form of dual allegiance and of divided loyalty by any individual or group of any race or nationality.

The National Economic Council is smeared by the international, anti-Christian, Marxists as "reactionary", "capitalistic", "anti-Semitic", and "Fascist". The roster of its members contains the names of this country's leaders in industry. Their loyalty is only to the United States and to preserving its present form of government. Such patriotism always draws the usual smears from the international, anti-Christian, Marxists.

The National Economic Council is smeared only because they have done, and are doing such a marvelous job in exposing the secret and subversive activities of these un-American, non-American, and anti-American outfits. If this organization and Mr. Hart were not giving them such a stiff fight they would not allow the talents of the hatchet-men of their smear-bund to be wasted on them. Mr. Hart does not silence easily.

Mr. Hart was holding no "secret meeting" behind closed doors to hear a "secret speaker" who "once worked with Adolph Hitler's stooge in the Near East, the Grand Mufti". Mr. Hart had invited a small number of his close and personal friends to hear a very interesting talk.

The meeting was called in Mr. Hart's office in the Empire State Building, in New York City, for 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Neither Father Gannon nor Mr. Raskob were expected to attend the "secret meeting" and neither of them did.

Walter Winchel smeared Mr. Hart's meeting as "anti-Semitic" with the "Adolph Hitler-Grand Mufti" smear to embarrass friends of Mr. Hart and the many other notables with whom Mr. Hart has the friendliest relations. Walter Winchel knew what these influential people would hear at that meeting would not be helpful to the international, anti-Christian, Marxists' future.

Mr. Hart had asked a few friends to hear a little informal talk by a Mr. Yussif El-Bandak. Vice-Admiral C. S. Freeman, U.S.N. (Ret.) Temporary Chairman of the Holy Land Christian Committee of International Christian Leadership is seeking to make it possible for Mr. El-Bandak to tell his story to Americans professing Christianity. Mr. Hart's informal gathering was the result of a nation-wide program for many talks.

Mr. El-Bandak recently arrived in this country from England where he told his story to the British. After hearing what he told them a committee was formed in England to further his aims. This committee included The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Mayor of London, Field Marshall Earl Wavell, the Rt. Hon. Mr. Anthony Eden, the Duke of Norfolk, the Earl of Halifax, Lord Vansittart, and countless others professing Christianity of high standing.

Mr. El-Bandak is the "secret speaker" to whom Walter Winchel referred on this same broadcast as follows, "this Arab once worked with Adolph Hitler's stooge in the Near East, the Grand Mufti". Walter Winchel tried to intimidate the guests invited by Mr. Hart to hear Mr. El-Bandak with "somebody ought to expose this thing, so I just did." Walter Winchel was out to accomplish more than appeared on the surface.

Firstly, Walter Winchel was out to make it impossible for Mr. El-Bandak to obtain an audience in the United States. Walter Winchel knew that the "Adolph Hitler-Grand Mufti" smear would brand Mr. El-Bandak as "anti-Semitic". That slams nearly every door in the U.S. in the face of the victim of the "anti-Semitic" smear. Victims of that smear are avoided like a plague.

Secondly, Walter Winchel was out to keep Mr. El-Bandak from appearing before United Nations, where he was arranging to speak. Facts which Mr. El-Bandak could prove to United Nations with documentary proof were certain to reverse the votes of many of the fifty-nine delegates on the question of the internationalization of the city of Jerusalem. Real dynamite!

The international, anti-Christian, Marxists who had recently taken over Jerusalem and were refusing to respect United Nations resolutions on the subject, were moving heaven and earth to prevent Mr. El-Bandak's appearance at United Nations. Walter Winchels smear did the trick!

Mr. El-Bandak is a Christian. He is also an Arab. His people for two thousand years have been Christians. His ancestors were members there of the very first Christian congregation in the world. He lives in Bethlehem in the Holy Land. His father is the Mayor of Bethlehem. His family is now sheltering in their home forty Arab Christian families who were driven out of their ancient homes in complete poverty with the one-million others, including 250,000 Christian Arabs of the same ancestry, who suffered this same fate at the hands of the Judaized-Khazar invaders with Soviet Union and American arms.

Mr. El-Bandak never had reason or occasion to meet the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem. During the war Mr. El-Bandak was in London broadcasting for the British Broadcasting Corporation in Arabic to the Arab world. He was instrumental in obtaining the aid of the Arab world for the Allied cause. The victory of General Montgomery over General Rommel in North Africa which turned the tide of the war in favor of the Allies was the welcome reward of this Arab cooperation.

It is urgent and important that Americans professing Christianity learn without delay what Mr. El-Bandak can tell them as an eye-witness. He has seen with his own eyes how the Zionist vandals are working furiously fast in the Holy Land to eradicate the evidences of Christianity which miraculously but briefly have survived.

Sacrilege by the Zionists of the most sacred shrines by methods too filthy and degenerate to describe in public print are common occurrences before shrines are totally obliterated. The nature and the extent of the organized campaign of Zionist vandals to eradicate Christianity in the cradle of its Nativity beggars description in the limited space available here. These facts are kept out of the newspapers here by Zionist leaders whose advertising controls newspapers.

The cradle of Christianity may soon become its coffin if the plans of the international, anti-Christian, Marxists are carried out according to their present program. From where is effective opposition to come? Zionists have seen that such opposition is conspicuous only by its complete nonexistence at a time it should be terrific.

The city of the Nativity of Christ is still in the hands of Christian defenders. Thanks is due to brave Christian Arabs who, with Mr. El-Bandak, fought with guns in their hands to defend this Holy citadel. Bethlehem's population is entirely Christian, Arab and non-Arab.

Are Americans professing Christianity waiting for a spiritual Pearl Harbor? Will the hatchet-men of the smear-bund prepare the way here for the much heralded world-wide victory over Christianity which the international, anti-Christian, Marxists predict and anticipate with every word they utter on the subject? Their atheism is on the march! Can it be stopped?

Americans professing Christianity must face the issue. Will they raise their voices, or a finger, to prevent the effacement of Christianity from the face of the earth as it has already been effected in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and in every spot in the world where the international, anti-Christian, Marxists have already unfurled their atheistic bloody banners?

Doings In Congress

By Congressman Wm. Lemke

I address this release to the fathers, mothers and young people whose sons and brothers will again have to do the fighting if we are blundered into World War III. History repeats itself, so does stupidity. Our subcommittee on Public Lands that investigated the Pacific islands under our control got an eye opener of the waste and the stupidity of our nation in dealing with these islands and foreign nations.

In Tokyo the committee was shown that we had already lost the cold war. There is no longer any excuse for closing our eyes to realities. The egg from which World War II was hatched was laid at Versailles. The egg for World War III was laid at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, when Alger Hiss and his friends who still occupy positions of trust advised our Presidents. We hope this egg will not hatch, although it is being incubated by the State Department.

The World War II egg was hatched when Britain continued to appease Hitler and Stalin when they were cronies. World War III egg is on its way of being hatched when the State Department wishes to surrender Formosa to the Chinese communists. This in spite of the opposition of every General and every Admiral who are charged with the defense of the Pacific.

These, without exception, have advised that Formosa must never be permitted to fall into the hands of an enemy. They have suggested that Formosa, since it is part of Japan, be put under control of General MacArthur until the peace treaty is signed. They have advised the State Department that Formosa is the key to our entire Pacific defense.

It takes two nations to make peace but one can make war. You cannot make peace with a man eating tiger by surrendering individuals to be devoured. Sooner or later we will have to take a firm stand against the Soviet Union—the nation eating tiger.

The State Department, when against the advice of every General and Admiral in the Pacific, suggests that we will not defend Formosa is inviting the communists to take it. Such a disastrous result, I am sure, will not be countenanced by the American people. Unfortunately those who may bring about World War III will not be the ones who will do the fighting. This stupid policy may cost the lives of millions upon millions. It is time for the American people to wake up and speak in no uncertain terms to the State Department and the President.

The President's apparent invitation, upon the request of the State Department, to the commies to take Formosa without consulting Congress and against the vigorous protests of General MacArthur and his staff, and Admiral Radford and his staff I am not quoting the General nor the Admiral. I am giving the public the actual facts, facts that I got from many sources while on an inspection tour of our Pacific Island possessions. We got an eye opener and you will hear more from other members.

I am aware that Dean Acheson and others wish to put a padlock upon the brain cells of generals and admirals. They want to seal their lips so that their blunders may remain uncovered. This even when our national defense and our nation's life is at stake.

I wish to impress upon the generals and admirals wherever they are stationed that it is

CHURCH POSTERS IN ZIONIST RULED COUNTRIES

A mockery of the "Holy Communion" as portrayed by an unbeliever. This phantasy has replaced the real "Holy Communion" in many churches in communist-controlled countries and has been forced on once Christian nations by their atheistic leaders. This can and will happen in America unless the forces of evil that plan the destruction of all religion are completely debunked.

AMERICA OUR COUNTRY

By Helen P. Lasell

Dedicated to Our American Way of Life

America—Our country, yours and mine,
The land of Liberty and of the free,
Where the oppressed seek peace sublime,
In her vast space, from sea to sea.

America—Our country, yours and mine,
May we keep her always free . . .
Where peace, plenty and prosperity twine
Forever . . . in this land of Liberty.

America—Our country, yours and mine,
May we dedicate ourselves, each one,
To protect her with vigilance divine,
Against inroads of destruction now begun.

America—Our country, yours and mine,
We cannot, live half slave - half free,
Let us not "cast our pearls before the swine,"
In bondage—our people must not be!

America—Our country, yours and mine,
Let Freedom ever our watchword be,
In our hearts—forever enshrine
The motto—"Keep America Free".

America—Our country, yours and mine,
Let us constantly her portals guard,
And pray—the Grace of God will shine
On her forever—with Freedom unmarred.

Christian Good Will

It has often been said that the Church as such should keep clear of politics. Indeed, from the Christian point of view this argument is irrefutable, but it is equally irrefutable that the Church cannot remain passive when the principles which it claims to uphold are perverted and violated. This applies to common crime as well as to the realm of morals, economics or politics.

It is quite right that the Church as such should not side either with Conservative, Liberal or Socialist policies, but it is bound to denounce every act by any political body or individual which is a distortion of or opposed to the teaching of Christ.

Thus, when Communists claim that theirs is practical Christianity it is the duty of every defender of the Faith to point out the deception and say that whilst Christ advocated the giving by those who have, to those who have not. He never advocated the taking from those who have to give to those who have not. For indeed. He asked who should judge his neighbour or in other words who should have the right to decide when and what to take from him. To such and other misrepresentations by political bodies for their own aims the Church should not remain indifferent and shirk its responsibilities by advancing non-interference in politics.

An example to the point is Mr. Aneurin Bevan's unsavoury utterance against the Tories. When someone expressed an opinion that his opponent is lower than vermin the implication is that he should be treated as such, and it ceases to remain a political issue outside the notice of the Church. A politician who seeks to gain power by inciting one section of the people against another is breaking the Divine law and urging brother to raise a hand against brother. This is a serious crime and from every pulpit in the Realm there should be pointed an accusing finger against the man who violates Christianity. Let the Socialist Party find a Christian man to put across its ideals of the structure of human society; if it fails to do so it is un-Christian and should not be acceptable to Christians. This has to be made clear by the Church.

Instead, we read of Ecclesiastical Conferences to Commemorate the anniversary of the Common Prayer Book, we see pictures of smiling Bishops sharing a joke. All very commendable and harmless, but utterly uninspiring and bereft of leadership in these days of confusion and peril. The reason seems to lie in the fact that though as a body the Church claims to be unpolitical the dignitaries of the Church have lost the thread of Christianity in the tangle of ideologies. The late Dr. Temple pronounced himself as favouring Socialism whilst other Church dignitaries clamoured for the extermination of the German race and un-Christian vengeance.

With the exception of a few earnest Christian men who try to guide their flock along the Christian path, pastors give little guidance from the pulpit and the people are left to grope for themselves and come to grips with the vital issues which are thrust upon them from all sides. Is it to be wondered at that Churches are often empty of people who seek an answer to their problems find but a stale repetition of "we are all good fellows sort of feeling" with lessons from the Bible which puzzle them still more. For when they hear the exploits of the Jews, who, with the alleged Divine approval, commit the most monstrous crimes against the Christian laws and they compare them with the misfortunes of the present day, they begin to feel that something has gone wrong somewhere. Atom Bombs Away

National Economic Council, Inc.

WASHINGTON HAS PLAYED RUSSIA'S GAME

For 16 years the American Administration has played Russia's game. It is playing it today, while Russia is arming to take America over.

All this would be obvious to more Americans if propaganda had not told them that foreign policy was a matter for experts. Few American newspapers have told the real story, or the whole story, of the tragedy that is being enacted. The misnamed and mischievous "Bipartisan Foreign Policy" is but one of the devices inspired by the men playing with Moscow.

It is a fact that, aside from the National Economic Council, there is hardly a nation-wide organization in the United States, that, if it concerns itself with foreign policy at all, is not, consciously or unconsciously furthering Communist purposes.

Thus the Foreign Policy Association, under the leadership of Russian born Vera Michaelis Dean, almost always slants its attitudes towards interpretations and trends favorable to Moscow. There is no foreign policy association that holds America's interest first.

The League of Women Voters, under the leadership of Anna Lord Strauss, is invariably found in favor of New Deal Socialist measures, which, if not inspired by Soviet Russia, are in general pushed by the same forces. There is no league of women voters that considers America first.

As indicating that many members of the League are deceived by its alleged purposes, a pamphlet entitled "Packaged Thinking for Women" by Lucile Carden Crain published a year ago laid bare some of the activities of the League of Women Voters; and shortly afterwards the Allegheny County (Pa.) Chapter of the League of Women Voters withdrew from the parent organization.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, claiming over 5,000,000 members in 17,000 clubs (and 3,000,000 associate members "abroad"—whatever that means) is another lobbying organization, though it is not registered as such. Robert Froman, writing in the magazine This Week for August 21, 1949, said with reference to the Federation's campaign to put the Marshall Plan proposal through Congress:

"Soon hundreds of Congressmen found themselves wading neck deep in great drifts of perfumed notes, exhortatory telegrams and lengthy petitions from their feminine constituents. The message from each: Vote for the Marshall Plan—or else. When they did and the plan became the multi-billion dollar European Recovery Program, observers gave a large share of the credit to the Federation's campaign."

Mrs. J. L. Buck, President of the Federation is acting on her statement that "If we want peace we simply have got to take an international point of view." She of course ignores the fact that until the American Government adopted the "international point of view," we had uninterrupted peace. Whether she knows it or not she seems clearly to have become a tool of the International Marxists. And she is presuming to speak for 5,000,000 women, not 5 per cent of whom really know what's going on.

The Federal Council of Churches, maintaining a powerful lobby in Washington, is rarely in opposition to socialist measures that lead to Communism. John T. Flynn, in his latest book, "The Road Ahead" has made this clear. But, fortunately, there is in this field the American Council of Christian Churches, an organization which places America first.

Let's remember the commissioning of known Communists in both U.S. Army and Navy, while many opposed to Communism were refused commissions. Let's remember the betrayal by Roosevelt of China and Poland and all the countries east of the Iron Curtain; the policy of "unconditional surrender," the Nuremberg and Dachau trials, the "dismantling" of plants in Germany.

SEE WHAT WASHINGTON IS DOING TODAY

And then let's go on and take a look at what the Administration is doing today.

1. It is giving a billion a year of American savings to the Socialist Labor Government of Britain, which derives no little support from British Communists.

2. Partly because of Stalin's influence, partly because it does not want to offend British and French Socialists, the Administration continues to refuse to return an ambassador to Spain. America did recognize the Franco Government of Spain—on April 1, 1939. Roosevelt's Ambassador to Spain, Dr. Hayes, in his book "Wartime Mission In Spain," records the great help rendered the Allies by the Franco Government. Churchill paid his tribute likewise, in Parliament on May 24, 1944. Roosevelt sent Franco a letter in the Fall of 1942 telling him, in a brotherly way, that Spain had nothing to fear from the united nations. Modern Spain has never interfered in the affairs of other nations. She has never defaulted on a foreign debt. Every vital interest of America demands that we resume the closest relations with Spain. Yet we do not, because Marxists in the Washington Administration will not permit it. Soviet Russia, which insults us at every turn, as in the Ward case, is still dictating American policy on Spain.

Spain is the only country in the world that has defeated Soviet Russia in war. Besides, Stalin wants Spain for a base for atomic operations—and will get it, if the American attitude is not changed in time. And Spain can hold out for perhaps a year more.

3. The Administration has permitted dismantling of German war plants to continue—again at the insistence of the Labor Government of British and French Socialists. True, an agreement signed November 24, 1949, between Adenauer, head of the West German Republic, and the three High Commissioners of the United States, France and Britain, provides, in effect, that dismantling shall cease. But it is largely meaningless because most of the important dismantling has already taken place. We warned in Letter 223 (September 15) from Frankfurt that nine vital plants, recommended by the Humphrey Committee (of American industrialists) not to be dismantled, would be completely dismantled in a brief time. Indeed trustworthy Germans believed orders had been received from British and American sources to speed up dismantling, before a change of policy took place. Now that the change has taken place the mischief has largely been done.

The new Eastern German Republic is making a strong bid to Western Germany to join her in a united Germany—and it is by no means settled that she won't succeed.

Here, as in every other foreign field, we are following not American interests, but the ambitions of socialist politicians of other countries. And we American citizens are putting up the money!

4. The Administration is preparing to push through Congress ratification of the International Trade Organization (ITO) agreement and the Right to Organize Agreement of the International Labor Organization (ILO). The former would remove the control of both foreign and domestic trade from the Congress and place it under an international committee in which the U.S. would have but a single vote. The latter would remove the control of all relations between employers and employees from the Congress and place them under an international committee in which the U.S. would likewise have but a single vote.

Ratification of these agreements would alone constitute an abdication of a large part of all the power of the Congress of the United States. They would make more likely the speedy abdication of all the power of the Congress.

5. Lastly, in the foreign field, we persist in the idealistic but cockeyed idea that we Americans should build up the power of the United Nations; although the head of U.N., Mr. Lie, a former radical Norwegian labor leader, was nominated by Soviet Russia; and although U.N., allegedly designed to prevent war, actually stirred up the Palestine war, at the instance of the Zionists or Communists, or both.

By "winning" the headquarters of U.N., for the United States, we have set up on Manhattan Island what is at best a useless debating society, but which will far more likely prove to be one of the best tools of the plotting Communists in Moscow.

Perhaps the worst folly of all is the persistence of the Administration in seeking to attain any kind of an agreement with Soviet Russia respecting the atom bomb—as though there were the slightest reason to believe Soviet Russia would observe any agreement one moment longer than served her own purpose.

Beyond all these things the Administration is taking steps to extend huge aid (Marshall Plan style) to Southeast Asia, regardless of the fact that with continuance of present American article entitled "John Bull Wants to Know," had the following apt passage:

"In our country there are no doubt many sincere and honest men in the Government, but one is brought to ask if they are all so single minded and trustworthy. The peril to the freedom and the safety of our people, and indeed, of the whole world, is such that one is found to brush aside cautious innuendoes and ask outright are the Jews and the Communists in the House of Commons men of goodwill? One wonders why there are so many Jews in Parliament. God forbid that we should be accused of anti-Semitism, but we are, after all, nominally a Christian country and King George VI. is still Defender of the Faith. Are the Jews in Parliament converts to Christianity, are they Orthodox Jews, are they agnostics or atheists, do they own allegiance to, or are they entangled in any way with, the highly suspect schemes of International Jewry?"

The above quotation is not a political issue but sums up the reflections of the people who are threatened in their very existence and are searching around both for the source of their danger and for the right way out of it. The issue is not a political one but a Christian one. It was rightly summed up by Mr. Churchill in his recent speech to the Conservative Party. He said:

"The driving force of Socialism is class hatred and envy. As I told the House of Commons a fortnight ago, the American Constitution declares, 'All men are born equal.' The British Socialist Party add, 'All men must be kept equal.'"

The Daily Graphic of 21 October published a letter by a woman who attended a B.B.C. Children's Service. Her conclusions were as follows:

"I was invited recently to attend a broadcast Children's Service in a school, and I went with considerable interest and pleasure. I came away distressed and unhappy, for it proved to be, to all intents and purposes, Socialist propaganda and an opportunity for instilling class hatred."

She proceeded by giving full details of the service, which leaves no doubt as to the Socialist bias introduction into the teaching of religion to children.

Whilst no Christian can imagine Our Lord preaching a political sermon, no Christian can equally imagine him remaining passive under the plea of avoiding politics if He learnt that the Communist rulers of Czechoslovakia had made a list of 20,000 people for deportation "whose return was not desired" (Daily Graphic Inside information) and that Great Britain had voted with Soviet Russia for the admission of Czechoslovakia (under Soviet domination) to the Security Council of Nations.

"Let us be friends" and "Can't we be friends?" exclaim our Socialist leaders, turning pitifully to the Bolshevik murderers who for over thirty years have maintained power through bloodshed and terror. This is well known to all our leaders, both Christian and otherwise, and when they try to compromise with the Devil it is because they have lost the Light or are deliberately shutting it out and are trying to dazzle others who might detect their intentions. It is the duty of the Christian Church to give guidance.

Political parties can be likened to tenants of a house who have been entrusted to paint and decorate according to their taste and ability. If the owners do not like it they can put in other tenants to do the work. But if the tenants, regardless of their obligations, smuggle in a hammer and sickle and start undermining the foundations of the house, they cease to be accredited tenants and become destroyers of a property which is not theirs to destroy.

The majority of people are still Christian and because they fail to see anyone who would defend their Faith and their principles they drift from one party to another and mistrust everyone. There is here a chance for real Christian leadership, which in these present days is so painfully lacking.

policy, all Southeast Asia will be seized by Soviet Russia.

Then the Administration, under so-called Point Four of Truman's socialistic program of last January, proposes appropriations for a kind of TVA in Palestine. Much could be said on this—chiefly that it is entirely likely (assuming the present Administration plans continue) that Palestine will become an important part of the Soviet Union. This would mean still more gifts to Soviet Russia—gifts financed by further increasing our own public debt. We would further deplete our own natural resources in order to develop the natural resources of Israel—a country closely connected with the plan for world domination.

AND CONSIDER THE DOMESTIC FIELD

In the domestic field Mr. Truman, regardless of the effect on the solvency of the United States and on the continued independence of citizens, is pushing such measures as Federal Aid to Education, Socialized Medicine, the FEPC, the Brannan Plan to regiment agriculture, additional TVA's, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law and other measures.

TWO DANGERS

So the American people, after a century and a half of life under the most successful form of self-Government ever devised, is threatened with two dangers, one without and one within.

The danger from without is that Soviet Russia, now commanding the manpower of nearly a billion human beings and the brainpower of many German scientists, is calmly and deliberately taking steps so that by 1952 or 1953 she can dictate terms to the rest of the world. And so far the Administration, constantly under the advice and counsel of internationalists, and in violation of every American vital interest, acts as if unaware that anything is going on; and is taking no adequate steps to meet it.

And on the domestic side, at the instance of these same internationalists, our economy is being pushed into a kind and degree of Socialism that will mean financial and moral bankruptcy to the American people.

It would be hard to say which of these two dangers is greater. Either one could lead the American people into slavery. The two roads lead to the same destination. Doubtless the same influences are responsible for both.

Either the military triumph of Russia over the United States, or the complete socialization of the United States would mean the destruction of Christianity or the driving of it underground to such an extent that God alone knows when it would emerge as a free religion.

Palestine, mentioned above, by connivance and plotting of the "United Nations," has been invaded by Zionist forces, through funds contributed by American Zionists and other Americans intimidated into giving. Several hundred thousand Arabs have been ruthlessly driven out of homes they and their ancestors have occupied for 700 years, and many are today dying of starvation and exposure.

We have talked with Mr. Yusif El-Bandak, son of the Mayor of Bethlehem. He tells us 130,000 Christians (many of them descendants of the First Crusaders), in and about Bethlehem, birthplace of Jesus Christ, have so far resisted four Zionist attacks, but that they cannot hold out indefinitely. He says that if this community falls, Christianity will be blotted out in the Holy Land.

Meanwhile the United Jewish Appeal, which has financed much of the Zionist invasion, announces it will seek 250 million in the United States in 1950. There is little doubt some of this would be used to help wipe out what remains of Christianity in Palestine.

American Christians, who are solicited to contribute, may well remember this.

Let them remember, too, that many prominent Communists and communist sympathizers, are also Zionists.

And let them remember that if Christian America is to resist Soviet Russia's preparations for war, they must preserve the religion of Jesus Christ in America.

Brotherhood Week

"Who is a liar? He who denieth Jesus is the Christ. Who so denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father . . . If any man come to you and bring not this doctrine, receive him not unto the house."

—Saint Paul (2 Corinthians, VI:14)

In recent years much has been done through the instigation of the National Conference of Christians and Jews to promote "civic harmony" and "brotherhood." Christians are urged to be tolerant.

What people should now come to see is that this program of interfaith is strictly a Jewish doctrine. Not content with the greatest liberty America has given them, to practice their religious beliefs in peace and quietness, the Jews resort to extremes in their interference with the religions of others in a bold determination to banish from the public scene every sign of the Christian character of the United States.

This is not merely intolerable; it is a pre-conceived plot to destroy all that is not Jewish and substitute Talmudic teachings for faith in the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who rose from the dead, fulfilling His promise of Life Eternal.

The many attacks upon Christianity prove this Zionist plan.

In Chelsea, Massachusetts, this year a Mrs. Abraham Wolper petitioned the school authorities to ban the singing of all Christmas carols, saying that children from Jewish homes "dread this season."

A Rabbi of Media, Pennsylvania, called a meeting to demand that all religious instruction and Christmas carolling be prohibited in Pennsylvania schools. In Linden, New Jersey, Christian parents attending a public school's Christmas program were astounded when they heard Jewish songs predominating the evening's festivities. The same thing happened in Irvington and Maplewood, New Jersey.

The Los Angeles School Board received a call from Jews who demanded the outlawing of Christmas carols, as well as the abandonment of all music books containing Christian hymns. In this instance, the School Board denied the plea by a vote of 6 to 1.

Hawthorne, New Jersey, also hit the headlines recently when a Mrs. Henry O. Klein instituted a court suit to have the brief Bible readings banned from New Jersey's public schools.

The foregoing are only samples of the attacks made this Season by Zionist forces, and a review of past years proves that these anti-Christian movements are not new.

In 1947, Isaac Bilderslee, Associate Superintendent of Schools in charge of Brooklyn District 41 and 42 issued an order of restrictions on Christian Christmas observance of the Holy Day in 23 public schools. The Bilderslee statement read: "Christmas carols with reference to the Nativity may not be sung, nor may decorations include symbols of faith. Christmas is a time of rejoicing and expressing good will and should be devoid of religion."

(Editor's note: Good will for whom? Zionists who commercialize? We thought Christmas commemorated the birth of Christ.)

During 1913, officials of public schools in Jackson, Tennessee, were petitioned to prevent the reading of the Bible in public schools, while in 1912 the school principals of Roxbury, Massachusetts, agreed to banish Christmas trees and omit all references to the Holy Day in their school. In 1911 Chicago Jews opposed Bible readings and the singing of hymns, while a year previously recitation of the Lord's Prayer was discontinued in public schools of Bridgeport, Pennsylvania, because of Jewish demands.

So it goes, year after year. The incidents quoted do not begin to represent a complete picture; there are numerous, additional similar protests and court actions—all of which prove that the Jew is the most intolerant individual in the world.

Christian Americans do not interfere with Jewish "rights"—ways and manners. No one prohibits the Jew from keeping his own days, calendar and dietary laws. He is not molested.

How then does the Jew alibi this Jewish persecution of Christians? What are the Christian rights of Christians in these Christian United States?

Tolerance Shrieking Zionists Advocate Use Of Guns

Say YMHA Should Teach Use of Arms in Self-Defense

While unwary Americans are falling into the trap to "love them like brothers," the California "B'nai B'rith Messenger", an official Jewish publication, published the following editorial, under the caption "Self-Defense."

"Because laws cannot be relied upon in cases of anti-Semitic attacks, Jews should be prepared to protect themselves, physically, if necessary, Dr. Solomon Grayzel told the Institute of Judaism, last week. The Institute was held under the auspices of the North Carolina Association of B'nai B'rith at Wildacres, N.C.

"Dr. Grayzel, eminent Jewish historian, pointed out in his talk that Jewish history was proof that laws cannot protect; that existence of laws even creates a condition of helplessness on the part of attacked Jews.

"He went so far in his talk to suggest that Centers and YMHA's be turned into training centers for boxing and even the use of arms in self-defense.

"Of course Dr. Grayzel's statement that laws are ineffective is open to argument. We still believe that laws are necessary to some extent to erect a wall against potential anti-Semitic force in this country. Yet we cannot help but approve his public utterance, in practically what would be an antagonistic atmosphere, of the statement that physical preparation should be made against theoretical physical attack."

"What is so remarkable about Dr. Grayzel's statement is not so much the expression thereof, as the mise en scene in which it was made. We shall probably be treated in the near future with a news release from B'nai B'rith headquarters denying any responsibility for Dr. Grayzel's remarks. For it has been the assumed responsibility of the International Order of B'nai B'rith to take care of all defense measures against anti-Semitism. And none of these have considered any measure effective outside of diplomatic, political or personal contact.

"It is true that within recent years the ADL has finally agreed that some legal processes might be helpful in defense, but we doubt whether it would approve of a mere historian's ideas—that force should be met with force."

(Editor's Note: Italics ours. Although this was published July 15, 1949, we have not yet seen a denial of responsibility from B'nai B'rith headquarters or the Anti-Defamation League and it is our opinion that they NEVER intend to make it!)

behind Communism. Under the guise of tolerance they keep you quiet.

They dare not defend themselves so they trick Christians to do it.

Must we, to please a minority group, abandon our faith in the Holy Trinity, and do everything the Jew wants done? That is the purpose of the National Conference of Christians and Jews? Will these tolerance talkers allow you and me to sing Christian Christmas carols next year?

Or, are the same forces which wiped Christianity out of Russia trying to nullify Christianity in this—our Christian America?

Calif.

Dear Sir:

Your November 29th letter was received this morning and I am enclosing Postal Note for $5.00 as a donation and my only regret is that I am unable at this time to do more and I wish it were possible for me to do 100 times as much.

When I think of the "Intestinal Fortitude" you display and look around me and find so many spineless Pussy Footers, I am inclined to and do use profane language.

The day of reckoning is approaching and it will be such, that thousands of so-called Americans will realize that they have been asleep and too d--lazy to think.

My sincere wish is that you remain well and do not lose faith in yourself and your beliefs.

Later on I hope to do more.

H. A. H.

Dear Mr. McGinley:

Thank you for your letter; I appreciated knowing that what I am trying to do is appreciated. I am only one individual of limited means, but if I had more money and more physical strength I'd use them all for my Country.

I wrote letters during the war that while our sons were sent to the far ends of the earth to fight for Liberty and Freedom—and while making the supreme sacrifice—here at home our Country was being sold out from under our very noses. No one would listen to me. It was unpatriotic! I tried to tell them of the "Roosevelt Myth." Not that I knew facts... but I smelled it!

I have been warned not to write—not to send letters, literature by so-called "good" Americans; not threats—but they are trying to warn me.

My answer to them all is this: When my time comes to die I'd rather die an AMERICAN PATRIOT than a coward and a traitor. So, I'll continue circulating all the literature that I can get. I have gone without things I wanted to get the dollars I am using and I shall continue to do so as long as I am able.

That is my answer! Thank God for the McGinley's... if there were more of them!

Dear Sir:

Please send me 100 copies of COMMON SENSE, issue November 1, 1949, I am leaving on a business trip to South Indiana and would like to have these before I leave—please send them special delivery.

—W. R. M., Illinois

Editor, COMMON SENSE:

Allow me to thank you for enlightening me on the national activities of the National League of Women Voters. I belonged to this organization and was outspoken in my contempt for the internationalists. Due to COMMON SENSE I have sent in my resignation and informed the president that the league supported un-American programs. I told her my resignation was a loss to Satan and a gain to God and His Country.

I thank COMMON SENSE for its Christian duty to America and to our Constitution.

—V. L. S., Connecticut

Dear friend C. McG:

I thank you and bless you for your letters and parcels of COMMON SENSE, which is greatly valued by seekers of truth. I will send you donation and get others to send you subscriptions for your great work of spreading truth.

All the industrial unrest here—strikes often. Strikes are caused by the Reds and they are plotting for a revolution in England, but I hope that we will in the New Year gather a great power by spreading truth that will turn the people against them. The paper, COMMON SENSE, is the most outspoken paper in the universe against the International Zionist financiers who are the power behind Communism.

I thank you and hope that you will be well protected in this great Fight for Freedom.

Protestant Minister—England.

Dear Mr. McGinley:

Just a hurried line of rejoicing that you have found another printer—please God this one can continue—can't any arm of the law be brought to bear on such as these who are bringing the pressure?

How about the Draper-Adler case in Greenwich, Conn.? To think that such a law could exist or be passed to begin with! It certainly takes a stout heart to keep in the fight...

Our Answer To Communist Persecution

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND NEW READERS ... HELP UP TO GET THEM

We have recently made satisfactory printing arrangements with our SEVENTH printer since COMMON SENSE was first published almost four years ago. Our six previous printers have been threatened with boycott, intimidated, coerced to stop printing COMMON SENSE. More than four hundred Communist owned or controlled publications in the United States are not interfered with. Why are our enemies so determined to destroy COMMON SENSE? Why do they ignore our challenge to fight any issue out fair and square in print or in public debate?

WHY? The answer, of course, is because the enemies of America cannot stand the truth; they cannot stand the fearless exposure by COMMON SENSE.

Our Goal is to secure 25,000 new readers. In order to bring the truth to more people, we will make a special offer of $1.00 for a year's subscription—a wealth of information for the price of a movie. Is it worth $1.00 a year to be informed on the traitorous activities of the enemies of America months before the regular press dares publish it? Do your part to keep America free. Strike a blow for Christianity and America by securing new readers. It is very late to fight, but not as late as in Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and many other countries. If there had been such a paper as COMMON SENSE in those countries, backed wisely, the people could have saved themselves. Help build your paper, COMMON SENSE, into a powerful weapon.

Talk will not stop Communist slavery—it takes action, cooperation and money to get results. Communists are not afraid of anyone, and they are working and spending huge sums of money to attain their goal. 35,000 full time workers are busy in the United States working to destroy our freedom, and at least 35 million people in the United States are ready and willing to cooperate in overthrowing our Government. Examine your conscience—what are you doing to preserve the liberty of your loved ones and those dedicated to holy lives. What more can an individual do to preserve America and Christianity than by spreading COMMON SENSE all over the United States? Now, while you still have time to fight, send as many subscriptions as possible.

nothing short of a miracle can save us now, I feel. Wish I could do more; send a couple of thousand... we need you. May God bless you and your work. You are in every Mass and Divine Office.

their duty to speak up fearlessly when the nation's welfare is at stake. Let us throw up the blinds and let in the white light of publicity on the blunders that were made at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, and now at Formosa.

We entrusted the defense of the Pacific to MacArthur and Radford. They are doing a splendid job. Yet the President rejects their advice and follows that of Dean Acheson. Yet General Hurley, former Special Ambassador to China, tells us that it was Dean Acheson who got our sick President to agree to the capitalistic imperialism of Britain and the communistic imperialism of Russia.

I am amazed that there should be executive sessions to conceal the blunders of our Secretary. Surely, what little Acheson knows the public has a right to know.

The public has a right to know that Stalin is fortifying Sakhalin Island, just north of Japan, half of which our former President gave to him. The Public has a right to know that Stalin and his cohorts intend to take all of India by 1952, and now we are about to give him Formosa.

The statement made that a firm stand in regard to Formosa means war is double talk. Great Britain has made a firm statement in regard to Hong Kong. We have not only made a firm statement in regard to Europe but have, and are sending war materials to nations bordering on Russia. Tito, for example.

We are not only sending war materials to South Korea but are training her soldiers. Russia is doing the same to North Korea.

U. S. Naval Intelligence Report, 1935

"A major problem is not only the Communist with his philosophy of hatred, destruction, and revolt; but individuals, supposedly intelligent, occupying positions above the average in life, whose names and works carry with them a certain prestige and who, although themselves not subscribing to the Communist program, philosophy, and doctrines, pick certain sections of the Communist program to promote, uphold and expand. These are the "fringe revolutionists" too lacking in intestinal fortitude to go all the way with Communism, but who stand by and urge the Communist to do his worst, and provide him with protection, sympathy, and defense while he commits the overt act they have not had the courage to commit themselves."

COURAGE is the ability to bear up under sacrifice and punishment in order to be able to render service for good.

HATE! There is something stronger than hate. That is the love which enables us to dare anything to preserve our unalienable rights, our freedom to worship God in our own way and protect our American citizenship.
